GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
RALEIGH, 17th November, 1873.

To the Honorable the General Assembly:

Twelve months have elapsed since your assemblage within these halls to legislate for the people of North Carolina, and now you meet again to consider and mature such measures as you may deem conducive to the best interests of our common constituents. It is my duty to give you information of the affairs of the State, and to make such suggestions as I may deem expedient and proper. It is your duty to consider of those affairs, and to apply yourselves diligently and faithfully to making such new laws as are necessary, and to revising and modifying such old ones, now in force, as have been found by experience inefficient for the purposes they were intended to accomplish; and wholly to repeal such as have proved to be unnecessary or deleterious. Our responsibilities are great, and it becomes us not to trust to, or rely upon ourselves for their performance, but to look to a higher source for wisdom and assistance to discharge them.

It is highly gratifying to me to be able to congratulate you upon the fact that North Carolina, during the year now approaching its end, has made rapid strides in the race of improvement. Unprecedented abundance has blest the labors of the thrifty husbandman; the horn of plenty has been emptied into the lap of the industrious farmer; his fields of grain are groaning with the fruits of his toil; his acres have whitened with cotton, the staple which brings wealth and independence to the producer, and gives employment to the million, from the time the seed is put into the earth till it is converted into commodities for the use and convenience of mankind. Tobacco, the grasses, and almost every product of the soil, have made remunerative returns to all engaged in their cultivation.
Every branch of industry has prospered. No pestilence or dreadful disease has invaded our territory; no terrible calamity, such as has fallen upon some of our sister States, has visited our people; and above and better than all, the bitter animosities which have heretofore estranged us from one another, are rapidly dying out and we are becoming more reconciled, and in a short time no resentments or ill-feeling will linger within the breast of any intelligent, christian being in our State. Then let us clap our hands and rejoice, and render thanks to Almighty God for the wonderful and happy change wrought in our midst, and for all his mercies and loving kindnesses vouchsafed to us as a State.

Having heretofore, gentlemen, addressed you at great length, and placed before you my views upon the subjects which I then believed, and still believe, should command your earnest attention, I do not deem it necessary or useful at this time to take the labor upon myself, or to consume your time, by reiterating, or more fully elaborating, the views expressed and urged upon you in my last annual message. After carefully reviewing what is therein written, I find nothing which I desire to change, and I would again adopt the same recommendations and earnestly present them for your consideration, were it not that they failed heretofore to secure your approbation; therefore it seems proper that I should make other suggestions tending towards the same end, which it is hoped will be more acceptable to you. I proceed to do so, as briefly as I can.

STATE DEBT AND FINANCES.

There is little or no change in the status of our State debt and finances since my message to you twelve months ago. The whole amount of the debt with interest, including every class of bonds, is something over thirty-eight millions of dollars. I respectfully refer you to the report of our worthy and efficient Public Treasurer for a detailed statement of the items which compose our indebtedness. It is not believed by any one, not even by our creditors themselves, that North Carolina should pay the entire amount of her apparent liabilities. It is not necessary for me to dwell upon the character of the different classes of bonds, or the manner in which many of them were put into market—that subject has been sufficiently discussed heretofore, and nearly every member of this General Assembly is as familiar with it as I am. It has not only been the theme of messages to you, but it has been ably and thoroughly discussed upon the hustings in every county of the State. Our people are all interested in it, and are earnestly desirous that a fair and equitable adjustment of it shall be made without further delay. It grows larger and larger every day, and each successive year that it remains unadjusted, will make it a heavier burden upon the tax-payers of the State. I cannot believe, and I will not believe, that any considerable portion of the people of North Carolina will ever consent that any part of the honest debt shall be repudiated. Our people may become bankrupt in property, they may not be able to avoid it, but never will they consent to become bankrupt in reputation by repudiating any part of a debt which the State honestly owes, and which she has once plighted her faith to pay. While she exists as a State, her sons desire, and are determined, to hold their heads erect among their brethren of other States, and proudly claim to be citizens of North Carolina, who is too honest to repudiate her debt, although she may be too poor to pay it.

Then, gentlemen, I appeal to you to apply yourselves at once, and without delay, to the task of devising ways and providing means to free your State from her pecuniary embarrassments. First, go to work to ascertain how much she owes that ought to be paid; then seek an interview with her creditors and learn on what time and what terms their claims can be paid. You will find the large body of the creditors much more liberal and accommodating than you anticipate, when they feel assured that the State is in earnest, and means to do what she can to free herself from this incubus which is pressing her to the earth. The debt being ascertained, and the time and manner of payment agreed upon, then the General Assembly will have an open and smooth sea in full view, and the sailing will be plain. The debt will have to be funded, new bonds issued bearing interest as may be stipulated, and a sufficient tax laid to pay the same when it falls due, and to discharge the principal at the maturity of the bonds. Every species of property belonging to the people of the State should be subject to an ad-valorem tax to pay the interest promptly, and to raise a sinking fund for the extinguishment of the principal when it becomes due. If enough to do this cannot be raised by ad-valorem taxation, then resort to other means until our debt shall have been paid. On a former occasion, when it was deemed necessary to save the honor of the State, efficient measures were adopted, and ways and means devised to sustain a cause which had no little instrumentality in reducing the State to her present impoverished condition. The people then submitted to the imposition of burdens, although grievous to be borne, and in my opinion will do so again, when they see the necessity of raising funds to enable the State to maintain her high character, and preserve her honest name untarnished and unpolluted by repudiation. I am fully aware of the extent and scope of the language I am using, and of the recommendation I am making, and I also know the various charges that will be rung upon it by demagogues throughout the State; but I have an abiding confidence in the honesty and integrity of the people of North Carolina, and am thoroughly satisfied that, to save the honor of the State, they would be content to eke out an existence upon barely enough to clothe their bodies and appease the cravings of hunger, rather than to live in affluence and splendor, with every fancy gratified, and then lie down in death with the bleeding honor of the State lying dead by their side. I hope, gentlemen, that I will be pardoned for speaking thus freely and frankly to you on a subject in which,
I confess to you, I feel the most profound interest, and about which I have the greatest anxiety. The honor and fair fame of my native State is near and dear unto me. North Carolina has been a true mother to me, and I cherish her reputation and hope ever to defend her character and uphold her spotless honor, with a determination and devotion that none but a loyal son, whose heart is overflowing with gratitude and filial love, can ever feel. Hence I urge you by all the ties that bind you to our good old State; by all the emotions of patriotism which spring up in your bosoms when the name of North Carolina is spoken; by the veneration you have for the memory of the noble men who once filled the places you now occupy; by the sacrifices made by our ancestors to build up an honest and honorable name for our State; and by the affection you have for your children, who are to come after you, to let no obstacle, of whatever magnitude, interpose and prevent you from transmitting to posterity the character and reputation of North Carolina as pure and as spotless as it was when you received it from the hands of your predecessors. This you cannot do if you give any countenance to the pernicious and polluting doctrine of repudiation. Repudiation will wither our present prosperity; it will blight our future prospects; it will subject us to the indignant scorn and contempt of all the great nations of the earth; it will expose us to the derision of our sister States and render us contemptible in their eyes; it will utterly destroy our manhood, and leave us without even our own self-respect. Then nerve yourselves for the conflict, and save the State from this everlasting disgrace.

EDUCATION.

One of the most important subjects that can possibly engage the attention of the General Assembly, at the present session, is that of Education. I have heretofore earnestly addressed you on this subject, but do not feel as if my duty will have been fully performed unless I again invoke your serious attention to it. No State can ever be prosperous, or take high rank among her sister States, while the incubus of ignorance is pressing with its deadly weight upon her citizens. She may have bright and shining lights within her borders, as exemplified by a few highly polished sons and daughters, who were fortunate in possessing means to enable them to acquire an education, qualifying them for any position to which they may be called, and preparing them for the performance of any duty, public or private, which may devolve upon them. But a few accomplished and highly educated persons do not make a State. The mass of the people constitute the State, and give tone and character to it. A few persons may give caste to society in a small neighborhood, or in a limited circle; but a State will be judged by the character and intelligence of the mass of human beings who constitute its entire population; who choose its law-makers; who control its destinies, and who shape its morals. Without education there is no enlightenment. Ignorance blights the mind and dwarfs the intellect; it debases all the nobler instincts, and degrades man to the level of the brute; it demolishes churches and rears grog-shops upon their ruins; it destroys schools and seminaries, and erects gambling saloons and dens of infamy and pollution in their stead; it unfit man to fulfill the high destiny for which he was created, and makes him a drone, and often an out-cast, in society. Unnumbered evils follow in its train. It is your imperative duty to employ every means within your power to destroy this hydra-headed monster. It is your duty to afford means for educating the rising generation—to strike the scales of ignorance and error from the minds of the children of the State, and to afford to every one, of sufficient capacity to receive it, such an education as will qualify them, when they arrive at the age of maturity, to make useful members of society, and efficient co-laborers in building up the material interests of the State.

Your predecessors performed a noble work by providing for the education of the deaf, the dumb and the blind, and you have persevered in continuing the good work. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are annually appropriated for the care and culture of these unfortunate classes, and that too to qualify them to take care of themselves in after life. No one believes that one in a hundred of these unhappies can ever take upon himself any public responsibility; yet you properly deem it incumbent upon you to provide them with an education. How much more imperative, then, should it be upon you to train the minds of those upon whom hereafter will devolve the responsibility of filling the places you and I now occupy? Many of these children, whose parents are not able to educate them, will, in all probability, if properly instructed, be prominent in controlling and directing the destiny of the State and of the nation.

As has been suggested on two former occasions, your first care should be to provide a good system of common and graded schools, to which every child in the State may have free access. If there be not a sufficiency of means to keep up these schools throughout the entire year, then let them be operated only during a part of the year. From small beginnings great results will most assuredly flow. When the people once see the benefits which will accrue to their children from, as it were, the mere beginning of an education, they will soon become so enthused in the cause that they will demand of the law-makers to impose heavier taxes and establish schools of higher grade, until North Carolina shall be second to no State in the Union in affording facilities for a thorough and complete education to every child within her limits. When this is done, you will no longer see deserted and desolate places in our territory; then there will be no migration from our midst; no demoralizing influences to entice the young or entrap the old; our penitentiary, jails and poor houses will be tenantless; no gallows will be erected; no wife heart-broken for a condemned and lost husband; no mother weeping over the sad fate of a once hopeful son; no father bewailing the infamy of a degraded daughter. All these evils will be banished, and our State will bloom and blossom as a garden. Peace, prosperity and happiness will abide with us, and our children's children will rise up and bless the men who provided such a rich inheritance for them.

Proceed then, gentlemen, and proceed at once, to this great and grand work; delay no longer; be men, and fear not to tax your constituents for the purpose of nourishing the intellects of their offspring. Every sensible father will hold up your hands, and shower his blessings upon you for the interest you take in the welfare of his children, and will continue to confide in you till you go down to your graves with blushing honors clustering thick around you.

Educate first the masses by establishing separate schools for the different races, and grading them to suit the capacity and advancement of the pupils. When our finances are in a condition to do so, then resuscitate and build up the University so as to afford, to all such as may desire it, an education in polite literature and in the higher branches of the arts and sciences, without the necessity of their leaving our State to secure it. Do this, gentlemen, and you will have erected for yourselves a monument more enduring than marble or brass, and your names will be handed down to the latest posterity as wise legislators and benefactors to your race and to your country.

AN ORPHAN HOUSE.

The Constitution (Art. XI, Sec. 8) says: "There shall also, as soon as practicable, be measures devised by the State for the establishment of one or more Orphan Houses where destitute orphans may be cared for, educated and taught some business or trade." This is a wise and merciful provision. It is well known that very few bound orphans are ever sent to any school, and that most of them are growing up in ignorance of the laws of God and of the laws of their country. Having lost their natural guides and protectors, and feeling that society has failed to afford them the means of improvement, they naturally sink into vice and degradation and become a plague and a burden to the State. But when destitute orphans learn their obligations to God and to their fellow-men, and are taught to support themselves by some honorable occupation, they rise above those temptations which usually ensnare the ignorant, and become useful and respectable citizens. The Constitution therefore sanctions sound political economy, and sympathises with unfortunate humanity by requiring some suitable provision for the protection and training of the multitude of fatherless, motherless, friendless and penniless orphans, whose sad and sorrowful silence should be their most eloquent advocate.

The Orphan House at Oxford, with sixty rooms and ample grounds, was opened in February last, and is now feeding, clothing and educating more than one hundred children. It has been supported, so far, by the contributions of the benevolent, and so rigid is the economy with which it is managed that its officers are convinced that ten thousand dollars a year will insure food, clothing and education for two hundred indigent orphans. The permanent establishment of at least one Orphan House is therefore certainly practicable, and the people, by their liberal contributions, have shown a tender interest in its success and permanency.

Your attention is therefore invited to this subject, and the hope expressed that you may find it practicable to do something for those of tender years who have neither father, nor mother, nor friends, nor money to provide for their temporal wants or to care for their eternal interests.

ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE.

Under our form of government, any male citizen of the State above a certain age, of ordinary intelligence and good moral character, has an equal right, under the law, with any other, to participate in the administration of justice in our Courts. There are certain public duties devolved upon every free male citizen who possesses the foregoing qualifications, and no man, simply on account of his color or previous condition of servitude, should be denied the privilege of discharging those duties.

I am induced to call your attention to this subject, because of the frequent complaints made to me, that in certain counties, containing a large colored population, (many of whom are men of intelligence and worth) the County Commissioners, whose duty it is to make up the panels and draw jurors by lot, have studiously excluded from the jury-box all but white citizens. Such conduct on the part of those who have the matter in charge, is well calculated to dissatisfy and irritate the class whom they ostracize, and impress them with the conviction that they cannot obtain a redress of their grievances or have justice meted out to them, when engaged in litigation with the white race. I am fully aware, that as a general rule, the colored population are not as well qualified for jurors as are the whites. Very few of the present generation of the colored are able to read or write, or in truth have any education at all; but yet there are a few in almost every county, and a goodly number in some of them, who are qualified to act as jurors, and their rights should be recognized and respected.

It is a fact which cannot be successfully controverted, that before the late war it was no uncommon occurrence to see white men, who did not know a letter in a book, sitting in the jury-box to try causes of momentous importance. Not only was it so in olden times, but it is the case even at this day and time, and I am free to say that these unlettered jurors as often arrive at correct conclusions as do those who have had better education and enjoyed superior advantages. If it be the law that all, without distinction of color or previous condition, are entitled to the privileges of the jury-box, then let the law be promptly enforced, or heavy penalties imposed upon those whose duty it is to execute it, if they fail to perform that duty.

I desire also to call your attention to a crying evil of the times. It is becoming almost an every day occurrence for persons to commit crime in broad daylight, and in the presence of spectators, and sometimes even in the presence of officers of the law, and are allowed to make their escape without an effort being made to arrest them. I am almost persuaded, from the circumstances attending some of these escapes, that they are permitted because of the hope and expectation, that a reward will be offered for the apprehension of the offenders and opportunity given to some bystander to make money by an arrest of the culprit, and share it with the officer who has failed to make the arrest himself.

It not unfrequently happens, after a reward has been offered, that the criminal is soon caught in the very neighborhood where the crime was committed, thus proving, beyond reasonable doubt, that the sworn officers of the law had been grossly derelict in the discharge of their duties. Even after arrest and commitment to jail, prisoners frequently make their escape through the carelessness or collusion of the jailor, and the State is put to a heavy expense for their recapture; yet it rarely happens that an indictment is preferred against the party whom the law holds responsible for the safe keeping of prisoners. To permit an escape from custody is as much a violation of the criminal law as murder, arson, perjury or any other offense named in the calendar; and judges, solicitors and grand-jurors should cause all escapes to be inquired into and promptly prosecuted, so as to punish the guilty parties and protect the treasury of the State—and you, Legislators, should see to it that the law is made so stringent as to compel these officials to discharge this duty if they will not voluntarily do so.

RAILROADS.

The Commissioners, appointed by an Act of this General Assembly at its last session, to arbitrate and adjust the troubles growing out of the mismanagement and litigation of the Western North Carolina Railroad matters have given the subject their earnest consideration, and while they have not been able to adjust these difficulties, it has been their steady purpose to rescue from the present wreck all that can possibly be saved. As the best means for accomplishing this, I beg leave to suggest some legislation by which our railway system may yet be secured to our State, and for the benefit of our people.

The internal improvement policy of the State, as plainly indicated by legislation for the last quarter of a century, has been to establish a grand trunk or line of railway from Beaufort Harbor to the Tennessee and Georgia roads. First, we had the charter for the North Carolina Railroad Company; then followed the Atlantic and North Carolina and the Western North Carolina Railroad Companies, traversing the whole State from East to West. The line from Salisbury to Paint Rock was intended to form a connection, ultimately, with Memphis, and that from Asheville in the direction of Dalton to connect, ultimately, with the Georgia roads. These would form important tributaries to the North Carolina Railroad and was so designed, and it was believed would concentrate a business over said road which would insure, at its eastern terminus, a line of steamships for foreign as well as home markets. No statement of facts nor argument is now needed to sustain the wisdom of this policy, and with prudent and able management, I believe, it is within our power to make it successful.

This is no new scheme of mine, suggested by our present railroad complications, but it is one I have favored for a long series of years, and which in August, 1866, when the Western North Carolina Railroad Company was comparatively free from debt, and while I was President of the Company, was urged by me upon the stockholders in annual meeting assembled. I beg to be pardoned by your honorable body for quoting to you an extract taken from my report made at that time to the stockholders. It is in the following words, to-wit: "I feel constrained, before closing this report, to say, that owing to the impoverished condition of the country, the heavy losses which the people of our State have sustained by the result of the late terrible conflict we have recently been engaged in with our brethren of the North, I cannot see any immediate prospect of penetrating our Western territory much beyond Morganton, unless the State shall assume a larger portion of the expense of construction than she is now liable for, and as there is but little probability of this for some time to come, it occurs to me that it would be highly advantageous to all parties concerned, individual stockholders as well as the State, either to put the road and all of its privileges and immunities in market for sale to the best purchaser, who will guarantee to complete it through to its Western terminus within a reasonable time, or to consolidate the Western North Carolina, the North Carolina, and the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad Companies into one company, so as to have a continuous line from the sea-board to the extreme Western part of the State, get all our people enlisted in one grand enterprise, which will have no sectional prejudices to contend with, no party animosities to encounter, but which will bind us together as with hooks of steel, and make us, as we should be, children of an honored mother, whose every aspiration should be to promote the good of the whole, and the glory, happiness and well-being of our State and her people." These were my sentiments then; they are my sentiments to-day. Time and experience have confirmed me in them, and my conviction of their soundness grows stronger and stronger every day.

I therefore suggest to the General Assembly the passage of an act to amend the charter of the North Carolina Railroad Company, and confer upon it the necessary power and authority to purchase the Western North Carolina Railroad and all its branches or divisions; the Cincinnati, Cumberland Gap and Charleston Railroad, and the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad, and to build and complete the same, and when so purchased the whole to be merged into one corporation, under one management, and under the name of the North Carolina Railroad Company. The Directory of the North Carolina.
Railroad Company, who, I am pleased to state, sustain me in recommending this legislation, have an agreement in writing from the owners of the Cincinnati, Cumberland Gap and Charleston Railroad—(a portion of which, from Morristown, on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad to Wolf Creek in the State of Tennessee, has been finished and is now in operation)—and from creditors and litigants of the Western North Carolina Railroad Company, in which it is proposed to sell and transfer to the North Carolina Railroad Company the whole line of road from Salisbury to Morristown, for about one million dollars. Of this line, from Salisbury to Old Fort, about 115 miles have been finished; and from Wolf Creek to Morristown, about 40 miles have been finished; leaving a gap of about 75 miles of unfinished road. Of this unfinished portion more than one-half the grading has been done. It is estimated that to fill up this gap, and have the whole line of railroad from Salisbury to Morristown completed and in good running order will cost about one and a half million dollars. Thus it will cost about two and a half million more to purchase and finish the road from Salisbury to Morristown, 230 miles in length, which will put us in communication by rail with Memphis.

A mortgage of three million dollars on the North Carolina Railroad will enable it to pay off the present mortgage and other indebtedness, and purchase and finish this whole line of railroad. The length of the North Carolina road is 223 miles, and when it has purchased and finished this line of railroad will have a line from Goldsboro' to Charlotte and from Salisbury to Morristown, a distance of 453 miles. A mortgage on the whole line of (§15,000) fifteen thousand dollars per mile would raise a little less than seven million dollars, which would enable the Company to construct the road from Asheville to the Georgia line, 123 miles. Three million dollars expended in paying off its present indebtedness, and purchasing and finishing the road from Salisbury to Morristown would leave about four million for constructing the road to the Georgia line. A portion of this road has been graded, and it is estimated that less than four million dollars will finish it. And when the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad is merged into this Company, which it is believed can be done on reasonable and satisfactory terms, the North Carolina Railroad Company will have a line of railroad from Beaufort Harbor to the Tennessee and Georgia railroads, 666 miles in length. We will then have a railway nearly 700 miles long with a mortgaged debt of less than seven million dollars—about $10,000 per mile. Will this policy be advantageous to the stockholders in the North Carolina Railroad Company? There is in my mind no doubt that it will. It is believed that the net earnings of the Company will be largely augmented. With a mortgage debt of little less than seven million dollars, the interest on which, at a rate as high as 8 per cent. per annum will be—say $500,000. The net earnings of the North Carolina Railroad, at present, is $250,000; the increased business over it from these tributaries will be—say $100,000—making $350,000 as net earnings from this line. The local business over the line from Salisbury to Morristown will more than pay its operating expenses, while the business from the connecting road at Morristown, as estimated by competent authority, will not be less than $600,000. It is estimated, also, that if the road is constructed in the direction of Dalton, and a connection made with the Georgia roads, the net earnings from this source will be as great as that from Asheville to Morristown, while the local business will be greater. So in round numbers, if this policy is carried out, and the connections made with the Tennessee and Georgia roads, it is very reasonable to say that the net earnings of the whole line will reach one million dollars. Deducting $500,000 to meet the interest on its mortgaged debt, there will be left half a million for division among stockholders.
WILMINGTON, CHARLOTTE AND RUTHERFORD RAILROAD.

This corporation, by authority of an Act of the General Assembly, ratified on the 20th day of December, 1866, entitled "An act to enable the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad Company to complete its road, pay its debt to the State, and extend its road to the Tennessee line," did, in the year 1867, issue certain bonds with coupons attached, with interest at eight per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, and falling due in 1887 and 1897, respectively.

For the purpose of securing the principal and interest on said bonds as they become due, the said company executed and delivered to certain trustees, living in New York, a mortgage deed, conveying in substance all the property of said company, including franchise, &c., &c. In said mortgage deed is contained, among other things, the following provision, to wit: "In case default shall be made in the payment of any half year's interest on any of the aforesaid bonds in the manner provided, &c., and in case such default shall continue for the period of three months after the coupons shall become due, then and thereupon the principal of said bonds shall become due and payable, anything in said bonds to the contrary notwithstanding." By an ordinance of the Convention of 1868, entitled "An ordinance reducing the amount of bonds to be issued to the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad Company," the number of said bonds was reduced to the amount of two million five hundred thousand dollars worth, and the State became endorser of said mortgage bonds to the amount of one million dollars.

The State, having a substantial interest in the property of said railroad company as a second mortgagee, by virtue of an Act of Assembly ratified the 29th of January, 1869, made large appropriations to said company, amounting in the aggregate to some four million dollars. None of the bonds, issued under and by virtue of said Act of the General Assembly, have been returned to the State Treasury as required by law; and a portion of their proceeds has gone into the hands of the officers of the company. The semi-annual interest upon some of the bonds, secured by the mortgage, became due, and, I am informed, was not paid according to the requirements of that instrument.

In consequence of the failure of the company to pay the interest, the whole debt, principal as well as interest, became due, and the trustees brought their action to Foreclose said mortgage, making the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad Company, the State of North Carolina, and others, defendants.

Application was made to me as Governor, by the trustees, through their agents and attorneys, to acknowledge service of process and enter an appearance for the State, so as to enable them to have their suit finally and speedily adjudicated. After consultation with Hon. W. M. Shipp, then Attorney General of North Carolina, I positively refused to comply with the request, unless the trustees would stipulate, in writing, to release the State from all liability by reason of her endorsement of the bonds, and to cancel the bonds endorsed by her. This proposition was eventually agreed to by the trustees, and in pursuance of it the State was released and the bonds cancelled, during the past summer, in the city of New York, under the supervision of E. J. Hale, Esq., whom I appointed to act as agent for North Carolina in that behalf. The mortgage was then foreclosed and the road sold to the Carolina Central Railway Company.

CAPE FEAR AND DEEP RIVER NAVIGATION WORKS.

At a meeting of the Board of Managers of the Cape Fear and Deep River Navigation Company, in the Executive office at Raleigh, on the 3d day of June, 1873, it was ordered, (all the managers being present,) that the State’s interest in said works be sold at public auction to the highest bidder, on specified terms and conditions, at Lockville, in Chatham county, after due advertisement in certain newspapers. Advertisement was made as ordered, and on the 8th of July, the day appointed for the sale, said works were offered at public auction at Lockville. No one present making a bid for the property, three of the managers (a majority of the board) being present, held a meeting on the spot, changed the terms of sale, and immediately, without further notice, put up the property a second time for sale, when it was knocked off to certain parties at the sum and price of twelve hundred dollars, cash in hand. This amount was forthwith paid to the Treasurer of the company, and a deed, conveying title, prepared and signed by the managers who were present. I was necessarily absent on important public business, and when the deed was afterwards presented for my signature, as President of the board, I declined to sign it, for the reason that the sale was not made on the terms advertised, but on terms much more favorable to purchasers, and which, if they had been generally known, might have induced other bidders to attend, and caused the property to bring a better price. I am informed, however, that the purchasers have accepted the deed without my signature, and have such title to the property as can be invested in them by the managers who did sign it. It may be that the sale is a good one for the State, and that if the new terms had been extensively known, that the property would not have commanded a higher price; upon those points I am not informed—still, I did not feel authorized to approve of it, and affix my name to the deed for the reasons above set forth. I have deemed it my duty to give you this information to enable you to take such action as you may think expedient in the premises. If, in your judgment, the price paid is satisfactory, and it be considered necessary that I should sign the conveyance in order to perfect and make the title good, it will be cheerfully and promptly done whenever your wishes are certified to me by a resolution, or an act passed by your honorable body.
SWAMP LANDS.

All the swamp lands belonging to the Literary Fund, except a very inconsiderable portion, (which were inadvertently overlooked,) after having been frequently and extensively advertised, were, on the 16th day of September last, contracted to be sold to Samuel T. Carrow, Esq., whose bid for all was considered by the Board of Education as being the most advantageous one offered. This sale, before it can be final, must have legislative sanction. At a subsequent period of your session, a special message will be addressed to you on the subject, and the particular swamps, with the terms and price offered and accepted, laid before you.

VACANT LANDS.

After mature consideration, I deem it proper to call attention to the vacant lands belonging to the State, and which are subject to entry. I am decidedly of the opinion that no one, not an actual and bona fide citizen of the State, should be authorized to take up any portion of said lands at the insignificant prices now fixed by law. These lands should be held in reserve for our own citizens, many of whom are without homes of their own, and unable to purchase them except at very low prices. It has come to my knowledge that speculators, living outside of the State, and who never expect to become citizens of it, have entered, and are still entering, large bodies of our vacant lands, particularly in the Western part of the State, and, I fear, not for the purpose of settling among us and improving the country, but with the purpose and intention of enriching themselves at the expense of the State and the impoverishment of our own people. In my opinion, it would be better for the State to donate this land in small quantities, without money and without price, to its poor and landless citizens, rather than sell it to strangers, whose only purpose seems to be to fill their own coffers. I therefore recommend that you enact a law requiring every person, or party, entering our vacant lands, to make an affidavit in due form of law, and file the same with the Entry-taker in the county where the land is situated, that it is entered for his or their own use, and not for another, and that he or they are bona fide citizens of the State of North Carolina.

IMMIGRATION.

I cannot too earnestly recommend the adoption of suitable measures to encourage immigration to the State, and to stay, as far as practicable, the tide of emigration from the State.

In 1790 North Carolina contained a total population of 393,751, ranking as the third State in the Union, Virginia being first and Pennsylvania second. With as large a territory as New York, she had at that time a population equal to that State, and the two States started in the race of progress with the same number (sixteen) of Representatives in Congress. In 1800 North Carolina had receded to the fourth rank among the States, with 478,103 inhabitants, an increase of only 84,352 in ten years. In 1810 she held her position as fourth in rank, with 555,500 inhabitants, and an increase of 77,487. In 1820 she still retained this rank, with 638,829 inhabitants, and an increase of 83,329. From this period she began to decline in population, in comparison with other States. In 1830 she had fallen to the fifth rank, with a population of 737,987, an increase of 99,158 inhabitants. In 1840 she had fallen to the seventh rank, with 758,419 inhabitants, an increase in ten years of only 15,432. In 1850 she had fallen to the tenth rank, with 869,039, an increase of 115,620. In 1860 she was the twelfth in rank, having a total population of 992,622, and an increase of 123,583. In 1870 she was the fourteenth in rank, numbering a population of 1,071,361, and an increase for the preceding ten years of 78,739.

In examining these figures we find great fluctuations in population from time to time, as given in the census. Why is this? The answer is, that at different periods of our history there have been large depletions of our population by emigration to the West and South, while the loss thus sustained has not been made up by any accession in considerable numbers from other States, or from foreign countries. And thus it is, that being drained of her sons and daughters without inviting immigration to herself in return, the State has decreased in the scale of States, while other States, fed with her blood, and by steady currents of emigrants from Europe, have increased in population, wealth and power. The exodus of our people may be seen in the following statement, with a comparison as to the influx of immigrants to our borders: In 1870 there were 1,028,678 native North Carolinians, and only 42,683 natives of other States and foreigners within our borders; making a total of 1,071,361 inhabitants. Meanwhile, within the other States of the Union, the wandering children of our State, who had been going forth from us since 1790, answer to the roll-call to the number of two hundred and sixty-four thousand six hundred and seventy-nine. These are scattered principally in the South and South-west. Thus while we can count but 42,683 immigrants to our State, more than a quarter of a million of our people can be counted in other States, and of these 41,683 strangers who have been welcomed among us, only 3,029 are of foreign birth, principally from Germany, Great Britain and Ireland, while other States number such accessions by hundreds of thousands, and are still receiving them with open arms from all parts of the world.

It is not to be expected that the emigration of our people westward can be checked entirely, but much may be done to check it, and to induce emigrants from other regions to settle among us—by encouraging judicious and useful schemes of internal improvement—by the establishment of manufactories of various kinds, thus adding to capital, and at the same time giving employment to thousands who are now idle, or thriftless and aimless in their pursuits—by opening and maintaining liberally public schools for the education of the children and youth of the State—by encouraging and fostering in every practicable way the great interests of agriculture and mechanic arts, producing as far as we can our own supplies of every kind, and fabricating the raw articles here at home, thus retaining the profits of manufacturing among ourselves; and by cultivating a just sentiment of State pride and self-respect, and a spirit of forbearance, generosity and kindness towards each other—remembering the past only in the light of charity and goodwill, and drawing from it only lessons which will teach us to think more of ourselves and of each other as North Carolinians. By doing these things, gentlemen, actively and perseveringly, and with a purpose to know no such word as "failure" when our common mother, whom we all love so well, is to be improved, and enriched, and elevated in all desirable respects among her sister States, I verily believe that our best wishes and efforts for her will be crowned with full success.

With a climate which is in itself a luxury enjoyed by few other people; in a region whose soil produces in greater or less perfection every staple and nearly every article grown on the North American continent, with mines of iron, coal, copper, gold, lead, mica, granite, marble and many other ores; with timber of all kinds, comparatively as yet untouched; with water power inexhaustible, from the midland country to the Tennessee line; with lime, and marl, and other fertilizers in the earth ready to be used to improve the soil, and with millions of acres of virgin land adapted to cotton, corn, tobacco, wheat, oats, rice, barley, rye, the grape and almost every other production; with the law faithfully executed and peace and good order prevailing every where within our borders, and exempted as we are by a kind Providence from the rigorous and protracted winters of the North, and the scorching suns of the far South, I think it can truthfully be said that no State offers more solid attractions to immigrants than does North Carolina.

There have been so many plans suggested, with the view of promoting immigration to the State, that I hesitate to recommend any particular one. The whole subject is, after all, in your hands. I am satisfied that you do not properly estimate its importance. Let me, then, respectfully and earnestly urge you to address yourselves to the work with a purpose and a vigor which shall ensure good results. And allow me to add, in concluding this subject, that any plan that may be devised, and from which we may expect success, must be so conceived and operated as to put immigrants in full possession of information touching the advantages which our State presents to them, and this information must be laid, by us, before the immigrants themselves, before they will come to us. In doing this we shall have to compete not only with other States, but with all kinds of landed corporations, with railroad monopolies, with prejudices, ignorance and falsehood; but if we begin with an earnest determination, and persevere as we should, it will not be long before we shall witness gratifying results from our labors. In a matter so vital, we should not too closely count our dollars, for money judiciously expended in this business will in due season repay the State an hundred, yea, verily, a thousand fold.

STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

In the North Carolina Agricultural Society we have a common rallying point for all the good people of the State, irrespective of their opinions on political subjects. The objects of its officers has been to foster not only agriculture, but also manufacturing and the mechanic arts, and the result has been highly encouraging and gratifying. By the annual exhibitions of the products of the State; by the coming together of our best and most enterprising citizens; by bringing to the attention of capitalists of other States and the Canadas our superior advantages, this organization has materially aided in infusing energy among our people, as well as inducing strangers to settle among us. Owing to the general poverty and depression, it was difficult work at first; but the Society has struggled on until it has succeeded in perfecting a Fair creditable to the State and honorable to their own energy and spirit of perseverence. The annual exhibitions demonstrate that within the last four years blooded stock has been extensively introduced; improvements in the mechanic arts have been made; manufacturing has been fostered, and our mineral wealth is being unearthed—to say nothing of the great improvements which have been made in the science of farming. The Agricultural Society has convinced our people, not only of the importance of State fairs, but also of our own importance as a people and a State. It has demonstrated the vastness of resources which, if developed, will bring, not only wealth, but independence to the people. It has shown that we have within ourselves everything necessary to build up great manufacturing interests, and a soil to produce not only the staff of life but raw materials to supply manufactories.

The officers of the Society have appointed a committee to apply to your honorable body for amendments to their charter to enable them better to extend their efforts beyond the great centres of our population and trade into the remotest corners of the State. I most cheerfully recommend you to co-operate with them in every available way for the extension and usefulness of their valuable institution.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

An election was held on the first Thursday in August last for the purpose of submitting to the people certain amendments to the Constitution of the State, which had been passed, or attempted to be passed, by the legislatures of 1870-'71 and 1872-'73, and which, if properly adopted, could not go into force until ratified by a vote of the people. The result of the election has not yet been officially ascertained, nor will it be until on or after the first Monday in December insuing. Grave doubts exist in the minds of many prominent men, among them lawyers of great learning, as to whether these amendments were enacted and submitted in the way and manner designated by the Constitution itself, in the second section of the 13th article of that instrument. I confess to you that I share in these doubts, and have serious misgivings that the requirements of the Constitution have not been complied with, either in its letter or in its spirit. I do not propose, however, to enter upon a discussion of the question, but simply to call your attention to it, so that, after calm and careful consideration, you may determine what is the best policy under the circumstances. Having no settled convictions on the subject, and not feeling an absolute certainty that the amendments have not been made in conformity to the provisions of the Constitution, I do not feel authorized to place any obstructions in the way of their becoming a finality. If it shall turn out that the legislation, which has been done on this subject, has been properly done; and if, upon comparing the vote, on the first Monday in December, it shall appear that the people have adopted the amendments, then a question of grave importance arises, whether this Legislature, elected under the provisions of the Constitution of 1868, providing for annual sessions, can continue in annual session after the repeal of the provision which authorized annual sessions? In other words, does not the abolition of the law authorizing and establishing annual sessions, also abolish the right to continue in annual session after the new Constitution creating biennial sessions is proclaimed to be in force?

You, gentlemen, are here in annual session by virtue of the second section of the second article of the Constitution of 1868. You have once before been in annual session under this article. How can you, then, after the first Monday in December, prolong your annual session, if the charter by which you were authorized to hold annual sessions shall have been repealed? It will not do to say that a law was passed authorizing you to meet, notwithstanding the amendment should be adopted. The Constitution is the supreme law, and no statute law can override it. It is not disputed that the General Assembly may adjourn to a future specified day, instead of sine die; but it is not conceded that this enables it to silence the Constitution, and, by artifice, rendered nugatory its provisions. It is true that you did, at your last session, pass a resolution to meet again on the third Monday in November, 1873, thereby virtually conceding that, without the enabling aid of such a resolution, or enactment, you could not meet on that day if the amendment providing for biennial sessions should be adopted. There was no necessity for this resolution, because the Constitution, as it then stood and as it now stands, made it imperative upon you to convene at that time, and you could not disregard it. Why then pass a resolve to do what the Constitution enjoins, aye, commands you to do?

You are now here in regular annual session in obedience to the Constitution, or you are here on your own adjournment, and this is but a continuation of your last session. Which, gentlemen, is it? If it be a regular session as provided by the Constitution, then I am performing my duty in addressing this communication to you; but if it be only a continuation of your last sitting, then I am performing a work entirely gratuitous and not required of me either by the Constitution or by the law. Believing that the resolution to which I have adverted is of no binding force, I feel it to be my duty to inform you that out of abundance of caution it would be well to enter at once upon needful legislation, and consummate it before the day appointed for comparing and declaring the result of the vote on the Constitutional amendments, lest it may turn out after that time that your honorable body is functus officio, and all of your subsequent acts of legislation null and void.

THE PENITENTIARY.

The report of the directors and officers of this institution is herewith transmitted to the General Assembly. It is a matter of satisfaction and gratulation to find the work in such prosperous condition, notwithstanding the adverse circumstances by which it has been surrounded, and the difficulties always attending the management of a penal institution. So rapid has been the increase of the number of inmates, that it is evident that the bulk of the convict population of the State is tending to the Penitentiary, and that the several counties are thus being relieved of the trouble and expense incident to keeping them in the county jails. This is as it should be, for in the Penitentiary all the ends designed for the punishment and reformation of persons convicted of crimes and felonies can be best realized, and at far less expense to the tax-payers. The great increase in the number of convicts creates a corresponding increase of expenditure so long as the labor of the convicts is employed on the public buildings of the State. The expenses, however, might be lessened by diverting the labor of a portion of the convicts to some employment that would bring a revenue to the State. If a portion of the prisoners were put to work in a shoe shop, and a part to manufacturing furniture or agricultural implements, it would diminish the cost of their imprisonment, while a considerable number could still be kept at work on the outer walls and buildings. This is evidently a matter of moment to the State, not only with regard to the saving of money, but because it would be the means of training the younger convicts to a valuable trade that will enable them, when discharged from confinement, to obtain remunerative employment, and relieve the communities where-in they reside of an idle and vicious population. Such good results have been seen in cases already discharged, where they had been kept at work in the small shoe shop established and operated at the Penitentiary. Would it not be well to require the Judges of our Courts to sentence all convicts under twenty or twenty-five years of age to learn some trade in the Penitentiary, and make the sentence long enough to perfect them in the mysteries of the trade."

I would respectfully call the attention of the General Assembly to chapter 144 of the laws of 1872-'73, it being the revenue law, and to section four of class one. This forbids any of the tax collected for the Penitentiary to be used for any purpose but "the support of the convicts in the Penitentiary, and the erection of the outer wall around the same, and for no other purpose," thus peremptorily stopping all the work on the main building and the erection of cells for the safe keeping of the convicts. That this was not the intention of the General Assembly is evident from the provisions of chapter 157 of the same session, ratified on the same day with the revenue law, where, in section four, the board of directors "is directed to prosecute to as early a completion as possible, the construction of the Penitentiary," &c., and in section one to make as many of 8,000,000 of brick as possible; in section six to make the iron cell doors; and in section seven to hasten the erection of one wing of the prison building. All this to be done as provided in the act, will necessarily require skilled labor and material. How, I ask, gentlemen, can these be provided for, if all the tax levied for the Penitentiary must be applied to the support of the convicts and the erection of the outer wall, and for no other purpose?

In order to prosecute the work on the prison building, I recommend an appropriation for the wants of the building department from the general fund, so that the work may be pushed to a speedy completion.

The prison now has among its inmates, excellent stone-cutters and brick-makers, and with the aid of a few skilled workmen, under the supervision of the able architect, the work can be well and rapidly done. This also leads me to ask a reconsideration of the last clause of section four, chapter 157, laws 1872-'73, which provides that the original plan of the building shall be so changed that the wall of the main prison, above the basement shall be constructed of brick instead of stone. So expert have the convicts become in quarrying and cutting stone, and at so small a cost in the stone now laid, that there exists no necessity for mutilating the harmony of the plan, or destroying the beauty of the building. As a matter of architectural taste, and becoming State pride, the original plan should be adhered to, particularly as the report of the architect, which accompanies that of the directors, shows that the difference in the cost is so small that it should scarcely be considered.

It seems to be hard that convicts, after serving out their term of punishment, or upon being pardoned, should be turned out upon the world without means to reach their places of residence, which are often at a long distance from Raleigh. To save them from the temptation (arising out of want and poverty,) to again violate the law, and as an act of humanity, I recommend that you make some provision, by law, to enable them to reach their distant homes. Most of the other States have made a provision of this kind. Its advantages are evident, and it will save the Capital of the State from an increased vicious and undesirable population.

INSANE ASYLUM.

The annual report of the President of the Board of Directors, accompanied by the reports of the officers of this institution, is herewith transmitted to you. It affords me pleasure to be officially informed of the highly prosperou1 condition of this noble charity, and to be assured of its able and successful management. Where all seem to have performed their duties so well, it might be deemed invidious to discriminate among them by awarding praise to one, when it is equally due to all. It is enough to say that the institution was never in a more prosperous condition, or its affairs more ably managed. The only drawback to its complete success, is a want of sufficient room to accommodate and take care of all the insane, who are entitled to its benefactions. I therefore reiterate the recommendations contained in my former messages urging the General Assembly to provide more ample accommodations by enlarging the present building, or erecting a branch asylum at some point in the Western part of the State.
The reports of the officers of this institution show that it has been highly prosperous during the past session, and that its usefulness increases every year. The importance of sustaining this charity cannot be over-estimated. It is far better to educate our deaf, mute, and blind population, and make them useful members of society than to leave them to grow up in ignorance and vice, and become burdens to their friends and the public. The management of the institution has been highly satisfactory, and I feel confident that it has been conducted with as much economy and good judgment as any similar establishment in the whole country. The recommendations made in the reports of its officers, to which your attention is invited, seem to be just and reasonable. The liberality which has heretofore characterized the different Legislatures, it is hoped and believed, will not be withheld or curtailed by your honorable body.

BATTLE’S REVISAL.

The revival of the statute laws now in force in this State, has been completed by the Hon. W. H. Battle, to whom the work was assigned by your honorable body, and the printing and binding thereof done by workmen in our own State. I cannot too highly commend the diligence, faithfulness and ability of the learned compiler, and the superior workmanship of Messrs. Edwards & Broughton, the printers and binders. The work reflects the highest credit upon the State, and will be indispensable to the legal profession and all public officers. I take occasion to suggest the passage of a law making it incumbent on the county officers, to whom the book is gratuitously furnished, to turn over their copies to their successors, whenever their own terms expire. If this be not done, the State will incur a heavy expense in furnishing a copy to every new officer who may succeed those now in office in the various counties of the State.
PRIVATE CORPORATIONS.

A large portion of the time of the General Assembly is consumed in passing charters for private corporations, notwithstanding there is a law on our statute books, enabling any three or more persons, associating themselves together, to procure a charter from the Clerk of the Superior Court of the county wherein they propose to do business.

Private parties, who embark in schemes to enrich themselves, have no right to tax the people in order to put their machinery in motion. The Legislature has provided a way for them to accomplish what they desire at their own cost and expense, without the necessity of consuming the valuable time of the people's representatives, and at the public expense. In order to abate the nuisance, for it is nothing but a nuisance, I recommend that the 45th section of chapter 199 of the laws of 1871-72, be so amended as to require every company, asking an act of incorporation, to exhibit a receipt from the Treasurer of the State for at least one hundred dollars, before a bill to incorporate the company shall be read the first time in either house of the General Assembly. Such a law will save thousands of dollars to the State. Even one hundred dollars in each case will not indemnify the State for the expense incurred in the passage of these incorporation acts.

MILITIA.

Having heretofore earnestly directed your attention to the necessity of re-organizing the militia, and enacting a law to render it effective, and having failed to convince you of its importance, I forbear, now, to make any further recommendation on the subject, although I am thoroughly satisfied that it is made incumbent on you, by the 2d section of the 12th article of the Constitution, as well as by a proper regard for the public safety, to act at once on this important matter.
The reports of the State officers, and other officials, are herewith transmitted, and you are respectfully invited to bestow upon them that attention and consideration which their importance demands.

Resignations and Appointments.

Virgil S. Lusk, Esq., Solicitor for the 11th Judicial District, tendered his resignation as such on the 14th day of November, 1872, which was accepted, and Marcus Erwin, Esq., appointed to fill the vacancy.

Hon. Thomas Settle was, on the 5th day of December, 1872, commissioned Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, vice Hon. Rob’t. P. Dick, resigned.

Marcus Erwin, Esq., Solicitor of the 11th Judicial District, tendered his resignation on the 2d day of March, 1873, which was accepted, and William G. Candler, Esq., appointed on the 6th of the same month to fill the vacancy.

Alfred J. Morrison, Esq., a member of the House of Representatives from Lincoln county, resigned his place on the 6th of March, 1873, and an election to supply the vacancy, ordered to be held on the first Thursday in August, the day of the regular election.

Richard C. Badger, Esq., a member of the House of Representatives from the county of Wake, tendered his resignation on the 4th day of April, 1873, which was accepted, and an election to supply the vacancy ordered to be held on the first Thursday in August, the day of the regular election.

Pardons, Respite and Commutations.

For a list of the convicts pardoned and respited, and of those whose punishments have been commuted since my last annual communication to you, I respectfully refer you to an appendix.
which is hereto attached, and which contains the reasons that moved me to exercise clemency in each case. Your attention is particularly invited to the case of Alex. Thom and Thomas Lineberry, convicts from Guilford county, and next to the last included in the appendix.

CONCLUSION.

Having performed the duty required of me by the Constitution, I now commit my suggestions and recommendations to you for your sanction, with the assurance that you shall have my co-operation in whatsoever you may do for the good of the State.

On motion of Mr. Gorman, (Mr. Settle in the chair,) the rules were suspended, and the resolution of thanks to the Speaker was unanimously adopted. The resolution was in these words:

"Resolved by the House of Representatives, That in adjourning sine die, it is meet and fitting that expression should be made by this body of the feeling which is universal, of the impartiality and courtesy which has ever animated our presiding officer. He has worthily and ably filled his position, and by his tact, judgment and thorough efficiency, rendered the sessions of this body harmonious and promoted the kindly and friendly relations that have prevailed between the members. We owe him our heartfelt thanks, and the people of the State their gratitude. In parting, he has our earnest prayers for his future welfare, and our heartfelt desire that his future career of usefulness, as in the past, may redound to his continued honor, and the glory of North Carolina."

Mr. Gorman said:

"Mr. Speaker—In introducing this resolution, I feel sure that the sentiments it contains are heartily endorsed by every individual of this body, without regard to party affiliation. Although I am young in legislation, I have watched from my youth the deliberations of the Legislatures which have assembled in this Hall, and I know that the ability and proficiency of our presiding officer has exhibited have never been excelled and have seldom been equalled. The courtesy, urbanity and impartiality he has shown have tended in no little degree to promote the kindly and friendly feelings which have animated our membership during the sessions of this House, and his capacity in the Chair has done much in expediting business. The State owes him a debt of gratitude for his faithful services, and we owe him our heartfelt thanks, and in retiring to his mountain home, I feel sure he carries with him the friendship and best wishes of every individual of this body."

On resuming the chair, Mr. Speaker Robinson spoke as follows in response to the resolution of thanks to him:

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives:

Under the resolution of the two Houses, the term of this General Assembly expires to day. We leave here now, and must answer to the people, whose servants we are, for the wisdom or folly of the laws we have enacted, and the measures of public importance inaugurated.

To simplify the laws of our State, and to curtail and cheapen its administration, should be, and is, the object of prudent legislators. To remedy grievances, and "for amending and strengthening the laws," the Constitution affords the people protection in frequent elections. Armed with this power, and enlightened by truth, through the medium of a high-toned and patriotic press, the people will never fail to do right.

In parting from you, gentlemen, I desire to express some measure of my approbation for the courtesy and support I have received at your hands. I can say, truthfully, that I have received, as your presiding officer, the utmost respect and consideration from each individual member of the House. I cherish none but feelings of friendship and kindness for each member of your body. I came into the chair entirely without solicitation on my part, and confess I assumed its duties with misgivings and doubt. As I assured you in the beginning, I have endeavored to "know neither party nor friend in the government of your body." How faithful I have been to that pledge I will leave you to determine. North Carolina has need for the services of all persons. Let us, in whatever sphere we may move in the future, continue to keep her honor and prosperity in view.

The hour of 3 P. M. having arrived, the Speaker declared the House of Representatives adjourned sine die.

J. L. ROBINSON,
Speaker of the House.

S. D. Pool, Clerk.

45. Every bill shall be introduced by motion for leave, or by order of the House, on the report of a Committee.

46. Every bill shall receive three several readings in the House previous to its passage, and the Speaker shall give notice at each whether it be its first second or third. The first reading of a bill shall be for information. If no opposition be made the bill shall go to its second reading without question.

47. Upon the second reading of the bill, the Speaker shall state it as reading for commitment or amendment.

48. The Speaker shall refer all bills and resolutions upon their introduction to the appropriate Committee, unless otherwise ordered.

49. The Clerk of the House shall keep a separate calendar of the public and private bills, and shall number them in the order in which they are introduced, and all bills shall be disposed of in the order they stand upon the calendar, except otherwise specially ordered. No public bill shall be twice read on the same day without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

50. All resolutions which may grant money out of the Treasury, or such as shall be of public nature, shall be treated in all respects in a similar manner with public bills.

51. The clerk of the House shall be deemed to continue in office until another is appointed.

52. Upon a motion of any member, there shall be a call of the House, a majority of the members present assenting thereto; and upon a call of the House, the names of the members shall be called over by the clerk, and the absentees noted;
after which the names of the absentees shall again be called over. The doors shall then be closed and those from whom no excuse, or insufficient excuses are made, may, by order of those present, if fifteen in number, be taken into custody as appear, or may be sent for, and taken into custody wherever to be found, by special manager appointed for that purpose.

PREVIOUS QUESTION.

53. The previous question shall be as follows: "Shall the main question be now put?" and until it is decided shall preclude all amendments and debates. If this question shall be decided in the affirmative, the "main question" shall be on the passage of the bill, resolution or other matter under consideration; but when amendments are pending, the question shall be taken upon such amendments in their order without further debate or amendment. If such question be decided in the negative, the main question shall be considered as remaining under debate: Provided, That no one shall move the previous question, except the Chairman of a committee, whose report is under consideration, the mover of a resolution or bill, or the author of a minority report.

54. When a motion for the previous question is made, and pending the second there to by a majority, debate shall cease, but if any member obtain the floor, he may move to lay the matter under consideration on the table, or move an adjournment, and when both or either of these motions is pending, the question shall stand:

1st. Previous question.
2d. To adjourn.
3d. Lay on the table.

And then upon the main question; or amendments, or the motions to postpone indefinitely, postpone to a day certain, to commit or amend, in the order of their precedence, until the main question is reached or disposed of; but after the previous question has been called by a majority, no motion, amendment or debate shall be in order.
RULES OF ORDER.

All motions below the motion to lay on the table must be made prior to a motion for the previous question; but pending and not after the second therefor by the majority of the House a motion to adjourn or lay on the table, or both are in order. This constitutes the precedence of the motion to adjourn and lay on the table over other motions, in rule twenty-five.

Motions stand as follows, in order of precedence in Rule 25:

- Adjourn.
- Lay on the table.
- Previous question.
- Postpone indefinitely.
- Postpone definitely.
- To commit or amend.

When the previous question is called, all motions below it fall, unless made prior to the call, and all motions above it fall after its second by a majority required. Pending the second, the motions to adjourn and lay on the table are in order, but not after a second. When in order, and every motion is before the House, the question stands as follows:

- Previous question.
- Adjourn.
- Lay on the table.
- Postpone indefinitely.
- Postpone definitely.
- To commit.
- Amendment to amendment.
- Amendment.
- Substitute.
- Bill.

The previous question covers all other motions when seconded by a majority of the House, and proceeds by regular gradation to the main question, without debate, amendment or motion until such question is reached or disposed of.
