State coupon bonds—proceeds of the funding of bonds and certificates under the act of March 4th, 1879, to compromise, commute and settle the State debt.

PUBLIC FUND RECEIPTS.

The receipts of this fund for the fiscal years ending November 30th, 1887, and November 30th, 1888, are as follows: For 1887, $850,177.70; for 1888, $724,506.45. Deducting the special funds not constituting a part of the revenues, amounting, for the fiscal year 1887, to $194,462, and for the fiscal year 1888, to $208,816.67, and we have for the fiscal year 1887, $655,735.70, and for 1888, $515,673.78.

PUBLIC FUND DISBURSEMENTS.

Deducting special amounts not provided for from the ordinary resources of the Treasury, and we have for 1887, $607,734.83; for 1888, $632,474.55.

ESTIMATED FUTURE EXPENSES.

Given as a whole, $713,550.
ESTIMATED RESOURCES.

The whole value of personal and real property is $217,700,000. A tax of thirty cents on every one hundred dollars' worth of property is $604,395; add taxes collectible by sheriff under schedules B and C, $30,000; taxes collected by sheriffs on incomes and under schedules B and C, $28,000; revenue from all other sources, $40,000—and we have $702,395; add balance at close of fiscal year $7,900—making $700,395.

BONDED DEBT.

Principal of the bonded debt recognized in the act of 1879, bonds issued before May 1861, at forty per cent, $5,477,400; bonds issued during and since the late war, by authority of acts passed prior thereto, at twenty-five per cent, $3,261,045; bonds issued in pursuance of the funding acts of March 10th, 1866, and August 20th, 1868, at fifteen per cent, $3,888,600; total recognized debt, $12,627,015.

Bonds have been exchanged as follows:
Class first, at forty per cent, $1,925,900.
Class two, at twenty-five per cent, $2,591,045.

Amount of four per cent. consolidated bonds when all are exchanged, $3,613,511.25.
Amount of six per cent. renewal bonds when all are exchanged, $2,795,000.

Whole amount of bonded debt, $6,408,511 25.

Of the old bonds issued in aid of the North Carolina Railroad, $189,000 have not been surrendered for exchange.
Of these the United States Government holds, $147,000.
Unknown creditors, $42,000.
Total, $189,000.

At the last session of the Legislature, the Treasurer was authorized, with the sanction of the Governor and Auditor, to sell four per cent. bonds—as many as may be necessary—at not less than par value, and that he apply the proceeds to the payment of these outstanding six per cent. construction bonds, wherever found. At the passage of the act these four per cent. bonds were at par, but soon thereafter they commenced to fall, and now command in the market about ninety-one cents in the dollar. Being unable to sell at par, of course the proposition failed. I would recommend that so much of the law as requires that these bonds be sold at par be repealed, and that the Treasurer be authorized to sell them for such sum as by him, under the sanction of the Governor and Auditor, may be deemed best, and that the proceeds be applied, as heretofore, in payment of the North Carolina Construction Bonds, and they, in their turn, be exchanged for new construction bonds, and held as a fund to be applied to interest and principal of the consolidated debt.

The Auditor and Treasurer both concur in the opinion that, in order to meet the expenditures of the next two years, it will be necessary to levy a tax of thirty cents on one hundred dollars' worth of property. This has been rendered necessary by the loss of the drummers' tax, under a decision of the Supreme Court, believed to be applicable to our State, that the law was unconstitutional, and the reduction of tax in 1887 to twenty cents on the one hundred dollars' value of property; from these two causes the public revenue has been reduced $160,000. This decision only applied to drummers from other States, but it was evidently unjust to collect this tax from our merchants when all others were free of tax, so the whole tax has been suspended, by reason of the failure of the sheriffs to collect it. The case from this State is now pending in the Supreme Court of the United States, but it was under advice of counsel, and by the suggestion of the judge, that all collection be suspended until the final decision. In the meantime I would ask the Legislature to suspend the collection of that tax as to our own people, and give to the sheriffs a legal sanction for failing to do what equity and justice seem to demand.

PENITENTIARY.

It is suggested by the Treasurer that it is open to the Legislature, if in their wisdom they deem it proper to adopt it, to make the Penitentiary self-sustaining, and thereby reduce the estimates of taxation from thirty cents on the one hundred dollars' value of property to twenty-five, or thereabouts. The Penitentiary, outside of its regular work, for which they receive compensation, is required to do a great deal without receiving a dollar therefor. There are over four hundred convicts on the railroads and in the swamps in the east, from whom no revenue is derived. They have done much work upon the Supreme Court room; upon the Capitol grounds; built a new stockade around the Penitentiary building, and added to the building itself; purchased a large number of carts and mules to work on the railroads; furnished three-fourths of a million of merchantable brick for the Agricultural and Mechanical College; furnished a granite base for a monument to be erected on the Guilford battle-ground. All this has been done at a cost of probably $75,000. The work here done in value lacks only $25,000 of the amount appropriated out of the Treasury for the Penitentiary per annum by the last Legislature. It would seem, therefore, that the appropriation out of the Treasury for the support of this institution has been returned in work to the extent of $75,000, and that they should be credited with that amount.

I would renew the recommendation in my last message that the Legislature should appropriate a sum sufficient to cover all expenses of the institution, and that all the earnings be covered into the Treasury. Do this, and, with energy and good management, the institution can be made self-sustaining; and to this end, I would ask that the prison building be completed, and the needed shops and store-rooms be erected; the necessary machinery, stock and tools be provided for, and the immediate establishment of such industries as may be thought necessary. The Architect and Warden earnestly advises this, and I concur with him, so that they may have constant employment for so large a force. Should not this be done, he adds that we may reasonably expect in a short time a large number of convicts will be returned to the Penitentiary without employment or shelter. There are now in the Penitentiary thirty-five between the ages of eight and fifteen years, and three hundred and sixty-five between the ages of fifteen and twenty. I have heretofore earnestly asked, and renew the request, that these young people be separated in their confinement from the hardened criminals, and thus afford some chance of reform.

I am glad to say that the death-rate has greatly diminished in the last two years, and the health and condition of the prisoners show that this institution is in good hands, and is admirably managed.

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE AND MECHANICAL ARTS.

In the spring of 1888 work was commenced on the main or Agricultural building. This is of brick, and the Penitentiary has furnished for this purpose, so far, 800,000, all of which, except a few thousand retained to build an annex, are already in the main building. It is thought that this building can be completed by the coming summer, so as to open its doors for the reception of students. As this institution is intended for the benefit of all classes, I have been anxious to make the tuition free, or if not free, cheap enough to be within the reach of the poorer class of farmers and laborers. But the law, as it stands now, gives to each county as many free scholars as such county has representatives in the lower house of the Legislature. This will, of itself, give free tuition to as many as will attend for several years to come. It gives me pleasure to say that those in immediate control of the work are much to be commended for the attention given, and for the judgment displayed in the arrangement and style of buildings. It is a beautiful site, and I hope and believe it will prove an ornament to Raleigh and a blessing to the whole State.

ASYLUMS.

It gives me great pleasure to state that the insane asylums are in fine condition, ably and well managed, and doing a grand work for humanity. I had the honor, in my last message, to recommend the necessity for more room and greater capabilities in behalf of the Eastern Insane Asylum at Raleigh. The number of insane now provided for in that institution is two hundred and ninety-two, and these are largely in excess of the capacity for which the asylum was originally designed. There are now in private families, poor-houses and jails, in said district, over eight hundred insane persons, who should have medical treatment, and that care and nursing which alone can be found in asylums properly equipped to that end. Many of these persons are in poverty, and are in frequent want of food and clothing. A few days ago, on his return from his circuit, I received from a distinguished and humane judge of the State, Hon. James C. MacRae, the following letter, calling my attention to this subject:

RALEIGH, N. C., December 19th, 1888.

To His Excellency, Governor A. M. Scales:

My Dear Sir:—Will you permit me to call your attention, in the interest of humanity, to that class of insane persons, whom I have found confined in the common jails and the county poor-houses throughout the State, on account of insufficient accommodation for them in the asylums for the insane provided by the State. I mean no reflection upon the management of those institutions, for I am persuaded that those in charge of them are doing all they can for the reception of patients; but I fear that the State has not made that provision for these most unfortunate persons which their number and necessities demand.
I found a colored man confined in jail in Hyde County on a charge of assault and battery, who was declared a lunatic by the jury, and who I think might be cured by prompt treatment. I also found two persons confined in Beaufort jail, and was informed that two others were in the poor-house of that county, simply because they were insane.

Some of these may have been incurable—but surely, in this day and generation, other provision should be made for them than incarceration as common felons in the jails, or, what is almost as bad, in the poor-houses of the counties.

I most sincerely trust that the enlightened representatives of the people, upon a presentation to them of the sad cases of these persons, will take such order that they may be cared for in the spirit manifested in our fundamental law.

I beg to call your attention also to the youthful criminals who are too young to send to the Penitentiary, and for whom it is difficult to make provision otherwise. A house of correction in connection with the Penitentiary, where they might be kept separate from the evil influence of older and more hardened offenders, might result in the reclamation from vice of many who would otherwise be lost to a life of virtue.

I am, Governor, most respectfully, yours, &c.,

Jas. C. MacRae.

I thank him for the interest he has manifested, and commend his letter to your favorable consideration. The speediest and most economical mode of relief is to be found in the adoption of suitable plans for the enlargement of this asylum. I call your attention to the report of the Board of Directors for the term ending November, 30th, 1886, which contains the plans proposed for such an enlargement. The appropriation of $38,500 annually for two years, according to this report, will provide for an additional wing which would accommodate two hundred and fifty additional patients, making the total capacity five hundred and fifty patients. This is based on the idea that brick and common labor will be furnished by the Penitentiary authorities free of charge. This enlargement has been earnestly asked by the distinguished Superintendent, by the able Board of Directors, by myself and my predecessor. In the interest of humanity, I renew most heartily and press upon you the importance of this recommendation.

The Morganton Asylum can accommodate from four hundred and fifty to five hundred patients. The Directors ask for an appropriation of $50,000 for 1889 and $94,000 for 1890. They estimate the number of patients the first year at four hundred and fifty, and the second at five hundred. This is a per capita of only $187.50. This is economical, and shows a determination on the part of the worthy Directors to do the work well for as little money as possible. The farm connected with this institution shows a net profit of $1,496.60, and the shoe-shop a net profit of $728.87. This work is not only serviceable to the convicts engaged, but is a high compliment to the management. The reports of all these institutions, with their recommendations, are herewith sent for your consideration.

INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF, DUMB AND THE BLIND.

I congratulate the State upon the steady growth and improvement of this well-managed institution. Its pupils have largely increased, numbering now about two hundred and eighty-seven—forty-seven more than at the last report. With this additional number of pupils, and the necessary additional expense incurred, they have exceeded their appropriation only in the small sum of $17.57. They ask for repairs and other articles they deem necessary, and especially do they ask for a hospital. The health of the institution, they report, has been good. Yet, in the event of an epidemic, for want of room, they allege that they would have to close the institution. I would respectfully refer you to their report for the facts upon which this request is based, that you may see that their recommendations are well founded and deserve your earnest consideration.

PENSIONS.

By the law of The Code, chapter 45, and the Laws of 1885 and 1887, the State has acknowledged and attempted to meet the sacred obligations she owes to her disabled and destitute soldiers. The laws mentioned, though well intentioned, are wholly inadequate. By the acts and amendments of 1885 and 1887, the sum of $30,000 was appropriated to a certain defined class of soldiers and widows of deceased soldiers, in the expectation that each entitled would receive the sum of thirty dollars.

The number of soldiers drawing pensions are 1,083; the number of widows drawing pensions are 2,625; total, 3,703; allowance for each soldier and widow, $8.25. Number of soldiers held and not yet allowed, 181; number of widows held and not yet allowed, 443; total, 664. Total number receiving and not receiving pensions, 4,372. If all claims should be allowed, we have about $7 each. This is wholly inadequate. The allowance under The Code, chapter 45, seems to have given satisfaction. I recommend that ample provisions be made at least to feed and clothe the soldiers who are both destitute and disabled, and the sum paid should be in proportion to the disability and destitution. North Carolina has commenced the work, and she can take no step backwards. Cost what it may, she must take care of those soldiers who have been so disabled in her service that they cannot take care of themselves, and those who are the widows of soldiers who were killed in battle, and who are so destitute as to make State aid a necessity.

STATE GUARD.

The State Guard is composed of four regiments, one battalion of colored troops, one company of cavalry, and the general staff, numbering as follows: First Regiment, 371; Second Regiment, 290; Third Regiment, 336; Fourth Regiment, 298; one battalion of colored troops, 100; one cavalry company, 41; general staff, 20; total, 1,459; average number of men in companies, 43.89 (this is an increase of over 2070); average attendance in the several companies at monthly parades, 34 men; increase during the year, 237 men.

Since my last message, the annual appropriation has been increased by an act of Congress from $5,000, under the old law, to $10,000. The old appropriation was paid to us in arms, accoutrements and ammunition, so far as desired, and the remainder the States were allowed to draw, sell and convert into money, to be used by the Commander-in-Chief, under State law, in a way, in his opinion, that tended best to subserve the interest of the Guard. In this State the fullest power was conferred upon the Governor, with no other condition or qualification except that it was to be used for the Guard. To this fund we have been indebted for the money used in the State encampments held during the administration of my predecessor and myself.

Under the new law, while the amount has been increased, conditions have been annexed which are burdensome and inconvenient. The arms, the ammunition and all the equipments belong to the general government. The uniforms they wear not only belong to the general government, but they must be the same in all respects as that worn by the soldiers of the United States. The States can dispose of nothing, commute nothing, and receive nothing in the way of money. The officers, before receiving anything for their companies, are required to give good bonds for the care and preservation and return of the property, or to account satisfactorily for their failure. There is, then, no hope of help from the United States, as far as the encampment is concerned. During this administration we have had two encampments, one at Asheville in 1886, and heretofore reported to the Legislature, and the other on Wrightsville Sound, near Wilmington, in July last. No one could have visited these encampments without reaching the conclusion that they are absolutely necessary to the efficiency, if not the existence, of the Guard. All the States have felt this, and hence all the States, without an exception, so far as I know, have provided for annual encampments, and made most liberal appropriations to that end. Without appropriations on the part of the State, the last encampment has been held. I therefore beg to renew my recommendation made to the last Legislature, that the sum of $5,000 be appropriated annually to bring these men together for drill, discipline and recreation, and to learn the duties of camp life. The State already owes them much, and in these days of strikes, lawlessness and race troubles, the value of such a guard cannot be overestimated. Let us, then, give them this evidence of our appreciation, and they will repay the expense, in time to come, an hundred fold. We are greatly indebted to the railroads for the very generous abatements in rates of fare, which alone made it possible to hold the encampment, and to the good people of Wilmington and on the Sound for their great kindness and attention to officers and men. Your attention is most respectfully invited to the full reports of the officers of the State Guard, which are herewith submitted.

The United States proposes to give $5,000 to any State that will provide for a permanent encampment, at some suitable point on the coast, where the troops can have the benefit of artillery practice. It is believed, if the Legislature will authorize the Governor and his council to accept and take title deeds to any suitable tract of land that may be presented along the shore, to be held so long as it continues to be a permanent encampment, that there will be no difficulty in securing such a place, without one dollar's cost to the State; and I would especially recommend in such an event, that you provide that no intoxicating drinks should be sold within three miles of the encampment during the time the soldiers may occupy it. I desire further to renew my recommendation made two years ago, that the Adjutant General's salary be raised to $1,500; that this is to be in full for all services, and that he be required to live in the city of Raleigh. I concur in the recommendation of the Inspector General that the four regiments of white troops be consolidated into one brigade, and that an officer bearing the rank of Brigadier General be selected and commissioned to command the same.

EDUCATION.

In my last message I had the honor of calling attention to the report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, in which, among other things, he attached special importance to a longer term. In his presentable report he uses the following language: "The great difficulty in making the schools satisfactory is found in the fact that the necessarily short term, with the amount of money now supplied, cannot command experienced teachers." I concurred with him then, and earnestly expressed the hope that means would be found and put in motion to accomplish this important result. I cannot add anything to what has so well been said by the Superintendent, but I desire to repeat with emphasis that part of my last message that has relation to this subject. The whole of the report, with its many valuable suggestions, is eminently worthy of, and I trust will receive, your earnest consideration. The average length of the schools in the State is sixty-three days per annum, about three days more than in 1887; amount of money spent in 1888, including special graded school taxes, about $700,000—a very small increase, but this could not be expected under the present laws; number of children is 580,810; whites, 363,982, and colored, 216,837; average attendance about 35 per cent.; enrollment 58 per cent.

THE UNIVERSITY.

Your attention is invited to the very intelligent report of the treasurer of the University. Owing to the reductions made in its income by the last Legislature, the trustees found it necessary to cut down the number of teachers, as follows: One professor, at a salary of $2,000; one with a salary of $1,600, and one with a salary of $1,200, and they were notified that their services would be dispensed with at the end of the collegiate year, ending August 15th, 1888, so that the pay-roll now stands as follows: $22,700, which, with other expenses, must be met by the fixed income of $20,248, receipts from tuition and escheats. Devoted as I am, and as I believe the great majority of the people are, to the University, I am glad to be able to say, in the language of the faithful officer of the treasury, Col. W. L. Saunders, "that in spite of its difficulties, the condition of this institution is full of hope and encouragement."

THE PUBLIC HIGHWAYS.

In my inaugural address, four years ago, I called attention to the public roads of the country. I desire to repeat now, what I said then, for I regret to say there has been no improvement. Progress marks everything in North Carolina except our highways. They are little or no better, upon the whole, than they were one hundred years ago. The system is a failure, yet there has been no amendment. For several months in the winter season all trade and traffic is suspended on account of the deep and miry condition of the roads; and even in the best of weather transportation is attended with much difficulty and expense. These roads, as they exist to day, are in the way of progress, check immigration, detract from the value of the lands, and diminish, to a great degree, the value and quantity of the products of the soil. There must be a change, and a radical change. Your honorable bodies are composed of a majority of those who till the soil, and know by actual experience the value of good roads to the farmer. I appeal to you to take the initiative in this great work. There is nothing upon which the country is so dependent; there is nothing which is more emphatically demanded by the people. If nothing else is done, this will fully pay, in the eyes of the people, all the expenses of the Legislature. Resort to taxation as far as may be necessary; make those who can’t pay taxes work them out on the roads; press into service the convicts; adopt one, two, or all these plans. If not prepared to use convicts, use taxation and labor, and to such an extent as to force the accomplishment of the work.

THE RAILROADS.

The State owns in great part two railroads, the North Carolina and the Atlantic and North Carolina. The North Carolina Road was chartered the 27th January, 1849, and runs from Charlotte, via Salisbury, Greensboro and Hillsboro, to Goldsboro, a distance of 222½ miles. It was leased to the Richmond & Danville Railroad for the term of thirty years from the 12th day of September, 1871, at the sum of two hundred and sixty thousand dollars per annum. It cost the State the full sum of $3,000,000, and is now one of the best paying railroads in the State. It pays to the stockholders six per cent. on its stock, and the State is enabled thus to discharge, and has done so for twelve or fifteen years, her interest at six per cent., as it become due, on all her bonds issued to aid in the construction of the road without resorting to taxation. The amount paid is about $180,000. The lease expires in the year 1901, having about twelve years now to run. If not crippled by bad legislation, and the occupation of her legitimate territory by other roads, which will be sure to drain the life-blood from her trunk-line and divert it to other channels, she will, for years to come, under good management, continue to prosper, and eventually, out of her earnings, pay a large part of the State's annual expenditures.

The Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad was chartered under similar provisions, with the exception that the State owns two-thirds of the entire stock instead of three-fourths, as in the other case. This road runs from Goldsboro, via New Berne, to Morehead City, a distance of ninety-six miles. It was built, and so declared, as an extension of the North Carolina Railroad, and was a part of the great system of improvements which is to bring the mountains in close connection with the Atlantic, and is the final consummation of what has been prophesied and devoutly wished for by our fathers years before. It passes through a rich and fertile country, and ministers to the wants and necessities of an intelligent, patriotic and cultivated people. There was nothing to hinder its success save the water-ways along its line, which themselves would have soon given way as competitors to the superior dispatch of the railroad. And yet it was not a success. From its completion to this day it has never paid one dollar of dividend, so far as I am advised. Its stock in 1885 was worth on the market from eight to ten dollars a share, and it had ekeled out a sickly existence—for all the years of its life up to that time—without any permanent improvement or the means to effect it. During the last four years the road has greatly improved, and its condition is such as to attract attention and to command business. The stock, from eight to ten dollars, has gone up in the market to about twenty-two dollars, and not much to be had at this price. There has been, and will be, by the last of January, new steel rails on the road, its entire length from Goldsboro to Morehead City. Other improvements in bridges, road-bed and rolling-stock have been made, and equally marked and decided in their character. To effect all this the debt of the road has been increased, but the amount of interest paid is about the same. The bonded debt is now about $325,000, and the floating debt will perhaps not exceed $30,000, making the aggregate debt about $355,000. The old debt, which was funded at eight per cent., has been recently refunded, as the old bonds become due, at six per cent.

The president and directors have been diligent, faithful and successful, and I tender to them and the other officers of the road my thanks for the great work accomplished.

If it should be desired, a more minute and detailed account of the work performed, and the condition of the road, will be gladly presented to your honorable body by the president.

All these facts indicate that in the near future a dividend will be paid, and if your honorable body should establish a Railroad Commission, by which traffic relations can be made fair and just between this road and the other roads of the State, Hyde County will furnish all the corn needed in North Carolina at reasonable rates. This corn, and other products along the line of this road, will be exchanged for the products of the Piedmont and mountain sections, and the State will thus furnish a market within her own borders for her own people.

In twelve years the lease of the North Carolina Railroad will expire, and the two roads, so necessary to each other, may be run under the same management as one grand trunk-line of 322½ miles. In any event, with traffic relations with other roads, they become a splendid property in the hands of the State, and as such will contribute largely to the relief of the people in the payment of taxes. These two roads should never be severed. They were meant to be one, and it were as well to cut off the North Carolina Railroad at Durham or Hillsboro as to cut it off at Goldsboro. If sold or leased at all, let it apply to the whole road or none.

At the last session of the Legislature, upon my recommendation, a law was passed authorizing the building of branches as feeders to the main line, at such points as may be deemed advisable by the respective directors of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad and the North Carolina Railroad. I regard it as necessary, to protect their respective territories from the encroachments of other roads. I ask that convicts be furnished, to be fed and clothed by the people along the line, to assist in this work. I would earnestly renew this recommendation.

RAILROAD COMMISSION.

Four years ago, in my inaugural address, I said: "It is a source of regret that serious antagonisms exist between the railroad corporations and the citizens in their individual capacity. The corporations complain that in all matters of controversy between them and the individual citizen it is often difficult for them to get exact justice from the courts and juries of the country. On the other hand, the citizens complain that these corporations, chartered and often aided by the State as common carriers, for the common good, are allowed, without competition or the restraining influence of law, to levy taxes in the way of freight and fares at their pleasure, to the oppression of the citizens. They further complain that unequal and unjust discriminations are made by the railroads, as between individuals, companies, stations, towns and cities, and that the result of this discrimination is to build up one city or locality at the expense of another, and to break down one set of men for the benefit of another. These are grave complaints on both sides, and there is doubtless much truth in them. When a railroad company is chartered it is made a person in law, and as such is entitled to all its privileges, rights and immunities given under the law, as much as the highest and most favored individual in the land. Say, if you will, that it has no soul, no sympathies, no affections, no ambition or aspiration beyond gain, still it is a child of the law, and in a land where law is supreme is entitled to all the power of the State to secure a fair trial and protection of every legal right. But while this is so, the citizens also have rights under the Constitution that must be equally recognized and protected. All other common carriers, whether by land or sea, to a greater or less extent, are regulated and held within proper limits in all their exactions from the public by competition, but with railroads there is no competition, and if one is built now and then with any such view, it is soon destroyed by combinations for mutual profit. That this is a crying evil and calls loudly for a remedy is shown in the agitations on this subject for the last ten years, not only in the halls of Congress, but in all the State legislatures. That the Legislature has the power to control and regulate these corporations, and that it is their duty, if not done by the corporate authorities themselves, to remedy the wrongs, will hardly admit of a doubt. The great question, and the one that presents the only difficulty to my mind, is how shall a law be framed so as to meet the difficulty fully, and at the same time save to the railroads whatever of right and privilege is necessary to their preservation and legitimate profit? These corporations best understand their business, and are certainly best qualified to know what should be done and how to do it. They cannot fail to see that something must be done. The people are aroused and determined. Congress and the legislatures but reflect the will of the people and the profound interest they feel in the subject. Will they do it? The wisdom which looks to the best interests of the roads, the good of the people and to the harmony and good feeling between these clashing interests, demand it. But if they fail, and nothing is done, the agitation will go on increasing day by day until the people will force from unwilling hands that justice which, if voluntarily granted, would have been gladly accepted in a spirit of compromise, leaving no sting behind.

The time has come when some step should be taken. The people demand it; and their Senators and Representatives have been selected to this end. Every State in the Union, except ten, to-wit: Delaware, Florida, Louisiana, Maryland, Nevada, Oregon, Tennessee, Texas, West Virginia and North Carolina, have appointed Commissioners and enacted laws to regulate the carrying trade of the railroads in the borders of the different States; and the United States, by an Act of Congress, has undertaken to regulate commerce—as they have a right to do—between the States. The force of these examples is seen and felt, and the time is not remote when all the remainder of the States will wheel into line and demand such action as will be just and fair to the railroads and to the people.

I would recommend:

First. That you seek to prevent discriminations between individuals.

Second. To secure reasonable rates.

Third. To prevent discriminations between localities, so that the charge for a short haul will not be greater than for a longer one which includes the shorter.

Fourth. To prevent rebates and drawbacks, which are but covers for improper discrimination.

Fifth. To prevent pooling or combination with other roads.

Sixth. To give publicity to all rates.
These should form the main purposes of legislation—and form the great objects of the bill as amended and adopted by Congress. This being the law, then, to regulate all inter-state commerce, it is desirable, as far as practicable, that it should obtain in the States, so that there may be uniformity and harmony between the United States and the several States.

I would also recommend a commission of three wise, patriotic and unprejudiced men, with salaries sufficient to render them independent, and enable them to give their whole time to the work.

It is exceeding difficult to so frame a bill as to meet every case, without unduly interfering with, if not crippling, the railroads. I would, therefore, recommend that power be given to the Commission to consider and adjust all questions of freights and fares, as well as other controverted questions which may arise between the different railroads themselves, or between the railroads and the citizens.

This whole question is yet within the domain of experiment—the law is very unsettled and imperfect, and such power given to the Commission, with proper restrictions, would, I apprehend, by actual experience, gradually work out a just, impartial and beneficent law. This Commission should be selected with great care; they should be men of first-rate intelligence, practical knowledge, incorruptible integrity and judicial fairness.

I would also suggest that the law, chapter 108, Laws of 1885, be repealed, and that hereafter no more railroads should be built, except permission be granted by the Commission, or by the Legislature. The State having granted a charter, owes it to herself, the railroads and the citizens, that no other charter be granted in the same territory, the tendency of which, through feelings of rivalry and resentment, would be not simply to encourage competition, but to destroy both railroads. Much property has been wasted and destroyed by the law as it now stands, and I trust that this protection will be granted. In this connection, I would also ask that all further consolidations of railroads within the State with other railroads be prohibited, except by consent of the Legislature. This whole question in relation to railroads is one of high importance. The railroads are persons under the law; they are the foundation of all progress and wealth of the State; cripple them and you cripple the State; take care of them and you build up the State. Let your whole action be calmly, slowly, but wisely considered, and I doubt not that action will result in fair, wholesome and just law for the citizen and the railroad.

NORTH CAROLINA AGRICULTURAL STATION.

Owing to recent legislation, the resources of this institution, together with those of the remainder of the Department of Agriculture, were seriously curtailed. In consequence of this, several branches of the Experiment Station were at that time reduced, and the consequent capacity for usefulness. Experimental work in the field, which is such a necessary attendant to similar research in the laboratory, had to be entirely discontinued. However, after several months had elapsed since the reduction took place, an Act of Congress, known as the Hatch Act, for the purpose of inaugurating and aiding in the establishment of Agricultural Experiment Stations in the various States and Territories, was passed by the general government. Anterior to the passage of this act, the Legislature of 1887 accepted such funds on the part of this State, and gave the whole amount for the maintenance of the North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station. Our Station commenced to receive this fund in March of 1888—to too late, however, to begin active operations in the field for that year. These funds from the United States ($15,000) caused the Experiment Station to be able to enlarge its operations, and to begin work not heretofore attempted. A short time was lost on account of the delay in securing the proper workers for the various branches of the Station, but with the preparations already commenced, and with the equipments already on hand the Station expects to commence investigations, and do work of such a nature as will prove of lasting benefit to our people, and, too, since the funds for this work are supplied by the United States without cost to the State.

The work of the Experiment Station in the past, in the analysis and publication of fertilizer analyses, has proven of incalculable value in the prevention of fraud in the sale of commercial fertilizers, and of the adulteration of other fertilizing ingredients. Facilities have been arranged by which these-fertilizer analyses can be completed and published much earlier than heretofore, so that the farmers can use these analyses in the purchase of their spring goods.

In furtherance of the object of the act donating the funds from the United States, this State has expended, and will expend, this money, for the sole purpose of conducting true experimental investigations and other work, for the benefit of practical agriculture, referred to in Hatch Act.

THE OYSTER SURVEY.

The survey of the oyster beds, and the investigation of the waters of the State with reference to oyster culture, authorized by the General Assembly, has been prosecuted by the Board of Agriculture, in conjunction with the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, and the work is now nearly completed. The results obtained are both important and gratifying. An area of over 1,000,000 acres has been examined, and of this territory of 583,000 acres are reported as being suitable for either growing or cultivating oysters. The natural oyster beds of Pamlico, Core and Bogue Sounds and their tributaries, and of New and White Oak Rivers, have been located and defined. The aggregate area of these beds is 8,591 acres. Several hundred thousand determinations of the character of the bottom and water have been made, and a large amount of other valuable information in relation to the physical characteristics of the waters of the State has been secured. Maps of large scale, covering the area comprised in Pamlico Sound and its tributaries, Core Sound, Bogue Sound, and the White Oak and New rivers and tributaries, have been constructed.

Large maps, showing the various public grounds, have also been furnished the several boards of county commissioners. On all the maps are shown the limit of entry by non-residents, the county lines, the natural oyster beds, the public grounds, the private grounds, the depth of water, the character of bottom, the position and names of signals used, and the contour of the shores and general topography of the land immediately adjacent to the coast. Descriptions of the "Public Grounds," or the areas so designated by the Board of Commissioners of Shell-Fisheries, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 119, Laws of 1887, have been furnished the Shell-Fish Commissioners. Of the 472 entries of oyster ground made under the authority of the new law, 313 have already been located without cost to the applicants, beyond the actual expense incurred. The preliminary report on the work, submitted by Lieutenant Winslow, in January, 1887, has been revised, and to a great extent re-written, and will shortly be published.

The expenditures for the fiscal year ending November 30th, 1888, have been $710.46. The entire cost of the survey, from October, 1885, to November 30th, 1888, a period of over three years, has been but $4,037.55. In accomplishing results of less importance, though of similar character, the State of New York has expended nearly $30,000, and the State of Connecticut nearly $70,000. The economy of the operation in the case of North Carolina has been due to the cordial co-operation of the United States Coast Survey in the work, and the State is under great obligations to Mr. Thorn, the Superintendent, for the assistance thus afforded.
The "Act to promote the cultivation of shell-fish in the State," ratified February 28th, 1887, has been put in operation with gratifying success. In accordance with its provisions the Board of Agriculture elected Messrs. W. J. Griffin, of Pasquotank County; I. B. Watson, of Hyde County, and W. T. Cahoon, of Pamlico County, as members of the Board of Commissioners of Shell-Fisheries. This Board proceeded to determine the locations and areas of the public grounds, or grounds excepted from entry, and completed their labors in June last. Two hundred and eight public grounds, comprising an area of 20,553 acres, were defined, and the decision of the Commissioners published, as required by law. The decisions have been generally acceptable to the people, but two protests having been made to the Board, and no appeals from their findings having been made to the courts. Since May 1st, 1888, 472 entries of oyster ground have been made, divided as follows: In Dare County, 43; in Hyde County, 339; in Carteret County, 90. The total area entered is approximately 53,000 acres. Of the 427 applicants 68 are residents of other States, and 404 of North Carolina. Additional entries are being made, and there is no prospect of a diminution of the demand in the immediate future. These lands, when they become productive, will yield in taxes, about $10,000 per annum, and will afford employment to large numbers of people. The direct return to the State as proceeds of sales will probably exceed $12,000. For details regarding the work of the Commission, attention is called to their Report.

Considering the success which has attended the operations of the act, it would seem advisable to extend its provisions to the remaining waters of the state suitable for oyster-growing. At present Roanoke Sound, the greater part of Cedar Island Bay, Core and Bogue Sounds and the waters to the southward and westward of Bogue Inlet, are subject either to special acts or to the old general law (section 3390 of The Code), operating on this question. In neither case has any advance in the oyster industry occurred or any advantage resulted to the State, the public or the locality. On the other hand, the adoption of the new principle and more liberal policy has led to a great extension of the productive area and the promise of returns, of considerable direct and indirect value. It is, therefore, recommended that the principle be extended by suitable legislation to remaining waters of the State. The Shell-Fish Commissioners suggest the extension of the area open to non-residents. Citizens of other States cannot, at present, enter territory within two-miles of the shore. It is necessary for oyster-growers to have some bottom along the coast and adjacent to the packing-houses and canning establishments, and it is therefore suggested that any person entering tracts beyond the two-miles limit should have the privilege of entering, in addition, ten acres within that limit and adjacent to his place of business. This suggestion is reasonable, and is recommended for adoption. Experience has shown that the belt of territory lying between the two-mile line and a line drawn about a half mile from shore is practically removed from entry. The difficulty can be obviated by permitting larger entries than ten acres of this territory, it being impossible to accomplish anything on so small tract as ten acres when it lies so far from land.

The Commissioners of Shell-Fisheries have completed all the more important labor assigned to them. The remaining functions of the Board are merely the appointment of engineers and clerks and the keeping of records. It does not appear that these are duties of sufficient importance to occupy a separate body, and the Commissioners suggest the abolition of the Board, and the transference of its remaining duties to one of the existing offices of the State. This suggestion is concurred in. As the office of the Secretary of State contains all the original land records, and also will contain the records of the grants of shell-fish franchises, it will save duplication of records to make the proposed transfer to that office and confer upon the Secretary of State the remaining duties of the Shell-fish Commissioners.

Considering the insignificant condition of the oyster industry prior to the oyster investigation and the passage of the new oyster law, there can be no doubt that both measures have produced results of great benefit. The cost of the survey has been insignificant and the act has been put in operation with but little expense to the State, the Shell-fish Commissioners having served without pay. In consideration of the time and attention they have given to their duties, and the important results obtained, a reasonable compensation should be allowed the members of the Commission, and an appropriation for that purpose is recommended.

With an extension of the principle of the present law to additional areas, and with a general policy of encouragement, the oyster industry of North Carolina will reach great prosperity. To reach that point as soon as possible should be the aim, as it will require the effort of every good citizen.

STATE BOUNDARY LINES.

On February 10th, 1887, I had the honor to send in a special message to the General Assembly of that year, in reference to the settlement of the boundary lines between the States of North Carolina and Virginia, in the counties of Gates, Camden and Currituck; between this State and the State of Tennessee, from Indian Gap Grove to the point where the Jonesboro & Asheville road crosses Bald Mountain; also the line between the county of Mecklenburg, in this State, and the State of South Carolina. These last two have changed in no respect since that message. I wrote to His Excellency, the Governor of South Carolina, several times, asking his co-operation in settling the line between South Carolina and North Carolina, but nothing has been done. There are two surveys of the line at present, one by North Carolina and one by South Carolina, and so it must remain until South Carolina will arbitrate the matter, or join us in a new survey.

No further proposition has been heard from Tennessee, and our Commissioner, the Hon. James Gudger, is confident that the line is as claimed by him. The survey between North Carolina and Virginia, in the counties of Currituck, Camden and Gates, has been completed, and I herewith submit the report of the Commissioner, the Hon. W. D. Pruden, to which your attention is invited. The cost, for which each State was equally bound, was $5,191.50, one-half of which was borne by the State of North Carolina—$2,595.75; add pay of Engineer H. T. Greenleaf, $5 per day, $485, and pay of Commissioner Pruden, $520. Total cost to North Carolina, $3,600.75.

The State of Virginia failed to provide fully for her share of the expense as it arose, and it became necessary to stop the work until she should do so, which would have entailed large additional cost, or, for North Carolina to advance what was necessary for that State. Upon the recommendation of the commissioner of North Carolina, the Hon. W. D. Pruden, I advanced for the State of Virginia the sum of $758.88. It was understood that North Carolina would be re-imbursed this money in a few days. Our Commissioner applied for it, according to the understanding between the Virginia Commissioner and himself, but failed to get it. I wrote to Governor Lee twice in regard to it, and his reply was that the Legislature of Virginia had made a mistake, and failed to provide a sufficient appropriation for the whole amount of costs, and that he would refund the money as soon as the next Legislature of that State met. The itemized statement of Mr. Pruden's account, with all vouchers, are on file in the Executive office, and the letters of Gov. ernor Lee in relation to the indebtedness are copied in the Executive Letter-Book. This work has been admirably well done, and the line permanently marked by stones gotten out by the North Carolina Penitentiary. Accompanying the report is a beautiful map, well gotten up, and the whole work seems to be done for all time. The Commissioner, W. D. Pruden, and Engineer H. T. Greenleaf, Esq., both deserve great credit for their energy, skill and intelligence in the accomplishment of this work.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

I would call special attention to the State Board of Health. They have in charge the health interests of the citizens of the State; they make sanitary investigations and inquiries in respect to the people; investigate the causes of disease dangerous to public health, especially of epidemics, the sources of mortality, and the effects of localities, employments and the conditions upon the public health. They are also the medical advisers of the State, and shall advise the government in regard to the location, the sanitary construction and management of all public institutions, whenever required to do so, in accordance with law. The duties, taken from the law, with which the board is charged, show the importance and responsibility of this board. Their report, which is herewith sent, will advise you fully as to the conduct and action of the board, and as to their recommendations. These, from the character of the board, and their well-known intelligence and patriotism, I commend to your earnest consideration. I also invite your special attention to the report of the Quarantine Physician, which you will find affords much interest and information. He asks that an appropriation be made to build a quarantine hospital, in place of the one burned down a few years ago. His reasons are conclusive, and section 2915, chapter 4, of The Code, provides that a hospital shall be established. I commend this to your favorable consideration.

SALARIES.

I desire to call your attention again to the salaries of the Judges, the Governor, the Attorney-General, the Secretary of State, Auditor, and the Superintendent of Public Instruction. A few days ago one of the ablest of the Superior Court Judges was forced to resign his office and return to his practice, for the reason that his salary was not sufficient (with the expenses) to support and educate his large and growing family. Salaries should never be exorbitant, but always sufficient, with economy, to enable an officer to live in comfort and independence. If anything is done in regard to the State officers, some of whom are not only inadequately but very unequally paid, it must be done between the 9th and 17th of January, when the term of the present administration expires. The inequalities and insufficiency of the salaries are so apparent that this has been three times recommended—once by my predecessor and twice by myself.

TARIFF TAXATION.

The government must be sustained by tariff taxation. This has been the practice from its foundation. The only question or inquiry that is now pertinent, is as to the amount. This should be measured by the necessities of the government, economically and adequately administered; whatever is more than this is altogether evil. The highest judicial tribunal calls it robbery. The people understand that taxation is necessary, and they cheerfully contribute of their substance to the support of the government. They also understand that every dollar of surplus collected out of them is in violation of law, and is a gross outrage upon their rights. The present tariff became law in 1861, and was demanded, as its friends alleged, by the necessities of the war. It was highly protective, and was doubtless framed with a view to protection rather than revenue. The amount of revenue raised by this tariff, and actually paid into the Treasury, is about $212,000,000, and is equivalent, on an average, to about 47 per cent. on the value of the foreign goods brought to this country; in other words, the $212,000,000 is the amount which the foreign merchants annually pay for the privilege of bringing their goods to this market. These goods are then sold to our people at their actual value, with a tax of $212,000,000, and a fair profit added. All this comes from the pocket of the consumer. The foreigner who pays the taxes adds it to the cost of his goods, and only realizes, in the way of gains, the profits which he receives on the cost thus increased. The manufacturer in this country has no duty or tax to pay, but he adds to the price of his goods the duty, to-wit: $212,000,000, and then superadds a fair profit. They both sell at the same price, but the foreign merchant, having paid the duty, only receives it back with a small profit, while the manufacturer not only makes the profit that the foreigner makes, but in addition thereto makes the whole of the duty paid by the foreigner as a part of his profits. This is what is called incidental protection. But the $212,000,000 is not needed by the government; $132,000,000, annually added to the other revenues, is entirely sufficient for all purposes of the government, and this gives, as a surplus, $80,000,000 annually taken from the hard earnings of the people, and stored in the vaults of the Treasury, where there is no need for it. The people are thus deprived of their property. That amount of money is taken out of circulation; the currency is contracted, and many are brought to bankruptcy and ruin. But let us see how much is paid out by the people: First, then, $212,000,000 is collected annually; of this, $132,000,000 annually is needed, and $80,000,000 surplus not needed. There is now supposed to be in the Treasury about $150,000,000 surplus; add to this, $80,000,000, which will be on hand at the end of the year, and we have a surplus now of about $230,000,000 taken from the people without authority of law; and this is what is called robbery, and will be equal to $3.83 for every man, woman and child in the country. But this is not the principal part of the burden the people have to sustain by reason of this high tariff. In many cases it amounts to prohibition, and drives a very large amount of foreign goods from the country. This strikes down all competition, and enables the manufacturer to charge what he pleases for his goods. The amount of duty thus drawn from the people, and that finds its way not into the Treasury, but into the pockets of the manufacturers, is estimated to be about five times the amount that is paid into the Treasury. If this is true, the people have actually to pay, in addition to what I have stated, about $1,000,000,000 more for their goods than they would if there was no tariff. This is equal to about $16 per capita, annually. The government does not get a dollar; the other classes will not get a dollar—it all goes into the pockets of the manufacturer, but it is paid principally by the farmers of the country. This is prohibitory protection; the manufacturers are made rich by it—the farmers will grow poorer by it. The manufacturers, as should be expected, are the richest class of men in the country; they form the syndicates and trust companies; they buy up railroads; they strike down competition, and by combinations and a lavish expenditure of money, they control elections, influence legislatures, force high tariffs upon the people, and will eventually bring the farmers to bankruptcy and ruin. This is protecting one class at the expense of another—the manufacturer against the farmer, the rich against the poor. The farmers feel this most deeply; they have worked harder, lived closer and more economically than ever before, and yet, though they make good crops and command a fair price for them, both ends will not meet at the end of the year, and the cry comes up from all over the country, we are getting poorer every day. What is the remedy? They have formed associations in the United States, in the State, county and township, but no remedy is found. Here is the solution—here is the remedy: These taxes are draining, and have been draining for twenty-eight years continuously, the very life-blood of the people. The remedy is to reduce the tariff to a revenue standard, and save to the people a large amount of surplus taxation, which the government has no use for, and save also to the people the very large amount received by manufacturers, by driving foreign goods from our shores, destroying all competition, and enabling them, without restraint, to demand and secure whatever price they choose to ask.

It is true it is beyond the control of the Legislature. No law can be created by it, but you can request your Representatives, and instruct your Senators, to call this great question to the attention of Congress, and urge upon them, as they value the happiness, prosperity and equality of all classes, to afford them relief. Other States will join in the demand. They may be slow, but they will be sure. It will come. It has been a question in this country for one hundred years, with varying fortunes. It received in the last election, on the popular vote, 90,000, majority. The fight will go on until tariff for revenue only will be triumphant and impartial, when justice will be shown to all classes and occupations of men.

It is this oppressive tax which strikes down the wages of the laborer. It is this which covers with mortgages the houses and homes of the tillers of the soil in New England and Texas; in North Carolina and Iowa; in Florida and Oregon, and throughout the entire length and breadth of the country. The tax is not seen, but felt—felt in the wasting of our substance, the impoverishment of our soil, and in the desolation of our homes. I would urge you to agitate this question by every means in your power, until the people understand and will rise in their might and put an end, through the ballot, to this unjust and unequal law.

PARDONS, COMMUTATIONS AND REPRIEVES.

Number of pardons in the last two years, 61; reprieves, 7; commutations, 7: total, 86.

APPROPRIATIONS.

I desire to renew my recommendations of two years ago in relation to appropriation bills. The Constitution declares that no money shall be drawn from the Treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law. By the action of the Legislature this clause, in my view, has been misinterpreted. I invite your careful attention to my last message, and the report of your most efficient Auditor at the same time, in relation to this matter. The Legislature should provide for a Committee of Appropriations, whose duty it should be to invite estimates from all the different departments of government, and to frame a bill including all such items of expenditure, and only such as have been authorized by law, and appropriating so much money as may be necessary to meet them. Such a law is in harmony with the Constitution, and in the interest of economy.

My term is about to expire. I have endeavored to perform my duty as I understood it. I cannot suffer the occasion to pass without giving expression to my high appreciation of the services of the officers associated with me in the work of the last four years. I have ever found them capable, faithful and efficient. The association has been harmonious, pleasant and profitable; and while it is a source of regret to sunder ties of such long standing, it is a matter of congratulation that so many of them are still in the service of the State.
Within a few days past the State has sustained a great loss in the death of a distinguished citizen and his two sons, under circumstances of peculiar horror. Col. John Ashford, at the call of his State, entered her service, and fought through the late war to Appomatox, with a gallantry and daring second to none in that struggle. As a citizen he was no less distinguished than as a soldier, devoting all the energies of his life in repairing the waste places of the land, and restoring the State to prosperity and happiness. His death is a calamity to the whole State.

INSTALLATION OF EXECUTIVE OFFICERS

A message was ordered sent to the House of Representatives, informing that honorable body that upon the return of the messenger the Senate would proceed to the hall of
of the House of Representatives to participate in the installation of Executive officers of the State.

The Senate having returned to its Chamber, was called to order.

By consent,

Mr. Pou introduced the following (Mr. Bailey in the Chair):

Resolved by the Senate of North Carolina, That the thanks of the Senate be voted to Hon. Charles M. Stedman, late President of the Senate, as a manifestation of the high respect and affection in which he is held by this body, and as an acknowledgement of the courteous, impartial and expeditious manner in which he has presided over the deliberations of this body.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the Journal.

On motion of Mr. Pou, the rules were suspended and the resolutions were taken up on second reading.

In addressing the Senate in support of the resolutions,

Mr. Pou said:

Mr. President:—In presenting these resolutions I have but conformed to a time-honored custom, and one which is peculiarly appropriate at this time. The term of office of our President closes with this session of the Senate, and these resolutions express the regard and affection in which he is held by every member of the Senate over which he has presided. He has presided over three Senates of North Carolina. Of these I served in two, and was in the other end of the Capitol during the sitting of the first, and I believe that I express the sentiment of every Senator when I say that for every qualification requisite, and grace of a presiding officer, Lieutenant-Governor Stedman has been a model. While he has occupied the chair, every Senator has felt that he was assured every right, every favor, and every courtesy which he could ask, and every member of the minority has felt that he was accorded on the floor of the Senate every privilege and right to which he would have been entitled had he been of the majority. While never refusing a request, or denying a courtesy to any member of the Senate, he has been careful that the public interest should not suffer, and has invariably required at least one reading of every bill before it passed the Senate.

For the rapidity and expedition with which the public business has been transacted during his administration, there is perhaps no parallel in our legislation. I remember that in the Session of 1887, in one legislative day, more than two hundred and fifty bills were acted upon.

He had every qualification which is required to make a good presiding officer—ability, patience, justice and integrity, and his official conduct has served to bind to him every member of the Senate in bonds of affection which can never be broken.

I predict, Mr. President, that henceforth the highest meed of praise which shall be measured to any presiding officer in North Carolina, will be to say of him that "he makes as good a presiding officer as Charles M. Stedman." In his office as presiding officer he has reached the pinnacle of perfection, above which no man can go.

Mr. Williams of Pitt said:

MR. PRESIDENT:—I second the resolution of my friend from Johnston, and amend by adding that the remarks of Senators supporting the resolution shall also be a part of the minutes. I am the only Senator who has continuously held his seat from the first to the last day of Mr. Stedman's presidency—two entire sessions, and deep into this, the third. During all of these never-to-be-forgotten days he has ever extended to me unvaried courtesy, kindness and friendship. That now his term of office has expired, leaving us still here, renders the attachment hard—very hard—to sever.

Never in one single instance was there an appeal to the floor from his decisions. His rulings and dispatch of business would have done honor to Speaker Onslow or Nathaniel Macon. I am sure that in all of these sessions, past and present, there is not one single ex-Senator or Senator, whatever may be his politics, who does not extend to Charles Manly Stedman the kindest wishes and the most sincere regards.

Mr. Lusk said:

In taking leave of the presiding officer of the Senate, we realize with profound regret that we are losing one of North Carolina's brightest intellects from our legislative councils, at a time when the State stands much in need of his wise and patriotic advice. No one, perhaps, realizes this loss more keenly than the new members of this body, which has been made more pointed because we have taught ourselves to rely upon him for kindness and forbearance in all things relating to the conduct of the business of the Senate, but which we have never failed to find in the honorable President of this Senate, now about to take leave of those endeared to him by his universal kindness and forbearance. Realizing that this body will soon pass to the control of another, it is nevertheless a source of great pleasure and gratification that we are able to say in his retirement to private life, our presiding officer carries with him the esteem and kindest remembrances of each individual Senator, endeared to him by some token or expression of kindness and personal consideration.

All who are at all familiar with the intricate duties of the presiding officer over legislative bodies, must know that it requires no mean statesmanship and ability to enable such an officer to at all times successfully overcome the difficulties by which the position is often surrounded, and so discharge those duties in a spirit of fairness and justice as to give offense to none, but satisfaction to all. And he who has succeeded in this particular has displayed rare ability, tact and statesmanship. It is no flattery to say of our presiding officer, now about to retire from the chair of this Senate, that so just and wise have been his rulings, and so noble his bearing towards those over whom he has presided for the last four years, that not one single holding is found in all the record not in accordance with the most approved parliamentary usages; while not a single Senator has aught of unkindness to remember. He retires from the Senate as its presiding officer, carrying with him the love and esteem of each individual Senator, and the admiration of all North Carolina. North Carolina has just cause to be proud of the noble deeds of her heroes in war, and no less cause to be proud of the grand achievements of her patriotic statesmen in peace, and of her soldiers and her statesmen who have justly distinguished themselves.

The subject of the resolution now pending before the Senate is not the least in deeds of chivalry as a gallant soldier in war, or achievements as a statesman in times of peace, and when the historian sketches the lives of her noblest soldiers, and records the achievements of her wisest statesmen, one bright page will be devoted to the memory of the gallant soldier and unselfish and patriotic statesman, Charles M. Stedman.

I trust this resolution will pass without a dissenting voice.

Mr. Falkener said:

MR. PRESIDENT:—In supporting these resolutions, I do it not only from the emotions of my own heart, but I voice, I believe, the sentiments of every colored person in this State, when I say that the retiring presiding officer of this body has, in deed and in truth, shown us every courtesy that we could possibly desire. Men are respected when they perform their duties, but when men perform their duties in such a way as to remove all possible obstacles, and to assist their co-laborers in the discharge of their duties when not binding upon them, then those men, or that man comes very near, or quite to, the divine injunction: "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to them, do ye even so to them." Such we can truthfully say of our retiring officer, Hon. Carles M. Stedman. From the first moment of my meeting Mr. Stedman, I was impressed with the fact that he was one of those men who earnestly seek to know the exact condition of affairs, and then, after becoming convinced of what duty commands, follows with fearless courage the convictions forced upon him. After all, it is, perhaps the highest praise which we can bestow upon a man, to say he is a gentleman—not in the modern and corrupt meaning of that word, which, by usage, has seemed to apply only to wealth, position, appearance, manners or other external qualities, but in the original and higher meaning that one is a gentleman: one who, however strong and firm and unyielding and brave in the cause of right and principle, yet has that gentleness of manner and kindness of heart which always has regard to the opinions and feelings of others. Such a gentleman, in the highest, best and truest sense of the word, is the retiring presiding officer of this body. What has impressed me most in my intercourse with him is his unfailing good nature, his geniality of disposition, his kindess in word and act; and while we regret his departure from public life, we will forever carry with us a high and profound appreciation of his many virtues, and we sincerely trust that peace, happiness and prosperity may forever crown his every effort.
Mr. Shaw said:

MR. PRESIDENT:—Having had the honor to occupy a seat in this chamber as a member of the State Senate of 1887, and of the present Senate as well, I desire to add my endorsement to the resolution introduced by the Senator from Johnston, and, in addition to what has already been so well and truly said by Senators preceding me, to express my appreciation and sincere commendation of Lieutenant-Governor Stedman, the retiring presiding officer of the Senate, whose eminent ability, courteous forbearance, uniform impartiality and kindness have not failed to make a grateful and lasting impression upon every member and officer of the Senate, filling our hearts with sad regrets at his leave of us in the midst of our session. As he now retires to the shades of his own home, bidding him farewell, we desire to extend our lasting respect, esteem and admiration, and with Heaven's blessings on his head, may he live long to adorn, honor and help advance the interests of our grand old commonwealth. Senators, I ask the unanimous adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Lucas said:

MR. PRESIDENT:—Though I have been a member of the Senate over which Lieutenant-Governor Stedman has presided with so much ability but a short time, still, I feel I would not discharge my duty as a Senator, representing in part the Second Senatorial District, were I to remain silent. Lieutenant-Governor Stedman is admired, yea, loved, by the entire Democracy of my district, and I wish, in their name, to tender him their best wishes through life, and to assure him it will ever be their greatest pleasure to honor him with any position within their gift. May peace, prosperity and happiness ever attend him.
Mr. Leinbach said:

Mr. President:—Though my acquaintance with the retiring presiding officer of the Senate commenced only when this body met, on the 9th inst., yet I can but endorse, and heartily so, the resolutions now before the Senate, and trust they will be adopted unanimously.

Mr. Toms said:

Mr. President:—I heartily endorse every word that has been said by the honorable Senators who have spoken before me, and I approve with pleasure every word in the resolutions offered in praise of the noble services of Major Charles M. Stedman, and I trust the resolutions will receive the unanimous endorsement of the Senate.

Mr. Turner of Iredell said:

Mr. President:—I desire to add my hearty approval of the sentiments expressed in the resolutions. As a member of the last and present Senate, I have observed the eminent fitness and qualification of Lieutenant-Governor Stedman as a presiding officer. Governor Stedman possesses peculiar merit for the office he has held for the last four years, with credit to himself and honor to the State, and during this time he has administered the duties of his office faithfully and impartially. He has always been ready and accurate in decisions, and uniformly courteous to Senators. He has presided over the Senate with ability and distinction, and I trust in the near future the people of North Carolina will honor him with higher duties.
Mr. Campbell said:

MR. PRESIDENT:—I am feeling too unwell to attempt to make any extended remarks on this occasion, but coming as I do, from a county in which Governor Stedman is so universally admired and beloved, and having known him so long and well as I have, I feel that I should probably be recreant to my duty to my constituents and myself, if I should fail to express my hearty endorsement of the resolutions under consideration, and everything which has been said by Senators in favor of its adoption.

After further remarks by Mr. Farthing and others in support of the resolution,

Mr. Twitty moved the resolutions be adopted by a rising vote of the Senate, and the resolutions were unanimously adopted, every Senator being present and voting.

Upon the conclusion of the address, the Joint Assembly adjourned, and the Senate returned to its Chamber, and was called to order by the President, Lieutenant-Governor Stedman.

The Committee on Inauguration was announced, accompanied by Lieutenant-Governor Holt, who was presented to the Senate by Mr. Means, of the Committee:

Lieutenant-Governor Stedman, addressing the Senate, said:

Senators:—The time has arrived when the pleasant relations existing between myself and every member of this body, regardless of party affiliations, must come to an end. In parting from you, I should be recreant to the sentiments of my heart if I failed to express my profound appreciation of all your kindness and courtesy. I shall always bear you in grateful remembrance, and my prayers will ever go out for your prosperity and happiness. The best wish I can make for my successor in connection with his official life, is that you will accord to him the same forbearance, consideration and patience you have extended to me. He is worthy all the regard you can bestow upon him.

Senators, I bid you farewell. Lieutenant-Governor Holt will please assume the chair.

Lieutenant-Governor Holt, having taken the chair, addressed the Senators as follows:
SENATORS:—In assuming the duties devolving upon the presiding officer of this honorable body, I feel a deep sense of the grave responsibilities attached to this position.

To you are committed the interests of the people, at a period when they are anxiously looking to their wisest and best for counsel and assistance, and for such legislation as may aid in developing the resources with which Providence has blessed us.

The great agricultural interests, which include such a large proportion of the labor and capitol combined of our whole people, and which have suffered so much from a succession of short crops and unfavorable conditions will claim, and I doubt not will receive, your most careful consideration. Whatever can be done, within the province of legislation, for the encouragement of this, the most important of our industrial pursuits, upon the prosperity of which all permanent progress must depend, you will gladly embrace the opportunity to perform.

In like manner, among the great trusts committed to your hands, may be named the education of the young; the wise and liberal administration of the public charities, including our disabled veterans of the Lost Cause; the just and humane, but economical, charge of the criminal classes; the regulation of the mutual relations of the railroad and other corporations and the people; the perfecting of our system of executing justice with equity and celerity; the advancement of manufactures and the mechanic arts—second only to the tillage of the soil; the fostering of desirable immigration, and the adjustment of the financial burdens so that whatever taxation is essential for public expenditure may fall as lightly upon all classes as the general welfare will permit.

To the statesmanship and patriotism of this body these questions have been entrusted, and as a result of your labors the people confidently hope for increased prosperity and progress within our fair borders.
In the discharge of the delicate and difficult duties which pertain to this position, suffering as yet, to some extent, from an indisposition of months past, let me ask the indulgence of the Senate, and a portion of the kindly consideration which has been extended to my distinguished predecessor in this office.

And now, with profound gratitude to my fellow-citizens for the mark of their confidence in calling me to this post of duty, I declare the Senate ready to proceed with its business.

Upon the conclusion of the address,
On motion of Mr. LeGrand, the Senate adjourned until to-morrow at 11 o'clock.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

A message was received from the House of Representatives, transmitting a communication from his Excellency the Governor, with a petition from Mr. Fisk P. Brewer, late a professor at the University of North Carolina. The petition was read and referred to the Committee on Finance.

Also a message transmitting, with a proposition to print, a communication from his Excellency the Governor.

The communication was read, as follows:

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

The subject of conducting the Penitentiary in such a way as to make the convicts self-sustaining has given me much thought in the last two weeks, and I deem it my duty to submit my conclusions to your honorable body.

So far as I can ascertain, or have reasons to form a belief, the action of the present Board of Directors has been guided by conscientious effort to do the best for the State which they could under the circumstances of the case, and I believe, if the wise legislation which your honorable body seems ready to adopt in regard to making the convicts self-sustaining, should be carried out, that the next board will be able to do much more in the same direction; but I fear the system which has been adopted for the government of the Penitentiary is so fatally defective that it will not be in the power of any board of directors, constituted under the present law, to carry out, as you wish it done, the plan you seem about to adopt, and for this reason: The business affairs of the Penitentiary on the credit and debit sides amount, during the year, to about $400,000; that is, $200,000 in receipts from various sources, and $200,000 in expenses. This business is to be managed by nine directors, who visit Raleigh not more than once a month, and stay at the Penitentiary building during that visit, say, ten hours. During that time they are expected, under the law, to examine, understand and thoroughly digest the accounts, extending through many folios, and at the same time to advise the officers and employees of the institution as to the conduct of affairs for the next month at least; and often, in the few hours named, to digest a plan for the profitable employment of the convicts for months ahead. I do not believe, gentlemen of the General Assembly, that there are nine men in the State who, under the circumstances, can produce the result which you desire and the people demand.

I have therefore asked myself the question: Can the present system be amended or changed so that the affairs of the Penitentiary can be properly attended to without adding to the present expense of the establishment? I think it can be done, and, with deep solicitude as to your concurrence, but at the same time desirous of discharging my duty to the State, venture to state how the expenses of the present board of nine directors amount to the sum of $300 for each director:

Per year........... ..................  $2,700
Annual expenses (say)..................  900

$3,600

The labor they are able as a board to give I have already stated. Now, suppose a Commissioner of the Penitentiary should be selected, and a good business man should be appointed to the place, with a salary, say, of $2,500, and require him to give his entire time to his work; allow him a clerk, with a salary, say, of $1,000; abolish the compensation of the present board, and appoint a board to serve, like the Board of the Asylum for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind, without compensation, and I think the gain to North Carolina will be immense. In thinking the matter over, it has suggested itself to me, that no business man having a mercantile, mechanical or agricultural business involving so much money would, for an instant, think of placing his fortunes under the management of any nine gentlemen, however capable, energetic or efficient they might be under favorable circumstances, if only a few hours each thirty days were given to the conduct of the business.

Believing that the business of the State should be conducted by us as if it were our own personal business, and desiring most profoundly that during this administration the Penitentiary shall not only be made self-sustaining, but by economy and good management be enabled to aid our people by helping to pay the taxes needed for disabled soldiers, suffering widows, and our poor afflicted ones, I most respectfully but earnestly call your attention to the suggestion herein made.

(Signed) DANIEL G. FOWLE, Governor.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

A message was received from the House of Representatives, transmitting a communication from his Excellency the Governor, with a memorial from the Farmers' Alliance of Chatham County.

Mr. Lusk moved the memorial be printed and referred to the Committee on Agriculture, Mechanics and Mining. Adopted.

Mr. LeGrand moved the memorials presented by the several Alliances of the State be also printed in connection with the memorial from the Alliances of Chatham. Adopted.

The memorial of the Alliances of the county of Chatham is in words following, to wit:

To the Honorable the General Assembly of North Carolina:

Your petitioners respectfully show: That they were appointed by the County Alliance of Chatham County, held in Pittsboro January 4th, 1889, to memorialize your honorable body, and ask for the following legislation:

1. That the State and county governments be administered on the most economical basis, and that all useless offices be abolished.

2. That our charitable and penal institutions, so far as practical, be made self-sustaining.
3. That a just and equitable equalization be established by law between the wages of the laborer and the compensation of office-holders and professional men.

4. That sheep husbandry, stock raising, diversified farming, and all the industries, be fostered by appropriate legislation.

Your petitioners show that they are true and loyal to the best interests of North Carolina, and that they would ask nothing in conflict with the greatest good to the greatest number of their fellow citizens.

The fact that there are seven or eight hundred lots or tracts of land now advertised to be sold for taxes in Wake County is suggestive. This they believe to be but a fair index of the condition of things in a large part of the State; and that even this does not show the full extent of financial depression.

The failure of the crops in this county last year necessitates the buying of almost our entire supplies to make another crop, and there is very little money in the hands of the farmers. Almost every farmer is depressed; many are disheartened; labor is unremunerative; the value of land is depreciating, and there is a growing disposition to abandon the farm and seek other employment. Unless something is done to bring relief, many will be compelled to give up their farms.

The boasted progress and increase of wealth in North Carolina is not shared by the farmers. They are gradually but steadily becoming poorer and poorer every year.

Relying upon your wisdom and justice, the farmers of Chatham County, for themselves and for their brother farmers throughout the State, have outlined as above set forth the legislation which they believe will bring contentment to the people and prosperity to the State.

The first step towards relief is to put into effect in our State and county governments something of that rigid economy which the farmers are compelled to practice, and thereby lessen the burdens of taxation. Make the salaries of State and county officers as low as will be consistent with efficient service; reduce, if possible, the costs and delays of litigation, and devise some means of punishing crime and caring for criminals which will be less burdensome to the honest tax-payers.

We trust that the justice of our cause, and our own good intentions, will be a sufficient apology for troubling your honorable body with our petition.

With utmost respect,

ALEX MCIVER,
E. W. ATWATER,
J. A. ALSTON,
Committee.

DEATH OF MRS. M. C. TOMS.

Mr. Shaw introduced the following:

Resolved, That the Senate have learned with profound sorrow of the recent death of Mrs. Josephine H. Toms, wife of Hon. M. C. Toms, Senator for the forty-first district.

Resolved, That the Senate extend to Senator Toms and the relatives and friends of the deceased our heartfelt condolence and sympathy.

In addressing the Senate Mr. Shaw said:

"Mr. President:

Since the adjournment of the Senate on yesterday there has occurred an event full of admonition and warning to all alike; an event suggestive of the great and momentous enquiry to which no human tongue can voice a reply—Who will be next? And it is with tender sadness I rise now to ask the privilege of interrupting the ordinary current of business in the Senate that I may announce the death of Mrs. Josephine H. Toms, wife of our esteemed friend Hon. M. C. Toms, Senator for the forty-first district.

Mrs. Toms died at 9 o'clock p. m., on yesterday, at the Yarboro House, in this city, where she has been residing with her husband since the opening of the legislative session. She was the daughter of Mr. George R. French, of Wilmington, and was in the 39th year of her age.

In her departure she leaves behind her not only a fond, heart-stricken husband and loving son, but many sorrowing relatives and friends, who must trust to time to come with healing on its wings to assuage their great grief.

The visit of the Death Angel, to whose coming no dilatory motion avails, is always sad and seems to call for grief and tears; but when it comes to one whose life's duties have been well performed and who has lived in an abiding faith in Him who is the Light and the Way, it may be regarded as the crown of such a life.

Those who knew the deceased best bear cheerful testimony of her exalted character and exemplary virtues and many Christian graces; and extending to her sorrowing husband, relatives and friends our heartfelt sympathy, let us trust she has gone from the shores of time and conflict to a home of rest in Heaven.

PROTEST.

Mr. Lucas presented the following protest to the passage of

H. B. 581, S. B. 769, bill to authorize the levy and collection of an additional tax for the support of the graded schools in Raleigh Township, in the county of Wake:

"We, the undersigned members of the Committee on Education, representing the minority report in the matter of increase of taxation in the city of Raleigh for the benefit of the public schools, beg leave to respectfully enter our protest against the extravagant taxation provided for in the act authorizing said taxation.

We believe that such taxation at this time is unnecessary, and that it is burdensome and oppressive upon the people of the city of Raleigh. The present fund for the city schools is sufficient, in our judgment, to sustain the public schools, and the present tax, with the amount asked for, is twenty cents beyond the constitutional limit of taxation in this State.

(Signed)
M. C. TOMS,
W. H. LUCAS,
J. S. REID."

Mr. Lusk offered a protest to the passage of
S. B. 726, H. B. ——, bill to amend chapter 16 of The Code, in regard to elections.

Mr. Pou made the point of order that the paper-writing presented by Mr. Lusk referred to a bill which had passed the Senate, but not to the bill which had become a law, and was, therefore, out of order.

The President ruled that Mr. Lusk having at the time given notice of protest, was now entitled to offer one; but the paper-writing presented was discourteous and unparliamentary in tone and language, and could not be admitted.

Mr. Lusk withdrew the paper.

Mr. Holton presented the following protest to the passage of the bill, which was ordered spread upon the Journal:

58
"I desire to enter my protest against the passage of S. B. 726, bill to amend chapter 16 of The Code, in regard to elections, which passed the Senate on the 23d day of February.

The manifest injustice of the operations of the election laws, if amended as proposed by this bill, impels me, in behalf of the voters of the State, to record my reasons for opposing the bill.

This bill proposes to close the registration books on the second Saturday before the election. The present law allows the registration to be kept open until and including the first Saturday before the election, and in certain cases registration may be made on the day of election.

Our voters have, for many years, been accustomed to the registration law as it now exists, and a change, such as is proposed, by curtailing the time instead of enlarging it, must result in deceiving and misleading thousands of voters who are not so situated as to become informed of and familiar with the new change.

Section 2 of the said bill provides that no registration shall be valid unless it specifies the age, occupation, place of birth and place of residence of the elector, as well as the township or county from whence the elector has removed, in the event of removal. It must be admitted that owing to former conditions, the age and place of birth of many voters cannot be given. No man can swear, of his own knowledge, when and where he was born. At best, it is but heresay, and can furnish no evidence. And in thousands of cases it may happen that an elector proposing to register may not be able to produce proof of age and place of birth and therefore be excluded from the right to vote. This is certainly an attempt, through legal forms, to abridge the rights of the citizen, and deprive him of the privilege of voting.

The present mode of purging the registration books of non-voters has been found effectual, and cannot be complained of by the Democratic party. It seems to have answered all necessary purposes in depriving many Republicans of their legal rights at the ballot-box. To add to this the power that the Registrar shall erase names as proposed in section 4 of this bill, adds a facility for fraud that should not be tolerated by fair and discreet legislators.

I protest against the proposition to leave to the discretion of the Board of County Commissioners the political complexion of the Judges of Election. The present law divides judges equally between the opposing political parties. This is fair and just, and only operates unjustly where illiterate and ignorant men are selected as judges, with the view of securing undue advantage or furnishing means of fraudulent action.

This bill makes an extraordinary change in the manner of voting, which is copied after the South Carolina law, which is monstrous in its details.

It is proposed to place the ballot-boxes so that their positions may be changed at the will of the judges of election, and deceive and confuse the voters. Also, that the elector shall deposit his ballot in each separate box without any indication or instruction from the judges as to which is the proper box, unless the judges see fit to give such information. Illiterate voters may thus easily be deprived of their votes, because any ballot put in the wrong box will be thrown out, and not be counted.

I protest earnestly against the proposed plan of having an enclosure for the ballot-boxes, which shall be entered by the voter, unaccompanied by any friend whom he may see fit to choose. The result of this change will inevitably lead the voter who is unable to read to deposit his ballot by guessing at the proper box, and thus place such voter so that he may deposit his ballot in the wrong box, and thereby lose his vote.

Finally, I enter my protest against the passage of this bill because I regard it as an encroachment upon the dearest rights and the liberties of the people, and will result in providing election machinery which, in the hands of unscrupulous men, will be used to defraud voters at elections, and put men in office against the will of the people. It is a departure from time-honored usages and a final step toward destroying what should be the most important bulwark of the rights of the people and a sure protection to their liberties—the ballot-box.

(Signed) A. S. HOLTON, Senator 24th District.”

PROTEST.

Mr. Falkener offered the following protest to the passage of S. B. 726, bill to amend chapter 16 of The Code, in regard to the election law:

“I do most solemnly protest against the passage of the election law passed by this body, because I believe it will operate against my race and deprive them of the God-given rights which are guaranteed them by the Constitution of the United States, and ought to be held sacred, and will deprive the Eastern counties of their legal representatives.

(Signed) H. H. FALKENER, Senator 19th District.”

The resolution of thanks to Lieutenant-Governor Holt, submitted by Mr. Stubbs Saturday, was taken up.

Mr. Stubbs arose, and, presenting Lieutenant-Governor Holt a handsome gold-headed cane, a testimonial from Senators, said:

“Mr. President and Senators: ‘Into each life some rain must fall,’ is a sentiment dictated, no doubt, by the bleeding hearts of the world; and though the shadows may often fall athwart the pathway, though the lowering clouds may hover over our heads, portentous of the threatening storm, and the merry songsters may refuse to carol forth their matin roundelays, it is only under such circumstances that we can fully appreciate such an utterance. That my sojourn here has been pleasant, none can gainsay; acquaintances have been formed, friendships have grown up that only the Great Disintegrator of Events can efface, and I am inclined to appropriate the idea so beautifully expressed in Byron's 'Don Juan,' when he says:

'Tis sweet to hear
At midnight on the blue and moonlit deep,
The song and oar of Adria's gondolier;
'Tis sweet to listen as the night winds creep,
'Tis sweet to view the rainbow, based on ocean, span the sky;
But sweeter than this, than these, than all,
Is true and unselfish friendship.'

I feel it to-day in all its intensity and force, and for the first time in my life I am placed under such peculiar circumstances that I can realize the grandeur and sublimity of the thought so beautifully expressed by the poet when he says:

'Parting is such sweet sorrow.'

But we shall meet again, a prediction based upon an abiding faith, similar, it may be, to the one which prompts the swine to look up when the acorns cease to fall, nevertheless, one that admits of no doubt.

When I came in this chamber this morning, Mr. President, I noticed many vacant chairs. Familiar faces that had heretofore greeted my entrance were conspicuous by absence, and I was sad and gloomy. I was reflecting upon the fact that soon we were to part, when, suddenly, what a metamorphosis! A deputation of my fellow-Senators delegated me to perform a delicate, yet pleasant duty—that of presenting, on behalf of the Senators, to our beloved presiding officer, a slight token of their great appreciation, and high esteem in which he is held by every member of this body. The rushing torrent has ceased; only the pattering rain drops, 'falling as light and soft as the flakes of the feathered snow,' are now beating upon me; and, as in the palmiest days of the 'Seven Hilled City,' it was the proudest boast of its sons, 'I, too, am a Roman citizen,' so it will ever be the proudest thought of my life, that I, as an humble factor in the Legislature of 1889, am accorded the great privilege of tendering to you, Mr. President, this cane, with the hope that in the succeeding years which may come upon you, when the frosts of life's winter weather shall have silvered your head, and the cares and responsibilities of life shall have grown thicker and thicker around you, may you lean upon this cane for support, and remember the pleasant associations connected therewith.

Now, to you, sir (addressing Mr. Pou, who occupied the chair), to you, Mr. President, and to my fellow-Senators, each and all, I bid a short and affectionate farewell, with the sincere hope that we may meet again some time on the island of the 'Sweet Bye-and-Bye,' in the River Time."

Mr. Lusk, in support of the resolution, said:

"Mr. President: For sixty-two successive days the sound of the presiding officer's gavel has called this Senate to order, while for an equal number of times the servants of the Most High and Living God have invoked the blessings of Divine Providence upon us; and now, for the last time, that simple talisman has sounded forth its call to "order," and in a few brief minutes will fall for its last time in our hearing, and that sound will be the knell of the last meeting of this body, and the session of 1889 will pass into history. We will soon be released from the cares of the great charge committed to our trust and keeping by the sovereign people at the ballot-box last November, to return home to our constituents to answer at the bar of public opinion for the manner in which we have guarded that sacred trust. I have no doubt that each individual Senator believes that he has honestly and faithfully discharged his whole duty to those who commissioned him to guard their rights and liberties, and that you are buoyant with high hopes and fond anticipations that upon your return you will receive the just plaudits of a satisfied constituency.

In the midst of this pleasing anticipation we should remember that our duty is not yet fully discharged. Were I to turn my back on this Senate Chamber without leaving behind me some testimonial commendatory of our presiding officer, I would be unfaithful to the trust reposed in me. And it would be no excuse for me to give as a reason for withholding my commendation from a deserving and meritorious officer that he was of different political opinions to myself. Aside from being the representative of the whole people, such is not my personal convictions of duty, while I am pleased to say that the most ultra Republican in the District which I have the honor to represent would feel humiliated if I, on such pretext, were to withhold the merited encomiums to which a faithful official is justly entitled.

Coming into this Senate in a hopeless minority, determined to fight to the death every move of the majority affecting the future of my party, and to take advantage of every rent in the helmet of my opponents, I expected to find the presiding officer biased in favor of the majority. Now that the session is closed, and I look back over the field of battle and recount the many fierce struggles between the contending factions, I fail to remember a single instance where the umpire of the list held in favor of the one to the prejudice of the other. In supporting the pending resolution, I but voice the sentiments of my heart when I add that the holdings of the presiding officer have been impartial and, so far as I am able to judge, correct. His bearing toward each individual Senator has been universally kind and courteous, while his rulings evince no mean statesmanship and ability. And now the session of 1889 is about to close forever, and while it is unpleasant to part from friends, even when we know the separation is but temporary, it is doubly sad to say "good bye" for the last time to those with whom we have been pleasantly associated for so long a season. In all human probability, many of us will meet no more. Some have no further desire to take upon themselves the cares of State, while others see richer and more inviting fields of labor opening up before them, while others now here, before the gavel calls this body to order again, may be summoned to their final account. But it matters not where our lot may be cast, or what fate may have in store for us, so long as memory lasts and life endures, there will always linger around the recollection of the session of 1889 one kind thought for our generous, kind, courteous and noble-hearted presiding officer, Thomas M. Holt."

Mr. Banks, in support of the resolution, said:

"Amidst our trials and sorrows here,
There is much to love and much to fear;
The grand old State for which we met
Will appreciate, and ne'er forget,
That each one here, with all his might,
Did earnestly strive to make all things right.
The laws enacted, and put to the test,
 Constituents will try, and take the best.
Some we sanctioned with a vote,
While others we hated. I want to note:
Each one his burdens should ever bear,
Regardless of party—the State's welfare.
In all our relations since first we met,
Time will pass upon, but never forget.
Passion and malice can never last—
They linger awhile, but die with the past;
But pleasing thoughts entwine the mind,
Never forgotten by all mankind.
The President's rulings were always fair—
A decisive vote in every pair.
Our esteem he has won since we met;
We part with him in sore regret."
Mr. Copeland, in support of the resolution, said:

"Mr. President and Brother Senators: I can say of a truth, I love every one of you, from the President down to the pages. A mother once told her child that when people felt deeply they said nothing. The child thought for a moment and said: 'I suppose it is because they can't think of anything good enough to say.' Mr. President and Senators, I have felt deeply to day that it is a great responsibility to represent even a small part of the good Old North State, and I am sure I cannot think of anything good enough to say to you for your kindness to me. But I am proud to say that we all belong to the same old State. It is the same old State which our fathers loved. When we return to our homes, and wherever our lots may be cast, we should, and I believe will, do all in our power for the good of our country and people. And when we are done with the things of time, I trust we will meet in that bright world above, where there is no night and no parting.

I hope the resolution will pass unanimously."

Mr. Barber, in support of the resolution, said:

"Mr. President: I do not rise for the purpose of making a speech, but simply to endorse most sincerely what has been so well said by the Senators who have preceded me, to urge the adoption of the resolution, and move that the remarks of Senators thereon be entered upon the Journal. No man in this Senate is more attached to our presiding officer than myself. I say, that of all the able, learned and illustrious men who have presided over legislative bodies in North Carolina, Lieutenant-Governor Holt is the equal of any; and I do not think I go too far in saying that he is the fairest man who ever presided over either body of this Assembly."

Messrs. Thomas, Lucas, Blair, Kerr and King spoke in support of the resolution.

Before putting the question upon the adoption of the resolution,

Mr. Pou (occupying the chair) said:

"Fellow-Senators: Before this vote is taken I wish to add my voice to those expressions of good feeling and friendship which have been so feelingly and eloquently expressed here to-day. To me the acquaintance with you, one and all, has been of the most pleasant nature, and I can truthfully say that the past sixty days have been among the most pleasant of my life. I leave the Senate of 1889 with feelings of the sincerest friendship towards every one of its members and officers. My feelings of gratitude toward our presiding officer are of the warmest kind, for I believe my relations with him have been different from those of any member, as I, alone of all this Senate, began legislative life in the House of 1885, of which Colonel Holt was Speaker. When I look back to that session, and recall all the kindness, consideration and friendship which Colonel Holt showed toward me, and when I recall the fact that the same friendship has existed between us until this day, when I remember the friendship and impartiality of all his rulings, I feel that he has a double claim on my friendship and gratitude."

The resolution was adopted, every Senator present rising and voting therefor.
Mr. Green offered the following:

"Resolved, That the thanks of the Senate are due and are hereby tendered to Robert M. Furman, Principal Clerk of this Senate, for the efficient, impartial and faithful manner in which he has discharged the duties of his office; and as a mark of our respect and high appreciation of said services, desire that this resolution be spread upon the Journal."

Mr. Little moved the resolution be adopted by a rising vote, and the resolution was adopted, every Senator present rising and voting therefor.

Mr. Stubbs offered the following:

"Resolved, That the thanks of the Senate be tendered our worthy and esteemed Reading Clerk, Mr. Nicholson, with the assurance that our association has been of the dearest kind, and with the hope that in future years he may still increase in public favor and esteem."

Mr. Lucas moved the resolution be adopted by a rising vote, and the resolution was adopted, every Senator present rising and voting therefor.

The President presented the following petition from ladies of Raleigh:

To the Honorable the General Assembly of North Carolina:

We, the undersigned ladies, citizens of Raleigh, having heard and seen how the Sabbath day is desecrated by the members and officers of the General Assembly by hard and constant work, and believing this is contrary to the Bible and repugnant to our Christian civilization, and believing further that our law-makers should be examples for good and not for evil; therefore, we would respectfully petition that your honorable body take such steps as you may deem wise and proper in order that the Sabbath day may henceforth be kept holy and considered a day for rest, and not a day for work. And your petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray.

(Signed)

Mrs. E. E. Moffitt, Mrs. E. G. Reade,
Mrs. C. S. Jackson, Mrs. W. N. H. Smith,
Mrs. G. C. Bagley, Mrs. W. H. Pace,
Mrs. W. H. Bagley, Mrs. C. K. Lee,
Mrs. Walter Clark, Mrs. R. T. Gray,
Mrs. W. T. Tucker, Mrs. R. C. Strong,
Miss Addie Bain, Miss Fannie Green,
Miss Lena W. Partin, Miss Mamie Birdsong.

A message was received from the House of Representatives, informing the Senate that, upon the return of the messenger, the House would adjourn without day.

The following message was sent to the House of Representatives:

"Mr. Speaker: It is ordered a message be sent to the House of Representatives, informing your honorable body that, upon the return of the messenger, the Senate would adjourn without day. May God save the State."

Lieutenant-Governor Holt, having resumed the chair, addressed the Senate as follows:

"Senators: I receive this cane with great pleasure. I have scarcely words to express my gratification at this manifestation of respect and confidence on the part of my friends of the Senate.

The approving consciousness of an honest effort to perform the duties of any position, either public or private, is of itself a rich reward; but when that effort is appreciated by a body so intelligent and patriotic as this, and manifested in a manner so graceful and gratifying, it is an event calculated to excite the liveliest emotions and the most grateful recollections.

The value of an occasion like this is always to be prized and estimated by its pleasant memories and interesting associations. These memories and these associations, with the approving consciousness of a well-meant purpose in the performance of duty, are truly rich rewards that may well excite our determined zeal.

Before declaring the Senate adjourned, I desire to express to each and every member of the body my sincere thanks for the kind and courteous manner with which they have treated me in the discharge of my official duties, which have been made comparatively easy by your uniform support and sympathy. I have tried to discharge my duties in an impartial manner, and in my rulings to do justice and to rule according to law has been my aim, and I can truthfully say that neither party nor personal preference has had any influence over me whatever in the exercise of the powers conferred upon me by virtue of the position I hold. That I am a pronounced Democrat cannot be denied, and, from a political standpoint, I am glad that my party has a majority in this body, but as presiding officer I knew no party, but on all occasions recognized the fact that I was President of the Senate, and not of the Democratic part of it only; and I feel more than gratified—yea, rejoiced—that the minority party have recognized this fact and have expressed their satisfaction of the manner in which I have discharged my duties in language more complimentary than I deserve. I assure you that my personal and official relations with every member of the Senate are, and have been, pleasant and agreeable. Nothing has disturbed our harmony, and nothing shall destroy our pleasant remembrances. While, of course, there have been differences of opinion on many subjects, some of them of very great public importance, I am glad to say your deliberations have been characterized with harmony, and I believe each Senator acted as he thought best for the interest of those whom he represented.

It is not in the province of man to be perfect. Some things may have been done amiss, and some of importance omitted, yet, I believe the earnest endeavors of all were to do for the best interests of our beloved commonwealth. And now our work is done, and we are about to separate, never, possibly, to meet again. I wish each and every one of you a safe return to your respective homes, and a long life of peace, prosperity and happiness, and in parting I hope the rich inheritance of political freedom, constitutional liberty, religious tolerance, bequeathed us by our forefathers, may be transmitted to our posterity.

May the Great Sovereign Ruler of the world bless you with His choicest blessings, in your various avocations of life, and at the end bring you to Himself.

I now declare the Senate adjourned without day."

THOS. M. HOLT,

Lieutenant-Governor and President of the Senate.

ROBERT M. FURMAN,

Principal Clerk.
