It appearing that all the Senators-elect were present,
The President, addressing the Senate, said:

Senators — You have assembled in accordance with the Constitution of North Carolina to take into consideration the needs of her people and to promote the common welfare so far as State legislation can secure it.
Let me congratulate you that you meet under auspicious circumstances. Providence has kindly smiled upon the labors of the husbandman, the farmer, and the latter crops have been gathered in abundance, and peace and content dwell within our borders. If suffered to develop unchecked, there are forces of progress at work in every line of industrial effort to lift North Carolina to a proud position among her sister States.

It is to be regretted that in such a period of hope, following close upon a long and destructive depression in the most important of all our interests—the agricultural—when the future is at last bright with promise, that in the halls of National legislation projects for the destruction of the rights of the States and privileges of the citizen should be entertained and eagerly pressed to accomplishment by those who have despaired otherwise of averting our free, happy march to industrial victory.

That you will do all in your power to maintain the honor and constitutional rights of this ancient State needs no declaration from me. This is not the time or place to enter into debate in reference to the labors before you—the lightening of any burden which you can effect which may oppress our farming interests, as I have said, the greatest in the State, and, therefore, affecting directly or indirectly every citizen; the prudent encouragement of manufacturing and commercial enterprises; the opening of inter-communication between all parts of the State to the fullest extent; the economical, and yet liberal care and oversight of our charities, which are making North Carolina illustrious; the wise and careful administration of our educational interests, already so large a part of our financial care, and the due adjustment of taxation to effect the greatest good with the least hardship to the tax-payers—all these, and similar topics, you have doubtless carefully considered in assuming the responsibility which the people have laid upon you. Senators, permit me to give you each and all a personal greeting, and to ask your kind co-operation and your indulgence in the discharge of the duties that devolve upon the Chair. I now declare the Senate ready to proceed with its organization.

The Senate voted as follows:

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

A message was received from the House of Representatives transmitting a message from his Excellency the Governor, with accompanying documents, and proposing that the usual number thereof be printed as provided by law.

The proposition to have printed was concurred in.

The message of the Governor was read, as follows:

To the Honorable the General Assembly:

The Constitution of our State requires the Governor to give the General Assembly information of the affairs of the State and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall deem expedient.

Following the well-established precedents, I have the honor to lay before you a synopsis of the operations of the Commonwealth for the last two years, and respectfully suggest the adoption of such measures as the public interests may seem to require. The reports from the several departments will furnish more detailed statements than would be compatible with the nature of this communication.

PUBLIC DEBT.

It has heretofore been impossible to state with accuracy the public debt of the State on account of the pendency of certain suits and a claim by the government of the United States. But, within the last two years, these suits have been decided favorably to the State, and the claim of the U. S. Government settled.

TEMPLE CASE.

This was a suit for the purpose of establishing the validity of the special tax bonds issued by the Legislature of 1868-'9. It involved the liability of the State to pay these bonds to the amount of $11,366,000 and $13,639,000 of interest, a total of $25,005,000. It was decided by the Supreme Court of the United States that a State could not thus indirectly be sued.

CHRISTIAN vs. THE ATLANTIC & NORTH CAROLINA RAILROAD COMPANY.

The object of this suit was to subject the stock, or a large portion of it, owned by the State in the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad Company to a lien for the payment of certain bonds issued in aid of said road. This also was decided by the Supreme Court of the United States favorably to the interest of North Carolina. The effect of this decision is to give the State the right to dispose of this stock, amounting to more than a million of dollars ($1,066,000), in any way the public welfare may require, or to hold it as a permanent investment for the State.

SWASEY SUIT.

This suit has been dismissed. It was for the purpose of applying the dividends of the North Carolina Railroad Company to the payment of the interest on the railroad construction bonds of said road. All the bonds which could be found have been funded, and the suit ended, as above set forth.
BALTZER & TAAKS VS. THE STATE.

This was an action brought in the Supreme Court of North Carolina. The allegation was that the State had issued certain bonds to the Chatham Railroad Company, receiving the bonds of said road in exchange; that the bonds so issued by the State had been declared void, and that the railroad company had taken up a portion of its bonds by surrendering to the State 297 good bonds of the State, and asked that the value of said bonds should be paid to the plaintiffs, who were creditors of said railroad company, and had received 140 of the void bonds of the State from said company in discharge of a claim for rails furnished said company. This case was dismissed upon motion, at the September Term, 1889, of the Supreme Court.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

The government of the United States held 147 of the construction bonds of the North Carolina Railroad Company. It claimed this sum and interest thereon up to date of settlement. The last Legislature authorized the Governor and Treasurer to settle this claim. Upon a conference, the Governor and Treasurer paid the 147 bonds and interest to maturity, but it was ascertained that there could be no full settlement by agreement, for the Governor and Treasurer insisted that North Carolina was not bound to pay interest on the bonds after maturity. This was contested by the government, and it was agreed that the question as to North Carolina's liability for the interest after maturity, amounting to about $43,000, should be submitted, upon a case agreed, to the Supreme Court of the United States for its decision. It was done, and the decision of the Court was that North Carolina was not liable for the interest accrued after maturity. By these various decisions every claim against the State which has been the subject of litigation is settled.

Chapter 98, Laws of 1879, ordinarily known as the Funding Act, was amended by Chapter 66 of the Laws of 1889, by extending the time for funding until July 1st, 1890, with this addendum, "And the Governor is directed to resist the collection of all such bonds as are not funded by the time above specified."

At this time, therefore, there can be no further funding of the old debt, unless you see fit to pass an act giving further time for that purpose. This makes the recognized debt of the State, amounting to the sum of $5,939,100, as follows:

4 per cent. bonds.......................... $3,219,100
6 per cent. bonds.......................... 2,720,000

The State does not in fact have to pay the interest on the six per cent. bonds, $2,720,000, for the reason that the lease of the North Carolina Railroad provides a fund for the payment of the interest thereon, and the State holds three million in the stock of the road, which, if sold, will much more than pay the principal. Practically, therefore, the debt of the State amounts only to $3,219,100. The Board of Education has in hand the sum of $35,321.81, and holds in four per cent. bonds, from which it receives the interest, $99,250. It also holds a note for $26,962.52.

The account of receipts and disbursements of said Board since December 1st, 1888, is as follows:

The estimated value of real and personal property in the State is $227,000,000, a gain of about ten million in the last two years.

Notwithstanding the necessity for new expenditures which the present condition of the State may require, it will not be necessary for you to increase the rate of taxation in case you make provision to have the property of the State fairly valued, so that in every portion of the State it may be taxed according to its cash value in the particular locality in which it may be situated.
The Constitution requires that laws shall be passed taxing by a uniform rule all moneys, credits, etc., and also all real and personal property, according to its true value in money.

Uniformity of taxation requires that there shall be uniformity of valuation, and that uniformity must consist in valuing the property of the State according to some well established rule in every county in the State. I have been informed that, in some portions of the State, the rule laid down in the Constitution of valuing property “according to its true value in money” has been approximated, whilst in other portions property has been assessed at only a fractional part of its value.

So far as county or city taxation is concerned, the rule adopted as to valuation, if applied with uniformity, makes but little difference, for if property is assessed at or near its true value the percentage of tax will be less; if at only a fractional part of its value the percentage of tax will be greater, although the same amount of money is raised in either case.

But when you come to State taxation it is different. If the assessors in one county value property at its true money value, and in another county at only one-half of its real value, property of the same value in one county will pay just twice as much under the State levy as in the other county. This is injustice and ought to be remedied.

There will be a new assessment during the year 1891, and now is the time to remedy this evil. If done at all, it must be done by your honorable body.

The simplest plan would be to use the County Commissioners as a County Board, and establish a State Board for the equalization of values between the different counties of the State. Let it consist of the Treasurer and Auditor, who are thoroughly posted in such matters, and one State assessor from each Congressional District in the State, to be elected by your body, who shall meet at some time and place selected by you and equalize valuations throughout the State.
Give the Board the power to add to or deduct from the aggregate value of real property of every county which it shall believe to be valued below or above its true value in money such per centum as will raise or reduce the same to its true value in money. And give them the further power to raise or reduce the valuation of any property such per cent, as they shall believe will reduce or raise the same to its true value in money.

A system similar to this, I have been informed, has been adopted in some of the States of the Union and worked admirably.

EDUCATION.

If one can credit the words which are constantly being uttered throughout our State, there is no part of the globe where education is dearer to the hearts of the people than in North Carolina.

If the framers of the Constitution of our State are to be credited with understanding the words which they incorporated into the fundamental law, they, too, had fully imbibed the present spirit of our people upon this most important subject.

That Constitution provides that in each school district of the State "one or more public schools shall be maintained at least four months in every year," and, in order to insure the observance of this mandate, it further provides, "and if the Commissioners of any county shall fail to comply with the aforesaid requirements of this section they shall be liable to indictment." (Article IX, Section 3 of Constitution.)

The Legislature endeavored to carry out this section in good faith by levying a State tax, and making provision that the Commissioners of each county should levy an additional amount of taxation so as to keep the schools open for four months at least. But this law failed to effect its purpose, because the Commissioners levied first the taxes needed for ordinary county purposes, thus reaching the limit of sixty-six and two-thirds cents on the one hundred dollars worth of property, and the Supreme Court of our State, in Barkesdale's case, 93 Vol. N. C. Reports, held that this limitation cannot be exceeded for educational purposes. Thus the law failed, and the school-houses were not kept open "for at least four months," and the children of the State were practically deprived of the schools distinctly commanded by the Constitution, and our noble old State stands among her sisters as one of the laggards in public education.

The able report of our Superintendent of Public Instruction shows that, whilst the average taxation in the United States for school purposes is two dollars and eleven cents per capita of total population, in North Carolina it is only forty-four cents.

But the whole State does not show this deplorable condition of affairs. In one township which has been called to my attention, and no doubt there are others whose action is equally commendable, the sum of $22,336.04 has been raised by taxation for schools, either under the general law or under a vote of the people of the township. The number of children in that township is 4,548, thus realizing the sum of $4.69 for each child within the school age in that township, whereas the general average in the State is $1.22 on each of the school population between six and twenty-one years of age.

The Legislature should show its appreciation of those townships or school districts which have gone forward and by their own action given proper schools to the children within their limits.

I earnestly recommend that you compel the schools to be kept open in each school district for four months at least, and that you make provision that each township shall have the power, upon the recommendation of the County Commissioners, by a vote of the people, to levy further taxes, as they may deem necessary, for the extension of the school term beyond four months. If this is done, North Carolina will rank higher on the educational roll, and no school district in the State can reproach you for want of school facilities, for if it has them not, it will be its own fault.

This, in my judgment, is the best way to meet your responsibility. If your honorable body should think otherwise, then you should provide for a sufficient amount to keep the schools open at least four months in each year.

But whether you adopt the one plan or the other, simple justice demands that the school districts or townships which have of their own volition imposed additional taxes for this purpose should be credited with the amounts thus voluntarily raised, and to that extent should be exempted from additional taxation.

The average duration of the school term for the last two years is sixty days; three days less than in 1888. The whole amount expended in 1890, including special graded school taxes, is $718,125; an increase of about $18,000 over 1888. The total number of children between the ages of six and twenty-one is reported at 586,668; those enrolled under the law at 322,533, and the average attendance at 203,100.

THE UNIVERSITY.

But your duty upon the educational question will not be discharged by providing alone for the common schools. Our forefathers, in the gloomy days of the Revolution, were looking forward to the time when our State would become the great and prosperous Commonwealth she now is. North Carolina first of all the colonies proclaimed herself the advocate of higher education by declaring, in 1776, in the Constitution adopted at Halifax, that "all useful learnings shall be duly encouraged and promoted in one or more Universities." From time to time since then the people in their majesty have spoken, and their last utterance is to make its care your duty, and its proper maintenance one of your most binding obligations. (Article IX, Section 6, State Constitution.)

Our forefathers discharged their duty in establishing and fostering the University; but how has that duty been performed by our generation?

The Superintendent of Public Instruction tells you "it is a valuable property, but it does very much need an appropriation to repair the old buildings and to furnish water and lighting facilities, in order to put it more in touch with modern progress and demands."

What words could have been used which would portray its condition more plainly? It has no new buildings except Memorial Hall, and that was not built by the State. I do not think that the language quoted could properly have been used in regard to the University of any other State in the Union. It has a zealous, learned, and faithful Faculty. It has a Board of Trustees comprising within its body some of our most distinguished and best loved citizens. It may be that these have not done all they could for its prosperity; if so, condemn them for it. But, at the same time, inquire if there is not another body whose duty it is to see to the proper maintenance of this institution. If the University of North Carolina is not to receive the aid which the Constitution indicates, it would have been better for the good name and the glory of the State that no such mandate should ever have found place in it. But it is there, and is as binding upon the legislator who feels no personal interest in it as it is upon one who received his education within its walls and looks back with reverence and affection upon his Alma Mater.

My own judgment is, that your body should send a committee of your own selection to the University in order to ascertain, not the very smallest sum which will enable it to struggle along, but what sum is needed to make it as efficient as it ought to be, and vote that sum, and the day will come when this Legislature will be held in remembrance and divide honors with the patriots of 1776.

Generous citizens of North Carolina, and one of the University's honored graduates—originally, we are proud to remember, a North Carolinian—the Hon. James Grant, of Iowa, have established a Chair of History by subscribing for that purpose about thirty-five thousand dollars.

TRAINING SCHOOL.

A training school for female and male teachers is of the utmost importance to our public school system. The proper education of our children depends in a great degree upon the ability of the teacher to impart instruction and to enforce discipline. The training should be acquired before the teacher has charge of a school, for if it is to be had at the expense of the children, the damage the deficiencies of the teacher will cause will probably counterbalance any future good he or she may be able to do.

With a good training school for both sexes, we can have teachers who come to their work fully prepared to impart instruction to our children.

It has been said that one of our States, after bestowing its highest honors upon one of its citizens, made him President of the University, in order, said one of his comrades, to educate him; and his genius was so great that those who smiled at his elevation accorded to his successful labors most unstinted praise. But this case was exceptional, and it is very sure previous training would have added to his usefulness and efficiency.

It may be that, after establishing and providing for such instructions as are commanded by the Constitution, you will hesitate to impose a further tax upon the people to the extent necessary to establish this school for both sexes. In that case it would be well to establish it for female teachers only, not because of any sentiment in regard to the sex, nor alone on account of the fact that heretofore North Carolina has not erected any institute solely for women, but because the indications are that it will be from that sex that the large majority of our teachers will come in the near future.

NORTH CAROLINA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

It is not necessary to call your attention to the exceeding usefulness of this Department. Its labor in preventing an adulterated fertilizer from being sold to our people has been of immense service to the agricultural interest of the State. It is now in a condition which requires immediate relief at your hands. The license tax imposed by the last Legislature upon those selling fertilizers within the State has been declared unconstitutional by the Federal Court. This tax supplied the funds to run the Department, and unless some other means are provided the Department will be paralyzed.

The Board of Agriculture recommends the adoption of the tonnage system in lieu of the license tax heretofore in operation. It is recommended that a tax of twenty-five cents a ton be levied for the benefit of this Department upon all fertilizers for sale in the State for the fiscal year ending November 30th, 1891, and twenty cents a ton for each year thereafter, for the purpose of defraying the expense connected with the inspection and analyzation of fertilizers and fertilizing material. This tax, I am assured, will be sufficient, and will be laid, I am informed, in accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court.

THE NORTH CAROLINA AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATION.

The report from the Agricultural Experiment Station is unusually interesting. It came into existence in 1877 and was a part of our Agricultural Department. It was the first Agricultural Experiment Station established in the South, and was the second established in any of the States. Its expenses were at first paid by the State. They are now paid by the U.S. Government under the Hatch Act. It is doing valuable service in the agricultural interest of the State and yet adds not one stiver to our State taxes. During its fourteen years of existence it has raised the grade of fertilizer and saved thousands upon thousands of dollars to our farmers by preventing the sale of adulterated and worthless compounds. In considering the many fields of operation for this Station, and the great advantage it has been to the State, the doubt arises in my mind as to the wisdom of abolishing our State Geological Department.

College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts.

The College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts was completed for use in the summer of 1889. In July, 1889, professors were elected to fill the departments of Agriculture, Horticulture, Mathematics, Mechanics, English and History. In August a President was chosen, and on the 3d of October, 1889, the College was opened with thirty-two students, which number was increased to seventy-three during the first session, fifty-six being the greatest number present at any one time. During the past session the roll shows total number eighty-five; of this number thirty-one paid their own tuition charges, the others were given tuition under our act of Assembly. Seventy-two per cent. of the pupils were sons of farmers.

A largely-increased number of pupils, it is anticipated, will apply for admittance next session, and yet the President tells us that the number at present is "straining the lodging capacity of the building to the utmost."

The students are engaged, as a general rule, for nine hours each school day as follows: Three hours in class-room recitations; three hours in manual training, work-shops, mechanical drawing and field; three hours in study.
When students have completed their regular course, they ought to be able to engage with fair prospects of success in some of the following occupations, viz.: Farming, dairying, fruit-growing, teaching, mechanics, manufacturing, surveying or civil engineering.

The College owns in land, buildings, equipment, apparatus, etc., property worth about $55,000. It has received no direct appropriation from the State, except such as was yielded by the tax on fertilizers. The College may derive the sum of $8,000 to $12,000 a year, or even more, from the Treasury of the United States, in case this Legislature passes an act to be called to your attention in this message. It needs an appropriation, the President of the Board of Trustees says, for 1891, twenty-five thousand dollars; for 1892, twenty-five thousand dollars, and then ten thousand a year thereafter. I heartily recommend this appropriation.

North Carolina has the material for development. What she needs is the men trained to develop. With such unbounded scope for improvements we cannot start a cotton factory without sending off for men to superintend it. This College will supply the demand for trained men, and North Carolina is only helping herself when she fosters the College of Agriculture and Mechanics Arts.

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE AND MECHANIC ARTS FOR COLORED STUDENTS

An act of Congress, approved July 2d, 1862, appropriated a portion of the public lands for the more complete endowment and support of the colleges established by the States for the benefit of agriculture and mechanic arts.

An act of Congress, approved August 30th, 1890, appropriated to each State which had erected such colleges the sum of fifteen thousand dollars for the year ending June 30th, 1890, and an annual increase of the amount of such appropriations themselves for ten years by an additional sum of one thousand dollars over the preceding year, and the annual amount to be paid after the said ten years to be twenty-five thousand dollars a year, to be applied to instruction, and to the facilities for such instruction, with the proviso that no money shall be paid to any State where a distinction of race or color is made in the admission of students, with the qualification that the establishment of separate colleges for the races should be a compliance with the act.

On the 22d of September, 1890, the Honorable Secretary of the Interior addressed to me a circular letter asking —

1st. If there was such a college in this State?
2d. If so, is any distinction of race or color in the admission of students recognized or made in the State law, or in the regulations or practice of the Institute?
3d. If there is a college for whites and also one for colored, or an institution of like character aided by the State from its own revenue for the education of colored students in agriculture? etc.

On the 27th of September I replied to said circular letter, stating "that there was such a college here. The only students in said college are white, and I am satisfied that whilst the law makes no express discrimination, and no positive regulation or practice has been established in regard thereto, if a colored student should present himself he would be refused admittance. Such action would be in accordance with the spirit of the Constitution of our State (Article IX, Section 2), which provides that the children of the white race and the children of the colored race shall be taught in separate public schools, but there shall be no discrimination in favor of or to the prejudice of either race. I shall recommend in my next annual message to the Legislature that an Agricultural College be established for the colored race at once."

In answer to this letter, I was informed that North Carolina was not entitled to any portion of the fund under the circumstances.
In the meantime, a temporary arrangement was made by the Directors and Faculty of the College and Dr. Tupper, the distinguished head of the Shaw University (colored) of the city of Raleigh, by which the professors of the Agricultural and Mechanical College were to teach classes in the Shaw University of colored students in the same manner as the white students were taught. This arrangement was carried into effect and the Secretary of the Interior notified.

Thus far, no action has been taken by the Secretary of the Interior to give North Carolina any portion of the fund. I recommend the establishment of the college for the colored students, for this will entitle our State to her portion of the appropriation.

PENITENTIARY.

The report of the Directors of the Penitentiary will no doubt receive your careful consideration. The warmly expressed desire of your predecessors and mine to make the Penitentiary self-sustaining has been achieved by the earnest efforts of the Board.

The Legislature of 1889 appropriated the sum of $150,000 to defray the expenses of the Penitentiary from the 1st of December, 1888, to the 30th of November, 1889.

Of this amount the report of the Board shows that there was on hand on the 1st of April, 1889, when the present policy went into effect, the sum of $109,197.98.

That on the 30th of December, 1890, there was—

\begin{align*}
\text{Balance in Treasury} & : \ 65,681.98 \\
\text{Cash in Bank (commutation)} & : \ 1,167.19 \\
\text{Cash in drawer} & : \ 133.46 \\
\text{Collectible bills} & : \ 38,587.35 \\
\text{Real estate (city lots, Mansion account)} & : \ 7,500.00 \end{align*}

Total cash, collectible bills and real estate, $113,069.98
The collectible bills are believed to be as good as gold. The real estate was taken under a contract for completing the Governor's Mansion, at the valuation put upon said lots by the Legislature of 1889. See Public Documents, No. 28.

In addition to this there are assets and permanent improvements on hand, as follows:

Value of crop on hand (Roanoke farm) $ 30,205 00
Value of mules and horses bought and on hand at Roanoke farm 4,854 20
Value of cattle and hogs on hand at Roanoke farm 1,368 75
Value of machinery and tools bought at Roanoke farm 4,604 77
Value of household and kitchen furniture bought at Roanoke farm 1,027 71
Value of buildings erected at Roanoke farm 9,006 02
Value of horses and mules bought for railroad work at the Penitentiary 5,370 52
Value of work on Penitentiary buildings 23,708 14
Value of 1,127,000 brick on hand 7,845 00
Value of household and kitchen furniture on hand 943 40

Total assets and permanent improvements $ 88,933 48
Cash, collectible bills and real estate 113,069 98

Total $202,003 46
Deduct the amount of appropriation unexpended April 1st, 1890 109,187 68

Balance in favor of Penitentiary $ 92,815 78

The recommendations of the Board are as follows:

RECOMMENDATIONS.

"While we have been unusually successful in being able to make contracts for the employment of the convicts, mainly upon railroad work, it is evident that ere long there will be a less demand for labor on this class of work, and it is possible a large number of convicts may be thrown on our hands without employment. We are, therefore, compelled to recommend that permanent work be provided for a large portion of the force within the Penitentiary enclosure, where they can be worked at much less expense than upon the outside. Having this in view, we have expended the sum of twenty-three thousand seven hundred and eighty dollars and eleven cents ($23,780.11), nearly completing the west wing of the Penitentiary building, which can be fitted up for cells, or for any industries which the General Assembly in its wisdom may establish, such as tobacco and jute bagging factories. If it be thought unwise or impracticable to provide industries within the Penitentiary, we recommend that the force be located upon farms.

"Approving the wise policy adopted by former Boards, we have leased for the term of ten years, with an option of purchase, a large body of valuable lands on the Roanoke River, in the counties of Halifax and Northampton, upon which we have located a force of some two hundred convicts, consisting mainly of women and boys and the old, decrepit and infirm, who are totally unfit for railroad work.

"These lands have been worked successfully during the present year, and the statement of our farming operations accompany this report. Our experience in farming with this class of labor has impressed upon us the belief that each convict in the Penitentiary can be made to earn his support upon a farm.

"Our expenses have been greatly lightened and our operations greatly facilitated by having money on hand to do business on a cash basis. We, therefore, ask that all of the unexpended appropriation and earnings of 1889 and 1890, together with available assets and farm products, which,
under the present law, at the end of the fiscal year ending November 30th, 1890, are carried into the general fund of the State Treasury, be appropriated to the Penitentiary by the General Assembly to enable us to continue the operations of this institution on a self-sustaining basis. Under the present law we are limited in our expenditures, which is necessarily a limitation upon our operations, and we have been unable to make advantageous contracts on account of a large sum of money required to be used and charged against us as expenses. We, therefore, recommend that that portion of the act of the Legislature of 1889, limiting our expenses to two hundred and thirty thousand dollars ($230,000) per year, be amended in this respect."

The Board asks for no new appropriation, but it asks that the unexpended appropriation and earnings for 1889 and 1890, together with available assets and farm products on hand, be appropriated to the Penitentiary to enable it to continue the operations of this institution on a self-sustaining basis. Suppose this reasonable request is not granted, and for any cause the work for the extension or building of railroads should be suspended, or the railroads decline to employ convict labor, the probability is the Legislature would have to be convened in extra session at a very heavy expense to the State.

The second proviso to the third section of chapter 422 of the Act of 1889 is, "that the entire expenditure (for the Penitentiary) shall, in no case, exceed two hundred and thirty thousand dollars per annum."

This proviso, I have been told, has prevented the Directors from taking contracts of great advantage to the State, and if retained will probably, nay, almost certainly, do so again. Take this case: Suppose a contract was offered the Directors involving an expenditure, in great part for material, of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, in which they would be able to make a clear profit of fifty thousand dollars. They could not take the contract, because the amount of gross expenditures would exceed the amount of "entire expenditures" permitted in the law. It is respectfully submitted that the wise course would be to leave the law as the first proviso to section three left it, which is, "Provided the sum expended in excess of the sum heretofore appropriated shall be realized from the earnings of the Penitentiary."

The Board has shown itself worthy of this confidence, and your Honorable Body may rest assured that to allow it the free use of its earnings will only result in greater, if possible, zeal and more remunerative efforts.

The Board has been enabled to do so much, in great part, because of the work furnished by the unprecedented construction of railroads in the State. This work is precarious, and the Board, with a view of meeting a contingency which will probably arise, has obtained possession of a large tract of land on the Roanoke River, which has been cultivated to advantage. In addition to this, it has recommended the establishment of certain industries in order to give employment to the convicts. The establishment of a jute bagging factory strikes me with great force.

It has been proved that unskilled labor is as well suited to this work as to any other in which it can be employed. It will not come in competition with free labor. It will reduce the price of bagging to the farmer, and it will tend to make the institution self-sustaining.

Being thoroughly satisfied that, with proper facilities for using the convict force to the best advantage, this institution can be made a source of profit instead of expense to the State, and also desiring not to increase the amount of taxation, I recommend the issuing of four per cent. State bonds to an amount sufficient to establish said factories, and to pay for such land as may be required to properly employ the convicts not otherwise engaged, and that the interest on said bonds, and a sinking fund for their ultimate payment, be made out of the savings of the Penitentiary.
The demand for a Reformatory Department for young convicts is becoming very great. One of the most distinguished jurists said to me, that when he was on the Superior Court Bench the hardest duty he had to perform was to sentence young boys and girls to the Penitentiary. The thought that those young law-breakers were to be consigned to fellowship with old and hardened offenders, by which the very last germ of good within them would be destroyed, was enough to grieve a good man.

One of our distinguished State officers described to me a scene which he witnessed on one of our railroads, where two fair-faced and amiable looking boys were chained, each of them, to repulsive, degraded looking convicts, typical house-breakers in appearance, and were being conveyed with them to the Penitentiary. Gentlemen of the General Assembly, what hope for reformation is there with such associates for these young persons?

Humanity, to say nothing of Christianity, demands that arrangements be made whereby these unfortunates shall be kept separate from the old offenders and given a chance, at least, for the future.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S REPORT.

The report of the Attorney General is commended to your careful consideration. He calls attention to the necessity for constitutional revision, and also of a proper oyster and fish law. The statistical information given by him is very interesting, and I agree with him that the information will enable the Legislature to change the mode of compensation of Solicitors of Judicial Districts. It does not tend to make the administration of justice calm and unimpassioned, when the amount to be received by the Solicitor depends in any degree upon the number of convictions he may be able to make. I recommend that the several Solicitors be paid salaries commensurate with the work each has to perform.

His recommendation as to creating two degrees of murder, re-establishing Courts of Oyer and Terminer, and amending the criminal practice, so as to simplify and lessen the expense of criminal trials, are wise and should be acted upon.

The same may be said of the enactment of some legislation to regulate the conditions under which corporations organized under laws other than our own shall be permitted to carry on their business in this State.

In this connection I recommend the re-enactment of so much of Chapter 29 of Vol. 2 of The Code as has been repealed, for I fail to see any satisfactory reason why insurance companies doing business in this State should not make a deposit of bonds to secure our people from loss. I think it would be well to require the companies to deposit North Carolina bonds only as security.

AUDITOR'S REPORT.

The Auditor's report for 1889 and 1890 shows that, under Chapter 198 of Act of 1889 for the relief of certain soldiers of the late war between the States, and widows, there were net collections amounting to the sum of $87,496.63, and that upon the roll for relief there are 4,051 persons, as follows:

<table>
<tr>
<th>Class</th>
<th>Number</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>First class soldiers</td>
<td>46</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Second class soldiers</td>
<td>230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Third class soldiers</td>
<td>339</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fourth class soldiers</td>
<td>914</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fourth class widows</td>
<td>2,522</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

The use of the word "indigent" in the first section of Chapter 198 of Act of 1889, was such as to require a construction to be placed upon it by the Pension Board. The Board was satisfied that it was the destitution of the widow the Legislature intended to relieve, and was in no way an attempted compensation for the service rendered by the dead soldier husband. It therefore adopted the construction that indigent meant that the widow did not have an income of $300, or property to the value of $500, nor did she have any child, relative or friend who was supporting her. In other words, if the widow could be supported without this appropriation it must be assigned to one more needy than herself. This has given rise to many criticisms upon the part of those who were excluded from participating in the fund, and it is respectfully recommended that the Legislature will put its own construction upon the word “indigent,” and the Board will carry out that construction.

Every appropriation for this purpose should be specific, that is, a tax of three, four, or five cents upon the hundred dollars' worth of property to be applied as directed by you. The condition of the Federal Treasury is a sufficient answer to any proposition to pay a certain amount to each person without limiting the amount to be expended.

After fixing the amount of tax to be divided amongst the different classes, if each class is to be reduced in proportion in case the tax levied should not be sufficient for all, it would be well for your body to consider that the more the fourth class is increased by the use of general words extending the scope of the present law, the less will those old veterans receive who have "wounds" which render them totally incompetent to perform manual labor, or such as have "lost a leg above the knee" or an "arm above the elbow." I call your attention to the fact that only one county in the State has failed to levy and collect the tax for our old soldiers, and I am glad to believe that it will be remedied in that county next year.

Your attention is directed specially to the Auditor's recommendations. They are fully concurred in by every member of the Board.
The report of the Secretary of State shows that during the last two fiscal years fourteen hundred and fifty-three grants have been issued, covering one hundred and fifty-four thousand seven hundred and fifty-eight acres of vacant public land.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

The report of the State Board of Health, which is here-with sent, will advise you fully as to the conduct and action of that Board. It was received too late (January 5th) for me to give it the consideration which the reports of that Board have always merited.

I invite your attention to the report of the Quarantine Physician. An appropriation to rebuild the quarantine hospital, which was burned down a few years ago, is earnestly recommended.

THE NORTH CAROLINA INSTITUTE FOR THE DEAF, DUMB AND THE BLIND.

The number of pupils in this Institution is two hundred and ninety-three. Of this number two hundred and five are in the Asylum for the whites, and eighty-eight in the Asylum for the colored. This is the largest number that has ever been in it at any one time. The Superintendent reports that its utmost capacity has been reached, that a greater number cannot be accommodated unless the buildings are enlarged. Forty-one pupils have been discharged and sixty-five admitted during the last two years. The Institution has been conducted within the appropriation made by the Legislature two years ago. It has been well conducted. The buildings, both of the white and colored departments, need considerable repairs. The furniture is old and badly worn, and some of it should be replaced at once. An infirmary is greatly needed. Fifty thousand dollars, it is estimated, will support the inmates, repair the buildings, replace the furniture and build the infirmary.

Your attention is called to the following extract from the report of the President of the Board of Trustees:

"The Institution is now filled to its utmost capacity. I would most respectfully call the attention of the Legislature to this state of affairs. Not one half of the deaf, dumb and blind children of the State are receiving the advantages for which the Institution was created. We would earnestly urge that some provisions be made for the education of all such children of the State. We would suggest that the best way to accomplish this would be to separate the two classes and that the blind continue to occupy the building now in use, and new buildings be erected for occupancy by the deaf and dumb. It will be remembered that the Legislature donated to this Institution, at its last session, one hundred acres of land near the city of Raleigh, but no money having been appropriated it was impossible to cultivate the same; as, with the small appropriation, we could, with the strictest economy, barely meet the current expenses of the Institution. It has occurred to your Board of Trustees that the Agricultural and Mechanical College has under their control two hundred acres of land, adjoining the land referred to above, belonging to the Institution, and as the two institutions would be near each other, if buildings were erected on this property for the deaf and dumb the pupils of both might unite in cultivating the farm, and both be instructed in agricultural and mechanical arts by the professors of the Agricultural and Mechanical College. Should this plan be found not to be feasible, the farm could be cultivated to advantage by the pupils of this Institution. The deaf and dumb must be taught to work, and become sustaining citizens of the State when they pass from under our control."
INSANE ASYLUMS.

These institutions are in good condition. The officers are energetic and faithful. I call attention of the General Assembly to their several reports. It will be seen that each of these institutions request an additional appropriation, and, if they are to be administered upon the principles announced, I think their requests very reasonable; indeed, exceedingly moderate and insignificant in comparison with the demands which will probably be made upon the State in the future. Doctor Murphy, the Superintendent of the Western North Carolina Insane Asylum, says: "Notwithstanding the great demand for room, every recent or supposed curable patient, and all violent and incurable ones, were promptly admitted, without sending home any harmless incurable ones. I fear in the coming year this cannot be done, and more room will be urgently demanded for even the curable. The plan of sending home the so-called harmless, while, perhaps, better than keeping without the walls of the hospital the curable cases is open to many objections. I have had reports from several who were thus returned to the counties of settlement of such a nature as to convince me that it is a cruelty to send them to the County Alms-houses, or the care of their ignorant and impoverished friends, as is often necessarily done. The State should provide more room for this class of its wards. This could be cheaply done, in part by this Asylum, by the construction of congregate dining-rooms and using the present dining-rooms for dormitories. It is estimated that this work could be done at a cost that will not exceed two hundred and fifty dollars for each bed; that is to say, for each patient accommodated. The beds of this Institution, as it now stands, cost about a thousand dollars apiece. In no other way could apartments be so economically supplied. The cost of any addition would probably be not less than three hundred and fifty dollars per bed."
Doctor Miller, the Superintendent of the Eastern North Carolina Insane Asylum, says: "There can be no question as to the necessity of increased accommodations for the insane of our State, and I am decided in the opinion that in our State Asylums is the place for all classes of our insane population. The buildings are constructed specially for this class of people; the attendants are trained in their management; the doctors are supposed to be skilled in their treatment. Many of such insane could be self-supporting if sufficient lands were purchased for their employment under charge of a discreet farmer."

It would be well to count the cost of these recommendations before the policy is established that it is the duty of the State to provide for all classes of insane in the State Asylums.

Governor Scales, in his annual message to the Legislature two years ago, speaking of the North Carolina Insane Asylum at Raleigh, said: "The number of insane now provided for in that Institution is two hundred and ninety-three, and these are largely in excess of the capacity for which the Asylum was originally determined. There are now in private families, poor-houses and jails, in said district, over eight hundred insane persons who should have medical treatment, and that care and treatment which alone can be found in asylums properly equipped to that end."

The President of the Board of Directors of the North Carolina Insane Asylum, the Hon. Richard H. Smith, makes substantially the same statement in his report, herewith sent. Doctor Murphy tells us that the cost of the beds of the Western North Carolina Institution, as it now stands, is above one thousand dollars apiece, that is, for each patient accommodated; and the cost of any other addition, except the one he proposes, would probably be not less than three hundred and fifty dollars for each new patient. The particular improvement he suggests he estimates at two hundred and fifty dollars for each patient. Taking the estimate at three hundred and fifty dollars, to accommodate the eight hundred would take $270,000 for building purposes; and then say $180 per head each year for expenses would add, for the Raleigh Asylum alone, $144,000 per year to our tax bill in addition to cost of building. By the time the Morganton Asylum and Goldsboro Asylum were extended to accommodate all the patients dependent upon them, I don't know what the cost will be.

I have not construed the law as intending to make our insane asylums either hospitals or alms-houses. I do not think it was the intention to keep in the asylums any person who was incurable and harmless any longer than it would take to ascertain the fact.

Section 2260 of The Code reads as follows: "Any three of the Board of Directors of the Asylum, upon the Superintendent certifying the facts (a copy of which certificate shall be sent to the Clerk of the Superior Court of the county of settlement), shall be a Board to discharge or remove from their Asylum any person admitted as insane when such person is incurable or is found to be of sane mind, or when such person is incurable and, in the opinion of the Superintendent, his being at large will not be injurious to himself or dangerous to the community; or said Board may permit such person to go to the county of his settlement on probation, when, in the opinion of said Superintendent, it will not be injurious to himself or dangerous to the community; and said Board may discharge or remove such person upon other sufficient cause appearing to them; and whenever any such person, if admitted as indigent, may be discharged or removed, except as sane, it shall be the duty of the Sheriff of the county of his settlement to convey such person to his county at its expense, and any such indigent person discharged as sane shall receive from the Asylum a sum of money sufficient to pay his transportation to the county of his settlement, which sum shall be repaid by said county."
The reasonable construction of this section is, that upon any three Directors finding that an insane man is cured it is their duty to discharge him, or when he is found incurable and, in the opinion of the Superintendent, harmless, it is their duty to discharge him or cause him to be sent to his county of settlement. If this be the proper construction of the act, I cannot recommend any further appropriation for building purposes until all incurable harmless insane are caused to be sent back to their proper counties; and then if there is not room I advise an appropriation for building purposes to the extent needed for new accommodations.

What shall be done with the harmless indigent incurables? Section 2260 of The Code answers that question. The Sheriff of the county must come after such of them as are indigent upon notice, and the county must take care of them.

I have been informed that notices under the above Section have been issued from the Asylum at Raleigh, and, in several instances, the Sheriffs have paid no attention to such notices. In addition to the indictment of the Sheriff in such cases, I recommend that the county of settlement be made to pay the expenses of such harmless incurables, and there will be little trouble from that source, for I regret to say that it is impossible for the most economical Board to support an insane person at the Asylum upon the amount which will suffice in a county alms-house.

With some hesitation I venture to lay before your honorable body the policy which I think should control our Insane Asylums.

There are three classes of insane: 1st. The dangerous, whether curable or incurable; 2nd. The harmless curable; 3rd. The harmless incurable. The first class ought to be accommodated at all hazards, for if permitted to remain at large, some sane, responsible human being might be killed or seriously injured.

The second class, the harmless curable, ought then to be taken care of, for it may be that some darkened mind may be brought to the light by means of the advantages and attention bestowed in these institutions.

The third class appeals strongly to the friends of those suffering under a cloud, never to be removed, and should be properly cared for in their respective counties, surrounded by their relatives, if they have the means to support them; if not, by the county. It will be found from the reports that in an asylum it takes from $177 to $202 per year to feed, clothe and care for a patient. You know, gentlemen, that it does not require anything like this amount to take care of one in a county almshouse. Upon this subject Dr. Miller says: "But, if the State will not this provide, then * * * the next best thing to be done, is for the counties to act upon the suggestion contained in my annual report for 1888, viz.: construct of brick, and heat with a small furnace, a suitable building for our incurable harmless insane whose families are not able to take care of them."

If you shall deem it your duty to provide by a State tax for this third class, you can do it more cheaply in the counties of settlement. Your attention is called particularly to the remarks of Dr. Wood, Superintendent of the North Carolina Insane Asylum, under the head of "Custodial Care of the Insane."

IDIOTS AND INEBRIATES.

The seventh section of Art. II of the Constitution provides that it shall be the duty of the Legislature, as soon as practicable, to devise means for the education of idiots and inebriates.

IDIOTS.

It is plain that the Constitution did not intend to do a vain thing, and we are therefore compelled to the construction that by idiots was not meant those absolutely without capacity and incapable of receiving instruction, but rather the class which would be embraced in the meaning of the Greek word, "idiotes," from which the word idiot is derived, and which can well be rendered simple or weak-minded. There is no class of our population which appeals more strongly to the humanity, as well as the sympathy, of our people, than its feeble-minded children.

One of our largest and most influential Christian denominations is interesting itself in this subject, and whether a school for the purpose be made a part of the Institution for the Deaf, Dumb and the Blind, or a separate and distinct school be established, the cost will not be very great. It should be done, and at once.

INEBRIATES.

Your attention is called to the suggestion made in the report of the Superintendent of the Western North Carolina Insane Asylum in regard to inebriates. He says: "We have in our hospital twelve rooms built for private patients, which our population, as a rule, does not demand. It is proposed, as a temporary expedient, or until the State can provide an institution for this class, as our Constitution commands, to use these apartments for inebriates who will be received and treated as such, charging them such moderate prices for their care and treatment as will protect the institution from loss. In this way a limited number can be admitted and treated and, we hope, cured, without any additional cost to the State. I am not aware that inebriates are treated as such in any hospital for the insane, except perhaps in Massachusetts."

This proposition is heartily recommended as a temporary expedient.

BOARD OF PUBLIC CHARITIES.

The Constitution of our State should be obeyed by our legislative bodies, because it is the fundamental law. When one of its provisions becomes unsuited to our wants it should be eliminated by the means provided in that instrument itself. Until this is done, it should be respected and enforced as a part of the law of the land.

In the eleventh article of the Constitution of our State, it is provided, in section seven, that "The General Assembly shall, at its first session, appoint and define the duties of a Board of Public Charities, to whom shall be entrusted the supervision of all charitable and penal State institutions, and who shall annually report to the Governor upon their condition, with suggestions for their improvement."

Its establishment and efficiency was regarded as of so much importance that, in the eleventh section of the same article, it was classed with the Legislature itself, in directing it, as well as your honorable body, to keep in view that all penal and charitable institutions should be made as nearly self-supporting as is consistent with the purpose of their creation.

The Legislature, by Chapter 10 of Volume 2 of The Code, established this Board, prescribed its duties, and then by a proviso to section 2334 destroyed its efficiency by providing for its compensation as follows: "Provided, the said Board shall be allowed their traveling expenses for attending one meeting." That is, it made it incumbent upon the Board to hold four meetings a year; as compensation, to receive traveling expenses for one meeting. In other States these Boards are encouraged, and are of immense service to the State. Here we can hope for the same result, if the spirit of the mandate of the Constitution is carried out by making adequate provision for its support.

The importance of this Board cannot be overestimated. There is need for its supervision every day. It should be made the Board of Visitation, as directed by Section 2271 of The Code, which makes this Board and your honorable body the official visitors of all Insane Asylums.

1. Experience shows that there should be an official visitor to all penal and charitable institutions. It is no reflection upon the management of our institutions to say that any system which does not provide for a stated systematic examination of the charitable and penal institutions of the State by an expert is vitally defective. Upright, conscientious officers, who are trying only to do their duty, will hail with pleasure the presence of an expert who has mastered his subject and comes prepared to make valuable suggestions for the improvement of the institution under their charge. Officers, if any there should be of another character, will be bound to change their ways, or vacate. Such a Board will be able to give the Legislature valuable aid in suggesting what class of patients it would be better to discharge from our crowded asylums to make way for others whose wants are greater. "To help the most needy" should be the rule of acceptance. It is constantly being suggested that there are persons out of the asylums who are in greater need of its ministrations than many who are within it. The Board could examine into the matter, and see that the rule above set forth is complied with. The supervision of the Board could be extended to the semi-public institutions for charity, which are supported by the private liberality of our people, if requested.

2. It should examine into the condition of every jail within the State and report such prison reforms as are needed.

3. It has been charged that criminals are receiving pardons from the Executive on account of their health, when a closer examination would have shown that they were not entitled to the clemency given. The Board could be of invaluable assistance to the Governor in such cases.

4. When charges are made against an officer of an institution which the Board of Directors think ought to be investigated, simple justice demands that an officer should be tried by a tribunal that has neither prejudice or partiality. Of course it is possible, but it is not probable, that men can associate year after year with an officer and not feel either. At any rate, the trial by a Board which has no connection with the institution in which the offence was said to have been committed would give more satisfaction to the people at large, and the members of the Board would not have to combat either favor or prejudice in themselves.

The reports of the Board of Public Charities are herewith sent, and I ask your special attention to the declaration therein set forth of the distinguished Rev. Dr. Fred. H. Wines. Says he: "We are certain that any State which will create a Board of Public Charities and give it little absolute power but the largest possible amount of discretion and freedom in its own action, will reap the benefit in the form of greater efficiency on the part of the benevolent and reformatory institutions of the State at a small relative cost."

RAILROADS.

There has been great activity in the building of railroads in the State within the last two years. In 1888 we had fifty-one railroad companies, twenty-five hundred and fifty miles of road and property estimated at $10,287,648. In 1890 we had fifty-nine railroad companies, thirty-one hundred miles of road and property estimated at $13,674,106.75.

The subject of a Railroad Commission has been agitated for the last three years in the State. My views upon the subject were stated to your honorable predecessor, the General Assembly of 1889, and are the same now. They may be summed up in the following quotation from my inaugural address.

RAILROAD COMMISSION.

"These railroads have been of incalculable benefit to our State and people, and their prosperity is to us a matter of pardonable pride, and no embarrassing restraint upon their development or prosperity should be imposed by a legislative body. But, on the other hand, the exercise of unlimited power, almost of sovereignty, by powerful corporations, however well managed, will be apt to prove injurious to the State, or some portion of it, whenever the interests of those corporations seem to be antagonistic to that of our State and people.

"It is therefore right and proper that a law creating a railroad commission, to be composed of, say three members, should be matured at an early date by the General Assembly. Care, of course, should be taken not to interfere with the legitimate exercise of power by the different railroad corporations, but at the same time the interests of the State should be carefully guarded against usurpations by these most powerful associations."

There are some facts in regard to the different railroads that are of interest, viz.: The Western North Carolina Railroad is completed within a few miles of Murphy, its terminus. This road is paying for the convict labor used in its construction and has been doing so since the summer of 1889.

Back taxes and the taxes for the last year, to the amount of $15,000, were paid into the Treasury in 1890 by the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company.

The charter of the Petersburg Railroad Company expired on the 31st day of December, 1890, and upon renewal of its charter the road will be subject to taxation.

The Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad, it is said, has earned annual profits exceeding six per cent. for more than twenty years. This, if true, will render this company, under its charter, liable to back taxes to the amount of sixty-five or seventy thousand dollars, and hereafter to the tax of twenty-five cents a share for each year in which the annual profits shall exceed six per cent.

The exemption from taxation in the charter of the Atlantic, Tennessee and Ohio Railroad Company, will expire in the summer of 1892 and the road will then be subject to taxation.
THE STATE'S INTEREST IN RAILROADS.

The State holds stock in two of its railroads: in the North Carolina Railroad, it has stock to the amount of three millions of dollars; in the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad, to the amount of one million two hundred and sixty-six thousand five hundred dollars.

NORTH CAROLINA RAILROAD.

In payment of this stock, the State issued three millions of State bonds of one thousand dollars each, which fell due in the years 1883-'84 and 1885. One hundred and eighty of these bonds were received by the State in part payment of its stock in the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company, sold under the act of 1866, and twenty-five were redeemed by the State, under the Funding Act of 1866, and certificates of indebtedness issued in their stead, which certificates were afterwards funded at twenty-five per cent. The two hundred and five bonds thus received by the State were cancelled. The General Assembly authorized the issue of bonds at six per cent. to take up the remainder of these bonds.

Original number------------------------3,000
Cancelled -------------------------------205
New bonds issued under act--------------2,607

Leaving outstanding ---------------------188

Of this number the United States Government held 147, which the Governor and Treasurer purchased in 1889 by selling 113 bonds, thus saving thirty-four bonds ------------------------147

Leaving outstanding ---------------------41

Since then, five bonds have been presented at the Treasury, and paid in cash out of dividends in hands of Receiver of North Carolina Railroad ---------------------------5

Leaving outstanding ---------------------36
These thirty-six bonds are supposed to have been lost, as no trace of them has been found, after diligent inquiry. The number of bonds now bearing interest at six per cent. is two thousand seven hundred and twenty; interest thereon annually, $163,200. North Carolina is receiving each year under the lease of the road, which has yet ten years to run, as dividends on its stock, the annual sum of $180,000; leaving yearly balance of $16,800.

It would be well for the Legislature to direct that this amount be invested in the bonds of the State and held as a fund—

1st. For the payment of so many of these thirty-six bonds as may be found.

2d. As a fund for the payment of the principal of the bonds when due.

ATLANTIC AND NORTH CAROLINA RAILROAD.

The State originally issued $1,066,500 of its bonds in aid of this road, receiving certificates of stock therefor to the amount of ten thousand six hundred and sixty-five shares. Afterwards, in 1857, it issued $400,000 in bonds as a loan to the road; total bonds issued, $1,466,500. At the close of the Civil War the road had paid back $200,000 of said loan, and under the Act of 1867 discharged the balance by issuing to the State two thousand shares of stock of the par value of $200,000. This made the State's stock twelve thousand six hundred and sixty-five shares, of the par value of $1,266,500.

These bonds, for the most part, have been funded at forty cents on the dollar, so that practically the State has paid for said shares (12,665) of stock $506,600. From its completion to the present time, no dividend has ever been paid upon this stock. When the present Board of Directors took possession of the road, on the 12th day of September, 1889, the bonded debt of the road amounted to $325,000, and there was a floating debt of $56,115.98. On the 1st day of November, 1890, the floating debt was $1,581.41, showing receipts above expenditures in about thirteen months and a half of $54,354.57.

The State's interest in the road has been confided to a proxy and Directors living along the line of the road. Its management has been admirable.

SWAMP LANDS.

The Board of Education has done all it could to dispose of our swamp lands. They have been for years a source of great expense to the State. It will be seen by its report that the Board has sold 91,865 acres at the net price of $46,052.45, being a little more than fifty cents an acre. The Board recommends that the proceeds of the swamp lands be invested in interest bearing securities, say North Carolina State bonds, and that the interest alone be used for public schools.

TITLES TO LANDS.

I beg to call your attention to the recommendation made upon this subject to the last Legislature, and to hope that you will give it due consideration. It is of the utmost importance to us to have the titles of our real estate as clear and simple as possible; but yet, owing to an old provision in our law, which might at one time have been reasonable, it often happens that a title is condemned, or in case a man desires to negotiate a loan, doubt is thrown upon it to such an extent that those having money are unwilling to part with it, for fear some "married" woman or the married daughter of some mother and grandmother, who was a married woman before she arrived at the age of twenty-one years, may sue for the same.

There has been case after case in our county where men having purchased estates, after due inquiry, and yet some one living in some distant part of the country has, under the law, brought suit and dispossessed the man or woman who has expended money in buying a home. This can be remedied by repealing the provision excepting married women from our statutes of repose. This will be no hardship, for they have now the right to sue alone, or if there should be a doubt about that, you have the power to give them the right as if they were femae sole, and preserve for their benefit the law until, say, the 1st January, 1892.

PUBLIC HIGHWAYS.

In those portions of the State where nature has done the work our roads are good. Where nature has not been so kind they are, as a rule, abominable. A few townships in the State have honored themselves by greatly improving their roads. I have no reason for believing that their examples will be followed, unless you should require it to be done. I recommend that you levy a tax to be paid over to the County Commissioners of each county when collected, to be applied to the improvement of the public roads of the townships paying the tax; such townships as have already levied a tax for this purpose to be exempted from this levy.

STATE BOUNDARY LINE.

The amount due North Carolina from Virginia for balance, $758.88, advanced by North Carolina on expenses of running boundary line between the two States, will, I have been assured, soon be paid. The boundary line between North Carolina and Tennessee, authorized to be surveyed and run by the last Legislature, has not been made, for the reason that the Legislature of Tennessee did not make provision for appointment of commissioners, etc.

THE OYSTER LAW.

The oyster business is already of great importance to our State, and is becoming more so each season. The necessity for some general law upon the subject, which can be and will be enforced, is apparent.

Under the survey ordered by the Board of Agriculture, it was ascertained that in over a million of acres examined, five hundred and eighty-three thousand acres are fit for the cultivation and growing of oysters.

In Pamlico Sound, and the neighboring waters, the Board of Commissioners of Shell Fisheries, more than two years ago, reported that there were two hundred and eight public oyster grounds which are not subject to entry, containing twenty thousand five hundred and fifty-three acres. These public grounds are natural oyster beds, and, under proper supervision, will prove of immense benefit to the State, and a great profit, not only to her citizens who live near them, but to those who purchase their rich product. In addition to these public grounds there have been entries made of twenty-five thousand acres, to be planted, for the most part by seed oysters gathered from the public grounds, and this has already been done to a considerable extent. One of the consequences of this development has been the locating of oyster canning establishments at Elizabeth City, Washington, Newberne, Morehead City, Beaufort, and probably other places. These establishments give employment to many laborers and bid fair to increase in numbers and importance.

Another result has also followed. A fleet of vessels and boats from Virginia and Maryland, and, it may be, other States, are to be found upon our waters, busily engaged in carrying to the Northern markets these highly prized bivalves, until reflecting men have, with great unanimity, raised their voices in warning, and cautioned us that if our public grounds are to be used for a while longer, as they have been during the last two years, North Carolina will soon be in the same deplorable condition as Virginia, Maryland and other States, for these fleets are daily carrying from our waters the seed oysters as well as those which are large enough for consumption.

The subject is a complicated one, for the interests involved are so various and conflicting. But it does appear that policy would dictate that under no circumstances should non-residents be permitted to take oysters from the public grounds of the State. These oysters are the property of North Carolina and she owes it to herself to give to her own people whatever benefits may accrue from catching them. After they are caught and become the property of the citizens of the State, I am not prepared to say how far the Legislature can prevent their sale to any purchaser.

A law to the following purport will probably effect the object desired—

1st. Require every boat engaged in the business of transporting oysters to pay a license tax for one year, graduated according to tonnage of boat.

2nd. Require oysters taken to be culled on rocks or oyster beds, and not more than ten per cent. of oysters less than two inches long be brought from rock or bed.

3rd. Appoint an oyster police and oyster inspector at each of the oyster centers.

4th. Give owners of canning and other factories engaged in the oyster business within the State the same rights and privileges as residents.

5th. Between the 1st of May and 1st of October make it unlawful to take oysters from the natural beds or rocks of the State, except for the purpose of planting them or selling them to be planted in some oyster bed in the State.

6th. Impose heavy penalties for violating any section of the law.

7th. Let all fines and penalties be paid into the public treasury.

8th. Let expenses of executing the law be paid by the Treasurer, without regard to the amount collected for fines and penalties.

9th. Repeal all inconsistent legislation.
The principal difficulty in enforcing this law will be found in compelling obedience from the oyster boats from other States. The fullest authority should, therefore, be given those to whom the execution of the law is confided, and any boat or vessel attempting to evade the law by flight ought to be pursued at once and captured and the men imprisoned. No half-way measures will succeed with these daring boatmen and sailors, but when they find they must obey the law they will cheerfully submit, for they are sensible as well as daring.

STATE GUARD.

There are four regiments in the State Guard, one troop of cavalry and one company of colored troops.

First Regiment has 357 men.
Second Regiment 283 "
Third Regiment 345 "
Fourth Regiment 400 "
Troop Cavalry 38 "
Colored Company (unattached) 32 "
General Staff 22 " Brigade Staff 8 "

Total 1,505

This is an increase in number of forty-six in the last two years. The companies are for the first time in its history fully uniformed and equipped. Taking it as a whole it is the best organized State Guard in the South. Its importance to the State cannot be magnified. The firmness and prudence of Company D, Second Regiment, at Rocky Mount in February, 1890, prevented bloodshed and saved to the State in three days more property than the appropriation to the whole Guard for many years would amount to.
The State Encampment is nearly in a state of completion. The U. S. Government has spent five thousand dollars in establishing a battery there. The city of Wilmington and citizens of New Hanover County have presented to the State for the use of the Guard a tract of one hundred acres of land, and are now erecting buildings thereon, to make it more commodious, at an expense of over five thousand dollars.

BOARD OF INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS.

The report of E. Chambers Smith, Esq., a member of the Board, in regard to the Newbern and Beaufort Canal Company, is of exceeding interest. I recommend that the Legislature take steps at once to induce the U. S. Government to deepen the approaches to the Canal at each end.

The report was adopted by the Board, and is as follows:

"In accordance with a resolution of the Board of Internal Improvements, I visited and inspected the Newbern and Beaufort Canal, with a view of ascertaining whether the contract entered into by the Newbern and Beaufort Canal Company with the State had been complied with, and I beg leave to submit the following report:

"It is unnecessary to refer specially to the various acts of the General Assembly relative to this work of internal improvement, as they do not materially bear upon the matter under consideration, and I shall therefore call your attention to the act of February 10th, 1883, entitled 'An Act to facilitate the construction of the Newbern and Beaufort Canal,' which provides, 'that the Governor of this State and his Council be, and they are hereby, authorized and empowered to transfer, assign and deliver to the Newbern and Beaufort Canal Company the twenty-five hundred shares of the capital stock of the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal Company, now owned and held by this State, so that the said stock or the proceeds of the sale thereof, may be used by the said Newbern and Beaufort Canal Company in the construction of the said Canal: Provided, however, that before the transfer and delivery of the said stock, the said Newbern and Beaufort Canal Company shall enter into an agreement or contract which shall be satisfactory to the Governor and his Council, that the said canal shall be opened for navigation by the first day of January, A. D. 1885.

"It had been the policy of the State for years to open up an outlet to the sea from Newbern, and to this end the Newbern and Beaufort Canal (first known as the Clubfoot and Harlowe Creek Canal, because it connected with the two creeks bearing those names) was projected. This work dragged for many years, and no material progress was made on it by the owners until, at the session of the Legislature held in 1883, the act above referred to was passed, and the contract authorized thereby entered into.

"The particular point with reference to which your Board directed this examination and inspection, was to ascertain whether the canal had been 'opened for navigation' in accordance with the terms of the contract. It was not without difficulty that a correct conclusion was reached; 'opened for navigation,' under various circumstances and surroundings, would have various meanings. A canal with five feet of water would not be 'opened for navigation' if the approaches were of sufficient depth to float vessels drawing a much greater amount of water, while on the other hand it would not be necessary or expected that a canal should have ten feet of water when the approaches were only three or four feet. So the term must be construed by relation, and not by an absolute rule. Thus construed, I do not hesitate to report that the 'Newbern and Beaufort Canal' has been 'opened for navigation' within the meaning of the contract and the act of 1883.

"The report of General W. G. Lewis, State Engineer, which is hereto appended and made a part of this report, will show that the said canal has a sufficient depth of water to float any vessel that can get to it. While this is all that can be asked of the canal company, it is greatly to be deplored that it cannot be made a great highway for vessels going from Newbern to the sea, thus saving nineteen hours in reaching it.

"The canal company has expressed a perfect willingness to deepen the canal correspondingly when the approaches are deepened, and every effort should be used to have this done as soon as possible. The United States Government should do this, and the General Assembly, by decided and early action, might direct attention to the great advantage to be derived from this work. If the approaches are deepened to ten feet the canal company will deepen correspondingly, and there will thus be opened a great commercial highway, the benefits of which cannot now be estimated."

WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION.

The importance of the Columbian Exposition of 1892, to be held in Chicago, cannot well be overestimated. North Carolina should be well represented upon that occasion.

Upon the nomination of the Executive of this State, the President has, under an act of Congress, appointed Col. A. B. Andrews and Col. Thomas B. Keogh Commissioners to represent the State of North Carolina. These Commissioners have thus far represented the State with faithfulness to her and honor to themselves. In the organization of the Commissioners and the allotment of duties to be performed they have received distinguished appreciation at the hands of the Commissioners, and I am satisfied that their labors will prove highly beneficial to our State, provided you appropriate a sufficient amount to enable North Carolina's exhibit to be such as the State ought to make.

Nature has been more kind to North Carolina than to any of her sisters. It is no exaggeration to say that for diversity and productiveness of soil, salubrity of climate and variety of products no other State of like dimensions can approach her. We are three sections in one—a mountain section, a piedmont section, an ocean section. The palmetto and the cactus, growing in the open air, remind us of the tropics, whilst the black fir and balsam show that the breath of the polar clime is not unknown upon our mountains; and yet no land is more free from the cyclones and severe cold with which our Southern or Northern sisters are sometimes visited.

North Carolina alone of all the States answered every call made in the census of 1880 for information as to products of the soil which were supposed to be of sufficient importance to be the subject of inquiry.

We can make an exhibit superior in many respects to that of any other State in the Union provided the means are supplied by your body. For this purpose it is recommended that not less than twenty-five thousand dollars be appropriated.

GOVERNOR'S MANSION.

The residence for the Governor has been "erected," to use the word of the act, and is now occupied. A detailed account of its cost will be found in the Treasurer's Office. Every bill has been paid except a small balance due the Penitentiary, which was turned over to the Treasurer on 30th of November, 1890, according to law. The Council of State found that the assets provided under Public Document No. 28, of 1889, were not sufficient to complete and furnish the building; indeed, that document itself shows that the Legislature did not anticipate that it would do more than complete it. It therefore determined to complete it so far as it could, and partially furnish it, so that it might be occupied. Finding that there were not funds sufficient to furnish it, and not being willing to contract any debt on that account, I have had conveyed to the Mansion furniture belonging to me, to supply the deficiency, and will file a list of the same in the Treasurer's Office, so there may be no difficulty in ascertaining the property of the State at the end of my term.

The State has at the Penitentiary a beautiful set of marble steps intended for the Mansion. It will cost, it is estimated, near five hundred dollars to prepare them for use. The Council of State has left this, with some other matters necessary for the Mansion, to be dealt with as your honorable body may see fit.

PARDONS, COMMUTATIONS AND REPRIEVES.

Number of pardons in the last two years, 47; commutations, 25; reprieves, 11; total, 83. Of the eleven reprieves, ten have been granted in order to gain time for considering the merits of the cases; one, the case of Sam. Scales, of Rockingham County, was granted at request of the Solicitor, who desired to use him as a State's witness. Before the term of Court was held he died in prison.

DIED IN THE SERVICE OF THE STATE.

Since your honorable body was last in session the State has been called upon to mourn the death of its late learned, respected, honored, Christian Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, the Honorable W. N. H. Smith. There has never been a purer or more conscientious man in the service of the State.

The Honorable William M. Shipp, Judge of the Eleventh Judicial District, has also passed away. Able, just and learned, he died before old age had dimmed the luster of his eye, or the inroads of disease had soured the sweet disposition which made him so dear to those who knew him best.

To-day the State is witnessing the interment of another of her most esteemed citizens, the Honorable Paul C. Cameron. For many years his wise counsels have been of great service to the University, of which he was an honored trustee.

Mr. Bellamy arose and said:

In behalf of Mr. W. V. Clifton, of Raleigh, who for fourteen years so acceptably and with ability served his State as Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, I present to the Senate this gavel, which I hold in my hand, for the use of its presiding officer:

The gavel is made of oak, is composed of five distinct pieces, combined into one, and was of the celebrated Libby Prison of Richmond Virginia, which was used by the government of the Confederate States during the late civil conflict for the confinement of Federal prisoners of war, and which has lately been made so conspicuous by the efforts of certain Northern gentlemen to purchase and remove it to Chicago for exhibition.

Mr. President, whenever discord, tumult or disorder shall arise in this chamber, its donor trusts that the gavel may be the means of suppressing the same and producing harmony more successfully and efficiently than did the prison from whose timbers it is made in allaying strife and restoring peace to our distracted country.
And in years to come he trusts that it may be looked upon and treasured as a valuable memento of the era of the great war of secession."

President Holt received the gavel, and said:

"Senators: In the name of the Senate I accept this gavel, and were I well enough I would like to make a short speech in receiving it, but I am not. I will say, however, had I the power to use it in the Senate of the United States for awhile, as I have here, I would rule several gentlemen in that body out of order in many instances."

On motion of Mr. Twitty, the Senate adjourned until to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock.

operating or handling scoops, scrapes or dredges, or to have on board any vessel a scoop, scrape or dredge with intent to affix the same to said vessel for use in taking or catching oysters without first having obtained a license to take or catch oysters with scoop, scrape or dredge as aforesaid; and the fact of having such scoop, scrape or dredge on board of any vessel, except as freight, shall be prima facie evidence of the intent to use the same contrary to this section.

Sec. 4. The owner of said boat shall make oath before one of the Clerks of the Superior Court of the counties aforesaid that he is the bona fide owner of such boat to be described in the license; that he has been a resident of the State for a term of twelve months consecutively; that there is no lien or mortgage on said boat held by any non-resident or attorney of a non-resident, either directly or indirectly, and that the said boat has not been used, and will not be used, for the purpose of evading the law. Such applicant shall produce before said Clerk, at the time of making such application for license, the custom-house tonnage of said boat, which tonnage he shall swear to. The master of such boat shall also make oath that he has been a resident of this State for twelve months next preceding the time of taking such oath, and shall also produce the custom-house license of said boat; but the ownership as expressed in the custom-house license need not be accepted either by the Clerk issuing the said dredging license, nor in any court of law, as full and satisfactory proof of the true ownership.

Sec. 5. Before granting such license the Clerk of the courts aforesaid, or either of them, shall receive for it from the applicant at the rate of two dollars per ton for every ton the boat may measure up to fifteen tons net, and for every ton in excess of fifteen tons at the rate of ten dollars per ton for such excess, and licenses shall be issued after the beginning of the oyster season at the rate of sixty cents per month for each ton for vessels measuring fifteen tons and under, and three dollars per month for each ton in excess of fifteen tons, and no license shall be issued after the beginning of the oyster season except for the remainder of the season, and the license shall be exhibited whenever called for by any officer of this State.

Sec. 6. Any master or person in charge of any vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of the preceding sections by taking oysters unlawfully shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon indictment and conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction, shall be imprisoned for a term of not less than three months nor more than two years, and the boat or vessel used in such violation shall be forfeited, together with the papers, furniture and any article on board the boat or vessel at the time of said violation, but shall be released upon the payment of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars and the costs and expenses for each and every violation of the preceding section, in the discretion of the court.

Sec. 7. Upon information given under oath to any Judge of the Superior Court or Justice of the Peace of any violation of any of the provisions of this act, he shall issue his warrant to the Sheriff or any constable or patrolman hereinafter provided for, requiring any of them to whom it may be directed to summon a posse comitatus, if necessary, and proceed forthwith to arrest the party or parties alleged to have been engaged in the violation of this law, to seize and take possession of any boat, canoe or vessel, together with all the tackle and apparel on board of the same, and to deliver the same to the Judge of the Court or a Justice of the Peace before whom any person is brought charged with the violation of any of said sections of this Article, who shall grant the parties charged a speedy hearing, and if, in his judgment, the facts appear to warrant a conviction, he shall hold the parties charged for their appearance at the next term of the Superior Court: Provided, that such offenders may be tried in either of the counties of Dare, Hyde, Pamlico or Carteret, or the case may be tried in any county wherein the offence occurred or the offender may reside; And provided further, that any Sheriff, constable, patrolman or other person herein authorized to make arrest, may arrest any person found engaged in the violation of the provisions of this law without first having obtained a warrant therefor, and the offender, together with his vessel, shall be at once carried before a Justice of the Peace or other proper officer, and the warrant issued and a speedy hearing had.

Sec. 8. Any person who shall resist any officer authorized under this law to make arrests while such officer is in the discharge of his duties, and any person who shall discharge any species of fire-arms at or towards any officer authorized under this law to make arrests while such officer is in the discharge of his duty, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and, upon indictment and conviction in any Court having jurisdiction, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and shall be confined in the penitentiary for not less than one year nor more than ten years, in the discretion of the Court.

Sec. 9. The Judge or Justice of the Peace before whom any person shall be brought charged with violating any of the preceding sections of this Article shall give the case an immediate hearing, unless for good cause the case may be delayed not more than ten days, the party charged giving such good and sufficient bail as such Judge or Justice of the Peace shall require for his appearance at the trial, and any vessel found in the possession of any such person shall be held and safely kept at the cost of the party charged or the said vessel, or as the case may be, in case the master or other person in charge of said vessel shall or shall not be arrested, then the vessel so used in the violation of this Article shall be seized, and the charge against the same shall be heard by the said Judge or Justice of the Peace, and she shall be dealt with as hereinafter provided. Then in either case the Judge or Justice of the Peace may preside and hear the case and determine whether or not the said vessel used has been in violation of any of said sections: Provided, if the case is heard by a Justice of the Peace he shall issue process for holding the vessel and return all the papers with the evidence taken before him to the next term of the Superior Court; and any vessel so found to be employed is hereby declared to be a forfeiture, and in case it shall finally be determined by the Superior Court that the vessel has been so employed, then the Court shall declare the same to be forfeited, together with all her tackle, apparel, appurtenances, boats, sails and rigging, and the Court shall authorize and direct the Sheriff to sell said vessel, together with all the apparel, etc., at public auction to the highest bidder for cash after giving at least twenty days' notice of the time and place of said sale, said notice to be published in some newspaper, if there be one published in the county, and if not, to be published at the court-house door and five other public places in said county; and the said officer shall be allowed the actual expenses of seizure, sale, etc., of said vessel and poundage fees, and the proceeds of such sale shall be first applied to the payment of all the costs, charges and expenses of the seizure, trial and sale of said vessel, and the balance of said proceeds, if any, shall be paid to the Clerk of the Court and by him to the Treasurer of the State and credited to the oyster fund, unless a part thereof be remitted as provided in section 6: Provided, that the owner, or any other person having any mortgage or other lien on said vessel, shall in all such cases have the right to interplead, the mortgages produced, and upon the trial the Court shall have the right to amend the warrant of any of the proceedings before the Justice of the Peace so as to bring the case to trial upon its merits, and the cause shall be tried in all respects as other cases now are; and upon bond equal to twice the value of said vessel being given by the owner or mortgagee thereof, satisfactory to the Justice, or the Judge, or the Clerk of the Superior Court, the said vessel may be released pending the said trial, and in any case, if the owner shall establish the fact that the unlawful employment of said vessel was without his sanction or authority, the said Court shall order the said vessel or proceeds of her sale to be returned to him, or to any resident having a lien on said vessel: Provided, all costs, charges and expenses as are reasonable and proper are first defrayed.

Sec. 10. Any boat owned wholly or in part by any non-resident, or upon which there is any mortgage held by a non-resident or attorney of any non-resident, used in catching oysters in this State with scoop, dredge or similar instrument, is hereby declared to be forfeited, and shall be condemned by order of any Judge of the Superior Court, after due process of law, in any county nearest the place of her capture, and any Sheriff or other officer herein authorized to enforce this law may seize said boat with or without warrant, provided the warrant shall be applied for and obtained thereafter as soon as practicable, and the Justice shall proceed with the case as hereinbefore provided under the preceding section. The said boat to be sold after twenty days' notice at the court-house door and five other public places in the county where condemned, one-half the net proceeds of said sale shall be paid to the party making the capture, including the officers and crew of any patrol boat, and the balance shall be paid to the Clerk of the Court, and by them into the treasury of the State, to be credited to the oyster fund.

Sec. 11. Any vessel or boat having a license to dredge oysters shall expose, for the time such license is in force, on both sides of her principal sail and hull, the number of said license, prefixed by the initial letter of the county by which said license is issued, the letters and figures fifteen inches in length, so as to be plainly visible. A boat once licensed shall retain her original number and all subsequent licenses shall be by number of the boat. A boat which is licensed shall not expose to view any other number than that of the license or that required by the laws of the United States.
Any person who shall violate the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in any Court in this State shall be fined not less than fifty dollars or imprisonment not less than thirty days, in the discretion of the Court.

Sec. 12. Any master or owner of any vessel licensed to dredge under the provisions of this article shall employ no servant or seaman on said boat used in dredging who has not been a resident of the State of North Carolina for twelve consecutive months preceding the issuing of the license herein provided for, and no person shall serve as an employee in any capacity on board such boats engaged in dredging until he shall have obtained a license from the Clerks of the Superior Court of one of the four counties herein named, and no owner or master shall employ such persons unless he exhibits the license herein provided. The Clerks of said Courts shall, upon application of any person who shall make oath in writing, signed by such applicant, that he has been a resident of the State for twelve consecutive months preceding his application, and upon furnishing other satisfactory proof, issue to such applicant a license, which shall not be transferable, to serve on any licensed dredging boat during the current dredging season, and shall receive from such applicant the sum of one dollar, to be paid to the Treasurer of the State and credited to the oyster fund, and a further sum of ten cents for fee for issuing such license. The Clerks of said Courts shall receive for each license issued to any vessel to dredge the sum of one dollar as fee for his services. Any master or owner of any licensed dredging boat who shall employ any person on said boat without a license, as herein provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction before any Justice of the Peace, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars, or imprisonment not less than thirty days: Provided, the provisions of this section shall not apply to vessels or persons working on any private grounds entered or held under the laws of the State.
Section 1. No person shall use or cause to be used in any of the waters of the State any tongs or other like instrument, or boats for the purpose of taking or catching oysters with tongs unless he shall have resided in the State at least twelve months next preceding the day he shall make application for the purpose of taking oysters. And no non-resident of the State shall make any sale, or transfer to any oystering parties as aforesaid, to be used for the benefit of said non-resident, or to be used by such non-resident as the servant or employee of a citizen, and any such transfer made without the full consideration therefor shall be void. Upon an affidavit founded upon information and belief that any non-resident of the State has operated any tongs or other oyster apparatus, as aforesaid in the waters of the State, under such pretended sale, or transfer, or as the pretended employee of any citizen of the State, it shall be the duty of the Justice of the Peace before whom such affidavit is made, to issue a warrant against such non-resident, in whose name said apparatus is operated, and, upon conviction, the offender shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and for every offence to be fined not less than twenty nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisoned not less than ten nor more than thirty days. Upon the trial the burden of proof shall rest upon the offender to show the bona fides of the consideration of said transfer.

Sec. 2. Any resident of this State desiring to use any canoe or other boat in catching oysters with rakes or tongs in any of the waters of the State, shall first obtain a license from the Clerk of the Superior Court wherein he may reside, and such license shall have effect from the first day of September to the thirty-first day of April inclusive next ensuing. Provided, that the said license shall, at the request of the applicant, be extended for the whole year for the purpose of taking oysters for planting on ground entered or held under the laws of the State.

Sec. 3. Each and every license to use any boat, or tongs to catch and take oysters, shall state the name and residence of the person to whom the same is to be granted and the number and length of the canoe by top, or over-all measurement, of the canoe so to be used, and the time at which license will expire. Every applicant for such license shall pay to the Clerk of the Court where such license shall be granted, before the issuing and delivery of the same, according to the following rates, namely: For any boat measuring twenty-five feet or less in length, thirty cents per month for the time license is issued; for any boat measuring over twenty-five feet and not exceeding thirty-five feet, forty-five cents per month for the time which license is issued; for any open or decked boat over thirty-five feet in length and not custom-house tonnage, the sum of sixty cents per month for the time which license is granted; for all boats custom-house tonnage, seventy-five cents each month and twenty-five cents additional for each ton over five tons for each month for the time such license is issued. The license so issued shall only permit the persons so licensed to catch oysters with hand-tongs, and it shall be unlawful for any person licensed to catch oysters with tongs to employ in such business any servant who has not been a resident of the State for at least twelve months preceding the date of such employment.

Sec. 4. Any person desiring to catch oysters with, or as the servant of, another who is in possession of a licensed boat or canoe, or to catch or take oysters by himself in such licensed boat or canoe, shall first obtain an individual license. Every applicant for such license shall pay to the Clerk of the Court where such license may be granted, and before the issuing and delivery of such license, the sum of fifty cents. Said license shall date from the first day of September and to extend to the thirtieth day of April next ensuing: Provided, that on application the said license can be extended until the first day of September, for the purpose of taking oysters for planting on private grounds of the State. And the Clerk shall collect a fee of ten cents for his services for each license so granted; but the Clerk shall not issue any license as provided in this section until the applicant shall have made oath that he has been a resident of the State for twelve months at least, and upon other satisfactory proof.

Sec. 5. Every applicant, whether for boat license or individual license, shall make oath before the Clerk of the Superior Court authorized to issue the same that the facts set forth in the said license are true. That he has been a bona fide resident of the State for twelve months next preceding the application, that he will accept no servant to catch oysters who is not duly licensed, and that he will obey all the laws of the State regarding the taking of oysters. Said application so subscribed by the applicant shall be filed in the Clerk's office of the county in which the application is made, and shall be an agreement, upon the part of the applicant, with the State, and should any person after obtaining a license, violate the said agreement he shall forfeit his license, and no other shall be granted to him until the license shall have expired which was forfeited. Any person or persons who shall catch or take oysters without an individual license shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and be fined upon conviction not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars, and imprisoned not less than ten days and not more than thirty days. Any non-resident or person who has not been a resident of the State for twelve months who shall catch oysters by tongs in the waters of the State, or who shall fraudulently obtain a license so to do, or in either case, shall upon conviction be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisonment not less than two months nor more than two years, or both, in the discretion of the Court.

Sec. 6. Every person to whom a boat license is issued to tong shall paint the number of his boat or canoe on the starboard quarter, aft, outside, near the gunwale, in black figures, not less than three inches in length, on a white ground, and no number other than that number shall be exposed to view on said boat or canoe, and a boat once numbered shall retain its original number of license subsequently issued, which shall be the number of the boat. Any person or persons failing to comply with the provisions of this section before using any boat or canoe for the purpose of taking or catching oysters, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days.

Sec. 7. All forfeitures of licenses shall be declared by the Clerk issuing said license, upon the certificate of the Justice of the Peace or other Court, that the defendant had been convicted of an offence in violation of this chapter which works a forfeiture. A notice of forfeiture of license shall be issued by such Clerk and served upon said defendant and returned to the Clerk of the Court. After said notice shall have been served, said defendant shall be guilty of taking oysters without a license for each and every day that he shall take or catch oysters subsequent upon the notice upon him.

Sec. 8. It shall be unlawful for any person to catch or take oysters on Sundays or at night. Any person violating this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and be fined not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisoned not less than five nor more than thirty days.

Article III — Inspection.

Section 1. That all oysters taken or caught from the waters of North Carolina from the first day of September to the 31st day of April, inclusive, shall be culled upon the natural beds or public grounds from which they are taken, and all oysters measuring less than two and a half inches from hinge to mouth, and all shells shall be replaced upon said beds or public grounds. Provided, however, where small oysters adhere so closely to the shell of the marketable oyster as to render its removal impossible without the destruction of the large oyster, then such removal shall not be necessary, and it shall be unlawful for any person to have in his possession for sale a cargo or part of a cargo wherein small oysters and shells shall amount to more than ten per cent. of said cargo: Provided, this section shall not be applied to oysters caught for the purpose of planting upon private oyster gardens under the laws of this State as hereinafter provided by this act. Any person violating this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and be fined not less than ten nor more than twenty-five dollars.

Sec. 2. The Board of County Commissioners of each county shall appoint inspectors at each point where the market for oysters is sufficient to justify such appointment, and as many as may be necessary. The duty of said inspectors shall be to keep an accurate account of all oysters sold; to supervise the measurement of the same, and to see that no illegal tub for measurement is used; to have one bushel out of every hundred from the cargo of oysters culled, and to estimate the percentage of oysters and shells, and also to collect from the purchaser of the oysters, as hereinafter provided, the purchase tax, and to remit the same weekly to the Treasurer of the State. Should the oysters when culled, as provided for in section one of this article, show a greater percentage than ten per cent. of small oysters and shells, the inspector shall at once obtain a warrant from the Justice of the Peace and have the offender tried before said Justice, as provided in section one of this Article.

Sec. 3. Each inspector shall, on Saturday of each week, make out a report of all oysters sold under his inspection, and the number of bushels thereof, the amount of tax collected from the purchasers of the oysters, whether, and to what extent, there has been any violation of the culling law, and to send the said report to the Treasurer of the State, which report shall be made upon blanks prepared and furnished by the Treasurer of the State.

Sec. 4. All persons appointed to serve as inspectors of shell-fish, shall receive a written commission signed by the Board of County Commissioners. They shall qualify before a Justice of the Peace, or other officer competent to administer oaths, by taking the oath prescribed in chapter 40, section 3315, subsection 47, of The Code of the State, and said oath shall be filed with the Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners and before qualifying he shall furnish a satisfactory bond, signed by at least two sureties, in the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, payable to the State of North Carolina, and conditioned for the proper performance of his duties as required by law. Each inspector shall receive for his compensation one fourth of one cent for each tub of oysters measured under his inspection, and also five per cent. of all moneys collected by him as a purchase tax on all oysters purchased in the market in which he is inspector: Provided, he shall not receive more than three dollars per day for every day he is actually employed, and if his compensation under this provision should amount to less than one dollar and fifty cents per day, for the time he is actually employed, the same shall be paid by the Treasurer of the State out of the oyster fund. The inspector shall not retain any part of the moneys collected by him, but shall remit the whole thereof weekly, together with his report as herein provided, to the Treasurer of the State. The Treasurer of the State shall ascertain the amount of his salary under the provisions of this section, and shall issue a proper warrant at the end of each month to each of the inspectors. Any inspector who shall fail to make his reports as required, or who shall in other respects fail to perform the duties of his office, shall, upon complaint made to the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, be investigated by such Board, and removed forthwith if in the opinion of the said Board the said inspector has not performed his duty. And in addition thereto his bond shall be liable for all damages for breech thereof, and the said inspector shall further be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished in the discretion of the Court, and if any inspector shall embezzle or fraudulently convert to his own use or otherwise any property or public moneys, he shall be punished as provided in section 1014 of The Code.

Sec. 5. The provisions of this Article as to the inspection of oysters shall not apply to purchasers of oysters by retail in the local markets for private consumption, or to oysters taken for planting purposes on grounds held under the laws of the State.

Sec. 6. Nothing in this law shall be construed to prevent citizens of the State from catching oysters for their own consumption or immediate family use.

Article IV.

Section 1. All oysters measured in this State shall be measured in circular tubs with straight sides and with straight bottoms with holes one-half an inch in bottom, if desired for the draining of said measures, and shall have the following dimensions, namely: Across the bottom from inside to inside, sixteen and one-half inches; beginning from the inside chimb to top diagonal, twenty-one inches; across the top from inside to inside, eighteen inches; or, across the bottom from inside to inside, twenty-two inches; across the top, twenty-four inches from inside to inside, and twenty-nine and one-fourth inches diagonal from inside chimb to top: Provided, this section shall not prohibit retail dealers from using North Carolina one-half bushel and peck measures. All oysters measured in the standard measure in the shell shall be even measure.

Sec. 2. Any person engaged in buying or selling oysters in this State, not including the person buying the same for family use, who shall have in his possession any instrument for the measurement of oysters in the shell which differs in size or description from the measure mentioned in section 1 of this Article, for the purpose of using the same to measure oysters, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and be fined not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisoned not less than five nor more than thirty days.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the Standard-keeper of each county to stamp the measure used in measuring oysters in the county in which he is Standard-keeper, as is provided for the stamping of other measures under section 3841 of The Code of North Carolina.

Article V.

Section 1. The Treasurer of the State shall furnish to the Clerks of the Superior Courts, and the inspectors, and the patrolmen, and the patrol boat, and other officers appointed under this law, all proper blanks to be used by said officers in the discharge of their duties. The Treasurer of the State shall also act as Treasurer of what shall be known as the "oyster fund." This fund shall be derived from the collection of fines and penalties for violations of the law; second, from the fees for licenses issued for dredging and tonging of oysters; third, taxes upon oysters purchased by persons who can them or buy them for market or shipment; fourth, the proceeds of all sales of grounds for the purpose of growing and cultivating oysters and taxes laid on said grounds. The Treasurer of the State shall submit quarterly statements as to the condition of the "oyster fund" to the Governor of the State, or oftener if so required. All moneys paid as compensation to the inspectors, patrolmen or for the expenses of the police patrol boat shall be paid by the Treasurer of the State.

Sec. 2. The Justice of the Peace by whom any fines are imposed shall forward the same, with transcript from his judgment docket of the judgment rendered, to the Clerk of the Superior Court of the county in which he is a Justice of the Peace, and the said Clerk shall receive the said fines and penalties, together with all the fines and penalties collected in the Superior Court, and shall credit such amounts to the oyster fund, and on the first day of each month he shall remit in any manner directed by the Treasurer of the State to the State Treasury all such fines and penalties, together with all fines collected by him, and for license to dredgers and tongers for the preceding month, together with a full, accurate and concise statement of the source from which said money so transmitted was collected, and the said Clerks of the Court in such counties shall be liable as on their official bond for the performance of the duties hereby imposed. The blanks necessary for the clerks of said courts shall be furnished by the Treasurer of the State.

Sec 3. There shall be collected from each person in the State who buys oysters for the purpose of canning, or for the purpose of selling in the open market, or shipping the same, a privilege tax upon the business so carried on of one and one-fourth (1¼) cents per bushel for all oysters so purchased by them, which tax shall be collected by such inspector or inspectors as hereinbefore provided, and designated by the Board of Commissioners. The said inspector shall forward the same direct to the Treasury of the State at the end of each week, in any manner to be designated by the State Treasurer, together with a sworn and accurate statement of the amount of oysters so purchased in the said market under the jurisdiction of said inspector, with the names of the sellers and purchasers of the same. Each purchaser of shell fish in the markets of this State who shall be liable for this tax, shall at the end of each week prepare a statement of all the oysters purchased by him during the current week, with the name of each person from whom purchased and the quantity purchased, which shall be sworn to before some person competent to administer oaths, which statement shall be exhibited to the inspector, and shall be transmitted to the Treasurer of the State: Provided, the provisions of this section shall not apply to oysters taken for the purpose of planting on grounds entered or held under the laws of the State.

Sec. 4. The fees prescribed upon the issuing of license of dredgers and tongers, hereinbefore provided, shall be forwarded by the said Clerk to the Treasurer of the State on the first day of each month for the preceding month.

Article VI.

Section 1. The Governor may charter from time to time a suitable vessel to be used as a patrol boat for the enforcement of the oyster law; or he may appoint a commission consisting of one or more capable citizens to purchase or charter a suitable sloop or schooner, which vessel, under the direction of the Governor, shall be fitted out with the proper furniture, arms, ammunition, etc., as may be necessary to render the same effective, and the officers of said boat, hereinafter provided, shall have all the powers of Sheriffs in enforcing the laws of the State concerning oysters, and they are further authorized to use said arms for its enforcement when necessary, and each of the said officers shall have full authority to make arrests without warrant when they are of the opinion that the offender against the oyster laws is about to escape from them or flee from the State.

Sec. 2. The force upon said police patrol boat shall be such as may, in the discretion of the Governor, be necessary to enforce the laws. They shall be paid for their services at the following rates: The captain, $75; mate, $40; the seamen $25, and the steward $25 per month. It shall be the duty of said captain, officers and seamen to diligently watch and guard against any violation of the provisions of the law. A patrol boat may be kept constantly on duty and in readiness to move to any point necessary at any moment. At no time shall the captain and the mate both be absent from the patrol boat. The mate and other men on board shall not leave the boat at any time except by permission of the captain; and the mate, seamen or steward absenting themselves from the boat without permission of the captain, or refusal to make any arrests, or inspection of license of persons or boats when so ordered by the captain, the refusal or neglect to obey the superior officer shall at once be reported to the Governor upon oath, and, upon satisfactory proof, the Governor may discharge such officer or men and appoint others to fill their places; and, in case of emergency, the captain of the boat may discharge any of the crew of said boat, subject to the approval of the Governor. The crew of said boat shall be selected by the captain by and with the consent of the Governor. Any additional force employed besides the regular crew shall receive for their services one dollar per day each, and share proportionately with the crew in the proceeds of any seizure made during their employment.

Sec. 3. The persons arrested shall be taken at once before a Justice of the Peace of the county in which the arrest is made, or in any county most convenient and acceptable, and tried at once, if practicable. In all trials for violation of the provisions of this law, the burden should be upon the defendant to produce his license, and if it shall be proven that the party charged has violated the law the burden shall be upon him to show any facts in excuse or mitigation of the offence.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the commander of the patrol boat to keep a log of all the movements of the boat, all services rendered, and arrests made. The log shall give the names of any who shall be absent, and the cause of absence and the time lost by such person. The first day of each month the captain shall make a concise statement of his operations during the preceding month, and forward the same under oath to the Governor. Any violation of duty, or any unbecoming conduct by the captain, or, in his absence, by the mate, shall be cause for removal by the Governor. The captain may (unless the Governor should direct otherwise) furnish the boat with necessary provisions, and shall render a statement of the cost of such to the Governor, who shall provide for the payment of the same, and upon his warrant the Treasurer is ordered to pay the same out of the oyster fund: Provided, the expenses for provisions for said boat shall not exceed sixty-five dollars. The captain can be authorized to purchase all the necessary ropes, rigging, canvass, etc., required from time to time, or have such work done to her hull or sails as may be necessary to keep the patrol vessel in good repair. Upon the receipt of such proper vouchers as may be prescribed by the Treasurer, sworn to by the persons to whom such bills may become due, and approved by the captain, he shall pay the same out of the oyster fund.

Sec. 6. The Governor may, in his discretion, if the circumstances require it, namely, for the complaints of the violations of the law or against the officers of the patrol boat or the patrolmen or any other officers entrusted with the enforcement of the law, appoint a discreet person to make an investigation under his directions and report the same to the Governor. The Commissioner so appointed shall continue temporarily at the pleasure of the Governor. There shall be appointed certain patrolmen at the points herein named to be appointed by the Board of Commissioners of the counties in which said points are located, namely: There shall be three patrolmen located at South Mills, Camden County, on Dismal Swamp Canal; three patrolmen at Coinjock, on Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal, in Currituck County; and there shall be six patrolmen appointed each at Oregon Inlet, and Hatteras Inlet, and Ocracoke Inlet. These patrolmen shall reside as near the several points as possible, and shall be discreet and law-abiding citizens. The names of these patrolmen shall be certified to the Governor by the Chairmen of the Boards of Commissioners of the several counties. The patrolmen are hereby authorized and empowered to make arrests for the violation of the oyster law as fully as Sheriffs would be authorized so to do. They may arrest without a warrant if the party charged with violating the law is about to escape or flee from the State. They shall receive for their compensation five times the fees now allowed Sheriffs under the law. And also one-half of any penalties and proceeds of the sale of any seizure collected for the violation of the law in all cases apprehended by them.

Sec. 7. Each person who may be licensed to catch oysters under the provisions of this law is hereby authorized and empowered and constituted a special police officer of the State for the purpose of enforcing the observance of the laws of the State concerning shell fish, and they may lawfully execute any process directed to any one or more of them for the arrest of offenders charged with violation of the law, and in all cases in which they shall give information as to the committing of the offence they shall receive one-fourth of the penalties collected in addition to their fees. For the enforcement of the provisions of this law, the Governor is hereby authorized to draw on the Treasurer to an amount sufficient thereon out of the fifteen thousand dollars here-tofore appropriated by the act ratified on the 21st day of January, 1891. The amount shall be replaced by the payment of any funds that may be in the hands of the Treasurer from the oyster fund after the beginning of the oyster season: Provided, nothing in this act shall apply to Onslow County.

Sec. 9. All laws and parts of laws inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 10. This act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

H. B. 99, S. B. 767, bill to amend section 2589 of The Code so as to increase the public school fund to fourteen cents on property and forty-two cents on polls, on its second reading.

Mr. Avery moved to amend by striking out section 1 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"That in addition to the tax levied upon the people of the whole State for the maintenance and support of the public schools provided for in section 2589 of The Code, the Board of Commissioners of any county in the State may, if they deem best, levy annually for such purpose a special tax not to exceed twelve and a half cents on every hundred dollars worth of property and credits, and thirty-seven and a half cents on every poll in their respective counties or any township therein: Provided, a majority of the qualified voters of such county or township, as the case may be, shall, at an election to be held in the manner and upon the conditions hereinafter specified, vote for the levy of said tax.

"The Board of Commissioners shall not in any instance have power to order an election except upon petition or petitions signed by one-fifth of the registered voters of such county or townships as the case may be, but upon the petition of such number of registered voters the said Board of Commissioners shall have the power and it shall be their duty, if they deem best, after thirty days' advertisement in some newspaper published in the county, or in case there is no such newspaper, after notices posted for thirty days at the court-house door in such county and each polling precinct to be affected thereby, to order an election to be held in the same manner and subject to the same rules and regulations as are prescribed by law for holding elections for members of the General Assembly to ascertain whether or not a majority of the qualified voters of such county or township are in favor of making the levy as aforesaid upon the property and poll of the said county or township.

"If at such election so ordered and held a majority of the qualified voters of such county or township shall cast a ballot wherein shall be printed or written 'For schools,' then the Board of Commissioners of such county, to whom the abstracts and returns of such election shall be made, shall, after revising the said returns of the Board of County Canvassers, so declare the result of such election, and shall have the power and it shall be their duty, without the approval of the majority of the Justices of the Peace for the county, to add to the next annual levy made for county purposes, to be collected in the same manner, the said tax so voted for not to exceed twelve and a half cents on the one hundred dollars worth of property and credits, and thirty-seven and a half cents on the polls, in said county or township, as the case may be. But if at the election a majority of the qualified voters of the county or township, as the case may be, shall cast a ballot on which shall be written or printed the words 'Against schools,' then such Board of Commissioners shall not have power to levy such tax."

THE CALENDAR.

The following bill was taken up and disposed of as follows:

H. B. 108, S. B. 1271, bill to recharter the Petersburg Railroad Company, on its third reading.

Mr. Turner asked to have entered on the Journal, as a part of his remarks, the following memorial from stockholders of the said Petersburg Railroad Company, as appears in the Richmond Dispatch:

"As was stated in the columns of this paper yesterday, the bill to renew the charter of the Petersburg Railroad Company, in which a great many of our citizens are interested, passed in the North Carolina House of Delegates on Wednesday night last, and it was thought that it would, as a matter of course, pass the Senate. Since then a motion has been made in the House to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed that body, and a strong effort is being made to defeat the desired legislation, unless the Wilmington and Weldon Road will surrender certain exemptions, which it enjoys under its charter.

"In consequence of this action, a large number of stockholders of the Petersburg road assembled yesterday morning at the banking house of Messrs. John L. Williams & Sons to take some action for the protection of their interests."

"On motion, a committee consisting of Beverly B. Munford, Charles E. Wortham, Sr., John L. Williams, Alexander Coke and William H. Allison were appointed to prepare a memorial for presentation to the Legislature of North Carolina, setting out the status of the stockholders, and urging that body to pass the bill above alluded to. This committee was also authorized to proceed at once to Raleigh and urge upon the Legislature the justice of renewing the charter of the Company in which these people have invested their money.

"Besides being owners of the stock of the Company, these gentlemen, or some of them, are largely interested in the mortgage bonds of the Company, all of which interests are injuriously affected by the action of the Legislature in failing to pass the bill for the renewal of the charter.

"None of the gentlemen mentioned are interested in any way in the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad and are powerless to influence the action of that Company. As before stated, the opponents to the passage of the Petersburg charter insist that the Wilmington and Weldon road shall surrender some of its charter rights before they will consent to a renewal of the charter of the Petersburg and Weldon Railroad.

"Many of these at the meeting seemed to feel no apprehension as to the final outcome of the matter, believing that the Legislature of North Carolina, when fully informed as to the facts of the case, will not hesitate to pass the bill renewing the charter, the withholding of which would only destroy the property rights of people who have invested in the securities of this Company, and bring loss and inconvenience to the State and her people.

"The committee appointed at the stockholder's conference held a meeting last evening and prepared the following memorial, which was sent to Raleigh by the night mail, to be presented to the North Carolina Legislature this morning:

"To the Honorable the General Assembly of North Carolina:

"The undersigned respectfully represent that at a meeting this day held in the city of Richmond of the stockholders and bondholders of the Petersburg Railroad Company, a resolution was adopted authorizing and directing the following committee to prepare and present to the General Assembly of North Carolina a memorial setting forth the status of the Company, and petitioning your honorable body to pass the bill now before it to renew the charter of the Petersburg Company, which has expired by limitation.

"In pursuance of this resolution, we desire to submit the following statement relative to the matter in hand:

"The preferred stock of the Petersburg Railroad Company amounts to about $300,600. Of this stock the undersigned committee represent persons owning a large majority. The common stock of the Company amounts to $1,000,000, of which your committee in like manner speak for persons owning in the aggregate over $300,000. The mortgage bonds of the road outstanding amount to about $1,700,000, which are held by the general public, very largely by trust funds, having been purchased as security of high dignity and unquestioned safety.

"The parties owning the stocks and securities before alluded to, and for whom your memorialists speak, are in no way interested in the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad Company, and have absolutely no voice in determining its administration or to influence its authorities with reference to propositions, the acceptance or rejection of which we understand is sought to be made the condition precedent to the renewal of the charter of the Petersburg Company.

"It is true that, because of the geographical location of these two railroads, they form important links in the great system extending from New York to Florida, the uninterrupted operation of which is so important to the prosperity and progress of Virginia and North Carolina, and the whole South is threatened by the delay in renewing the charter as prayed for.

"In view of the above recitals your memorialists respectfully submit that they have a right to ask, and expect at the hands of your honorable body, the passage of the bill renewing the charter of the Petersburg Railroad Company, to the object and provisions of which, they are advised, there is no objection from any quarter.

"It is unjust to them to make the same defendants suffer the results of a contest between your State and another of its corporations.

"Your memorialists represent a large number of people, who, relying upon the high sense of right which has ever characterized the State of North Carolina, have invested their money in the securities of this railroad chartered under its laws.

"They have a right to look to the State for legislation to protect their property, not to imperil it. The further refusal to grant the charter as prayed for can only tend to depreciate the market value of these securities, and repel, rather than encourage, the investment of capital in your midst."

Respectfully submitted,

BEVERLY B. MUNFORD,
JOHN L. WILLIAMS,
CHARLES F. WORTHAM, Sr.,
ALEXANDER COKE,
WILLIAM H. ALLISON,

Committee.

H. B. 1088, S. B. 1343, bill relating to chapter 280, Laws of 1889, passed its second and third readings and was ordered to be enrolled.

Mr. Walser offered the following:

Resolved, That we, the Senators of the State of North Carolina, hereby tender to the citizens of Raleigh our grateful acknowledgments for the uniform kindness and courtesies extended to us during our stay in their midst, and we carry home with us the most pleasant recollections of their hospitality and generosity.

Mr. Butler moved to amend:

Add, "And further, that we recognize and appreciate the fact that there is nowhere in North Carolina a more liberal or public spirited people."
Adopted.

Messrs. Walser, Butler, Turner, Bellamy, Avery and Greene of Wake supported the resolution.

It was, on motion of Mr. Walser, adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

On motion of Mr. Bellamy, the resolution of thanks offered by Mr. Walser Saturday was taken up, Mr. Lucas in the chair.

Messrs. Bellamy, Walser, Ardrey, Bell, Greene of Harnett, King, Atwater, Bull, Galloway, Lucas, Avery and Turner addressed the Senate in support of the resolution.

Mr. Walser said:

"Senators— I have read somewhere, that in the olden time, in a struggle for the mastery on some field of battle, as the armies were drawn up in array, on the one side the opposing forces filled the country, while on the other side they pitched before them like 'two little flocks of kids.'

"Since that record was made, perhaps thirty generations of men have followed each other along the track of the centuries. The night of despotism and of barbarism has, in large degree, given place to Constitutional liberty and Christian civilization. But always and everywhere, and even in our own land, where the lines have fallen to us in such pleasant places, a land of which we love to think that it is 'beloved of heaven and all the world besides,' the battle has been waged, not, indeed, always a battle of the warriors with garments rolled in blood, but a struggle for principles and measures, by men who are striving together for the honor and prosperity and progress of a common country.

"History is said to repeat itself. And so it has come to pass that during our legislative session in the halls of this Capitol, while those upon one side appear to fill the whole country, on the other there are but two little flocks of Republican kids."
"As Republicans, it may be supposed that we have had an easy time. We have been told that we are responsible for nothing, and were only expected to look on and applaud, except, of course, day by day, 'as the morning shineth,' and latterly 'in the gloaming' also, to shout vociferously 'aye' or 'no' by way of earning our per diem.

"But I think it will be found that the Republicans are not public enemies, and that they have acted and voted with as much patriotic and conscientious fidelity to the honor and prosperity and progress of our beloved State as the members of the dominant party.

"Mr. President, I desire to tender to you my grateful acknowledgments, and I know I express the sentiments of the party with which I affiliate, for your courtesy in every respect and at all times. I have heard it said that you are a Democrat, but would never have found it out by any appearance of disfavor or partiality.

"And now, Mr. President and Senators, I report this bill 'without prejudice;' I have only the kindest feeling and most hearty good will toward every one of you. I could sincerely wish you all civil and political honors and renown—a high niche in the temple of fame. But that, in the nature of things, cannot be; and so I wish you a better wish, whose fulfilment rests in your own keeping and depends solely upon 'the counsel of your own will'—that you live day by day in view of the accountability of the future, and 'nightly pitch your weary tents a day's march nearer home.'"

Mr. Ardrey said:

"Mr. President and Brother Senators: It is pleasant for memory to linger around the pleasant associations that are so much calculated to draw us to each other in sacred ties, and make us feel that we are all akin. But, Mr. President, in looking back over the history of the past, I cannot help but pause to give some faint expression of the high regard I hold for you. In 1876 and 1877, I had the great pleasure of serving with you as a brother on the floor of the House. Again in 1885, when you had the honor to preside over that body, these ties of friendship were renewed and strengthened, and now again, during this session, so soon to close, your courtesy, your big soul, and your untiring devotion to right and justice, has drawn me to you in ties that I humbly trust will never be broken. And, Brother Senators, allow me to say that our associations with him should do us all good, and do much to make us all feel that these associations have made us better men, and when we go back to our homes his memory will be an incentive to us to rise above prejudice, and, following the example of our worthy President and brother, show to the world that we are better men. Finally, Mr. President, may Heaven's richest blessings attend you, and my sincere prayer is that when life is over we will meet in that better land, where an eternal rest is prepared for those that serve their country best by serving their Saviour most.”

Mr. Bull said:

“Mr. President and Senators: The work of the Senate of 1891 is finished. The gavel has summoned us to duty in this chamber for the last time; the Order of Business will not again arrest our attention; the Calendar is cleared; the hand on the dial rapidly approaches the inevitable hour; the shadows are lengthening. At this pleasant season we fain would roll back the tide of time, but cannot. A deep and pathetic silence pervades this chamber, and sorrow and gladness at this hour kiss each other; sorrow reigns because of parting gladness because of relief from official cares and responsibilities.

“For our presiding officer we have the highest respect and esteem. Amid arduous labors and trying situations he has shown himself equal to the demands of his high station, and that he is a born statesman and patriot. The personal qualities which a presiding officer ought to possess have been described in most just, forcible and elegant terms by Sir William Scott, afterward Lord Stowell, in his speech nominating Mr. Speaker Abbott for re-election in 1802. He said: 'To a tenacious respect for form must be added a liberal regard for principles; to habits of laborious research powers of prompt and instant decision; to a jealous affection of the privileges of the House an awful sense of its duties; to a firmness that can resist solicitation a sincerity of nature that can receive it without impatience, and to a dignity of public demeanor suited to the qualities of great affairs and commanding the respect that is requisite for conducting them; an urbanity of private manners that can soften the asperities of business and adorn an office of severe labor with the conciliatory elegance of a station of ease.'

"Our presiding officer has done his duty. He will carry through life the good will of this body. For ability, for high-toned action, kindness and impartiality, his name will shine bright in the galaxy of great men who have filled that high and honorable station.

"Now, fellow-Senators, permit me at this time to extend to you, one and all, my heartfelt thanks for your many words and acts of kindness. My affection for you all will ever increase. My heart is full to overflowing with gratitude. It is beautiful to walk in a path thus strewn with flowers. May the pathway of every member of the Senate of 1891 lie in the sunshine even to the end.

"The Senators have faithfully and honestly discharged their duties. There has been little oratory or rhetoric displayed. Common sense, the king of faculties, and better than all the oratory of a Webster or Choate, has asserted itself. Duty performed; the highest praise has been the watchword. High questions, like those of "Liberty or Death," have seldom enchained the Senate. Our most brilliant hours, even, have not seemed to disturb the marble repose of the mighty Calhoun. It is an age of action and reason. But, Senators, the hour of separation is at hand—we must part. Again we set our barks afloat on the river of time. "Tis sad, but no sorrow is without its compensations. Like the mother of the Gracchi, whose jewels were her sons, may the attachments formed here be to each member in the twilight hours of his days. In every age has black care sat firmly seated behind the horseman; and whether life shall be filled with sun-light or shadow, sorrow or joy, the decree of fate is the same—'this, too, shall pass away.'

"Farewell! We have now reached that mysterious and melancholy period of time, mysterious and melancholy in its relation to all the affairs of life, which we call the end. Farewell—a word familiar to every race of man, in every clime. It was whispered many years ago by some on this floor into the ear of some gentle being, some fond parent, some trusted monitor the bulwark of his youth. It is equally sad to peasant or prince. It is a word which dissolving nature before it breathes its last will rally all its energies to articulate. Life's stream is never still, it flows unceasing from its source upon the sun-lit mountains to its outlet in the shadowed sea. At this solemn hour I realize that some of the sweetest flowers of friendship that grow in the garden of this world grow over the garden wall of politics. No flowers of rhetoric can adorn true friendship. Every eye in the Senate attests it, every heart feels it. To the President of this body, and to each Senator, I now say, farewell!"

Mr. Turner, in behalf of the clerks, pages and employees, presented in graceful terms an elegant silver service, consisting of a pitcher and goblet, as an expression of their esteem for the distinguished Senator from Hyde.

Mr. Lucas received it in a very elegant speech, assuring each and all of his most grateful appreciation of the beautiful gift.

Mr. Bull, in behalf of the Republican Senators on this floor, presented Mr. Walser, in a few well chosen words of friendship and confidence, with a handsome gold-headed cane, which was received by Mr. Walser with modest but graceful expression.

Mr. Galloway presented, in behalf of the assistant clerks in the Enrolling Department, a handsome gold pen and staff to Mr. A. K. Smith, Chief Clerk of that department, for which he returned his thanks in terms of high sentiment.

Mr. Lucas, in behalf of the Assistant Clerks to the Principal Clerk of the Senate, presented a handsome gold pen and staff to Robert M. Furman, the Principal Clerk, which was received with grateful acknowledgement.

Mr. Turner presented in behalf of Clerks and others to Mr. George K. Pell, Reading Clerk, a handsome gold pen, which Mr. Pell received with a few well-chosen words of thanks and esteem.

ADJOURNMENT.

The hour for adjournment having arrived,

President Holt resumed the chair, and, addressing the Senate, said:

"Senators: The hour has arrived which releases you from the arduous duties and responsibilities of this session of the General Assembly.

"No Legislature, for many years past, has been confronted with a greater number of questions affecting the welfare and progress of the people.

"In addition to the ordinary routine of legislation, you have enlarged the facilities at the command of the State for the education of the people in the common schools, the training schools and colleges.

"You have provided for the better care of the insane, the deaf, the mute and the blind. You have made many salutary changes in the direction of reform and progress. You have redistricted the State for the next decennial period with remarkable unanimity of feeling. You have provided for the adequate representation of the Old North State at the Columbia Exposition. You have reopened the geological survey of our great mineral wealth, and have extended a protecting arm over our developing fisheries.

“These things, with numerous others, demanded expenditure in the present before their fruits can be realized. It is not to be expected that all these interests may commend themselves to every mind alike. There are other measures, in great part the result of the natural growth of the great State of North Carolina. Such legislation as has been experimental has been in good faith, with an honest desire for the welfare of the people.

“No one familiar with this body could fail to recognize the patient, industrious and conscientious attention to duty, which has been its characteristic throughout the session.

“And now it only remains for me to thank you for the regard and consideration accorded to me as your presiding officer, and to wish you a happy reunion with friends at home.”

On motion of Mr. Avery, the Clerk of the Senate was directed to spread the remarks of the presiding officer upon the Journal.

Mr. King moved the roll be called, so the Journal could show who of the Senators had remained to final adjournment. The motion was adopted, and the following Senators responded to their names:

On motion of Mr. Greene of Wake, a message was ordered sent to the House informing that honorable body that, upon the return of the messenger, the Senate would adjourn without day.

The messenger having returned,
The President of the Senate declared the Senate adjourned without day.

THOMAS M. HOLT,
Lieutenant Governor and President of the Senate.

ROBERT M. FURMAN,
Principal Clerk of the Senate.
Senators and Representatives: I cannot do better in presenting the cause of universal education than to ask you to read, ponder and inwardly digest the patriotic utterances of the Governor, and the lucid and convincing presentation by the able Superintendent. The reports of the conductors of institutes merit also the most serious consideration.

Nothing shows more strikingly the advanced civilization of our times and the great democratic revolution in thought and government than the attitude of the public mind towards education. Formerly governments and education were in the hands of an elect few, the privileged classes; now the people claim participation in making laws, and public sentiment slowly settles down to the conviction that education is an inalienable right of every human being, and an imperative governmental obligation.

Faint murmurs of dissent are occasionally whispered against the equal education of women, but the voice of public justice is beginning to demand that those who are to be wives and mothers shall not be treated with persevering and shameful injustice. Since the patriots assembled in Halifax, except in what is given in the public schools, not one dollar of the public revenues has ever been appropriated for the higher education of women. For boys and men the State has been liberal, not lavish; for the better sex, nothing has been done.

A stronger opposition, in some localities, is expressed against the use of revenues, contributed mainly by white people, for the support of colored schools. In 1890 the assessed valuation of property was $212,697,287, and the careful Superintendent estimates the negro proportion as $5,50,000. A discrimination against a class or a race, in public benefactions and privileges, would be dangerous; and no chapter in our history is more honorable than that which records what the Southern States have done, in the face of legislation whose obvious results, whatever may have been the purpose, was to place three of our States in the control of the lately servile race. In the seventeen States in which, prior to the war, slavery existed, statistics show an attendance of 1,140,405 negroes in the public schools, 5,439 in normal schools and 5,066 in colleges. Who can say what would have been the condition of the negroes if this effort for their uplifting had not been made? Nearly the entire burden of public schools in its terrible heaviness falls upon the white tax-payers. The whole subject of negro education needs to be treated on broad and far-reaching principles, which shall aim to regenerate personal life, home life, social life, industrial life, political life and religious life. Is the negro a man, capable of moral distinction, responsible for conduct, able to make contracts, criminally liable for violations of rights of person and property, with legal capacity to bear arms, hold office, serve on juries and vote? Has he will power, can he compare, analyze, abstract, classify, generalize, form concepts? Of his capability of mental development we should stultify ourselves by questioning. Rev. John Clavis, a negro, without any admixture of white blood, was a teacher in Granville, Wake and Chatham Counties, and had among his pupils Mangums, Hendersons, Manly, Edwards, Enlows, Hargraves, Wortham, Harris and others.
The negro should be educated for his own benefit, as education “aids self-help, stimulates individuality, creates self-respect and increases all kinds of individual enterprise.” It is needful for the white race, which cannot sever itself from its environments, and must be powerfully affected by the intellectual, moral and economic condition of a mass of people occupying the same territory and sharing the same civic rights. Humanity, citizenship, material interests and religion leave us no option.

The State must furnish education, otherwise it will not, cannot be done by individuals, families and churches.

The Superintendent of Schools in Columbia, S. C., published this statement:

“The cost of private tuition for 706 whites at three dollars per month for nine months, $19,062; for 777 colored at one dollar per month for nine months, $6,993. Total cost of private tuition for 1,483 pupils for nine months, $26,055; total cost in Graded School for same number, for same time, $9,640. Money saved to the city by Graded School system, $16,415.”

The mass of the children are dependent upon public instruction for such education as they may be able to obtain. The number of those educated in private or religious schools is, and always has been, relatively small. Every State in which any fair proportion of the people have been educated, has accomplished it by means of public schools.

If property be not taxed for what so vitally concerns the public welfare, it will not escape paying a much heavier assessment.

On account of the relation that popular education holds to the well-being of the State as a political organism composed of free citizens, the public schools are objects of highest possible concern, but as this is a Legislature of farmers, it is appropriate to consider the relation of agriculture and free schools.
Let me introduce here some historical facts furnished by a friend:

The Democratic State Convention, for the first time, in August of last year, committed the party to an increase of the public school fund. It was an issue made in the campaign, and the success of the ticket was greatly helped by this platform pledge.

A few weeks before the meeting of the State Democratic Convention, the State Farmers' Alliance, in session at Asheville, demanded an increase in the public school fund of 25 per cent.

In December, at Potecasi, the State Grange demanded an increase of taxation for public schools.

Agriculture is the largest single industry of the country, and its employments must occupy the greatest number of the people. In the South and West from 70 to 90 per cent. of the population must make their support from the soil, or from those who cultivate it. Agricultural wealth is the vital force of the country. Solomon says: "Moreover the profit of the earth is for all; the king himself is served of the field." Agriculture is the condition of subsistence. The world is always within six months of starvation. President Polk, of the Alliance, says truly that "retrogression in agriculture means national decay." The farm values of land from 1847 to 1860 increased by 101 per cent., while from 1870 to 1880 they increased only nine per cent.

Farmers depreciate their vocation by conceding inferiority to what are called "the learned professions," and by ignorant prejudice against book-farming. This is an age of invention and discovery; old methods and implements have been superseded, new elements are coming in, of which a few years ago we were ignorant. Agriculture calls forth mental activities. There is daily contact with animal and vegetable life, with mechanical forces, and these must be utilized, and they give occasion for practical application of knowledge. In no other occupation can a wider extent of knowledge be employed. The farmer should be familiar with the names and uses and habits of plants and animals; should learn about orchards, fruits, vineyards, gardens, vegetables, dairies, as well as about tillage and the products of the field. What is the chemistry of plants? What of the nutrition of plants from the soil and atmosphere? What of fertilizers and their adaptation to soil and plants? What of insects and birds? In a farmer's library should be agricultural journals, and such books as are specially suited to latitude and clime and soil and crops. And everyone in the household and on the farm, parent and child, master and servant, should read and practice the teachings of "Black Beauty."

Scientific farming does not mean that one should dispense with common sense, with careful personal observation, with accurate reasoning upon the data furnished. Scientific knowledge is correct knowledge, scientific observation is correct observation, and scientific farming is correct farming on application of principles to facts. Agriculture of the South needs skilled labor, improved tillage, cheap transportation, competent management of business. How few farmers keep account of debit and credit, of profit and loss, of rotation of value of crops, of cost of production, of success of experiments with different crops, or in the fertilization of land. Farmers need shrewd sagacity, cultivated powers, wise understandings, and especially if they become politicians and take charge of the Federal and the State Governments. Away with the dishonoring tradition, the debasing opinion that lawyers, doctors, preachers, engineers should be educated, but that any clod-hopper can be a successful farmer.

Much has been written about the New South and much that was fanciful or exaggerated. The mineral and manufacturing development has been immense, and in these lines of improvement we stand but on the threshold.

The Chattanooga Tradesman, of 20th December, publishes these statistics:
“The assessed valuation from the Auditor's books in the twelve Southern States to-day is $3,706,906,168, against $2,164,792,585 in 1880, an increase in the ten years of 71\frac{1}{4}\% per cent. The actual wealth of the South to-day is estimated by the officials at $10,158,700,000, against $5,844,000,000 in 1880. This shows, basing the calculation upon the semi-official census report up to the year 1890, a per capita wealth, as assessed, of $195.33, against $147.88 in 1880, and an actual wealth per capita to-day of $652.11, against $385.62 in 1880. The State debt of the twelve Southern States is to-day, according to the reports of these officials, $89,185,475, against $124,066,897 in 1880, and the total indebtedness, including State, county and municipal, of the entire South, is to-day $182,426,575, against $217,693,585 in 1880. The average rate of taxation throughout the Southern States is to-day 4.03 mills, against 4.60 in 1880. The State revenue of the twelve Southern States is to-day $20,312,739, against $13,249,866 in 1880, an increase of 53\frac{1}{4}\% per cent. The total banking capital in the twelve States of the South, including State, National, and private banks, according to very careful inquiry from all sources, is placed to-day at $152,425,000, against $92,575,000 in 1880, an increase of 64\frac{1}{2}\% per cent. in ten years. The railroad mileage in the South, according to official reports, is to-day 37,518 against 17,808 miles in 1880, an increase of 110 7-10 per cent. in ten years. The total school revenues of the Southern States annually are to-day, $13,636,299, against $6,145,746 in 1880, an increase of 126 9-10 per cent. in ten years. The scholastic population of the South is to-day, according to the reports, 5,947,496, against 4,423,620 in 1880, an increase of thirty-five per cent. The number of pupils enrolled in the schools of the South is to-day 3,242,286, against 2,018,640 in 1880, an increase of 61 1-10 per cent. in ten years, and the number of pupils now in attendance at schools in the South is to-day 2,141,274, against 1,391,743 in 1880, an increase of 53 8-10 per cent. in the ten years.”
Agriculture has not kept pace with this progress. Two factors are essential in deciding whether agriculture is making a hopeful advance.

(a). Is there increased fertility or productiveness of the soil? It is absurd to talk of improvement unless the land in cultivation improves in productiveness and in permanent fertility. I have seen land which had been in use for two thousand years, and yet it is better to-day than it was in its virgin state. Deep gullies, red and scalded hills, broom-sedge and sassafras, cur dogs and lean, lank, long-nosed swine are not the signs of progress.

(b). Are the country roads good and travelable? In some places the roads are so bad that the labor and cost of hauling the produce of the farms to market are so great that the crops yield no profit. It is impossible that farming interests can prosper without good roads. It is estimated that a railroad can haul a ton of wheat at less cost than a farmer can a bushel. Our people complain of taxes, but the heaviest tax is the cost of transportation, if we put into the calculation the loss of time and labor, the wear and tear of harness and wagon and team. When a boy I went with my father's wagon, loaded with cotton, to market and seven days were consumed. Now the same journey can be made in seven hours.

Production and distribution are twin-sisters, correlated and indispensable to wealth. Where there is no market there will be very limited production. Facility of exchange, lessening the cost of transportation, stimulates production, widens the market, imparts value,—and this mechanism of distribution it is folly for the farmers to ignore. In twenty years our country has made marvellous progress in production, in wealth; and cheapening and facilitating transportation has been one of the most potent and beneficial agencies in bringing about these results. There is much criticism upon the inequalities in the distribution of wealth, and the difference is said not to be warranted by the difference in productive capability and effort. Senator Ingalls said in the Senate last week: "It appears that there are in the United States 200 persons who have an aggregate of more than $20,000,000 each; 400 persons possess $10,000,000 each; 1,000 persons $5,000,000 each; 2,000 persons $2,500,000 each; 6,000 persons $1,000,000 each; and 15,000 persons $500,000 each—making a total of 31,000 people who possess $36,250,000,000. Less than a two-thousandth part of our population have obtained possession of more than one half of the entire accumulated wealth of the country." How far "government partnership in trade" has produced the inequalities, it is not for me to say. President White, lately of Cornell University, finds the genesis of the recent combination of farmers in inequalities of taxation which bear heavily on the agricultural and rural population.

Remedial legislation to change economic conditions may be needed; that is not my concern now and here. But all must agree that the development of the railway system has done inestimable benefit in increasing production and reducing the cost of transportation, and that some railroad fortunes may have been made not at the expense of the industrial classes. In 1865 it cost $3.45 to carry a barrel of flour from Chicago to Boston; in 1868 it cost sixty-eight cents. Twenty-six systems centering in Chicago received in four years $640,000,000 for carrying fuel, food, clothing, material for shelter, at less than a cent a ton per mile. The reduction of freight rates is somewhat like the reduction of postage. When I was a school-boy the postage was 6½, 12½, 18½ and 25 cents, according to distance and singleness or doubleness of the letter. Now, a letter is carried throughout the United States for two cents.

Besides bad tillage and bad roads the curse of Southern agriculture has been ignorant labor and consequent absence of diversified crops. Slavery was most mischievous economy. It fastened upon us stupid labor and concentration of labor and capital on a few crops. It sparsified population and prevented diffusion of wealth. The few products failing brought general paralysis. When land is devoted to only one or more industries there can be no hope for success. Slavery has disappeared, but ignorant, thriftless labor remains.

Pardon an additional thought in this connection. "Hard times" are attributed to over-taxation, to over-production, to the monopolists of distribution, but it may be well to look nearer home and not confine our view solely to production and distribution, but to inquire into consumption as a cause of discomfort and distress. We guard against ignorance and carelessness in production and distribution, we avail ourselves of the best inventions, but waste continues in what we consume. It is an educational problem of the greatest importance to learn to save earnings. Half of the food-supply for man and beast is thrown away for want of instruction. Economy in domestic life is more needful than economy in public life. We need a higher standard of living—a sense of more urgent wants. How to prepare food for table and for animals, how to buy and mend clothing, how to have comfortable houses and better homes, is what education should apply itself to. Production touches at a few points; consumption touches all around.

The wealth of the world is the product of human labor. "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread" was a blessing, in making labor a necessity. The Saviour dignified honest toil. Critics say that Millet's Angelus represents two toil-worn peasants ceasing from their work at the sound of the distant church-bell to lift up hearts in gratitude and worship to the God above, and that in the painting we see the dignity of humble labor and the glory of communion with the Invisible One. The material elements of wealth—soil, forest, minerals, fishes, animals—abound, but they have little value until position and form are changed and adapted to man's wants by labor, and value is created, or imparted, in the ratio of the skill of the worker and his application of the principles of science.
If we analyze the commonest forms of labor—sawing wood, turning a grind-stone, hitching a horse to a plow, carrying a burden—we can see how the simplest processes involve the application of scientific principles. So, also, the simplest machines, the commonest utilities, involve mathematics or chemistry, or the laws which science has discovered and formulated. The introduction of labor-saving contrivances has multiplied products, enhanced comfort, happiness and wealth, and turned displaced labor to more remunerative uses. Science and invention have helped agriculture immeasurably. The capacity—mental, mechanical and manual—to take advantage of opportunities, measures the progress. It is the efficiency of labor that tells, and the results are not to be estimated by time, or amount of mere toil. Some one has defined profits as "the margin which mind gains over muscle." Efficient labor is intelligent labor, gives quicker perception of facts, readier and more economical application of principles, improves the judgment and the taste. Two things are to be considered in all labor, the nature of the material on which the work is to be done, and the force by which it is to be effected. Proper education is the economy of force and gives it greater power to create value. Good farming needs the intelligence of the Superintendent (Poor Richard says, "Better is the eye of the master than the labor of two hands"), and the intelligence and skill of the laborer; it needs trained hands guided by trained minds.

Education is the basis, the grand condition of wealth. No ignorant people was ever prosperous. A man's true value is just what he is morally and intellectually, and a school tax is convertible into dollars and cents, houses and lands, and the wise legislator evokes this element of power and progress and prosperity. In ignorant lands there are no patents, nor copyrights, nor franchises, nor inventions. That which will give highest productive capacity is the training of the intellect of the producers. To leave laborers in ignorance and thriftlessness is blind folly, is bad economy, is stupidity. It is a well established fact that the laborer, with a common school education, will, at the end of the year, have produced twenty-five per cent. more of valuable product than if he had remained uneducated. As the substitution of free labor for slave labor is a grand source of increased production, so intelligence added to freedom gives enhanced value to the labor. The industrial changes in the South are a revolution, compelling a reorganization of activities, the partition of farms, changes in agricultural methods, development of mining and manufacturing industries. All these create a demand for labor of a kind and quality not hitherto so obviously needed. They create a demand also for technical training, for instruction in those artistic principles which underlie the industrial occupations of the people as well as instruction in the manual practice involved in the application of those principles. Drawing should be taught in every school of the commonwealth, and pencil and pen should be in the hands of every boy and girl. We want training that will enable an artisan to put his mind into his work so that he shall not be a mere part of a machine, but have the ability to observe with eyes, to do with hands, to plan with brains.

The schools of North Carolina are unsatisfactory — (a) in the short sessions, averaging about sixty days; and (b) in the school expenditures. In the seven years 1884–1890, the school revenues ran up from $5,80,311 to $721,756, an increase of only $141,445; while the taxable property increased from $199,250,376 to $212,697,287 in the same time. North Carolina, in Constitution and laws, is committed to the theory that public schools shall be maintained at least four months in every year. The State must provide sufficient funds to meet this obligation, and if the State takes the people's money it is bound to see that they receive full value therefor. If the teacher be worthless the investment is lost. Trained teachers are essential to the highest success of public schools. If a trained teacher be worth twice as much as an untrained one, the State should take proper and adequate measures that the children be not cursed by incompetent teachers. The average length of school-life in America is four years. This brief, invaluable period should not be wasted. There is a wide lack of competent teachers, and experience shows that University and colleges will not supply the need. Besides, they do not give normal instruction. A special preparatory training is requisite for teachers. Every profession demands it. General education does not make a doctor, lawyer, engineer, architect, nor will it make a teacher. Can one navigate a ship because he has studied mathematics or astronomy? It is a criminal error that any one with an ordinary education can teach. Teaching is a profession, difficult, delicate, responsible; it is an art, a science, and something more is needed for a schoolmaster’s outfit than a mere memorized knowledge. A thorough teaching knowledge, a knowledge of the guiding principles of the art, of the laws of mental development, of the best methods of instruction and government, and skill in the practice, are essential.

Every child has certain latent powers, undeveloped capacities, which are to be educated, and of which he is to have the mastery for future well-being. The difference between the educated and the uneducated mind is that in the one case these powers and capabilities have been wakened into consciousness and drawn out and made ready for use; in the other case, not. The contrast between educational methods now and fifty years ago is one of the most conclusive proofs of our advanced civilization—memory was the faculty chiefly cultivated. Days and years were passed in conning dry facts, often geographical particulars, historical dates, dry rules of arithmetic and grammar. The pedagogue heard the lesson. Now the skillful teacher, instead of storing the mind with indigestible facts, seeks to train to the command and use of powers, so that they may become trustworthy instruments for self-improvement, for discovery. The real teacher proceeds by easy steps from the known to the unknown, particular to general, concrete to abstract. He cultivates the faculties in their natural order of development, leads the pupil to put forth his own best efforts, use his own powers, ascend from phenomena or instances to the laws which govern, evolve methods for himself and not slavishly follow text-books. Thought is the higher and more intellectual faculty; it constructs and tests hypotheses and goes on until laws are ascertained. Educated mind discriminates, sees the differences of things that are alike and the likeness of things that are different, puts facts into new relations and evolves new truths. "Experiences of animals come from blind trials in divergent directions; those of man are directed by thought to desired ends." Animals have precepts; men form concepts.

The artist who painted the portrait of Washington suspended on the wall put his ideas upon dead, irresponsive canvas. The teacher deals with responsive, reflecting, immortal minds.

This General Assembly can do no wiser thing than to enlarge the revenues for education of the children and establish a school for training teachers to teach.
