Pursuant to a call of his Excellency, the Governor, R. B. Glenn, hereinafter recorded, the Senate of the General Assembly convenes in extraordinary session in its chamber in the city of Raleigh this day at 11 o'clock A. M., and is called to order by Hon. Francis D. Winston, Lieutenant-Governor and President of the Senate.

Prayer is offered by Dr. T. N. Ivey of this city.

The roll of Senators is called, and the following Senators answer to their names:

A quorum of the Senate being present, the proclamation by the Governor convening the General Assembly in extraordinary session is read as follows:
State of North Carolina,
Executive Department,
Raleigh.

Proclamation by the Governor.

To the Honorable, the General Assembly of North Carolina:

By and with the advice of the Council of State and the attorneys employed to represent the State of North Carolina, I, R. B. Glenn, Governor of the State of North Carolina, in the exercise of the powers conferred on me by Article III, Section 9 of the Constitution, do issue this my proclamation convening the General Assembly in extra session on Tuesday, the 21st day of January, 1908, on which day at 11 o'clock A. M., the Senators and Members of the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of North Carolina are hereby notified and requested to meet in their respective halls in the Capitol in the city of Raleigh to consider the following specific purpose:

1st. To amend, modify, strengthen, change or repeal chapter 216, Laws of 1907, prescribing the maximum charges railroad companies may make for transporting passengers in North Carolina, and chapter 217, Laws of 1907, preventing unjust discrimination in freight rates and to fix the maximum charges therefor.

For information of members of the Legislature, all papers are requested to make notice of this proclamation.

In witness whereof, I, R. B. Glenn, Governor and Commander in Chief, have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State.

Done at our city of Raleigh this the 8th day of January, 1908, and in the one hundred and thirty-second year of our American Independence.

(Signed) R. B. Glenn.

By the Governor:

A. H. Arrington,
Private Secretary.
1908.] SENATE JOURNAL. 7

Senator Mitchell offers the following resolution:

Resolved by the Senate, That a message be sent to the House of Representatives informing that honorable body that the Senate is duly organized and ready to proceed with business.

The resolution is adopted.

The following message is received from the House of Representatives:

January 21, 1908.

Mr. President:—It is ordered that a message be sent to the Senate informing that honorable body that the House of Representatives has adopted the following resolution:

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That a message be sent to the Senate informing that honorable body that the House of Representatives is duly organized and ready to proceed with business.

Senator Holt offers the following resolution:

Resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring, That a joint committee of two on the part of the Senate and three on the part of the House of Representatives be appointed by their respective presiding officers to wait upon his Excellency, the Governor, and inform him of the organization of the General Assembly in extraordinary session, and to notify him of its readiness to receive from him any communication it may be his pleasure to make.

The resolution is adopted.

The following message is received from the House of Representatives:

January 21, 1908.

Mr. President:—It is ordered that a message be sent to the Senate informing that honorable body that the House of Representatives, has completed its organization with the officers of the former session, and has appointed the following gentlemen: Messrs. Yount, Royster and Cowles as a committee on the part of the House in accordance with S. R. 1, H. R. 2, to act with a like committee on the part of your honorable body to wait upon his Excellency, the Governor, and inform his Excellency that the General Assembly is ready to receive any communication he may desire to send.

The President appoints as a committee on the part of the Senate Senators Holt and Lovill.

Senator Lovill, for the committee, reports that it has waited upon the Governor, and that he will communicate with the General Assembly in writing:

A message from the Governor is received and read as follows:

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

To the Honorable, the General Assembly of North Carolina.

Gentlemen:—Under no circumstances is it a pleasant duty to convene the General Assembly in extra session; still the Constitution, Article III, section 9, provides that "The Governor shall have power on extraordinary occasions, by and with the advice of the Council of State, to convene the General Assembly in extra session by his proclamation, stating therein the purpose or purposes for which they are thus convened."

To me it seems plain that such an extraordinary occasion has arisen, and so, by and with the consent of the Council of State, I have felt it my duty to call you together to consider the question of an adjustment of the passenger and freight rates charged by the various railroads doing business as common carriers in the State.

In order that you may have a proper understanding of the present condition of affairs, it will be necessary to revert to the past and give a brief history of all matters appertaining to the rate controversy from the time of your last session up to the terms offered by me as Governor and accepted by the railroads, subject, of course, to your approval and ratification.

In my message to your honorable body at your regular session I used this language: "I would urge upon the General Assembly to carefully examine the whole matter of railroads, and, while doing everything the law allows in protecting the people against unjust discrimination, heavy rates and unnecessary hardships, at the same time to treat the railroads with perfect fairness and give them every legal right which belongs to them. Railroads are the great arteries of commerce, and have been the means of building up our resources as no other factor, and, therefore, should be looked upon, not as hostile, but as one of the State's most helpful agencies." I then recommended a flat rate of 2 and 4 cents per mile for passenger fare and a mileage book of 2 cents; also, that railroads be required to remedy delays of their trains, have a limit set to hours of service of their employees, keep their road-beds in good condition and pay their fair proportion of all taxes, and then should be protected against injustice, such as is often practiced on them by trespassers and unjust litigation. With what suggestion I could offer, and with the sworn report of the railroads before you, after a full and able discussion of the bill in both houses, no joint conclusion could be reached, and a conference committee had to be ordered. This committee reported a flat rate of 2 and 4 cents per mile, which report was ratified and became the law of the State. After the law was enacted I tried to induce the railroads to acquiesce until a fair test would demonstrate whether the new rate was con-fiscatory, or, on account of increased travel, was remunerative. Some of the railroads at once agreed to put the law into operation, but others refused, and, prior to July 1, 1907, when the law became operative, went before a Circuit Judge of the United States for the Eastern District of North Carolina and obtained a temporary injunction against the Corporation Commission and Attorney-General, forbidding them from putting the law into effect. At the preliminary hearing, without finding the rate confiscatory, and not heeding the plea made to the jurisdiction of the court, the Circuit Judge continued the injunction to the final hearing, and ordered the Standing Master to take evidence and make a report as to whether the rate fixed was confiscatory of the property of the railroads.

On July 1, 1907, certain railroads refusing to recognize the rate fixed, a Superior Court Judge instructed the grand jury to indict their agents for selling tickets at a higher rate than that fixed by the statute. Feeling it my sworn duty to uphold the law passed by your honorable body, regardless of the amount fixed, I addressed a letter to all the State Judges, asking them "to properly charge the grand juries and to direct the Solicitors to send bills against the agents and employees of the railroads, or their higher officials, thus openly acting in defiance of law." In that letter I recommended that only enough indictments be made to test the validity of the law in all its phases, and not to needlessly harass the railroads.

Several railroad agents were indicted, convicted and sentenced, when the United States Court, not waiting for the defendants to appeal in the orderly way to the higher courts, again interfered, and by writ of habeas corpus discharged the defendants from the custody of the State's officers. For a while a conflict between the Federal and State authorities seemed imminent, but coolness on both sides was exercised, and it was agreed that the railroads should recognize and obey the law, pending the test of its constitutionality, and that the equity suit, indictment and habeas corpus proceedings should be prosecuted to a speedy conclusion. In taking steps to uphold the law enacted by the General Assembly only one motive actuated me, and that was, while not wishing to mulct the railroads with costs or needlessly imprison their agents, simply to compel them, the creatures, to recognize that the State, the creator, was sovereign and supreme and its laws had to be obeyed until some competent court declared that said law was unconstitutional and therefore void.\footnote{\textit{\textcopyright}\textsuperscript{\textregistered}1907.
The equity suit and criminal proceedings moved very slowly, and, a financial crisis having come upon the country, several efforts were made to settle all disputes and produce harmony between the State and the railroads.

Terms offered.

Finally I suggested the following terms as an equitable adjustment of the entire matter, subject, of course, to your approval:

The changing of the flat intrastate rate of $2\frac{1}{4}$ cents per mile to a flat intrastate rate of $2\frac{1}{2}$ cents per mile; fifteen cents to be charged extra for persons boarding trains without tickets when tickets could be obtained in a reasonable time before departure of trains, and the repealing of the penalty and misdemeanor clauses in the act of 1907; this, however, only to be done when the railroads operating in the State—except those exempted by law—agreed on their part to a reduction of the present interstate rate of 3 and $3\frac{1}{4}$ cents per mile to a $2\frac{1}{2}$-cent rate, thus making interstate and intrastate rates uniform; also, the railroads to issue a mileage book of 2,000 miles for heads of firms and employees, not exceeding five persons, names to be entered at time of purchase, said books to be interchangeable on all solvent roads and interstate and intrastate at 2 cents per mile; also, an individual mileage book of 1,000 miles, interchangeable, interstate and intrastate, for 2 cents per mile; also, a family mileage book for heads of families and dependent members of family, names to be entered at time of purchase, intrastate, and not interchangeable, for 2 cents per mile; also, the railroads to pay an amount not exceeding $17,500 with which to pay the State's costs in the various suits.

The railroads agreed to these demands, except the payment of the money and the 500-mileage book for 2 cents. They claimed it was impossible for them to operate with such a mileage book, as it would practically put the State on a 2-cent flat rate, and that they should not be required to furnish a book of 500 miles at as low a rate as books of larger mileage. Not being able, therefore, to get this reduction, and seeing some force in their contention, it was agreed that the family mileage book should be fixed at 2 1/4 cents per mile; and that the railroads would pay the State $17,500, to be applied as the State thought proper. The usual requirements as to time of redeeming books were to be observed and enforced. It was also agreed that, if, after a reasonable time, to-wit, twelve months, it should be ascertained that the rate thus agreed upon was excessive on the one hand or confiscatory on the other, upon application, the Corporation Commission should have the power, after a full and fair hearing, to raise or lower the rate fixed, subject to an appeal to the courts.

Some seem to object to the requirement that the railroads pay the sum of $17,500, but I believe this objection comes from the fact that the proposition is not understood, and they believe this amount is to help defray the costs of convening the Legislature. I demanded this money for these reasons: I did not believe the rate passed by your body was confiscatory. I felt a wrong was committed by the railroads in bringing their suits before giving the rate a fair test. When the railroads got their injunction they not only had the Corporation Commission, the Attorney-General and Assistant Attorney-General enjoined, but also the attorneys employed by the Corporation Commission; hence, when the railroads refused to obey the law, not being able to get the services of these attorneys, I had to employ others, thus entailing more costs, and, therefore, the railroads, by their suits and acts, having put this extra cost on the State, I felt in the settlement they should pay it. If, however, your honorable body does not agree with me, and thinks the State and not the railroads should pay this cost, it is for you and not for me to decide.

In order that in the future both the State and the railroads should know their respective legal rights in dealing with each other, and believing that the Minnesota case and the habeas corpus case from Asheville now pending in the Supreme Court of the United States would definitely settle and define the respective rights of all parties, it was agreed that, even if your honorable body accepted and approved the agreement, the case in the Supreme Court should not be affected thereby, but should proceed to final judgment.

OTHER STATES AGREE.

The States of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee, and probably Virginia, have agreed to the same terms offered by North Carolina, thus giving a uniform rate and mileage books over the entire South.

I have given this matter a most careful investigation, tried to protect in every way the rights of the State, and, coming to the conclusion that the settlement reached is both just and equitable to the State and the railroads, I have had the advice and assistance of some of the State's truest, ablest and best men. However, I discharged my duty by obeying the Constitution and laying the matter before you, as you alone can enact laws. I think it wise to settle the matter. I believe the terms are fair to all, and, therefore, ask you, the lawmakers of the State, if consistent with your sense of right and duty, to approve what has been done.

RATE FIXED NOT CONFISCATORY.

The rate fixed by your body at its last session, in my judgment, though less than the amount recommended in my message, was not confiscatory, but was just and based on the reports of the railroads themselves, and, therefore, was in no sense a wrong; and, if the railroads had given the rate a fair test, without having made the people hostile to them, I firmly believe, as shown by the evidence taken in the pending equity suit, that said rate would not only have proved both equitable and remunerative, but in excess of the previous earnings. But times have changed since you last met, and all business has suffered by the stricture in the money market. Disclosures made in the financial world showed fraud and corruption, gambling on the stock market, the withdrawal of money from circulation, thus bringing about unrest and distrust, together with many other causes, which have seriously affected all securities, making stock values decrease and credit hard to obtain, until, not on account of the little reduction of fares to 2¼ cents, but for the reasons above stated and many others, railroads, like individuals and other corporations, have been crippled in their operations, have had in many ways to curtail their expenses, cannot borrow money to carry on their business, and, therefore, need all legitimate help that can be given them, not inconsistent with the rights of the people and the State. They claim that, if all matters of difference between them and the various States can be adjusted, confidence will be restored, their securities more easily placed, and they be enabled to continue their contemplated improvements.

No one but a demagogue would desire to injure railroads simply because it can be done, but should only wish to require them to deal justly with the people, and now that the railroads have recognized the sovereignty of the State and come forward, agreeing to terms alike fair to the State and themselves, it behooves the State, through its lawmakers, to meet them in the same spirit of equity and do all it can to aid them, provided it in no way destroys the rights of the people.

Again, I trust you will solve this complex question by approving the terms agreed upon, thus restoring peace and harmony and putting all at work once more for the upbuilding of our beloved State.

Freight Rates.

In regard to freight rates, I suggest one amendment to section 1, chapter 217, Laws of 1907, by adding at the end of said section these words: "Provided further, that this act shall not apply to independently owned and operated railroad companies in North Carolina whose mileage of road in said State is one hundred miles or less." The reason for this recommendation is, that the amount of freight shipped on one of these little roads from one station on its own line to another station on its line is not over five or ten per cent. of its shipments, while from a point on its line to some point on the line of another road its freights would amount to from ninety to ninety-five per cent. of its shipments; while the shipments of the large roads to points on their own lines is from seventy to eighty per cent. of their shipments, while their shipments to points in the State on other roads would not exceed twenty or twenty-five per cent., being a discrimination so largely against the small roads as to most seriously affect and injure them, and, therefore, demands relief.

DISCRIMINATIONS.

One of the most serious complaints now existing against railroads is the discriminations made by them against the cities and towns of North Carolina in favor of like cities and towns in other States, notably Virginia, by reason of which jobbers and wholesale merchants in Virginia can undersell the same class of merchants in North Carolina. The cause of this is the rate given by the Norfolk and Western and Chesapeake and Ohio railroads to Roanoke, Lynchburg and Richmond, being the same rate given to Norfolk, Va., on account of its water-rate competition. To meet the rate of the railroads above named, the Southern, the Coast Line and Seaboard railroads had to give the same rate, and so haul freight through North Carolina to Virginia cities for a less amount than they haul to the cities of North Carolina; and often our shippers can better pay the through rate to the Virginia point, plus the local rate back to the North Carolina point, than pay the through rate in the first instance to the North Carolina point. This can and should be corrected. The Corporation Commission has now instituted proceedings before the Interstate Commerce Commission against the Norfolk and Western Railroad for discriminating in favor of Lynchburg and Roanoke, Va., on its line, over Durham and Winston, N. C., also on its line. There can be no defense made for this unjust difference, and we feel assured that the Interstate Commerce Commission will correct the discrimination as to these points in North Carolina. When the Norfolk and Western is thus forced to adjust the rates for these two cities in North Carolina, competition will compel the other railroad systems to give the same rate to these points, and then they will be compelled to give them to other North Carolina cities, else there will be discrimination between points in North Carolina, which is forbidden by law. Hence, we confidently believe that this suit and similar ones will entirely correct any unjust discrimination against North Carolina shippers, jobbers and merchants. This being an interstate question, it can only be reached through the Interstate Commerce Commission; and, in order that these suits may be successfully pushed to an early hearing and termination, I respectfully ask that a sum not exceeding $5,000 be appropriated for carrying on an investigation fraught with so much benefit to our people. At the last session a bill making this appropriation passed one house and two readings in the other, but in some way failed to become a law.

OTHER IMPORTANT MATTERS.

When I called the extra session, with the advice of the Council of State, only one object was considered, and that was the rate question. Other purposes, however, than those which I convened you to consider will doubtless be brought before you; and if, in your wisdom and after the most mature and wise deliberation, you decide to enact other legislation than that embraced in my call, there are two matters, imperative in their nature, to which I would most respectfully call your attention.

BETTER COURT FACILITIES.

There is a defect in the present judicial system of the State.
If a Judge is sick or detained from his courts by unavoidable accident, there is no provision to remedy this omission, unless some other Judge can find time from his own courts to ride the circuit of the sick or absent Judge. This could easily be remedied by establishing two small additional districts, consisting of a county each, so that the Judges riding these small districts could, when not engaged with their courts, hold special terms and take the place of the sick Judges. The Ninth Judicial District lost its entire circuit this fall by the serious illness of the Judge, thereby causing a loss of thousands of dollars and leaving persons in jail who were entitled to a speedy trial. Such instances have happened before and will happen again, and, therefore, should be remedied.

PROHIBITION.

There is another matter that doubtless will engage your most careful consideration. I allude to the question of State prohibition. The people of North Carolina are determined to make a trial of prohibition, and the only thing to decide is when and how this can best be brought about. The curse and degradation of the liquor traffic is fast becoming a stench in the nostrils of decency, and there is an imperative demand coming to you from every section of the State to drive out these places of vice and wickedness, and to convert the money thus wasted in riot and drunkenness into channels of business, thrift and industry. Every one in the State knows my views on the liquor question, for, publicly and privately, I have contended that, both from an economic as well as a moral standpoint, the greatest blessing that could possibly be given the State would be the prohibiting of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage anywhere in its borders. So firmly am I convinced of the soundness of my views on the subject of liquor being a curse to the people of the State, that, if the power to act were vested in me, I would not trouble your body to consider the matter, but would at once free our land from this monster evil that, in my opinion, is the source of a thousand woes and scarcely a single blessing.

When I issued the call for this special session I did not know whether the voice of the people could now be heard, or whether it would have to wait until the regular session; but so quickly has the demand for relief crystallized throughout the entire State that it would be utterly wrong to deny the people a hearing upon a matter so vital to their public and private life.

I would not put my judgment against that of the one hundred and seventy members who compose your honorable body, all of whom are just as patriotic and many far wiser than I;
still, after visiting the people in every section and hearing and knowing their views, as I do, I am thoroughly satisfied that no act ever passed by any legislative body in North Caro-лина would give the joy or be more generally endorsed than would be the act of this General Assembly in giving prohibition to the entire State.

Under the Watts, Ward and other similar bills, by legislative enactment prohibition was given to all rural districts, until at least four-fifths of the State's territory thus had prohibitory laws. These acts have produced good, and not evil, and have been endorsed by the votes of the people in three general elections. Also, under the same laws, villages, towns and cities throughout the State have declared for temperance, until ninety per cent. of the entire territory of the State now has prohibition. Thus we know the will of the people, for they have spoken by their votes in no uncertain sound, until all agree that it is inevitable that liquor must go. So, why, then, entail needless expense and engender bitterness by local fights, when by your act, carrying out the will of a majority of the people, you can settle this matter at this session?

Pass the law, let it go into effect July 1, 1908, and before the general election in November all agitation will cease; for, as well said by one of North Carolina's wisest statesmen, "A liquor dealer without his liquor is about as weak as Samson shorn of his locks." Refuse at this session to dispose of it, it will enter into the next campaign, be the issue in many counties, and cause confusion and strife; whereas by action now you destroy the factor that would make this agitation.

There is only one question for us to ask, and that is, What is right? And when we know what is right, let us have the courage to do the right; and what is right will prove what is both expedient and best, and will receive the approval of all good citizens. All know the whiskey traffic is an evil. We talk of the wrongs of a protective tariff, the ills and crimes engendered by monopolies and trusts, but all the evils and iniquities of the tariff, or the robberies and oppressions of greed and monopoly together do not begin to compare with the sorrow, the ruin, the misery, the crime, the poverty, the madness, the vice, the degradation, the death and the damnation produced by strong drink; and, therefore, in the interest of business, for the protection of helpless women and children, for the suppression of crime, the amelioration of want and poverty, the prevention of disease, the preservation of life and the salvation of human souls, in the name of more than a million true, brave, pure and noble North Carolina men, women and children, I ask you at this session to abolish this demon of destruction! If you do this, your act will be the wisest and best ever passed by any legislative body, and will be ratified and endorsed by the good people of the State. But, whether you follow my suggestion or not, I will always feel that no act that I ever did was more for the uplifting and upbuilding of the entire State than my message for State prohibition.

Again I commend to you the proposition to settle the rate controversy upon the terms offered by the State and agreed to by the railroads, subject to your approval. Your action at the last session was based on the railroads' reports of earnings, and was, therefore, just and not wrong. When the railroads refused to recognize your law, by a strong hand the roads refusing were compelled to obey and to admit the sovereignty of the State; but now, when the railroads have agreed to the State's terms, which give a fair and reasonable rate, not only to our own State, but to all the South, we can afford to lift the hand that enforced the law and give it in relief to a needy subject, especially when in giving relief to the subject we receive equal benefits to the sovereign, thus showing how a State can be strong and at the same time just and protecting.

If this Legislature, having seen its laws enforced and obeyed, will at this session ratify an act that will bring peace and harmony among all contending interests, and at the same time pass an act lifting the curse of strong drink and bringing order and soberness into our borders, it will have performed two acts that will make its name immortal and be forever remembered as a blessing to the State.

Wishing each of you a happy sojourn at our Capital City, and extending to all a most cordial and hearty welcome, I close my message by expressing the belief that, actuated by high and patriotic motives, you will do your full duty to the State and pass such laws as to you seem just and right. I bid you Godspeed in your work and ask Heaven's blessing on all you do.

Respectfully,

R. B. Glenn,
Governor.

Senator Graham offers the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Governor's message be referred to the Committee on Railroads, with instructions to report a bill in regard to passenger and freight rates in accordance with the recommendations of said message.

Senator Reid moves to amend the resolution by striking out "in accordance with the recommendations of said message."

The amendment is accepted by Senator Graham.
The resolution as amended is adopted, and the Governor's message is referred to the Committee on Railroads.

A message is received from his Excellency, the Governor, R. B. Glenn, transmitting a letter from Hon. Franklin McNeill, Chairman of the Corporation Commission, suggesting the enactment of a law forbidding discontinuance of passenger trains without the consent of the Corporation Commission.

From the Committee on Judiciary:
By Senator Daniel, S. R. 19, resolution relating to the introduction of bills.

Senator Daniel for the committee makes the following report:

In the matter of the request for a report by the Committee on Judiciary as to the power of the extra session as to general legislation other than that specified in the proclamation of the Governor calling the General Assembly in extra session,

The Committee on Judiciary respectfully reports:

That the power of the General Assembly, when convened, is not confined to a consideration of the subjects to which its attention is called by the proclamation or the message of the Governor, and it may legislate on any subject as at the regular session.

When lawfully convened, whether by virtue of the provisions of the Constitution or the Governor's proclamation, it is the General Assembly of the State, in which the full and exclusive legislative authority of the State is vested. Its powers, not being derived from the Governor's proclamation, are not confined to the special purpose for which it may have been convened by him.

It is therefore the opinion of the Committee on Judiciary that the General Assembly may enact any law at a special or extra session that it might at a regular session.

From the Committee on Judiciary:

By Senator Daniel, S. B. 11, bill to amend chapter 1003 by repealing section 3 thereof of the Public Laws of 1907, with a favorable report.

HOUSE JOURNAL.

EXTRA SESSION 1908.

FIRST DAY.

House of Representatives,

Tuesday, January 21, 1908.

Under a call of his Excellency, Governor Robert B. Glenn, by virtue of the power vested in him to that effect under the Constitution of the State of North Carolina, the House of Representatives meets in its chamber this day at 11 o’clock A. M., and is called to order by Mr. Speaker Justice.

Prayer by Rev. Dr. Tyree of Raleigh.

The roll of members is ordered to be called, and the following members answer to their names:

A quorum being present, the Speaker orders the Clerk to read the proclamation of the Governor, convening the Extraordinary Session of the General Assembly, which is read as follows:

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
RALEIGH.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

To the Honorable, the General Assembly of North Carolina:

By and with the advice of the Council of State and the attorneys employed to represent the State of North Carolina, I, R. B. Glenn, Governor of the State of North Carolina, in the exercise of the powers conferred upon me by Article III, Section 9 of the Constitution, do issue this my proclamation convening the General Assembly in extra session on Tuesday, the 21st day of January, 1908, on which day at 11 o'clock A. M., the Senators and Members of the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of North Carolina are hereby notified and requested to meet in their respective halls in the Capitol in the city of Raleigh to consider the following specific purpose:

1st. To amend, modify, strengthen, change or repeal chapter 216, Laws of 1907, prescribing the maximum charges railroad companies may make for transporting passengers in North Carolina, and chapter 217, Laws of 1907, preventing unjust discrimination in freight rates, and to fix the maximum charges therefor.

For information of members of the Legislature, all papers are requested to make notice of this proclamation.
In witness whereof, I, R. B. Glenn, Governor and Command in Chief, have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State.

Done at our city of Raleigh this the 8th day of January, 1908, and in the 132nd year of our American Independence.

(Signed) R. B. Glenn.

By the Governor:

A. H. Arrington,

Private Secretary.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE.

A message is received from the Senate transmitting the following bills, which are read the first time and disposed of as follows:

A resolution informing the House of the organization of that honorable body.

S. R. 1, H. R. 3, a resolution to notify the Governor.

Passes its several readings and is ordered enrolled.

Under said resolution the Speaker appoints the following members as a committee on part of the House: Messrs. Yount, Royster and Cowles.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS.

Bills and resolutions are introduced, read the first time and disposed of as follows:

By Mr. Yount, H. R. 1, a resolution informing the Senate that the House is ready to proceed with business.

Adopted.

By Mr. Yount, H. R. 2, a joint resolution to inform the Governor that the General Assembly is now organized in extraordinary session, and ready to receive any message from him.

Passes its second and third readings and is ordered sent to the Senate without engrossment.

By Mr. Cowles, H. R. 4, joint resolution requesting the Attorney-General to transmit itemized statement of court costs incurred in litigation growing out of passenger rate law of 1907.

Passes its several readings and is ordered sent to the Senate without engrossment.

By Mr. Gordon, H. R. 5, a resolution asking for certain information with respect to freight and passenger rate acts.

The resolution is adopted.

Mr. Winborne, for the Committee on Rules, reports as follows:

That at to-day's session of the House, only bills and resolutions as relate to the regulation of passenger rates be introduced or considered; which is adopted by the House.

The committee on the part of the House to wait upon his Excellency, the Governor, through Mr. Yount, reports its duty as having been performed, and the committee is discharged.

The Speaker adds to the Committee on Regulation of Public Service Corporations Mr. Lockhart.

A message from his Excellency, the Governor, is announced, and the same is read by the Clerk as follows:

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

To the Honorable, the General Assembly of North Carolina.

Gentlemen:—Under no circumstances is it a pleasant duty to convene the General Assembly in extra session; still the Constitution, Article III, section 9, provides that "The Governor shall have power on extraordinary occasions, by and with the advice of the Council of State, to convene the General Assembly in extra session by his proclamation, stating therein the purpose or purposes for which they are thus convened."

To me it seems plain that such an extraordinary occasion has arisen, and so, by and with the consent of the Council of State, I have felt it my duty to call you together to consider the question of an adjustment of the passenger and freight rates charged by the various railroads doing business as common carriers in the State.

In order that you may have a proper understanding of the present condition of affairs, it will be necessary to revert to the past and give a brief history of all matters appertaining to the rate controversy from the time of your last session up to the terms offered by me as Governor and accepted by the railroads, subject, of course, to your approval and ratification.

In my message to your honorable body at your regular session I used this language: "I would urge upon the General Assembly to carefully examine the whole matter of railroads, and, while doing everything the law allows in protecting the people against unjust discriminations, heavy rates and unnecessary hardships, at the same time to treat the railroads with perfect fairness and give them every legal right which belongs to them. Railroads are the great arteries of commerce, and have been the means of building up our resources as no other factor, and, therefore, should be looked upon, not as hostile, but as one of the State's most helpful agencies." I then recommended a flat rate of 21/2 cents per mile for passenger fare and a mileage book of 2 cents; also, that railroads be required to remedy delays of their trains, have a limit set to hours of service of their employees, keep their road-beds in good condition and pay their fair proportion of all taxes, and then should be protected against injustice, such as is often practiced on them by trespassers and unjust litigation. With what suggestions I could offer, and with the sworn report of the railroads before you, after a full and able discussion of the bill in both houses, no joint conclusion could be reached, and a conference committee had to be ordered. This committee reported a flat rate of 21/4 cents per mile, which report was ratified and became the law of the State. After the law was enacted I tried to induce the railroads to acquiesce until a fair test would demonstrate whether the new rate was confiscatory, or, on account of increased travel, was remunerative. Some of the railroads at once agreed to put the law into operation, but others refused, and, prior to July 1, 1907, when the law became operative, went before a Circuit Judge of the United States for the Eastern District of North Carolina and obtained a temporary injunction against the Corporation Commission and Attorney-General, forbidding them from putting the law into effect. At the preliminary hearing, without finding the rate confiscatory, and not heeding the plea made to the jurisdiction of the court, the Circuit Judge continued the injunction to the final hearing, and ordered the Stauding Master to take evidence and make a report as to whether the rate fixed was confiscatory of the property of the railroads.

On July 1, 1907, certain railroads refusing to recognize the rate fixed, a Superior Court Judge instructed the grand jury to indict their agents for selling tickets at a higher rate than that fixed by the statute. Feeling it my sworn duty to uphold the law passed by your honorable body, regardless of the amount fixed, I addressed a letter to all the State Judges, asking them "to properly charge the grand juries and to direct the Solicitors to send bills against the agents and employees of the railroads, or their higher officials, thus openly acting in defiance of law." In that letter I recommended that only enough indictments be made to test the validity of the law in all its phases, and not to needlessly harass the railroads.

Several railroad agents were indicted, convicted and sentenced, when the United States Court, not waiting for the defendants to appeal in the orderly way to the higher courts, again interfered, and by writ of habeas corpus discharged the defendants from the custody of the State's officers. For a while a conflict between the Federal and State authorities seemed imminent, but coolness on both sides was exercised, and it was agreed that the railroads should recognize and obey the law, pending the test of its constitutionality, and that the equity suit, indictment and habeas corpus proceedings should be prosecuted to a speedy conclusion. In taking steps to uphold the law enacted by the General Assembly only one motive actuated me, and that was, while not wishing to mulct the railroads with costs or needlessly imprison their agents, simply to compel them, the creatures, to recognize that the State, the creator, was sovereign and supreme and its laws had to be obeyed until some competent court declared that said law was unconstitutional and therefore void.

The equity suit and criminal proceedings moved very slowly, and, a financial crisis having come upon the country, several efforts were made to settle all disputes and produce harmony between the State and the railroads.

TERMS OFFERED.

Finally I suggested the following terms as an equitable adjustment of the entire matter, subject, of course, to your approval:

The changing of the flat intrastate rate of 2 1/4 cents per mile to a flat intrastate rate of 2 1/2 cents per mile; fifteen cents to be charged extra for persons boarding trains without tickets when tickets could be obtained in a reasonable time before departure of train, and the repealing of the penalty and misdemeanor clauses in the act of 1907; this, however, only to be done when the railroads operating in the State—except those exempted by law—agreed on their part to a reduction of the present interstate rate of 3 and 3 1/4 cents per mile to a 2 1/2-cent rate, thus making interstate and intrastate rates uniform; also, the railroads to issue a mileage book of 2,000 miles for heads of firms and employees, not exceeding five persons, names to be entered at time of purchase, said books to be interchangeable on all solvent roads and interstate and intrastate at 2 cents per mile; also, an individual mileage book of 1,000 miles, interchangeable, interstate and intrastate, for 2 cents per mile; also, a family mileage book for heads of families and dependent members of family, names to be entered at time of purchase, intrastate, and not interchangeable, for 2 cents per mile; also, the railroads to pay an amount not exceeding $17,500 with which to pay the State's costs in the various suits.

The railroads agreed to these demands, except the payment of the money and the 500-mileage book for 2 cents. They claimed it was impossible for them to operate with such a mileage book, as it would practically put the State on a 2-cent flat rate; and that they should not be required to furnish a book of 500 miles at as low a rate as books of larger mileage. Not being able, therefore, to get this reduction, and seeing some force in their contention, it was agreed that the family mileage book should be fixed at $17,500, to be applied as the State thought proper. The usual requirements as to time of redeeming books were to be observed and enforced. It was also agreed that, if, after a reasonable time, to-wit, twelve months, it should be ascertained that the rate thus agreed upon was excessive on the one hand or confiscatory on the other, upon application, the Corporation Commission should have the power, after a full and fair hearing, to raise or lower the rate fixed, subject to an appeal to the courts.

Some seem to object to the requirement that the railroads pay the sum of $17,500, but I believe this objection comes from the fact that the proposition is not understood, and they believe this amount is to help defray the costs of convening the Legislature. I demanded this money for these reasons: I did not believe the rate passed by your body was confiscatory. I felt a wrong was committed by the railroads in bringing their suits before giving the rate a fair test. When the railroads got their injunction they not only had the Corporation Commission, the Attorney-General and Assistant Attorney-General enjoined, but also the attorneys employed by the Corporation Commission; hence, when the railroads refused to obey the law, not being able to get the services of these attorneys, I had to employ others, thus entailing more costs, and, therefore, the railroads, by their suits and acts, having put this extra cost on the State, I felt in the settlement they should pay it. If, however, your honorable body does not agree with me, and thinks the State and not the railroads should pay this cost, it is for you and not for me to decide.

In order that in the future both the State and the railroads should know their respective legal rights in dealing with each other, and believing that the Minnesota case and the _habeo corpus_ case from Asheville now pending in the Supreme Court of the United States would definitely settle and define the respective rights of all parties, it was agreed that, even if your honorable body accepted and approved the agreement, the case in the Supreme Court should not be affected thereby, but should proceed to final judgment.

OTHER STATES AGREE.

The States of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Tennessee, and probably Virginia, have agreed to the same terms offered by North Carolina, thus giving a uniform rate and mileage books over the entire South.

I have given this matter a most careful investigation, tried to protect in every way the rights of the State, and, in coming to the conclusion that the settlement reached is both just and equitable to the State and the railroads, I have had the advice and assistance of some of the State's truest, ablest and best men. However, I discharged my duty by obeying the Constitution and laying the matter before you, as you alone can enact laws. I think it wise to settle the matter. I believe the terms are fair to all, and, therefore, ask you, the lawmakers of the State, if consistent with your sense of right and duty, to approve what has been done.

RATE FIXED NOT CONFISCATORY.

The rate fixed by your body at its last session, in my judgment, though less than the amount recommended in my message, was not confiscatory, but was just and based on the reports of the railroads themselves, and, therefore, was in no sense a wrong; and, if the railroads had given the rate a fair test, without having made the people hostile to them, I firmly believe, as shown by the evidence taken in the pending equity suit, that said rate would not only have proved both equitable and remunerative, but in excess of the previous earnings. But times have changed since you last met, and all business has suffered by the stricture in the money market. Disclosures made in the financial world showed fraud and corruption, gambling on the stock market, the withdrawal of money from circulation, thus bringing about unrest and distrust, together with many other causes, which have seriously affected all securities, making stock values decrease and credit hard to obtain, until, not on account of the little reduction of fares to 2¼ cents, but for the reasons above stated and many others, railroads, like individuals and other corporations, have been crippled in their operations, have had in many ways to curtail their expenses, cannot borrow money to carry on their business, and, therefore, need all legitimate help that can be given them, not inconsistent with the rights of the people and the State. They claim that, if all matters of difference between them and the various States can be adjusted, confidence will be restored, their securities more easily placed, and they be enabled to continue their contemplated improvements.

No one but a demagogue would desire to injure railroads simply because it can be done, but should only wish to require them to deal justly with the people; and now that the railroads have recognized the sovereignty of the State and come forward, agreeing to terms alike fair to the State and themselves, it behooves the State, through its lawmakers, to meet them in the same spirit of equity and do all it can to aid them, provided it in no way destroys the rights of the people.

Again, I trust you will solve this complex question by approving the terms agreed upon, thus restoring peace and harmony and putting all at work once more for the upbuilding of our beloved State.
In regard to freight rates, I suggest one amendment to section 1, chapter 217, Laws of 1907, by adding at the end of said section these words: "Provided further, that this act shall not apply to independently owned and operated railroad companies in North Carolina whose mileage of road in said State is one hundred miles or less." The reason for this recommendation is, that the amount of freight shipped on one of these little roads from one station on its own line to another station on its line is not over five or ten per cent. of its shipments, while from a point on its line to some point on the line of another road its freight would amount to from ninety to ninety-five per cent. of its shipments; while the shipments of the large roads to points on their own lines is from seventy to eighty per cent. of their shipments, while their shipments to points in the State on other roads would not exceed twenty or twenty-five per cent., being a discrimination so largely against the small roads as to most seriously affect and injure them, and, therefore, demands relief.

DISCRIMINATIONS.

One of the most serious complaints now existing against railroads is the discriminations made by them against the cities and towns of North Carolina in favor of like cities and towns in other States, notably Virginia, by reason of which jobbers and wholesale merchants in Virginia can undersell the same class of merchants in North Carolina. The cause of this is the rate given by the Norfolk and Western and Chesapeake and Ohio railroads to Roanoke, Lynchburg and Richmond, being the same rate given to Norfolk, Va., on account of its water-rate competition. To meet the rate of the railroads above named, the Southern, the Coast Line and Seaboard railroads had to give the same rate, and so haul freight through North Carolina to Virginia cities for a less amount than they haul to the cities of North Carolina; and often our shippers can better pay the through rate to the Virginia point, plus the local rate back to the North Carolina point, than pay the through rate in the first instance to the North Carolina point. This can and should be corrected. The Corporation Commission has now instituted proceedings before the Interstate Commerce Commission against the Norfolk and Western Railroad for discriminating in favor of Lynchburg and Roanoke, Va., on its line, over Durham and Winston, N. C., also on its line. There can be no defense made for this unjust difference, and we feel assured that the Interstate Commerce Commission will correct the discrimination as to these points in North Carolina. When the Norfolk and Western is thus forced to adjust the rates for these two cities in North Carolina, competition will compel the other railroad systems to give the same rate to these points, and then they will be compelled to give them to other North Carolina cities, else there will be discrimination between points in North Carolina, which is forbidden by law. Hence, we confidently believe that this suit and similar ones will entirely correct any unjust discrimination against North Carolina shippers, jobbers and merchants. This being an interstate question, it can only be reached through the Interstate Commerce Commission; and, in order that these suits may be successfully pushed to an early hearing and termination, I respectfully ask that a sum not exceeding $5,000 be appropriated for carrying on an investigation fraught with so much benefit to our people. At the last session a bill making this appropriation passed one house and two readings in the other, but in some way failed to become a law.

OTHER IMPORTANT MATTERS.

When I called the extra session, with the advice of the Council of State, only one object was considered, and that was the rate question. Other purposes, however, than those which I convened you to consider will doubtless be brought before you; and if, in your wisdom and after the most mature and wise deliberation, you decide to enact other legislation than that embraced in my call, there are two matters, imperative in their nature, to which I would most respectfully call your attention.

BETTER COURT FACILITIES.

There is a defect in the present judicial system of the State. If a Judge is sick or detained from his courts by unavoidable accident, there is no provision to remedy this omission, unless some other Judge can find time from his own courts to ride the circuit of the sick or absent Judge. This could easily be remedied by establishing two small additional districts, consisting of a county each, so that the Judges riding these small districts could, when not engaged with their courts, hold special terms and take the place of the sick Judges. The Ninth Judicial District lost its entire circuit this fall by the serious illness of the Judge, thereby causing a loss of thousands of dollars and leaving persons in jail who were entitled to a speedy trial. Such instances have happened before and will happen again, and, therefore, should be remedied.

PROHIBITION.

There is another matter that doubtless will engage your most careful consideration. I allude to the question of State prohibition. The people of North Carolina are determined to make a trial of prohibition, and the only thing to decide is when and how this can best be brought about. The curse and degradation of the liquor traffic is fast becoming a stench in the nostrils of decency, and there is an imperative demand coming to you from every section of the State to drive out these places of vice and wickedness, and to convert the money thus wasted in riot and drunkenness into channels of business, thrift and industry. Every one in the State knows my views on the liquor question, for, publicly and privately, I have contended that, both from an economic as well as a moral standpoint, the greatest blessing that could possibly be given the State would be the prohibiting of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage anywhere in its borders. So firmly am I convinced of the soundness of my views on the subject of liquor being a curse to the people of the State, that, if the power to act were vested in me, I would not trouble your body to consider the matter, but would at once free our land from this monster evil that, in my opinion, is the source of a thousand woes and scarcely a single blessing.

When I issued the call for this special session I did not know whether the voice of the people could now be heard, or whether it would have to wait until the regular session; but so quickly has the demand for relief crystallized throughout the entire State that it would be utterly wrong to deny the people a hearing upon a matter so vital to their public and private life.

I would not put my judgment against that of the one hundred and seventy members who compose your honorable body, all of whom are just as patriotic and many far wiser than I; still, after visiting the people in every section and hearing and knowing their views, as I do, I am thoroughly satisfied that no act ever passed by any legislative body in North Carolina would give the joy or be more generally endorsed than would be the act of this General Assembly in giving prohibition to the entire State.

Under the Watts, Ward and other similar bills, by legislative enactment prohibition was given to all rural districts, until at least four-fifths of the State's territory thus had prohibitory laws. These acts have produced good, and not evil, and have been endorsed by the votes of the people in three general elections. Also, under the same laws, villages, towns and cities throughout the State have declared for temperance, until ninety per cent. of the entire territory of the State now has prohibition. Thus we know the will of the people, for they have spoken by their votes in no uncertain sound, until all agree that it is inevitable that liquor must go. So, why, then, entail needless expense and engender bitterness by local fights, when by your act, carrying out the will of a majority of the people, you can settle this matter at this session?

Pass the law, let it go into effect July 1, 1908, and before the general election in November all agitation will cease; for, as well said by one of North Carolina's wisest statesmen, "A liquor dealer without his liquor is about as weak as Samson shorn of his locks." Refuse at this session to dispose of it, it will enter into the next campaign, be the issue in many counties, and cause confusion and strife; whereas by action now you destroy the factor that would make this agitation.

There is only one question for us to ask, and that is, What is right? And when we know what is right, let us have the courage to do the right; and what is right will prove what is both expedient and best, and will receive the approval of all good citizens. All know the whiskey traffic is an evil. We talk of the wrongs of a protective tariff, the ills and crimes engendered by monopolies and trusts, but all the evils and iniquities of the tariff, or the robberies and oppressions of greed and monopoly together do not begin to compare with the sorrow, the ruin, the misery, the crime, the poverty, the madness, the vice, the degradation, the death and the damnation produced by strong drink; and, therefore, in the interest of business, for the protection of helpless women and children, for the suppression of crime, the amelioration of want and poverty, the prevention of disease, the preservation of life and the salvation of human souls, in the name of more than a million true, brave, pure and noble North Carolina men, women and children, I ask you at this session to abolish this demon of destruction! If you do this, your act will be the wisest and best ever passed by any legislative body, and will be ratified and endorsed by the good people of the State. But, whether you follow my suggestion or not, I will always feel that no act that I ever did was more for the uplifting and upbuilding of the entire State than my message for State prohibition.
Again I commend to you the proposition to settle the rate controversy upon the terms offered by the State and agreed to by the railroads, subject to your approval. Your action at the last session was based on the railroads' reports of earnings, and was, therefore, just and not wrong. When the railroads refused to recognize your law, by a strong hand the roads refusing were compelled to obey and to admit the sovereignty of the State; but now, when the railroads have agreed to the State's terms, which give a fair and reasonable rate, not only to our own State, but to all the South, we can afford to lift the hand that enforced the law and give it in relief to a needy subject, especially when in giving relief to the subject we receive equal benefits to the sovereign, thus showing how a State can be strong and at the same time just and protecting.

If this Legislature, having seen its laws enforced and obeyed, will at this session ratify an act that will bring peace and harmony among all contending interests, and at the same time pass an act lifting the curse of strong drink and bringing order and soberness into our borders, it will have performed two acts that will make its name immortal and be forever remembered as a blessing to the State.

Wishing each of you a happy sojourn at our Capital City, and extending to all a most cordial and hearty welcome, I close my message by expressing the belief that, actuated by high and patriotic motives, you will do your full duty to the State and pass such laws as to you seem just and right. I bid you Godspeed in your work and ask Heaven's blessing on all you do.

Respectfully,

R. B. Glenn,
Governor.

On motion of Mr. Harris, five hundred copies of the message are ordered printed for use of the members.

B. 24, a bill to be entitled an act to validate certain probates of deeds and to repeal section 3 of chapter 1003, Public Laws of North Carolina, Session of 1907, etc., with an unfavorable report as to bill, favorable as to substitute offered by the committee.

Mr. Manning, for the Committee on Regulation of Public Service Corporations, acting under H. R. 5, resolution to provide the House of Representatives with certain information with respect to the freight and passenger rate acts of the General Assembly of 1907, makes report in accordance therewith, and the report is read by the Clerk.

On motion of Mr. Manning, it is ordered that 250 copies of the report be printed.

On motion of Mr. Morton, the report of the committee is received as information, and it is ordered that the same be spread upon the Journal of the House.
To the House of Representatives:

The Committee on Public Service Corporations, proceeding under the resolution of this body passed January 21, 1908, respectfully submits the following report:

Various suits in equity were instituted in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern District of North Carolina by railway companies and individuals against the North Carolina Corporation Commission, the Attorney-General, and the Assistant Attorney-General, in which, as appears from the various bills of complaint, the complainants all had the purpose of enjoining the operation and enforcement of chapter 216 and chapter 217 of the Public Laws of North Carolina, enacted by the General Assembly at its regular session in 1907. Upon the bills of complaint and affidavits filed injunctions were issued by the Circuit Court of the United States, by virtue of which it was contended that the rates fixed by the General Assembly of North Carolina could not become operative upon certain roads in the State unless and until the decrees of the Court should be modified so as to permit the statutory rates to become operative.

A Master was appointed by the Circuit Judge to hear testimony in the cases and report to the Court. The defendants, the Corporation Commission, and the Attorney-General and his Assistant, protested against being sued in these cases, and contended that under the laws of North Carolina the Corporation Commission had no powers or duties with respect to fixing passenger rates, or enforcing the observance of those fixed by the General Assembly.

The Attorney-General insisted that he had no duties to perform with respect to the freight rates or passenger rates fixed by the General Assembly of North Carolina, except such as he might feel called upon to perform in the exercise of the general duties conferred upon him by the Constitution and laws of the State as a part of the executive branch of the government of North Carolina.

The plea to the jurisdiction of the Court was overruled by the Circuit Court of the United States, and the grand juries in some of the Superior Courts of North Carolina found indictments against the Southern Railway Company and some of its ticket agents for selling passenger tickets for more than two and one-quarter cents per mile, in violation of section 1 of chapter 216 of the Public Laws of 1907. Upon the trial of one of these cases in the Superior Court of Wake County, the Southern Railway Company, one of the defendants, plead to the jurisdiction of the Superior Court to try the case against it, and in support of this plea filed a copy of the record and papers pending in the Circuit Court of the United States in the case of the Southern Railway Company against the members of the North Carolina Corporation Commission and the Attorney-General and his Assistant.

The trial judge in the Superior Court of Wake County overruled the pleas to the jurisdiction and, upon motion to quash the bill of indictment as against the Southern Railway Company, held that the railway company, as well as its ticket agent, was indictable for violating the provisions of chapter 216 of the Public Laws of 1907.

Upon appeal of this case to the Supreme Court of North Carolina it was held by a unanimous Court that the Attorney-General was not suable in the suit in equity in the Circuit Court of the United States, and that the North Carolina Corporation Commission had no duties or powers with respect to the passenger rate act of two and one-quarter cents established for certain roads in North Carolina by the General Assembly of 1907, and that the Circuit Court of the United States had no jurisdiction to issue the injunction against the Attorney-General and his Assistant and the Corporation Commission, and thereby undertake to prevent the going into effect of the legal rate for transportation of passengers by railroads. It held that the General Assembly of North Carolina had no purpose to make the railroad company indictable for violating the law, and that the penalties for its violation ended with those prescribed by section 4 of the Public Laws of 1907, to-wit: Civil actions against the railroads by parties aggrieved by the sale of tickets at excessive rates, and criminal indictment of the individual who violated the law.

The importance of the questions involved and presented by the course taken by those responsible for the suits instituted in the Federal Courts is well stated by Judge Walker of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, who delivered the opinion of the Court in the case referred to. We quote from that opinion:

"This, in one respect, is a case of supreme importance. It involved the right of the State to enforce its criminal laws without interference by the national government or its courts. If the defendant (the Southern Railway Company) is right in its contention, the authority or separate sovereignty of the State is a myth, and not, as we had supposed, a reality. We had taken it to be settled, without leaving room for cavil or controversy, that a Federal Court could not stay the arm of a sovereign State in the execution of its criminal laws."

Referring to the conduct of the defendant on the trial upon the indictment in the State Court, the Supreme Court says:

"The defendant claims that it was not given proper time to prepare its defense. In other words, that it was forced hurriedly into the trial, and too, with such undue haste as to deprive it of the ability to concert its defense. This is a grave charge to make, and if substantiated by the record, it was a violation of the defendant's constitutional rights, we admit, but we are able to state that it is met conclusively and disproved by the facts as they appear in the case. We are convinced that every reasonable opportunity was afforded the defendant, not only for entering its pleas and submitting its motions, but for trying the case and defending itself upon the real legal merits."
The Southern Railway Company refused, when the opportunity was so afforded it, to introduce testimony upon the question as to whether the rate was confiscatory, or indeed upon any other point. The Supreme Court of North Carolina further says:

"Can a Judge of the Circuit Court of the United States stay proceedings by the State in the prosecution of its criminals? This is not too broad a statement of the proposition upon the affirmative of which the learned counsel for the defendant rest their case. * * * * There can be no doubt as to how this Court has ruled upon it, and that ruling is in perfect harmony, as we think, with the determination of the highest Court. If anything, that Court has been more pronounced in denying to the Federal Court jurisdiction now asserted to reside in them."

Quoting from another case, and applying the language quoted to the case before it, the Supreme Court of North Carolina further said:

"It is therefore within the prohibition of the eleventh amendment to the Constitution. By the terms of that provision it is a case to which the judicial power of the United States does not extend. The Circuit Court was without jurisdiction to entertain it. All the proceedings in the exercise of the jurisdiction which it assumed are null and void."

In the opinion of the Circuit Judge of the United States assigning his reason for issuing the injunction referred to, he says:

"In a very able and exhaustive opinion delivered by Mr. Justice Harlan in that case (referring to the case of Fitz vs. McGhee, 172 U. S.), it was held by the Supreme Court that neither the Attorney-General of Alabama, nor the Solicitor of the Eleventh Judicial Circuit of that State, was charged by law with any special duty in connection with the enforcement of the act of February 9, 1905 (the Alabama Act). The act of the Legislature in that instance was self-executing and to all intents and purposes was as much an independent and general law of the State as any statutes enacted by the Legislature. Under such circumstances, the only possible means by which the constitutionality of such an act could have been tested would have been by taking an appeal or writ of error from a judgment rendered thereon to the Supreme Court of the State, and, if it appeared that a federal question was necessarily involved, or passed upon by the Court, thence to the Supreme Court of the United States."

It appears, therefore, that if the General Assembly makes its rate law self-executing, and does not confer special duties upon anyone, that the Circuit Judge who issued the injunction in this case, admits, to use his own language, except changing the past to the present tense, "that the only possible means by which the constitutionality of such an act can be tested is by taking an appeal or writ of error from a judgment in the State Court to the Supreme Court of the State, and if it appears that a federal question is involved, or is passed upon by the Court, thence to the Supreme Court of the United States."

Since this opinion of the United States Circuit Judge was written the Supreme Court of North Carolina delivered the opinion in State against Southern Railway Company from which we have quoted.

A ticket agent of the Southern Railway Company was arrested under process issued by State Court in the county of Buncombe for violating section 1 of chapter 216 of the Public Laws of 1907, and after testimony against him and refusing to introduce any testimony in his defense, he was convicted and sentenced, and while in custody of the Sheriff of Buncombe County he sued out a writ of habeas corpus before the Circuit Judge, and after the hearing the prisoner was discharged upon the ground, first, that inasmuch as the equity suit of the Southern Railway Company against the North Carolina Corporation Commission and the Attorney-General was pending in the Circuit Court of the United States when the indictment was found, that the State Court had no jurisdiction to try the case, but that all State officers, and this included judges, solicitors, and grand juries, must refrain from any criminal proceedings which would in any way interfere or conflict with the orders of the Circuit Court. The second ground upon which the prisoner was discharged by the United States Circuit Judge, was that section 4 of chapter 216 of the Public Laws of 1907 was held to be unconstitutional.

From the order of the Circuit Judge of the United States discharging the prisoner, Sheriff Hunter of Buncombe County, who had him in custody, appealed directly to the Supreme Court of the United States, and that case has been argued and awaits the Court's decision, and the question of State's rights involved in this controversy seems to be clearly presented, and nothing that the General Assembly might now do, it would seem, would affect the course or decision of the Supreme Court of the United States upon the questions involved in that case now before it. These questions, it would seem, will be determined by the Supreme Court of the United States according to the law and the facts as they existed at the time the Circuit Judge discharged the prisoner from the custody of the sheriff.

Passing the legal questions presented by the suit brought in the Circuit Court of the United States, and the other cases in which it is alleged to have been in conflict, and considering the facts as presented, or alleged in that case, and the testimony introduced, we have to report:

That the bill of complaint of the Southern Railway Company was founded upon the prediction that the rate fixed for the transportation of intrastate passengers by chapter 216 of the Public Laws of 1907, and for transporting freight as fixed by chapter 217 of the Public Laws of 1907, when applied to the tickets sold by the complainant during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, and the intrastate bills of lading issued by the complainant for that year would cause a reduction of the amount realized from the sale of these tickets and bills of lading at the old rate of $296,747.17 in the Southern Railway Company's revenue. The bill of complaint was filed before the new rates had gone into effect, and the estimated losses were not based upon experience but upon theory that there would be the losses predicted.

By reason of the injunction issued by the Circuit Judge of the United States the freight rates fixed by chapter 217 of the Public Laws of 1907, have not become effective, and it is, therefore, not possible to verify, by experience, the prediction of loss on account of the reduction of freight rates. It was estimated that of the $296,747.17, which the Southern Railway Company would have lost if the new rates had been applied to sale of tickets and bills of lading in 1906, about $21,000 would have been due to the reduction of freight rates and $275,000 would have been due to the reduction in passenger rates. The Southern Railway Company put the new passenger rate of two and a quarter cents into effect on August 8, 1907, and it is still in effect. No account was taken by the Southern Railway Company of the probable increase in the sale of intrastate passenger tickets under the new rate for the year 1907, or the increase in freight business under the rate for that year. It was assumed the business would be the same as in 1906. The passenger rate law of 1907 was put into effect on August 8 of that year on the Southern Railway Company's lines, and also on the lines of other companies, and the Southern Railway Company has closed its case in the equity suit of the Southern Railway Company against Franklin McNeill and others, except any evidence it may have to offer in rebuttal, without showing whether there had been any increase in the sale of tickets since August 8, 1907, as compared with the same period for 1906.

Your committee is informed that on December 2, 1907, the counsel for the Attorney-General made a demand in writing on the counsel for the Southern Railway Company... for a statement of receipts for intrastate passenger travel in the State of North Carolina for the 115 days after August 8, 1907, and also for the 115 days prior to August 8, 1907, and for the 115 days after August 8, 1906, and further demanded that if this statement was not produced, that at the next hearing before the Master that the counsel for the Attorney-General desired an opportunity to examine the Comptroller of the Southern Railway for the purpose of eliciting this information.

That the statement was not furnished and at the hearing that the Comptroller was not produced as a witness, and that the counsel for the Corporation Commission and Attorney-General have not yet been able to elicit this information. That under the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States the rate fixed by the passenger and freight acts of 1907, as all other legislative rates, is presumed to be fair, just and reasonable.

It is presumed that legislatures, as well as courts, respect and observe the Constitution of the United States. It is their sworn duty to do so.

This committee had before it at the regular session of 1907, in the early part of the session, bills fixing the rates on railroads doing business in North Carolina, and these bills were reported late in the session, so that the greater part of the sixty days of the session was devoted by this committee to the consideration of these matters. And it is not only a presumption of law but it is a fact that this committee reported favorably bills fixing the rates with absolute justice to the railroad companies.

The fairness of the rates fixed by the Legislature of 1907 is determined now in the light of what was then known and in the light of what has since developed, particularly in the introduction of testimony in the case of the Southern Railway Company against the Corporation Commission and the Attorney-General and his Assistant.

Since the organization of the North Carolina Corporation Commission there have been sent to railroad companies doing business in North Carolina blanks upon which to make quarterly and annual reports. These blanks were prepared by the Corporation Commission in form so that the earnings of intrastate business and of interstate business could be separately reported.

The forms prepared did not provide for the cost of doing intrastate and interstate business to be separately reported. The reason for not preparing a form for a separate statement of the cost of doing the two classes of business was that it was not supposed that this cost could be separated with any degree of accuracy.

Both interstate and intrastate freight is carried on all trains, whether they be local or through trains.

There is no way of apportioning the cost of a given train, or any number of trains, between intrastate and interstate freight or passengers carried. Certainly not without an army of clerks, which no railroad employs. No railroad company in North Carolina attempted to report the cost of doing intrastate business except the Southern Railway Company.

It was the contention of the Southern Railway Company, and it so reported, that it cost ten cents more to earn a dollar on intrastate business than on the general average of all business.

The quarterly reports of the Southern Railway Company were consolidated in the fall of 1906, so as to furnish the General Assembly at its regular session in 1907 information asked for it, by the Clerk of the North Carolina Corporation Commission. This consolidated report showed that the cost of doing intrastate business was ten cents more to earn a dollar than the general average of all business on the system of the Southern Railway Company.

It is not shown by the testimony of Mr. Plant, who was examined at length in the equity suit referred to, that he had any system for ascertaining accurately the cost of doing intrastate business. The system that he relied upon, he admitted, was not accurate. After the passage of the act of the General Assembly of North Carolina at its regular session in 1907, affecting freight and passenger rates, Mr. Plant came to the conclusion that the excess cost of doing the intrastate business was a minimum of fifteen cents more to earn a dollar than the general average for the cost of earning a dollar on the entire system. His reasons for this change of opinion are vague and unsatisfactory. After reading his testimony and that of other operative railway accountants corroborating the opinion, the committee is unable to conclude that his method of arriving at his conclusion is accurate or reliable. Indeed, his theory is, in the opinion of the committee, subject to very apparent fallacies.

It would seem clear that to take the entire revenue of the Southern Railway Company and get the operating ratio of the system by comparing these with the total cost of operation, would not help in arriving at the conclusion as to the profitableness of any particular part of the Southern Railway Company's business. In the earnings are included, of course, low freight charges on interstate business and high charges on local freight business. Much of the business of the Southern Railway Company is done upon what is known as the "Virginia City Rates," and much of it is done upon rates that are two, three, four and five times greater for local business. If there were any methods of ascertaining the extra cost of doing interstate business, then this cost ought certainly to be compared with the charges on this class of business, which are high.

The method of the Comptroller of the Southern Railway Company is to get the average cost of doing local business, and this, of course, includes the high cost of doing local business, if it does cost more to do local business than through, and adding to this average cost an arbitrary allowance for an excess cost of doing local business, which amount of arbitrary excess appears to be nothing more than a guess, and then comparing this with the general average earnings.
Another fallacy in the theory relied upon by the Southern Railway Company to establish its contention in the equity suit referred to, is that it does cost more to do local freight business than through freight business. If it be conceded that there is a difference in cost between the two classes of business it does not follow that all intrastate business is local, i. e., that it is done by trains that stop at all local stations. Indeed, it is true that much of the intrastate business is done on through trains, i. e., trains which do not stop at all local stations, but move from one terminal to another without stopping, or with but few stops. The volume of freight so moved within the State on these through trains, moving from terminal to terminal, without stopping, is summarily eliminated by the Comptroller of the Southern Railway Company in this theory.

Another serious fallacy and error in this method of arriving at results is that conditions which are alleged to apply to freight transportation, to-wit, that it costs more to do local than through business, are illogically applied to passenger business.

One chief reason why it is contended it costs more to do local freight business than through freight business, is that the local freight has to be handled more. This is certainly not true of passengers, for whether they be local or through passengers they handle themselves, and are no expense to the railroad company to load and unload them. Mr. Barr, the former President of the Seaboard Air Line Railway Company, was introduced as a witness by the Southern Railway Company in the suit in equity, and testified that it cost less to transport local passengers than through. Other witnesses testified to this also. The reason why this is true seems to be apparent, because through trains are much more expensive, and generally consist largely of Pullman coaches, the seating capacity of which is much less than the capacity of the ordinary day coach, while local trains are lighter and cheaper to operate for many reasons known to your committee and every traveler.
The contention of the railway company upon the hearing in the equity suit was that it was not profitable to do passenger business in North Carolina. The only basis for this contention was that it cost a dollar to operate a passenger train one mile. It was in testimony that this was the general opinion of all railroad men.

This cost is, in the judgment of your committee, not applicable to conditions in North Carolina. Figuring closely every item of expense in running a passenger train a mile, including interest on the equipment and investment, and a particular passenger train's part of the general expenses, the cost of operating a local passenger train a mile on the Southern Railway Company's line in North Carolina is much less than one dollar a mile. A number of witnesses of the Southern Railway Company were examined upon this point, and it sufficiently appears that the cost is not so great as the railway company alleges. It was demonstrated beyond question that it did not cost a dollar a mile to run a passenger train on the High Point, Randleman, Ashboro and Southern Railway Company. For the year ending June 30, 1906, the total income from that road was reported, as was the total expense of operation. The road was operated at a profit. The number of passenger train miles on this branch of the Southern Railway Company's line was reported. The earnings from freight and passenger business were reported separately. If the number of train miles of this road reported for the year ending June 30, 1906, is multiplied by one dollar, and the amount thus obtained is deducted from the entire cost of operations on this branch road, the remainder would, of course, be the cost of doing the freight business, provided the dollar per mile was correct; and if this remainder were correct it would appear, by comparing it with the earnings on freight, that it costs only fifteen cents to earn a dollar on the freight carried on the High Point, Randleman, Ashboro and Aberdeen branch of the Southern Railway Company. Of course it is not true, nor would the Southern Railway Company probably admit that there is eighty-five cents profit on every dollar earned for transporting freight on the High Point, Randleman, Ashboro, Aberdeen and Southern branch. This calculation, therefore, proves that it does not cost a dollar to operate trains on this road. It appears in the testimony in the equity suit that this branch line is fairly representative of other branch lines of the Southern Railway Company.

Experts in economics of the highest standing in this country, who have studied the theories and methods of ascertaining the cost of conducting railroad business, are practically unanimous, in so far as your committee has been able to learn, in their opinion that the theory advanced by Mr. Plant and by the Southern Railway Company and the other railway accountants introduced as experts to sustain Mr. Plant is utterly unsound. In the language of one of these experts, Mr. William J. Meyer, who now holds the position of statistician of the Public Service Commission of New York, it is said:

"(1) That interstate and intrastate commerce carried over the line of any common carrier within the State of North Carolina are inextricably intermingled, and no portion of the property of the carrier is wholly devoted either to interstate commerce or intrastate commerce. The property used is devoted to both kinds of commerce, and is much less than would be required if the two kinds of commerce were separately carried on, the extent of each under such separate carrying on being supposed the same as at present. The problem with regard to the remunerative or non-remunerative character of the rates prescribed is thus not what it would cost to conduct either class of commerce separately, but what is a fair apportionment of the cost of conducting both classes, and is the portion of the cost of both classes which is fairly apportionable to the interstate commerce sufficiently within the revenue to be derived therefrom at the prescribed rates to leave a margin equal to that portion of a reasonable return upon the property employed within the State of North Carolina which may fairly be demanded of the intrastate commerce.

“(2) The apportionment of the expense of operation must be upon a basis dependent upon the amounts of the two classes of commerce, and not upon the revenue derived therefrom under present rates, or expected to be derived under proposed rates. Any apportionment based upon revenue is an argument based upon the thing in question, and is thus an argument in a circle. An apportionment which is made by applying to the revenue derived from one class of commerce an operating ratio estimated to be a specific amount higher or lower than the average operating ratio of expense of both classes to revenue from both classes is doubly bad, for the reason that it is the application of a guess to a premise which itself involved the rates in question.”

If this criticism is true, then it could not be proved by advancing and supporting the theories of the Southern Railway Company that the legislative rates in North Carolina are confiscatory.

It is admitted by the Southern Railway Company that the average cost of earning a dollar on all its business in North Carolina is much less than the average cost of earning a dollar on its entire system. The operating ratio in North Carolina in 1906, as reported by the Southern Railway Company in round numbers, was 64 per cent., while on the system it was in round numbers 71 per cent. There is much testimony in the record in the equity suit referred to tending to show, and which your committee believes logically does show, that the legislative rate established by the General Assembly of North Carolina, at its regular session in 1907, as to passenger and freight, is not confiscatory. A large portion of the testimony, particularly a large part of the testimony of Mr. H. C. Brown, Clerk of the North Carolina Corporation Commission, was available to your committee in its investigation during the legislative session in 1907.

Nothing has appeared to your committee at this special session, or since the adjournment of the regular session, to cause it to change its opinion that the rates recommended by it to the House of Representatives at its regular session in 1907 were confiscatory.

Summarizing the foregoing, your committee has to say:

First. That the questions of conflict of jurisdiction between the State and Federal authorities have been passed upon by the Supreme Court of North Carolina favorably to the State, and are now presented in an orderly way to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Second. That, in so far as your committee is able to determine, the Circuit Court of the United States is without jurisdiction to entertain the equity suits instituted to enjoin the going into operation of the rates established by the regular session of the General Assembly in 1907, and that, therefore, the taking of testimony before the Master will finally go for nothing, as he was without jurisdiction or power to hear the matter involved.

Third. That if special powers were conferred upon the North Carolina Corporation Commission with respect to freight and passenger rates, a suit might then be brought against it which would prevent the Commission from performing any special duties imposed upon it, and, therefore, whether such a suit could be entertained would depend upon the provisions of the legislative act which is called in question.

Fourth. That the rates established by the Acts of the General Assembly of 1907 are not shown by the evidence in the case to be confiscatory.

Fifth. That the said rates are shown by the evidence in the equity suit not to be confiscatory.

MANNING, Chairman,
For the Committee.
A message is received from the Senate transmitting the following bills, which are read the first time and disposed of as follows:

S. B. 88, H. B. 181, a bill to be entitled an act to amend section 210 of the Revisal of 1905, so as to permit R. S. Folger, a justice of the peace of Surry County, to practice law and remain a justice of the peace.

Referred to Committee on Judiciary No. 1.

S. B. 8, H. B. 182, a bill to be entitled an act to authorize the School Committee of Raleigh Township to submit the question to the voters of said township of levying a special tax for the public schools of Raleigh Township, and to authorize the board of county commissioners to levy and collect said taxes.

Referred to Committee on Calendar Bills.

S. B. 10, H. B. 183, a bill to be entitled an act to incorporate the town of Webster, in the county of Jackson.

Referred to Committee on Counties, Cities and Towns.

S. B. 9, H. B. 180, a bill to be entitled an act to enable the city of Charlotte to fund its floating indebtedness, provide for the payment of its future indebtedness for necessary expenses, and to authorize the city to levy taxes to meet the payment of the same.

Referred to Committee on Calendar Bills.

S. B. 6, H. B. 184, a bill to be entitled an act to amend the charter of the city of Kinston.

Referred to Committee on Counties, Cities and Towns.

S. B. 4, H. B. 185, a bill to be entitled an act to amend the charter of the city of Monroe.

Referred to Committee on Calendar Bills.

S. B. 76, H. B. 186, a bill to be entitled an act to amend chapter 581, Public Laws of 1899, relating to the road law of the township of Warrenton, in Warren County.

Referred to Committee on Public Roads and Turnpikes.
S. B. 41, H. B. 187, a bill to be entitled an act to regulate the writing of prescriptions in Gaston County.

Referred to Committee on Regulation of the Liquor Traffic.

S. B. 31, H. B. 188, a bill to be entitled an act to prevent traveling salesmen from soliciting orders or proposals for the purchase of intoxicating liquors in prohibition territory in North Carolina.

Referred to Committee on Judiciary No. 1.

S. B. 29, H. B. 189, a bill to be entitled an act to empower the Trustees of Pleasant Retreat Academy, Lincoln County, to lease certain property.

Referred to Committee on Education.

S. B. 28, H. B. 190, a bill to be entitled an act for the relief of George B. McLeod, ex-Sheriff of Robeson County.

Referred to Committee on Calendar Bills.

S. B. 20, H. B. 191, a bill to be entitled an act to validate certain probates of conveyance.

Referred to Committee on Judiciary No. 2.

S. B. 18, H. B. 193, a bill to be entitled an act to incorporate the Palm Club, of Wilmington.

Referred to Committee on Corporations.

S. B. 5, H. B. 179, a bill to be entitled an act amendatory of the act establishing the Spring Hope Graded School District.

Referred to Committee on Education.

S. B. 83, H. B. 178, a bill to be entitled an act to amend chapter 612 of the Public Laws of 1907, relative to Rockingham County.

Placed on the Calendar.

S. B. 42, H. B. 196, a bill to be entitled an act to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in North Carolina.

Referred to Committee on Regulation of the Liquor Traffic.

S. B. 82, H. B. 197, a bill to be entitled an act for the relief of R. M. Echols.

Referred to Committee on Public Health.

Also a message transmitting the statement of the Attorney-General as to expenses of rate litigation, which are read and ordered spread on the Journal of the House.

State of North Carolina,
Executive Department,
Raleigh, January 27, 1908.

To the Honorable, the Members of the House of Representatives.

Gentlemen:—Understanding that members of the House of Representatives desire to see the correspondence between me as Governor and the various railroads, relative to agreement made between the State and the railroads, subject to your approval, I desire to state that I have all these letters on file in my office, constituting as they do a record of the office, and if anyone desires to see or get a copy of any letter or letters, I most cordially invite them to come to my office and examine the entire record, and I will gladly furnish them any and all parts of the record that they may wish. In addition to this, it will give me pleasure to give them any personal information that I may have outside of letters on file, as it is my desire that every member should have all the information possible in regard to this matter from the commencement of the proceedings up to the present time.

Also, I have been approached as to an agreement signed by me with the Governors of other States. No such agreement was ever made, but I am proud to say that the agreement made by me with the railroads met the cordial approval of the Governors of other States, and has already been accepted by their respective Corporation Commissions and approved by the Governors of these States.

Again extending a courteous invitation to all to inspect the record of this office in connection with this question, and assuring each member of my earnest desire to aid him by furnishing all the information at my command, I am,

Very respectfully,

(Signed) R. B. Glenn,
Governor.

January 27, 1908.

To the Honorable, the Members of the House of Representatives.

Gentlemen:—As required by law, I herewith transmit to you statement of the Attorney-General of North Carolina, containing amount of services and expenses growing out of the railroad rate legislation.

In addition to the letter of the Attorney-General, I desire to say that, when settlement was being considered, I could only estimate the cost, and placed the amount at $17,500. Since then, owing to the delay and the continuance of the equity suit, additional fees for attorneys, typewriting, printing records and briefs, have been incurred, the bills for which have not yet been paid, which will make the estimate of the Attorney-General about right in my judgment, or perhaps the whole may amount to a little more than he states.

Respectfully submitted,

R. B. Glenn,
Governor.
To the General Assembly of North Carolina:

Application having been made to the office of Attorney-General for a complete itemized list of legal services and expenses incurred in all litigation growing out of the railroad rate regulation, we beg to submit the following:

Total expenditures on account Railroad Rate Cases to date $12,934.75

Inasmuch as many of the lawyers above named have not been paid in full for services rendered, and inasmuch as the stenographers in the case have not been paid in full, nor have the expenses of the Corporation Commission, nor the expense of printing the record, together with many other incidental costs, fees and expenses which have not yet been paid, it is impossible at this time to give a definite statement of the actual cost incurred; but we can state positively that the expenses growing out of this railroad rate case will exceed the sum of $21,000, and may probably be more than that.

Respectfully submitted,

R. D. Gilmer,
Attorney-General.

Hayden Clement,
Assistant Attorney-General.

SPECIAL ORDER.

The hour for the special order having arrived, the Speaker lays before the House H. B. 248, substitute for H. B. 62, H. B. 131, H. B. 136, by Mr. Weaver for the committee, together with the minority report of Messrs. Manning, Lockhart and others, also a substitute by the minority of the committee consisting of Messrs. Yount and Johnston of Caswell, the same being bills and substitutes of the Committee on Public Service Corporations, relating to the maximum charges that railroads may make for transporting passengers, amending chapter 216 of the Public Laws of North Carolina, Session of 1907.

Pending discussion of the same, the House, on motion of Mr. Douglass, takes a recess until 8 o’clock to-night.
Evening Session.

Pursuant to recess, the House meets at 8 o'clock, with Mr. Morton, Speaker pro tem., in the chair.

Mr. Park rises to a question of personal privilege concerning a newspaper article concerning the report as to his position upon the bill authorizing the Governor to employ counsel in the freight rate matter before the Interstate Commerce Commission, and making an appropriation of five thousand dollars therefor, in that the papers intimate that he followed the minority, when in fact his position was upon the merits of the bill.

Mr. Kitchin makes a similar statement.

The House resumes consideration of the special order, it being H. B. 248, substitute for Nos. 62, 131 and 136, with minority reports and substitutes, relating to the railroad passenger rate.

Mr. Winborne sends forward a substitute for all pending measures, giving notice that he will discuss the merits thereof at the proper time.

Pending discussion of the same, the House, on motion of Mr. Winborne, adjourns to meet to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

NINTH DAY.

The Journal of yesterday is read and approved.

Leave of absence is granted as follows: Mr. Pitt.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR:

A message is received from his Excellency, Governor R. B. Glenn, which is ordered spread upon the Journal:

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
RALEIGH, FEBRUARY 1, 1908.

To the Honorable, the General Assembly of North Carolina.

Gentlemen:—I have nothing further to transmit to your honorable body. Your work is done, and well done, and you deserve and will receive the plaudits of a grateful people.
In settling the rate question on a basis just to the State and equitable to the railroads, you have restored harmony, protected all business interests and demonstrated the fact that the sovereign can compel obedience from its creatures that disobey its laws, and also extend its hand in helpfulness when the subject, acknowledging its allegiance, asks for needed assistance. The State has ratified the agreement made with the railroads, and I feel assured that the railroads will in good faith fully carry out their contract made with me, thus showing by their acts the verity of their words when they profess a desire for kindly relations between all classes and conditions. You likewise acted wisely in appropriating funds needed for litigation before the Interstate Commerce Commission, to prevent freight discriminations against our State, as well as in passing other laws much needed for the State's upbuilding, but in all you did, protecting the small roads against burdens that they could not bear, thus encouraging the building of new lines into undeveloped territory.

Asked by the Anti-saloon League, and believing myself that, since over 80 per cent. of the entire territory of the State had already endorsed prohibition, it would be too costly and only engender strife to have a general election throughout the State, I, in my message, favored State prohibition by the Legislature. In your judgment, however, you thought it best to submit the question to the vote of the State, and I cheerfully approve your course, and now offer my services as a volunteer to carry your law before the people and ask them by their votes to ratify what you have enacted. In my judgment, State prohibition will win by an immense majority, and will prove the greatest blessing that has ever been given our people. No Legislature in the history of the State, in so short a time, and in extra session, ever did so much for the people as you have done, and while at first a few may doubt the wisdom of some laws passed, yet I believe that very soon all will see the good sense and patriotism that has marked your entire course, and will heartily approve and ratify your legislation.
I thank you most sincerely for your endorsement of my course in trying to settle this complex rate question, as well as for the consideration shown me in debate, even by those who did not agree with my views.

I wish for each of you a safe and pleasant journey home-ward, expressing the hope that you will find your loved ones well and happy, and that you will receive, as you deserve, not only the approval of your own conscience, but also the commendation of the people whom you have so faithfully served.

With good will towards all, I bid each a kind good-bye.

Respectfully,

R. B. Glenn,
Governor.
