Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

Before proceeding with the recommendations which I appear before you to make, I desire to extend to the membership of your honorable body my very hearty congratulations upon the opportunity before you to commence the New Year by service to North Carolina. The opportunity before you to serve the State and its people is almost boundless. You succeed the greatest General Assembly which has assembled in the United States in forty years. Many of its members, rich in service and experience and strong in the gratitude of their countrymen, have been returned with you. May I especially congratulate them upon their return, and say that I am deeply thankful that the State will again have the benefit of their courage, wisdom and experience in legislation.

The State expects much from you, gentlemen. You were selected by the people to carry on for them the most progressive program ever undertaken in a Southern State of this Republic. I am sure you will not disappoint the high expectations of your people and listen to the lamentations of the expiring Reactionary. His piteous outcry will be heard again as soon as the breath knocked out of him by the last election can be recovered. He will use the same arguments he has employed for a thousand years, and will continue to use until enlightenment and progress have evoluted him into the glorious realm of the Progressive. We must make North Carolina do the duty of a great and enlightened State. The Reactionary has been crushingly defeated in North Carolina, and the Progressive ordered to lead North Carolina forward.

We must go. The way is not so dark as it was two years ago, and the road is not beset with so many dangers as that over which your predecessors lead North Carolina to glory everlasting. If the same resolute determination and wisdom in interpreting and declaring the will of the people dominate your body as dominated the last General Assembly, the victory over the Reactionary, who would put North Carolina in the bondage of ignorance and inefficiency to the enlightenment and efficiency of other States and countries, will be complete and final.
Gentlemen, I appeal to you not to falter. We cannot go on unless you lead the way. The weakness of our American system of government has been the failure of the States to discharge the high duties placed upon them under our great American scheme of government. We can never have good government in this country until the States exercise their great powers, or "rights," to give modern and up-to-date, progressive government in the States. North Carolina has the power to destroy every weakness which affects us, except such as is the common heritage of humanity. But it can only exercise this power through your honorable body. We have written glorious chapters in our country's history for States' "rights," which are States' powers. Now the period has come for us to show equal nobility in the use of States' rights or powers. We must use the power for progress and righteousness if we expect to keep the power.

What must we do to progress? Fortify and extend the great program of the last General Assembly in every particular, and especially do I urge that you go forward in the Health, Educational, Welfare, Agricultural Experiment and Extension, and Road Building parts of the program.

INSTITUTIONS FOR DEFECTIVES AND UNFORTUNATE, AND FOR HIGHER LEARNING

The last General Assembly authorized the issue of six million and seven hundred thousand dollars of bonds to enlarge our institutions for the State's unfortunate and defective people, and for our institutions for higher learning.

I have caused the Department of Commerce of the University of North Carolina to make us a calculation to show what sum placed at interest at 4 1/2 per cent would redeem these bonds. The sum required will be sixty-two thousand five hundred and ninety-nine dollars ($62,599) annually. I urge you to take from the general revenues of the State this small sum and place it in a sinking fund for their redemption.

I hope you will, "in round numbers," duplicate the program of the last General Assembly for permanent improvement at these great institutions for our defective and unfortunate people and for higher learning. Our revenue prospects will amply justify it.

This sacred work must go on, gentlemen. Our defective and unfortunate must be cared for. Our institutions for higher learning must be further enlarged to take care of the ever-increasing thousands our common schools are graduating annually. We can afford it.

Our new system of taxation under the able administration of Colonel A. D. Watts has produced ample revenue to meet the relatively large appropriations of the last General Assembly, including all interest charges. We stood up for God and humanity in a trying hour two years ago, and God blessed North Carolina above almost every State in the Union. The revenue account will show the largest surplus, when credited with the railroad taxes which have not been paid, and with the income taxes for this year, which could not be computed and collected until after the end of the year, in the history of the State.

If you issue new bonds for the purpose now under discussion, I also urge a full sinking fund from the general revenues of the State for their redemption. Sixty-two thousand five hundred and ninety-nine dollars ($62,599) set aside annually will redeem a duplication of the last General Assembly's glorious work for these institutions. The small sum of one hundred twenty-five thousand one hundred and ninety-eight dollars ($125,198) set aside annually will redeem both issues. It is not much for the good it will do. Twelve and one-half per cent of the tax paid on insurance premiums in the State will pay it. There will be many taxpayers in the State who will pay enough taxes each to pay it.

We can easily carry the interest on the full amount under our present revenue bill without any increase in taxation.

May I, gentlemen, for the broken and defective of every description, and of both races, appeal to you to let North Carolina do the duty of an enlightened and Christian State to its feeble-minded children, its thousands of insane, its poor suffering tubercular people, its blind, its crippled children, its wrecked and morally delinquent girls and boys, and to those who cannot speak or hear or see.

Those who will pay the tax under the new revenue bill will approve. Those who believe in the religion of the Christian will approve.

May I also, gentlemen, appeal to you on behalf of the children, the boys and girls of North Carolina, to go forward with the additional bonds for the educational institutions for higher learning. It will not be an expenditure in the ordinary sense, but an investment which will yield profit more than any other the State could make. I urge at least a duplication of the last General Assembly's provision for the common school system of the State.

We must not falter. We have the strength to take the next step in our outlined six-year program. God carried us through the dark period when we could not see the way, and by His goodness gave us the strength to go on and take the next step.

ROAD PROGRAM

We must go on with the road program. The people expect it. We are able to go on.

I most earnestly recommend that you authorize the issue of fifteen millions additional bonds to round out the system, and place an additional tax of two cents per gallon on gasoline.

I then recommend that you set up a sinking fund of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) per year to be applied to the payment of the bonds when due; one half of it from the general revenue of the State and the other half from the automobile and gasoline tax. This will not be adequate for the redemption of the whole sixty-five millions, but it will go about half-way. The first bonds are serial, and commence to fall due in ten years in equal installments, and of course will require a much larger sinking fund than if they were all forty-year bonds. I think the new bonds ought to be forty-year bonds. With a sinking fund of five hundred thousand dollars annually we can redeem part of the bonds and refund the others, if we do not want to pay all. But my confident hope is that our revenue will justify enlarging this fund from time to time until it will be adequate for their redemption. But the sinking fund mentioned will be sufficient to place the whole transaction on a very high plane, and will not oppress anybody or embarrass the State's revenues.
The revenues from the automobile and gasoline tax for six months of this year amounted to $3,222,741.71. It will go over four millions for the full year, without the increase in gasoline tax recommended.

We will require the two cent additional tax on gasoline to help pay the interest on the new bond issue, contribute to the sinking fund and maintain the roads.

I do not think it necessary to debate the road program. It is approved by the sovereign people. The benefits are universally recognized.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS LIMITING THE STATE’S DEBT, AND PROTECTING THE SINKING FUND

I most earnestly recommend an amendment to the Constitution of the State limiting the power of the State to contract indebtedness to 5 per cent of the assessed value of the State’s property; and a second amendment that when the General Assembly sets up a sinking fund no succeeding General Assembly shall divert it to any other purpose. I am sure, gentlemen, that these amendments ought to be submitted to the people, and that with this done and the sinking fund suggested set up, we will be able to safely carry through the whole progressive program upon a lower interest basis than without them.

And then a good many of our best citizens fear that without a limitation on the State’s power to contract debt we might go too far some time. The sinking fund statutes should confine the investment of it to the bonds of the United States, the States and sub-divisions, but should prohibit loaning it to any department of the State Government. It would be safe to permit buying in our own bonds and holding them as other bonds are held.

But, gentlemen, I do not think the duty of your body will be fully met by fortifying and extending the program so gloriously inaugurated by your great predecessor, splendid as that would undoubtedly be. There are other things we must do if we are true to the great spirit of progress under which we are moving.

COMPLETED PROGRAM FOR THE CONTINUED PROGRESS OF THE STATE SUGGESTED

I make the following further recommendations, gentlemen, which I think will “round out” as complete a program for the State’s development and upbuilding as I can now vision.

GAME AND COMMERCIAL FISH INDUSTRY

We ought to replenish our great streams throughout the State with game fish, and give modern and up-to-date cultivation to our fish, oyster and other sea-food industries.

The North Carolina inland navigable waters are the finest in the Republic for sea foods, if not in the world. They belong to the State of North Carolina, subject to the United States Government’s rights in navigation upon them. My descriptive powers are insufficient to convey to those of you who are not familiar with them a general conception of the immensity of these waters.
Currituck, Croatan, Roanoke, Albemarle and Pamlico Sounds, knit together by the inland canal, constitute a great body of water from four to twenty-five miles wide that would reach from here to Shelby. Pamlico Sound is the largest one in the United States, not quite so long as Long Island, but with more water. Running into these waters are great rivers, like the Roanoke, the Neuse, the Pamlico, the Chowan, the Bay, the Pungo, and many others, with bays' and other little sounds too numerous to mention.

The fisheries upon them were once possibly the most valuable in the United States. Hundreds of thousands of acres of these waters are happily mixed with salt, and make the home of the oyster. Sea-foods of every variety known to our climate are to be found within them. Below Morehead we have other great waters: the New River in Onslow and the grand old Cape Fear. These waters are the property of North Carolina. From them we ought to receive a great State revenue, and the people in twenty-four or five counties in North Carolina ought to gather immense riches from them. The area covered by these waters is the most valuable property in this State, except that upon which our towns and cities stand, with the artificial wealth placed upon them in great buildings, etc. There is no other land in our State of as great value, and from which so much wealth can be produced as that covered by these immense sounds, bays and rivers.

We are neglecting this property. Before we placed any police power over them our friends to the north of us came down and in fleets of as many as seventy or eighty boats at a trip dredged our streams of the oysters. They took them North and planted them in Chesapeake Bay and elsewhere. We have stopped that, but we were too late about it.

We have allowed most of the inlets to close up and shut the sea-fish from the sounds and rivers. Prosperous sections there have been almost prostrated by it.

Our fishing industry can be revived with little expense. The oyster waters can be replenished and an oyster culture started there that will tremendously contribute to the enrichment of the whole State, and produce a great State revenue. Oysters can be planted over wide parts of the area mentioned for eight or ten cents per bushel. They will yield in three years five bushels for each one planted. But when culled according to modern knowledge of the industry, and only the large ones taken out, they not only yield five bushels but form a culture which will never end, if properly looked after. This ought to be done.

It has been done elsewhere, as well as here, with complete success. It is no longer an experiment: it has been tested out, and we ought to plant a million bushels of oysters annually for three years in these waters. It would take three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) to do it, but no individual has an opportunity to make such an investment as that would be to North Carolina. We received twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) in oyster fees last year at two cents a bushel, with the small area and sorry culture we now have there. We would not only get our money back in revenues to the State, but an immense profit and an enlarged culture there on modern, scientific and up-to-date lines that would yield for all time great riches to the people of that section.
We ought to open the inlets and let the fish and the salt water into our sounds and rivers in greater abundance. It can be done economically.

Facts and figures have been placed before the Budget Commission about it, and will be placed before the appropriate committees of your body. Details and particulars cannot be easily dealt with here, but in an orderly way they will be presented through your committees to you.

These waters are not only valuable for oyster and fish, but for clams, crabs, scallops; by the way, these scallops are now bringing three dollars a gallon, and the State received eleven thousand dollars ($11,000) in revenue from the fees charged and received for gathering scallops there last year. The scallop crop gathered and sold from Morehead City was worth more than the cotton crop of Carteret County last year.

All North Carolina is interested in the proper conservation and improvement of the fish, oyster and other sea-food waters which belong to the State. It will take about $100,000 to open the inlets which ought to be opened down there, including the waters in Onslow County, which, while still open, are subject to obstructions which do not permit enough salt water to go up New River, and are affecting one of the finest natural oyster homes in the world.

We ought to raise fish in the non-navigable streams of the State, which, while not the property of North Carolina, yet call for the exercise of our police power and to which the State ought to give modern and up-to-date attention.

We have the finest inland waterways in the Republic, all things considered; both the navigable and non-navigable waters. They are diffused over such a wide area of the State and into almost every section. I call your attention to some maps which I have caused to be prepared by Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, State Geologist, with the kind assistance in coloring and printing them of the State Highway Commission. If you will permit me, I am going to have one put up in each House of your honorable body for your inspection. Please examine it. I think you will be proud of our waters.

In these non-navigable rivers, and in many of the navigable ones, we have allowed the game fish to become almost extinct. The other great States of the Union are filling their streams, navigable and non-navigable, with game fish. The cost is small, and the pleasure and food value to the people immense. The unenlightened Reactionary thinks this is all foolishness because he is not informed of the wonderful work being done in other States. In many of them twenty-five or thirty hatcheries are being operated.

An ordinary game fish hatchery can be set up on any of our rivers for about four thousand dollars ($4,000) each, and operated by a hundred and twenty-five-dollar a month employee. We ought to move up to date and abreast of the times, and put a little fish hatchery upon every river in the State. Let the man who runs it be a fish policeman for the waters round about, and look to the enforcing of the law. We ought to charge a tax of $1 annually on fishing in North Carolina with hook and line off one's own premises, to help finance it. Some of the States raise large sums of money from such a tax. Some of them charge more than one dollar.
I most earnestly advise an investment of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) in the opening of our inlets, planting oysters, building and operating hatcheries, including hatcheries upon the streams of Central and Western North Carolina. The industry will easily finance itself, and carry the interest after we get under way.

I most earnestly recommend that this General Assembly provide, not for wasting money or burdening this State with expense, but for making an investment in the conservation of North Carolina's valuable property which it will be shamefully wasteful not to make. We allowed the most valuable inlet to the fisheries of Eastern North Carolina to close up when, if we had expended five thousand dollars to prevent it five years ago, it could have been saved. It will now cost fifty thousand dollars to open it. It ought to be done, and if it is done, wealth in fish and salt water necessary to the life of the clam and oyster and kindred industries would pour into our sounds and rivers that would more than pay for it the first year.

Another great inlet is about to close which a few thousand dollars will save.

I urge action by this General Assembly, complete and sufficient not only for the protection and proper culture of the great commercial fish and sea-food sounds and rivers of the east, but which will replenish the streams all through Western North Carolina with game fish, and furnish protection for them.

The game fish will add immensely to the already wonderful attractions of our State to the tourist and pleasure seeker, and thereby increase our wealth. This applies to the east as well as the west.

We ought to have three additional departments or agencies of State Government: A Department of Commerce and Industry, a Department of Banking, a Department of Water Transportation, to be known as "The North Carolina Ship and Port Commission."

With your kind indulgence we will consider them in the order named.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY

We ought to make every important group of our people feel that it has a seat and a representative in the company of those who are directing the executive and administrative branch of the government. We have already set up the Department of Agriculture, the Department of Labor, and the Fisheries Commission. They have all justified their establishment. What these departments have done for agriculture, labor and the fish industry, a Department of Commerce and Industry could do for our commerce, manufactories, and industries other than farming.

We wisely give first consideration to our farmers and our laboring people, but we should not longer appear to keep from our highest councils that great group of our people engaged in commerce, manufacturing and industries other than farming. This group now pays most of the tax from which we meet the growing expenses of the State Government.

The department would not cost much. It would be paid for largely by the commercial and manufacturing classes. And it is necessary for the best and broadest development of our commercial and manufacturing life.

It would gather data and information upon which our hundreds of patriotic Chambers of Commerce and other commercial organizations could advertise our State's advantages in commerce and manufacturing. It would gather data and find our weaknesses, and help lead to their remedies.

It would co-ordinate the activities of our Chambers of Commerce and other commercial bodies throughout the State upon matters of State-wide importance to commerce and industry.

It would be of very direct benefit to the whole State by the practical declaration its establishment would make that North Carolina is friendly to commerce and industry.

The farmer and laborer would not complain of the small cost of the department because they know of the tremendous revenue derived from the manufacturing and commercial classes. The surest way to reduce tax on the farmer in any county is to bring industry to help him pay the tax.

May I earnestly urge you, gentlemen of the General Assembly, to establish the Department of Commerce and Industry, and let us place an able secretary at the head of it to give our commercial and manufacturing people the service which every enlightened and progressive government is now accoring them, and as a declaration to all the world that North Carolina is hospitable to commerce, manufacturing and industry of every class, as well as to agriculture and labor.

A BANKING DEPARTMENT

We ought to establish in my judgment, without delay, a Banking Department, and place an able commissioner at the head of it. It is of the very highest importance that we should have up-to-date and competent supervision and inspection of the banks doing business in the State. It is most important to the people who furnish the deposits. It is important to the banks.

This duty is now with the Corporation Commission. It does not cost the taxpayers anything. The banks pay for it, and they ought to have such service as would give them the highest possible standing and credit. They are not getting it.

The great mass of the people do not know we have bank supervision and control because it is under a commission not associated with this duty in the public mind. The Corporation Commission is composed of three splendid gentlemen, but without experience which would fit them for this work. Their other official duties are great enough for any three men.

We ought to have a commissioner of Banking in the State of such standing and experience that when he says a bank is all right, our people can put their money in it with confidence and security. This thing done right would tremendously increase the credit of our banks in the great money centers, and enable our banks to give our people the benefit of their greater capacity to re-discount the credits to our people.

I very earnestly hope that personal consideration will not be allowed to enter into this very vital matter. The gentlemen composing the Corporation Commission are very superior men, but if they keep the railroads doing business in the State under proper regulation and control, by exercise of their own power and by fighting our battles before the Interstate Commerce Commission, and then regulate justly and intelligently the price of all public utilities, I am quite sure they will earn their salaries and the gratitude of the State.

Three men, however able, cannot possibly properly discharge all the duties now placed upon the three men composing the Corporation Commission. I very earnestly recommend that all their power over banks be transferred to a bank commissioner, and that the banks be required to pay, as they do now, the entire cost of their supervision and control.

SHIP AND PORT COMMISSION DEPARTMENT OF WATER TRANSPORTATION

Water transportation is cheaper than rail transportation. This is recognized by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and most basic freight-rate points are water towns where rail meets water competition. From such basic points the freight rate is radiated to the interior points by a combination of the rate to the basic point plus the local rate from the basic point to the destination of the freight. Under the law the interstate rate cannot exceed the combination to the basic point plus the rate from there to the destination of the freight. So, water transportation is desirable to any State, not because of its own cheapness alone, but because it makes cheaper rail freight rates to all the towns with water transportation and to all towns nearer to them than to any other basic freight rate, or water transportation town.

Our freight rates are nearly all based on the rates to the Virginia cities plus the rates from the Virginia cities to our towns. This results in a high freight rate from and to North Carolina, and in our being commercially hand-cuffed by Virginia cities, because we cannot get freight from or to anywhere without paying the rate to the Virginia cities plus the rate from such Virginia city to the North Carolina town to or from which the freight moves. We are allowed a certain deduction called a "differential," that is a small crumb thrown to us in recognition of our enslaved condition. Through this system we have largely builded the Virginia cities and in commercial life they call us, and we are known as, "their territory."

We have no basic freight rate points in North Carolina. All rates are hoisted to us from some other more fortunate State. So we must do business necessarily as the bondmen of the States where the base of our freight rates is situated.

We have no water transportation worthy of the name. So we have no basic freight rate towns, because there is no water competition.

When we demand equality we are told conditions are different and that we have all we are entitled to under the law; that our water transportation is merely potential and not actual; that there is no water transportation for the railroads to meet, and therefore, they have not asked for cheap rates to any North Carolina city; that the cheapest basic rates near us are the Virginia cities' rates, and, therefore, they base our rates on them, which is all we are entitled to. They give us a little "tip" called a "differential," and tell us to get out.

We are helpless, and will be forever unless we make our water competition actual instead of merely potential.
What are we going to do about it? Remain Virginia territory, or become free and independent? I am for freedom. The Reactionary and the railroad lobbyist will whisper you cannot achieve it; you have always been slaves commercially and must remain so.

The railroads doing business in North Carolina could not help us if they desired to, because they would be stopped as Henry Ford was by the Interstate Commerce Commission when he tried to cut rates on his own railroad. But we can produce such a change in our basic condition that the railroads doing business in our State will beg the Interstate Commerce Commission to let them reduce rates on the Hornets Nest State to save them from destruction, and they will tell the Commission that conditions are such that they are entitled to the relief. They will be, and they will get it.

How can we do this? By establishing water competition in the towns and cities of our State situated where it can be established, of a character so dangerous that the railroads will ask the Interstate Commerce Commission to let them meet it. This is exactly what made the cheap rates everywhere they exist. This is the way the Virginia cities acquired the rates with which they long ago "hand-cuffed us."

Suppose we establish water transportation from Wilmington, Fayetteville, New Bern, Washington, Edenton, Elizabeth City, Belhaven, Morehead City, Beaufort, Southport, and other water towns, with barges and small boats feeding them from twenty-five counties situated on navigable waters. What would happen? The water rates would be very much cheaper than railroad rates. The Interstate Commerce Commission could not help it, and would not desire to. The boats would take the freight cheap to the water towns, and it would go out over our good roads on trucks for seventy-five miles around. The incoming freight would land on the cheap water rates in the town, and for a radius of seventy-five miles our people on our own good roads with trucks would go in and get it.

About this time our railroad friends would commence to "holler for help." We need not worry about the freight rates. They would go to the Interstate Commerce Commission with great lamentations, crying out that the good roads and trucks and water competition were ruining them; that they must be allowed to lower rates and treat their former slaves like freemen and the equal of Virginians and Marylanders. I hope the Commission will have mercy on them and give them their legal right to meet competition and fight for their life. When the cheap rail rates are established they will, as a matter of law, radiate to every point nearer to them than the Virginia cities.

I urge this General Assembly to set up for all the people of the State water competition with the railroads. This is the way all cheap rail rates have been obtained. We can do it. We must do it, if we are to have an equal chance with the other seaboard states in commerce.

We create on our farms and in our factories more tonnage than any state from Pennsylvania, going south, to Texas. We move less of our tonnage to market from our own waters than any seaboard state. We have a long seaboard front, and more miles of navigable inland sounds and rivers than other states in the Union. Why not use them?

Along these waters are the finest farms in the Union, paying $5.00 per bale to get cotton to Boston or New York, from where it can be sent to France, Germany, or England for less than $1.25 per bale. Capable of producing enough food stuff to feed Massachusetts, but unable to move it on account of heavy freight rates and sorry rail service.

We must strike. The times are propitious for heroic action. The world, for the first time, is full of cheap ships. The dangers of old Hatteras are destroyed by the completion of the Inland Canal from Boston to Morehead City. Our tonnage is immense, in spite of all our difficulties. The railroads are trying now to raise rates on us to an amount vaulting into the millions annually. The danger is ominous. Maxwell, and the other members of the Corporation Commission, with Judge Clark, formerl of the Interstate Commerce Commission, as chief counsel, are making a great fight, but the issue is in doubt. We are fortunate in having the brilliant Maxwell to lead this fight.

Eastern North Carolina is an agricultural and commercial section. It is hand-cuffed commercially.

Give me, gentlemen, two millions of dollars to establish some North Carolina State-owned terminal facilities, and to purchase a fleet of ships; then give me the authority to operate them, and I promise you to save the State more money annually than it costs to run the State government now, and to make it commercially free and independent.

I appeal to you to create the North Carolina Ship and Port Commission, with appropriate and ample powers to acquire terminals by lease or purchase, and to acquire and operate a fleet of passenger and commerce-carrying ships.

We should act without delay. The cheap ships can be had now, and it is important to act promptly.

Let me appoint the commissioners, and the Senate confirm them. I promise you a great commission.

Let the bonds issue when the commission say in writing to the Governor and Council of State that they are ready to proceed.

If you think caution requires it, insert a provision that if the commission finds it cannot arrange the practical details in a way their judgment approves, they may report their findings to the Governor and Council of State, and they may, if they think wise, suspend further action until the next meeting of your honorable body.

They say, "Give us the details." We are ready to place them before your committee, when appointed, through practical men acquainted with the situation, the waters, the ships, and freight rates.

Water transportation and good roads and truck transportation, competing with rail transportation will save this State more money before the first serial bond is due, ten years from their issue, than both the roads and ship company will cost the State, and in addition, build ten cities in the Eastern and Cape Fear section of the State.

You hazard little, and the possibilities are immense. The hazard is two millions, and the prospects, ten millions profit annually. But we could not lose anything like two millions before we quit.

I am satisfied the boat line would pay in its direct operating account, and I know it would if the North Carolina Corporation Commission will use its undoubted power in making rail rates from the water towns into the State.
The Interstate Commerce Commission, if it will, can force through joint bills of lading to be issued, and if they did, as I believe they would, the boat line would make more money until the railroads gave us justice in freight than any corporation of like size in the State.

Gentlemen of the General Assembly, we can win with the boat line and State-owned port facilities, and I beg your prompt consideration of the whole subject.

If we cannot find relief through this plan, then I urge you to evolve from your own councils a plan through which we can be relieved from the difficulties I have mentioned. The duty of finding a remedy is yours, not mine. I offer my best thought on the subject. If you do not approve my recommendation, then I beg you to give the State a better one.

Our commerce must not forever languish. We must not forever remain Virginia territory commercially.

PERORATION

Gentlemen, I have finished. These are my recommendations, accompanied with my reasons for making them.

Whatever you may do with them, please consider them as the very soul of a Governor who loves his State, and whose chief passion is for greater strength, power, goodness and glory for North Carolina.

Upon the conclusion of the address of his Excellency, the Governor, the Clerks of the Senate and the House called the rolls of their respective bodies.

Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

Your Special Committee appointed to investigate the financial condition of the State beg leave to report that after ten days careful study and investigation it is unable to report to you at this time the definite financial condition of the State or the definite relation between its current revenues and current operating expenses. In order to determine these matters definitely the committee is of the opinion that a detailed audit of the books and accounts of the State is necessary. The committee has employed a competent firm of accountants to ascertain the necessary information and figures.

These accountants have advised the committee that it will be impossible for them to complete their audit and prepare a certified current balance sheet of the State Government and a supporting current surplus account within the time limited for the duration of this session of the General Assembly. They believe such information and data will not be available until April 1, 1923.

Respectfully submitted,

Long,
Murphy,
For Committee.

Senator Harris of Wake sends forward a report of the commission appointed by the General Assembly to visit certain colonization settlements in New Hanover County.

REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMITTEE OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY THAT VISITED THE CITY OF WILMINGTON AND THE CASTLE HAYNE COLONIZATION DEVELOPMENT ON FEBRUARY 17

The committee respectfully makes the following report:

That the inspection which this committee made of the Castle Hayne Development and of many individual farms thereon confirm the committee's previous opinion that it is very important at this time that something be done by the State to improve country-life conditions and the condition of landless tenants in North Carolina. The committee is also of the opinion that in carrying out any idea for the above expressed condition that the same time anything that may be done for improvement of said condition will bring into cultivation and increase in value many uncultivated acres of waste, cut-over and undrained land.

The committee respectfully reports that it is convinced that these things can be done by making a demonstration which will give new courage to the landless man who is losing in the economic struggle.

(a) By giving the man who wishes to cultivate the soil a reasonable chance of success by extension of credit.

(b) By providing surroundings for him and his family which are essential to contentment and well-being.

(c) By providing the co-operation of State agencies in developing a diversified and profitable system of farming.

The committee is further convinced that group action and co-operation are essential to the success of this class of farmers, and that the small farmer of little means can best develop group activities in well-planned and closely settled communities.

We are of the opinion, from the intensive cultivation of the small farms which we inspected, and in diversified farming, there is offered unusual opportunities for success whenever it is coupled with co-operative effort.
We are sure, from the study that we have made of conditions in North Carolina, especially from the pamphlet issued by the Extension Department of the University of North Carolina, that reasonable credit is absolutely essential to the man who wishes to establish himself as a home-owning farmer, and that this credit can with safety be extended to men in well-planned and previously prepared communities or developments.

That to successfully carry out these opinions, and until principles of successful home ownership for farmers are demonstrated, State supervision and guidance are essential and necessary.

We believe that State supervision and regulation of, and co-operation with, private individuals or corporations who undertake to establish communities, will greatly encourage agricultural development and will multiply many times the benefits to be derived from one or more demonstrations of the kind referred to above, and will spread these benefits to all parts of the State.

Wherefore, the joint committee of the Senate and House urge the passage of workable land-settlement act administered by a land-settlement board, along the general lines contemplated in the Giles bill.

Respectfully submitted,

Bert Bennett,
W. K. Vaughan,
