A BILL

For the better administration of Justice in the Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions of this State.

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That it shall be the duty of the Justices of the Peace of the several Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions in this State, in case a majority of said Justices of the Peace in each County shall deem the same expedient and necessary, at the first term that shall be holden in their respective Counties, after the next, to elect some person of ability, integrity and learning in the law, Judge of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions of said County, who shall hold his office for the term of ten years, if he shall be of good behavior during that time.

II. Be it further enacted, That no person shall be elected a Judge of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions of this State, unless a majority of the acting Justices of the Peace of the County Court, for which said election is held, be present, and the person so voted for as Judge receives a majority of the votes of the said Justices present.
III Be it further enacted, That upon the election of any person as Judge aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the Clerk of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, whereof such person is elected Judge, to certify the same to the Governor of this State, under the seal of his Court; and thereupon the Governor shall cause a commission of such appointment to issue to the person so elected Judge, as in cases of Judges of the Superior Courts of this State.

IV. Be it further enacted, That the said Judges, before they act as such, shall, in open Court, or before one of the Judges of the Supreme or Superior Courts, or before some Justice of the Peace, take the oath appointed for the qualification of public officers; and also an oath of office: and it shall be the duty of the officers or Court, before whom such Judge or Judges shall qualify, to cause such Judge or Judges to subscribe the oaths by him or them taken, and, having certified the same, shall cause said oath to be filed among the records of the Superior Court of the County in which the said Judge is elected, with the Clerk of said Court, who shall carefully preserve the same; And, if any Judge shall act in his said office before he shall have taken the oaths hereby directed, he shall forfeit and pay five hundred dollars, one-half to the use of the State, and the other half to the person who shall sue for the same.

V. Be it further enacted, That, upon the qualification of the said Judge or Judges, as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the Clerks of the several Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions for which they are appointed, to furnish the said Judges with an accurate list of the Justices of the Peace of their respective Counties; and the said Judges shall classify and arrange the said Justices of the Peace, and appoint two of said Justices of the Peace, who, together with the said Judge, shall sit and 10 be competent to hold the terms of said Court, as herein-
11 after declared: And the Clerks of said Courts shall no-
12 tify the Justices of the Peace, so appointed, of their said 13 appointment, at least twenty days before the term for 14 which they are appointed to hold said Court, under the 15 penalty of two hundred dollars, to be recovered by ac-16 tion of debt in any of the Courts, one-half to the use of 17 the State, and the other half to the person who shall 18 sue for the same.

VI. Be it further enacted, That the said Judges and two 2 Justices of the Peace, shall be competent to hold the 3 terms of said Courts for which they are appointed, and 4 have all the powers incident to such a jurisdiction, and 5 shall and may take cognizance, and have full power and 6 authority and jurisdiction to hear, try and determine 7 all causes of a civil nature whatever, at common law,
8 within their respective Counties, where the original ju-9 risdiction is not, by any Act of the General Assembly, 10 confined to a single magistrate, or to the Supreme or 11 Superior Courts; of all penalties incurred by violation 12 of the penal statutes of the State, or the laws passed by 13 the Congress of the United States, whereby such law
14 jurisdiction is given to the Courts of the several States; 15 of suits for dower, partition, filial portions, legacies, and 16 distributive shares of intestates' estates; and all other 17 matters relating thereto; to try, hear and determine 18 all matters and things relating to orphans, idiots and lu-19 natics, and the management of their estates, in like man-20 ner as Courts of Chancery exercise jurisdiction; to have 21 original and exclusive jurisdiction to try, hear and deter-22 mine all petit larcenies, assaults and batteries, all tres-23 passes and breaches of the peace, and other misdemea-24 nors, of what kind soever, of an inferior nature; and of 25 all other criminal cases where the judgment upon con-26 viction shall not extend to life, limb or member; and in 27 all other cases where jurisdiction and power is given by any Act of the General Assembly to the Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions of this State.

VII. Be it further enacted, That the said Judges shall have the same power, authority and jurisdiction to hear, try and determine all causes and matters of a criminal nature, and all violations of the criminal law, and to commit, bind over, bail, or otherwise dispose of all offences against the criminal laws of this State, as is conferred upon one or more Justices of the Peace, or possessed and enjoyed by them under the laws of this State: Provided always, that the said Judges shall have no power, authority or jurisdiction to try, hear or determine any cause or matter of a civil nature out of Court.

VIII. Be it further enacted, That the said Judges shall have the same power and authority as is now by law conferred upon the Judges of the Superior Courts, to take the acknowledgment or probate of any deed, bill of sale, or any other instrument which may be, or is executed in this State, and which by the laws of this State is required to be registered; and also the private examination of any feme covert who may be a party to any such deed, bill of sale, or other instrument requiring registration, in the same way as is now prescribed by law; and any deed, bill of sale or other instrument, so acknowledged, or proven and certified, shall be registered, and the same, so registered, shall have the same effect as though all the said proceedings had been had before, and done by a Judge of the Superior Courts.

IX. Be it further enacted, That any one of the said Judges may, in the vacation, grant a writ of Recordari facias loquelam, or false judgment, to remove any proceedings which shall be had before a Magistrate to any of the County Courts, under said rules and regulations as are now prescribed by law for the removal of the same to the Superior Courts; and also may issue commissions to any Justice or Justices of the Peace to take the plea, answer or demurrer of a defendant, as is accustomed in cases in Chancery; and the said Justice or Justices shall have all the powers of such commissioners, for that purpose; and may himself examine testimony, or take the plea, answer or demurrer of the defendant in like manner: He may, when the necessity of the case will not admit of delay, and the party or parties cannot have convenient access to a Judge of the Superior Courts of Law and Equity, grant injunctions or ne exeat, in cases in the Courts of Equity, but still subject to the control and further order of the Court of Equity in which the bill is filed, or application made; and no ne exeat shall issue where sufficient bail has been taken for the party's appearance.

X. Be it further enacted, That the said Judges shall, upon conference with the Justices of the Peace of their respective counties, agree upon, and assign a certain day or days of each Term, for the transaction of the County business, laying of the taxes, granting letters of administration, appointing guardians, taking the probate of wills, appointing overseers of the roads, granting licenses, and all other matters and things now required by law of said Justices in Court, other than those imposed by this act, upon the Court herein established; Provided, always, That the said Judges, whenever the said Justices of the Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions shall hold said Court for such purposes, and the transaction of such business, shall not be permitted to sit in said Court, or be members thereof.

XI. Be it further enacted, That if the business of any of the said Courts cannot be determined on the first day of the term, the Judge of the said Court, or three Justices of the Peace, in case of the sickness, absence or inability...
5 of the said Judge to attend, may adjourn from day to day, not exceeding six days, at the end of which time, the cause, and matters which may be depending before them, and not then finally determined, shall be continued to the next succeeding term.

XII. Be it further enacted, That in case the said Judge, from indisposition, inability, or other cause, should fail to attend, or hold the said Courts, or any of them, then any three Justices of the said County Court, shall be competent to hold the terms thereof under the same rules and regulations as are now required by law; and if,
by reason of sickness, inability, bad weather, or other accidents, it shall so happen, that the said two Justices of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, who may have been appointed as hereinbefore directed, to hold the said Courts, in conjunction with the said Judge, shall not meet for holding the said Courts on the days appointed, in such case it shall and may be lawful for the said Judge to appoint other Justices of said Court, from day to day, of those who may be present, to hold said Courts with him, without further notice of their said appointment.

XIII. Be it further enacted, That the said Judges shall each have an annual salary of such an amount, as shall be allowed them by the Justices of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions of each County, in full compensation for all judicial duties, which are now, or may hereafter be assigned to them by the General Assembly, payable quarterly, and which said salary may at any time be increased, at the pleasure of said Justices; and the said Justices of the several County Courts, a ma-majority of the acting Justices being present, shall, at the first Court which shall happen after the first day of January, in each and every year, lay a tax on lands, with their improvements, and a tax on the other subjects of taxation, as in taxes laid for the purposes of county charges, to pay said salaries, of the said Judges.
XIV. Be it further enacted, That the said Judges may be impeached for willfully violating any article of the Constitution, mal administration, or corruption, in like manner as the Judges of the Supreme Court and Judges of the Superior Courts, and may be removed from office for mental or physical inability, upon a concurrent resolution of both branches of the General Assembly, upon receiving a notice and copy of the causes alleged for removal, as prescribed in cases of the Judges of the Supreme and Superior Courts.

XV. Be it further enacted, That no Judge shall practice as an Attorney in the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions of the County, for which he is Judge: Provided, That this act and this restriction shall not be so construed as to prevent the said Judge from practising as an Attorney and Solicitor in the other Courts of this State.

XVI. Be it further enacted, That the said Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, shall be held, and subject to the same laws, rules and regulations, as are now prescribed by law for said Courts, so far as the same may be applicable to said Courts, as herein altered and changed, and not otherwise provided by this act.

XVII. Be it further enacted, That in all criminal or State causes, there shall be no appeal allowed from this Court, to the Superior Court, but in all such cases, when either party shall be dissatisfied with the sentence or judgment of any County Courts, the party, so dissatisfied, may pray an appeal from such sentence or judgment to the Supreme Court, and the same shall be granted and certified, under the same rules and regulations as are now prescribed by law, in cases of appeals from the Superior Courts to the Supreme Courts.
XVIII. Be it further enacted, That when any Judge is prevented from holding any Court, by reason of interest in any cause or matter, depending in said Court, or from having appeared as Attorney in any suit therein, or from any other matter or cause, which may render it improper that he should hold said Court, it shall be the duty of the two Justices, who may be associated with him to hold said Court, to appoint some one Justice of said Court, to sit in his place and stead, and the three Justices of said Court shall, and may hold the said Court, hear and determine the causes, and possess and exercise every other authority, which by law may appertain to said Court, as fully to all intents and purposes, as if said Judge were present, and associated with the said two Justices, as required in other cases by this act.

XIX. Be it further enacted, That the Justices of said Court shall have power and authority to allow to the said two Justices, who may from time to time be appointed by the said Judge to hold the said Courts, with him, as a compensation for their services, a sum not exceeding three dollars, nor less than one dollar per day for each and every day they shall hold said Court, which sum shall be fixed by the said Justices, a majority of them being present, and shall be paid out of the funds of said county, upon the certificate of the Clerk of said Court, showing the number of days each Justice has attended.

XX. Be it further enacted, That all laws and clauses of laws, coming within the meaning and purview of this act, be, and the same are, hereby repealed.
To repeal, in part, an act passed at the session of the General Assembly in 1848-'49, entitled "an act to secure the title of purchasers of lands, sold under execution," and ratified on the 29th day of January, A. D. 1849.

1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That so much of the above recited act as was intended to perfect the title of purchasers of land, sold under a writ or writs of execution before said act was in force, and all and every part thereof, which gives a retrospective effect to the same, be, and the same is hereby repealed; and on all questions hereafter arising in any judicial proceeding, where either party claims title under a sale, made prior to the time at which said act took effect and went into operation, the Courts shall hold and apply the law as it existed before the passage of said act.

V. Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of said general commissioners to direct and authorise the keeping open of books for the subscription of stock in the manner above described, until the sum of one million of dollars shall have been subscribed to the capital stock of said company; and as soon as the sum of one million dollars shall have been subscribed, and the first instalment of five dollars per share on said stock shall have been received by the general commissioners, said company shall be regarded as formed; and the said commissioners or a majority of them, shall sign and seal a duplicate declaration to that effect, with the names of the subscribers appended, and cause one of the said duplicates to be deposited in the office of the Secretary of State; and thenceforth, from the closing of the books of subscription as aforesaid, the said subscribers to the stock shall form one body politic and corporate, in deed and in law, by the name and style of the North Carolina and Western Railroad Company.

XV. Be it further enacted, That the board of directors may fill all vacancies which may occur in it during the period for which they have been elected, and, in the absence of the president, may appoint one pro tempore, from among their number.

XVI. Be it further enacted, That all contracts or agreements, authenticated by the president and secretary of 10 on a previous notice of ten days, for cash, all the stock 11 subscribed for in said company, by such stockholder, 12 and convey the same to the purchaser at said sale; and 13 if the said sale of stock do not produce a sum sufficient 14 to pay off the incidental expenses of said sale, and the 15 entire amount, due to said company, for such subscrip-16 tion of stock, then, and in that case, the whole of such 17 balance shall be held as due at once to said company;

18 and may be recovered of such stockholder or his ex-19 ecutors, administratres or assigns, at the suit of said
20 company, either by summary motion in any Court of Su-21 perior jurisdiction in the county where the delinquent 22 resides, on a previous notice of ten days to such delin-23 quent subscriber, or by action of assumpsit in any 24 Court of competent jurisdiction, or by a warrant before 25 a Justice of the Peace, when the sum does not exceed 26 one hundred dollars; and in case of the assignment of 27 stock, before the whole amount has been paid to the 28 company, then for all sums due on such stock, both the 29 original subscribers, and the first and all subsequent 30 assignees, shall be liable to the company, and the same

XXI. Be it further enacted, That the debt of stockhol-2 ders, due to the company for stock therein, either as 3 original proprietor, or as first or subsequent assignee,
4 shall be considered as of equal dignity with judgments
5 in the distribution of assets of a deceased stockholder,
6 by his personal representatives.

XXII. Be it further enacted, That said company agree-2 to issue certificates of stock to its members; and such

4 directed by the by-laws of the company.
XXIII. Be it further enacted, That the said company may at any time, increase its capital to a sum sufficient to complete said road, not exceeding one million of dollars, by opening books for the subscription of stock, or by selling such new stock, or by borrowing money on the credit of the company, and on the mortgage of its charter and works, and the manner in which the same shall be done, in either case, shall be prescribed by the stockholders in a general meeting.

XXIV. Be it further enacted, That the board of directors shall, once in every year at least, make a full report on the state of the company and its affairs to a general meeting of the stockholders, and oftener if required by a by-law; and shall have power to call a general meeting of the stockholders, when the board may deem it expedient; and the company may provide, by their by-laws, for occasional meetings being called, and prescribe the mode thereof.

XXV. Be it further enacted, That the said company may purchase, have and hold, in fee, or for a term of 3 years, any lands, tenements, or hereditaments which may be necessary for the said road, or the appurtenances thereof, or for the erection of depositories, store houses, houses for the officers, servants or agents of the company, or for workshops or foundries, to be used for the said company, or for procuring stone or other materials necessary for said company in the construction or repairs of the road, or for effecting transportation thereon, and for no other purposes.

XXVI. Be it further enacted, That the company shall have the right, when necessary, to construct the said road across or along any public road or water course; Provided, That said company shall not obstruct any public road, without constructing another equally as convenient and good.
XXVII. Be it further enacted, That when any lands or right of way may be required by said company for the purpose of constructing their road, and for the want of agreement as to the value thereof, or from any other cause, the same cannot be purchased from the owner or owners, the same may be taken at a valuation to be made by five commissioners, or a majority of them, to be appointed by any Court of record having common law jurisdiction in the county where some part of the land or right of way is situated. In making the said valuation, the said commissioners shall take into consideration the loss or damage which may accrue to the owner or owners in consequence of the land or right of way being surrendered, and the benefit and advantage he, she or they may receive from the erection or establishment of the railroad or work, and shall state particularly the value and amount of each; and the excess of loss and damage, over and above the advantage and benefit, shall form the measure of valuation or right of way; Provided, Nevertheless, that if any person or persons over whose land the road may pass shall be dissatisfied with the valuation of said commissioners, then, and in that case, the person or persons so dissatisfied may have an appeal to the Superior Court, in the county where the said valuation has been made, or in either county in which the land lies, when it may lie in more than one county, under the same rules, regulations and restrictions as in appeals from judgments of Justices of the Peace. The proceedings of the said commissioners, accompanied with a full description of said land or right of way, shall be returned, under the hands and seals of a majority of the commissioners to the Court from which the same issued, there to remain a matter of record. And the lands or right of way so valued by the said commissioners, shall vest in said company so long as the same shall be used for the purposes of said railroad, so soon as the valuation may be paid, or when refused, may have been ten-
Provided, That, on application for the appointment of commissioners, under this section, it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the Court, that at least ten days previous notice has been given by the applicant to the owner or owners of land so proposed to be condemned, or if the owner or owners be infants or non compos mentis, then to the guardian of such owner or owners, if such guardian can be found within the county, or if he cannot be so found, then such appointment shall not be made unless notice of the application shall have been published at least one month next preceding, in some newspaper printed as convenient as may be to the Court House of the county, and shall have been posted at the door of the Court House, on the first day at least of the term of said Court, to which the application is made; Provided further, That the valuation provided for in this section shall be made on oath by the commissioners aforesaid, which oath any Justice of the Peace or Clerk of the Court of the county in which the land or a part of it lies, is hereby authorized to administer; Provided further, That the right of condemnation hereby granted shall not authorise the said company to invade the dwelling house, yard, garden or burial ground of an individual without his consent.

XXVIII. Be it further enacted, That the right of said company to condemn in the manner described in the 27th section of this act, shall extend to the condemning one hundred feet on each side of the main track of the road, measuring from the centre of the same, unless in case of deep cuts and filling, when the said company shall have power to condemn as much in addition thereto, as may be necessary for the purpose of constructing said road; and the company shall also have power to condemn any appropriate lands in like manner, for the constructing and building of depots, shops, warehouses, buildings for servants, agents and persons employed on the road, not exceeding two acres in any one lot or station.

XXIX. Be it further enacted, That, in the absence of any contract or contracts with said company, in relation to lands through which the said road or its branches may pass, signed by the owner thereof, or by his agent, or any claimant or person in possession thereof, which may be confirmed by the owner thereof, it shall be presumed that the land upon which the said road or any of its branches may be constructed, together with one hundred feet on each side of the centre of the said road, has been granted to the said company, by the owner or owners thereof; and the said company shall have good right and title thereto, and shall hold and enjoy the same as long as the same shall be used for the purposes of said road and no longer, unless the person or persons owning the said land at the time that part of the said road which may be on the said land, was finished; or those claiming under him, her or them, shall apply for an assessment of the value of said lands, as hereinbefore directed, within two years next after that part of the said road, which may be on the said land, was finished: or ing under him, her or them, shall not apply within two years next after the said part was finished, he, she or they shall be forever barred from recovering said land, or having any assessment or compensation therefor: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall affect the rights of feme covert or infants, until two years after the removal of their respective disabilities.

fore granted to any person, nor appropriated by law to the use of the State, within one hundred feet of the centre of the road, which may be constructed by the said company, shall vest in the company as soon as the line of the road is definitely laid out through it, and any grant of land thereafter shall be void.

Be it further enacted, That if any person or 2 persons shall intrude upon the said railroad by any 3 manner of use thereof, of the rights and privileges con- 4 nected therewith, without permission or contrary to 5 the will of the said company, he, she or they may be 6 indicted for misdemeanor, and upon conviction may be 7 fined and imprisoned by any Court of competent juris- 8 diction in this State,

A MEMORIAL.

Memorial by the Trustees of Normal College.

To the Honorable the General Assembly of North Carolina:

Your memorialists respectfully ask your attention to the subject herein discussed, and hope you may find time and inclination to consider a subject above party, confined to no section, and essentially important to North Carolina.

Moved by the importance of common schools, and the acknowledged want of teachers, twenty of your fellow-citizens solicited the last Legislature for a charter to establish a Normal College, said charter in a very meagre form, was granted. As soon as practicable, we commenced operations in Randolph county, in a fine agricultural region where every thing is cheap, within three miles of the Central Railroad, and about one mile from the Fayetteville and Western Plank road. But the college commenced under every conceivable disadvantage: the charter was limited; the corporation had no funds with which to erect the necessary buildings, and many of public notoriety, who perhaps had not considered the subject, laughed at its object, and scoffed at its pretensions. Normal College was not designed to promote party, sect or section, but was intended to build up the great common school interest in North Carolina. The trustees had no personal interest in the enterprise, and the public had none but general motives to influence their philanthropy; no church organization to throw its fostering arms around it; and no special inducement whatever could be urged for the advancement of pecuniary aid: it stood emphatically alone, without the ordinary attractions of novelty, the faith of demonstrated utility, or the sympathy of enlightened patriotism.
By vigorous exertions, funds were procured, sufficient to to erect cheap buildings, on a small scale, a suitable faculty was organized, and operations began in March 1851.

To the astonishment of every person, the first session numbered one hundred and twenty-nine students, and the collegiate year, ending on the 29th of July last, numbered one hundred and fifty-two. Property to the amount of two thousand dollars has been secured, good boarding houses and hotels have been erected, the trustees have prescribed a thorough course of study, and Normal instruction is given on the most approved plan, a model school being attached for practical application. Your memorialists have accomplished what they designed; they have demonstrated the practicability of a Normal College; they were aware from the first, that the experience of other States only confirmed the deductions of reason, by showing that a Normal College must be connected directly with the State government, in order to produce the proper results; but they were willing to make some sacrifices rather than propose public experiments. That a Normal

College is adapted to the wants of the country, is a matter beyond dispute; that the one already commenced, is favorably located and organized, is proved by fair experiment, and that the State would appreciate its services, may be inferred from the fact that, during the month of last July, the president of the faculty had two hundred and fifty applications for teachers. Historical testimony proves, beyond cavil, that no government has ever succeeded in establishing efficient public schools, without making provision for properly training and instructing teachers; and statistical facts declare that where good teachers abound, schools will be good, independent of every other circumstance. That our public schools work badly, is admitted and lamented, but the fault is neither in the system nor in the people; the Boards of Superintendents, the Examining Committees, and the great mass of the people, all declare, that a want of teachers is the chief difficulty. The Governor of the State, as chairman of the Literary Board, has received returns from fifty-eight counties, for 1851; these show seven hundred districts without schools, during the past year; six hundred and eighty of said districts had funds in the hands of the chairman, in sums varying from $25 to $159: the reason assigned for the non-existence of schools in these districts, was the impossibility of procuring teachers. Take, for illustration, Rowan county, containing forty-seven districts; the last report was made November 14, 1851, which shows a balance of $5,079.01 in the hands of the chairman; deduct $3224.56 which was received after the winter schools closed, and $1,855.09 had remained in treasury more than one year unemployed; yet every district in the county have schools, except one. This can be accounted for by observing, that there are very few teachers in the county, and that most of those who do teach, have other employments, and cannot be induced to continue but a few months in the winter, so that this county has more money, than it can find teachers to earn. Bladen had by the last report, 55 districts, and 22 schools; Mecklenburg has 31 districts, without schools, and $2,637.88 unemployed; Northampton has schools in every district, except two, and still has $2,770.68 unexpended; Onslow has 23 districts, 7 schools, and $1,147.12 in the treasury. Almost every county exhibits similar results, showing conclusively that want of teachers is an evil of greater magnitude, than want of money.

But the acquirements of those who do teach in North Carolina are too indifferent to sustain a system of common schools, however well organized and supported. Your Memorialists have, by written statements, learned the acquirements of 3000 teachers employed in this State, during the last eighteen months; of these, 2000 cannot teach English grammar, 1800 are deficient in geography, 1200 cannot teach the whole of ordinary arithmetic, 1000 can scarcely make out a readable return. By far the largest number have no idea of any government except force, and have no conceptions whatever of rational discipline. Seven hundred gentlemen in the counties of Chatham, Randolph, Guilford, Davidson, Forsyth, and Rowan, are sending children under fourteen years of age to boarding schools, solely because their Common Schools have not efficient teachers. The Chairman of the Board in New Hanover county, in his official report to the Literary Board, says, “incompetent teachers are the bane of the system,” and suggests the absolute necessity of improvement. The chairman in Rowan says: “We lack teachers who know how to teach, and the State should by all means make provision for their instruction;” and the chairman in Bertie, in a like report, says: “The only thing that impedes the system, is the want of competent teachers;” and yet the returns from Bertie and New Hanover show an efficiency not surpassed by more than three counties in the State. The published reports of the German States, Scotland, Massachusetts, New York, and others, unite in declaring, that Normal instruction is the only means of rendering efficient, any system of general instruction. The Emperor of Russia built three large Normal schools, several years before commencing his system of general education; Prussia spends one-eighth of her school fund upon teachers, and the New England States have expended for the same purpose more than $1,000,000.

Academies and ordinary colleges will never educate common school teachers: they are not patronized by the proper class of society, they create a different spirit in their pupils, they impart no instruction as to mode and application, and according to the statistics of other States, have never increased the number of efficient teachers. North Carolina has a respectable school law, a reasonable literary fund, a citizenship eager for knowledge, and yet from $20,000 to $50,000 of necessity remains unexpended every year, for want of teachers. We appeal to you, the legislators of a sovereign, high-minded State, to remedy this evil; stop this wholesale waste; make provision that the people may have the use of their money; invigorate the wasting energies of public schools, the only hope of a free people, by making provision for the instruction of teachers worthy to mould the destinies of the rising generation.

Your memorialists recommend Normal College, with no design but the public good. They have nothing to gain personally, by its success, nor have they anything to lose by its failure, except so far as they are influenced by patriotic motives, to elevate the great middle classes of society; but they are convinced of its importance to State interest; they feel assured of its success, if once made a real State institution; they hope, therefore, you will amend the charter, and give the college full liberty to work out its proper results. If it be thought best, we will freely surrender to the State all our property, claims and rights as a corporation, without remuneration, claim or reserve; we ardently desire for North Carolina to take Normal College, and make it an efficient agent in procuring good teachers, and we are convinced that this can be done, not only without expense, but with absolute advantage to the Literary Fund. An expenditure of $10,000, in addition to what has already been expended, will make ample provision for from two hundred to three hundred students. The patronage already includes twenty-five senatorial districts in this State, with 15 students from South Carolina, 5 from Virginia, 1 from Tennessee, and 1 from Mississippi. So favorable is the location of Normal College, that tuition, board and other accommodation, not inferior to that of Colleges generally, can be afforded at $45 per session.

Respectfully submitted.

The undersigned citizens of the Town of Fayetteville, and of the County of Cumberland, respectfully pray the General Assembly, to pass the accompanying Bill for the establishment of a Bank in Fayetteville.

Your memorialists respectfully show, that there is in Fayetteville and Cumberland County, a great want of Banking facilities, and that the amount of Capital is inadequate to the requirements of business.

Twenty five years ago, the amount of Banking Capital was $1,050,000. Now, although the population has very largely increased since 1830, the Capital employed is only $830,000. Then, two Steamers were sufficient for the carrying trade between Fayetteville and the port of Wilmington. Now there are 10 Steamers actively engaged, and 3 others are in progress of building. In the mean time the trade has more than doubled. Then, scarcely a barrel of Naval Stores was exported; now there are 36 distilleries within the reach of the market of Fayetteville, and dependant upon it for supplies, and requiring to successfully carry on business a Capital of $400,000. Then there was not a cotton spindle in motion; now there is in Fayetteville and its vicinity, seven Cotton Mills, and an extensive Paper Mill, with a Capital of at least $450,000.

In the last four years, the citizens of this County have perfected five Plank Roads, viz:
- The Fayetteville and Western, stretching out 120 miles, to Salem, 106 miles of which have been completed.
- The Southern Road, 17 miles completed.
The Northern Road, of 60 miles, 10 of which are completed and under toll.

The Raleigh Road of 60 miles, 11 of which are completed and under toll.

The Centre Road reaching through Richmond, Montgomery, Stanly, and Cabarrus County to Concord, 15 miles of which are nearly completed and 35 miles under contract, besides numerous branches diverging from the main stems of these several Roads—the whole investments on Plank Roads reaching to at least $375,000.

The export value of timber and lumber down the Cape Fear River, to Wilmington, from Cumberland alone, amounts to $500,000. The latter, the product of 8 Steam Mills, and numerous Water Mills.

Your memorialists therefore represent, that the development of the resources of this county, and the successful issue of the numerous enterprizes, requires an increase of Banking facilities, and they rely upon the wisdom and liberality of the Legislature for proper chartered privileges.

TO INCORPORATE

THE BANK OF

NORTH CAROLINA.

RALEIGH:
SEATON GALES, PRINTER TO THE LEGISLATURE.
1852
[Introduced by Mr. Murchison. Read the first time and referred to the Committee on Corporations, and ordered to be printed.]
A BILL

To Incorporate the Bank of North Carolina.

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the autho-ritv of the same, That a Bank shall be established in the town of Fayetteville, the capital stock of which shall not exceed three hundred thousand dollars, divided into shares of fifty dollars each, and that for the purpose of receiving subscriptions for said stock, books shall be opened on the 1st day of December, 1852, and remain open for the space of twenty days at Fayetteville, under the superintendence of George McNeill, David A. Rey, James Martine, Jno. H. Cook, Sampson Boon, Warren
Winslow, Jesse G. Shepherd, John J. Williams, Wm.
McIntyre, and Daniel McDiarmid, and at such other places, and under the superintendence of such other persons, as said commissioners may direct.

II. Be it further enacted, That one-tenth of such shares shall be paid in gold and silver, or their equivalent, to the commissioners above named, at the time of subscriing, that another tenth shall be paid within thirty days thereafter, that another tenth shall be paid within sixty days, that another tenth shall be paid within ninety days, that another tenth shall be paid within one hundred and twenty days, and that the remainder shall be paid as the President and Directors, hereinafter provided to be elected, may direct; and if any subscriber shall fail to pay any instalment, at the time stipulated, he shall pay interest thereon, at the rate of six per cent. per annum, and his stock shall be forfeited, and may be sold by the Bank, and the proceeds applied to the payment of the aforesaid deficit instalment, and he shall be held responsible for the same, at the option of the Bank; and the balance, if any, of such sale, to be paid over to the said subscriber: Provided, That no dividend shall be declared, until the whole amount of the stock subscribed shall be paid in gold or silver, or their equivalent.

III. Be it further enacted, That, when one thousand shares are subscribed, and the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars is actually paid to the commissioners, the subscribers to the said bank, their successors and assignees, shall be, and are hereby created, a body politic in law and in fact, by the name and style of "The Bank of North Carolina;" and shall so continue until the 1st day of January, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, and by the name and style aforesaid, they shall be, and are hereby made able and capable in law, to have, purchase, receive, possess, enjoy, and retain to themselves and successors, land, tenements, rents, hereditaments, goods, chattels, and effects, and the same to grant, alien, and dispose of, to sue and to be sued, implead and be impleaded, answer and be answered, defend and be defended, in Courts of record, or any other place whatsoever, and also to make, have and use, a common seal, and the same to break, alter or renew, at their pleasure;
and also to ordain, establish and put in execution, such by-laws, ordinances and regulations, as shall seem necessary and convenient, for the government of said corporation; and for the making whereof, general meetings of the stockholders may be called, in the manne, hereafter specified; and generally to do and execute all acts, matters and things, which a corporation and body politic in law may, or can lawfully execute, and be subject to the rules, regulations, restrictions, and provisions, hereafter prescribed and declared.

IV. Be it further enacted, That, as soon as one thousand shares shall be taken in the stock of said bank, and 3 twenty-five thousand dollars paid to the commissioners
4 who keep the books, notice shall be given in the news-5 papers published in Fayetteville, a meeting of the 6 subscribers, to be held at least ten days after the date of 7 the notice, shall be called. If at this meeting, those or 8 their agents, who have a majority of the votes, according 9 to the rates hereafter described, be present, (if not, anoth-10 er meeting shall be called,) they shall proceed to the 11 election of seven directors, who shall take charge of the 12 books and money in the hands of the commissioners, 13 and immediately pursue the usual means to put the 14 bank in operation; the said directors shall remain in 15 office until the 1st Monday in December, 1853, or until 16 their successors shall be appointed; and on the first 17 Monday in December in each year, or at any time 18 thereafter, meetings of the stockholders shall be held in 19 the town of Fayetteville, for the purpose of electing 20 directors, inquiring into the affairs of the institution, 21 and making such regulations as may be deemed fit and 22 necessary.

V. Be it further enacted, That the following rules and 2 regulations and provisions shall form and be the funda-
3 mental articles of the Constitution of the Corporation. A 4 meeting of the Stockholders cannot be held, unless those 5 who have a majority of the whole number of votes be 6 present; and every act shall require the sanction of the 7 majority of the votes which may be present. Every 8 Stockholder holding one share and not more than two 9 shares, shall be entitled to one vote; for every two shares 10 above two, and not exceeding ten, one vote; for every 11 three shares above ten, and not exceeding one hundred, 12 one vote; and for every four shares above one hundred,
13 one vote. After the first meeting, no share or shares, 14 shall confer a right of voting, which shall not have been 15 held three calendar months, previous to the day of 16 voting. Stockholders may vote at general meetings and elections by proxy, the proxy being himself a Stockholder. No President, Cashier, Agent or Clerk of the Bank, shall be permitted to vote as proxy for another. None but a Stockholder, who is a citizen of the State, shall be eligible as a Director, and the Directors when appointed, shall choose one of their number (which shall always be seven) to be President of the Bank, and shall manage the institution as shall seem best to them, unless otherwise directed by the stockholders; but compensation to the President and directors shall be granted at the pleasure of the stockholders. Not less than three directors, of whom the President shall always be one, shall constitute a board for the transaction of business; except in case of absence or sickness of the President, when he may, by writing, nominate any other director to supply his place. A number of the stockholders, not less than ten, who together shall be the owners of two thousand shares or upwards, shall have power, at any time, to call a general meeting of the stockholders, for purposes relating to the institution, giving at least twenty days notice in a public newspaper, published in the town of Fayetteville, and specifying the object, or objects of such meeting. The Directors shall annually elect such officers as may be deemed necessary, to perform the business of the Bank, and may remove them or either of them at pleasure. Those officers shall be required to give bonds, with two or more securities, in sums not less than ten thousand dollars, with a condition for good behavior and faithful performance of duty. The cashier shall keep a book to contain the proceedings of the board of directors, the names of those present, the date and day of each meeting; and shall record the yeas and nays on any question, when asked for by a director. This book shall be evidence in courts of justice against said bank; and, on entering on discharge of his duties, the cashier shall take the following oath or affirmation, before some Justice of the Peace, by whom it 54 shall be deposited in the office of the clerk of the county
55 court of Cumberland, namely: "I, A. B., do solemnly 56 swear (or affirm, as the case may be,) to keep a just and 57 true record, without alteration or erasure, of the trans-
58 actions of the board of directors of the Bank of North 59 Carolina, in a book to be kept by me for that purpose."
60 The said corporation shall purchase and hold only such 61 lands, tenements, rents and hereditaments as shall be 62 required for the convenient transaction of its business, 63 or shall have been bona fide mortgaged to it by way of 64 security, or conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts pre-65 viously contracted, in course of its dealings, or purchas-66 ed at sale upon judgments which shall have been obtain-67 ed upon such debts. The said corporation shall neither 68 directly nor indirectly trade in anything except bills of 69 exchange, promissory notes, gold or silver bullion, or in 70 the sale of goods really and truly pledged for money 71 lent and not redeemed in due time, or in goods which 72 shall be the produce of its lands, mint certificates, and 73 the public debts of this State and of the United States:
74 Provided, the investments in such stock shall not ex-75 ceed one-half of the capital stock of this bank: neither 76 shall the said corporation take more than a rate of one-77 half per centum, for thirty days, for or upon its loans or 78 discounts, which interest may be taken in advance at 79 the time of discount. The total amount of the debts 80 which the said corporation shall, at one time, owe,
81 shall not exceed twice the amount of stock actually paid 82 in over and above the sum then actually deposited in 83 the bank for safe-keeping. If a vacancy in the direc-84 tory shall occur, by death, resignation, or otherwise, the 85 remaining directors shall fill such vacancy until the 86 succeeding annual meeting of the stockholders. The 87 stock of the said corporation shall be assignable and 88 transferable, according to rules which shall be institu-89 ted in that behalf by the laws and ordinances of the 90 same. The officer at the head of the treasury depart. ment of the State shall be furnished, once in six months, with a statement of the amount of the capital stock of said corporation, and the debts due the same; and the monies deposited therein; of the notes in circulation, and of the cash in hand; and shall have a right to inspect such general accounts in the books of the Bank.
as shall relate to the said statements: Provided That this shall not be construed to a right of inspecting the account of any private individual with the bank, except directors. The bills obligatory and of credit, under seal of said corporation, which shall be made to any person or persons, shall be assignable by endorsement thereon, under the hand or hands of such person or persons, and of his, her or their assignee or assignees, and so as absolutely to transfer and vest the property therein, in each and every assignee or assignees successively, and to enable such assignee or assignees, to bring and maintain an action thereupon, in his, her or their name, or names; and bills or notes, which may be issued by order of said corporation, signed by the President, and countersigned by the Cashier, promising the payment of money, to any person or persons, his, her or their order, or, to bearer, though, not under the seal of said corpor. ation, shall be binding and obligatory, on the same, in the like manner, and with the like force and effect as upon any private person or persons; that is to say, those which shall be payable to any person or persons, his, her or their order, shall be assignable by endorsement, in like manner and with like effects, as foreign bills of Exchange now are, and those which are payable to bearer shall be negotiable by delivery only.

VI. Be it further enacted, That if any person or persons, holding a note or notes of said Bank, shall present the same for payment, and payment shall be refused, the said note or notes shall draw interest, at the rate of 12 5 per cent. per annum, from the time of said demand, and the said Bank, shall pay the same, any law to the contrary notwithstanding; and the holder of the notes of said Bank, if not paid on demand, may bring an action of assumpsit, against one or all of the Directors, who may have consented to issue more than twice the stock paid in, provided the Bank be unable to pay the amount.

VII. Be it further enacted, That in case of insolvency of the Bank, hereby created, or ultimate inability on the part of this corporation to pay, the individual Stockholders shall be liable to creditors, in sums double the amounts of stock by them respectively held in said corporation.

VIII. Be it further enacted, That the directors shall be allowed to keep open the subscription books until the whole of the stock shall be taken.

IX. Be it further enacted, That if any Director or any other officer, agent or servant of said corporation shall embezzle any of the funds belonging to said Bank, with intent to defraud said corporation, or make false entries upon the books of said Bank, with intent to defraud said corporation or any other person whatsoever, said officer, agent, or servant, shall be held and deemed guilty of felony, and upon conviction thereof, by due course of Law, shall be punished by fine, at the discretion of the Court, and imprisonment not exceeding five years.

X. Be it further enacted, That if any person shall falsely make, forge or counterfeit, or cause or procure, to be falsely made, forged or counterfeited, or willingly aid or assist in falsely making, forging or counterfeiting any bill or note, in imitation of, or purporting to be, a bill or note issued by order of the President and Directors of the Bank of North Carolina, or any order, or check upon said Bank, or corporation or any Cashier thereof or shall falsely alter, or cause or procure to be falsely altered, or willingly assist or aid in falsely altering any bill or note, issued by order of said corporation, or any order or check on said Bank, or any cashier thereof, or shall pass or receive, with intent to pass, alter or publish as true, any false, forged or counterfeited bill or note, issued by order of said corporation, or any false, forged or counterfeited check or order, upon the said Bank, or any Cashier thereof, knowing the same to be falsely forged or counterfeited, or shall pass, or receive with intent to pass or publish as true, any falsely altered bill or note issued by order of said bank; or any falsely altered order or check on said bank, or any cashier thereof, knowing the same to be falsely altered, with intent to defraud the said corporation, or any other body politic, or person or persons, every such person shall be deemed guilty of felony, and, on being thereof convicted by due course of law, shall be imprisoned not exceeding ten years, and fined not exceeding five thousand dollars.

XI. Be it further enacted, That the president or cashier of said bank shall annually pay into the Treasury of the State, twelve and a half cents on each share of said capital stock, which have been subscribed for and paid in, and the first payment of said tax shall be made twelve months after said stock shall have been subscribed and paid.

XII. Be it further enacted, That the directors of said bank may declare semi-annually dividends of the profits thereof; and, if at any time, more than the real profits are divided, the directors assenting thereto shall be responsible in their private capacities, to creditors, who have claims against the said institution.

XIII. Be it further enacted, That the president of this bank shall, on the first week in December, during the sitting of the General Assembly, transmit to the General Assembly, a full statement of the condition of the bank, exhibiting the amount of capital, notes in circulation, debts due to other banks, and to what banks, deposits, and all other particulars, necessary to explain the debit side of the accounts, also specie on hand, notes of other banks, and what banks, bills of exchange, debts or bonds, and notes discounted, and specifying in one item, the amount due from stockholders, and in another, the amount due from directors; not, however, using any person's name in either case; and real estate.

XIV. Be it further enacted, That, if any president, cashier, clerk, or other officer, of the aforesaid bank, shall, knowingly, wilfully, and with intent to deceive, make, or cause to be made, or connive at making, any false return, statement, or exhibits, of the condition of the bank, either to the Treasurer of the State, or to the Legislature, or to the Board of Directors, or to the Stockholders, or to any other person or persons, that may be authorized by the legislature, or by the stockholders, to receive the same, such president, director, cashier, clerk, or other officer, and all persons, aiding or abetting, in such deception, or false return, shall be liable to be indicted for a misdemeanor, in the Superior Courts, and upon conviction, shall be fined at the discretion of the court, and imprisoned not exceeding one year.

XV. Be it further enacted, That, whenever the Legislature may be of opinion, that the charter of the corporation hereby granted shall have been violated, it may be lawful, by joint resolution, to direct the Attorney General, with such assistant counsel, as the Governor or Legislature may think proper to engage, to issue a writ of scire facias, returnable before the Judges of the Supreme Court, calling upon said corporation to show cause, why the charter hereby granted shall not be for-
XVI. Be it further enacted, That, if it shall happen, when books shall be opened, as aforesaid, that a greater sum than three hundred thousand dollars shall be subscribed by individuals, or by bodies corporate, it shall and may be lawful, for the commissioners to reduce such subscriptions, according to a scale by them to be established, for that purpose, to the aforesaid amount of three hundred thousand dollars: Provided, That no subscription of two shares, or under, shall be scaled, until all larger subscriptions shall be reduced to an equality with them.

XVII. Be it further enacted, That the said bank shall not have power to issue any note or notes of a lower denomination than three dollars.

XVIII. And be it further enacted, That, if at any time hereafter, it shall be necessary, the president and directors shall have full authority, with the consent of the stockholders, to increase the capital stock to an amount not exceeding six hundred thousand dollars.
A BILL

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That hereafter, when any person shall die, leaving a will, and an executor thereto, that it shall be the duty of such executor, on proving the will, to give bond and surety in double the amount of the estate, for the faithful administration of the will, he having been previously required thereto by any one of the legatees, devisees or distributees, before the proving of the same; and that after the proving of the will, the legatees, distributees or devisees, or any one of them, at any time, shall have the power, on motion, in open Court, to require bond and surety in double the amount from such executor, for the faithful administration of the will of such deceased person, ten days notice having been previously given, before the meeting of the Court; and any executor failing to comply with the requirements of this act, it shall be the duty of the 19 Court to appoint an administrator under the same rules and regulations as now apply to the administration of estates.

II. Be it further enacted, That this act shall take effect from and after its ratification.
A BILL

To expedite the trial of suits in certain cases in the Courts of Law.

1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That in all suits pending in any of the Courts of Law of this State, wherein matters of account are involved, the said Courts shall have the power to refer such matters of account to the Clerk of the Court or other person or persons, to take an account under the rules and regulations, as are prescribed for taking accounts in the Courts of Equity. The report of such auditor or auditors, when confirmed by the Court, shall be conclusive evidence of the state of the accounts, between the parties to the suit.
H. Be it further enacted, That when either of the parties, plaintiffs or defendants, to a suit pending in any of the County Courts of this State, that shall have been referred according to the provisions of this Act or any other Act of the General Assembly or according to established rules of said Court, for the purpose of having an account taken, shall be dissatisfied with any interlocutory order, judgment or decree of said Court, touching the report of the account made by the auditor in d said suit, such party may have an appeal from such order, judgment or decree to the Superior Court of Law

scribed for the ordinary cases of appeals from the County Courts to the Superior Courts; and by an appeal taken according to this section the suit shall be entirely transferred to the Superior Court, to be therein prosecuted and determined in the same manner as suits constituted in the Superior Court by appeals from final judgments of the County Court; and it shall be the duty of the Clerk of the county wherein such appeal is granted, to return to the Superior Court, a full specified record of said suit, as in other cases of appeal to the Superior Court, from the County Courts.
A BILL

To Amend the 1st Section of the 64th Chapter of the Revised Statutes.

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That, in every case, when any person shall die intestate, without leaving a child, or any legal representative of such child, then one-half of the estate shall be allotted to the wife of the intestate, and the residue of said estate shall be distributed equally to every of the next of kin of the intestate, and to those who legally represent them; and that so much of the above recited act, as conflicts with the foregoing provisions, be, and the same are hereby repealed.
The Judiciary Committee have had this bill under consideration, and have instructed me to strike out all after the enacting clause, and substitute the following amendment marked (A.) and recommend its passage.

A. R. KELLY,
A member of the Committee.

I. That the first section of the sixty-fourth chapter of the revised statutes, entitled "legacies, filial portions, and distributive shares," be so amended, that, hereafter, when any person dies intestate, possessed of personal estate, leaving a widow, but leaving no child or children, nor any issue of the same, one-half of said estate shall be allotted to said widow, and the residue of said estate shall be distributed as now provided by law: Provided, that, if the husband makes a will, and the widow dissent from the same, she shall only be entitled to one-third of the personal estate, and the residue thereof shall be distributed as now directed.

II. Be it further enacted, That all laws coming in conflict with the provisions of this act be repealed, and that this act be in force from and after its ratification.
RESIGNATION.

To the Honorable the General Assembly of North Carolina
now in session:

Gentlemen:—I desire to retire to the walks of private life, and, therefore, pray your honorable body to accept the resignation of my place on the Bench of the Supreme Court. In surrendering this trust, I would wish to express my grateful sense of the confidence and honor, so often and so long bestowed on me by the General Assembly. But I have no language to do it suitably. I am very sensible, that they were far beyond my deserts, and that I have made an insufficient return of service. Yet, I can truly aver, that to the best of my ability, I have administered the law as I understood it, and to the ends of suppressing crime and wrong, and upholding virtue, truth and right: aiming to give confidence to honest men, and to confirm in all good citizens a love for our country, and a sure trust in her laws and magistrates. In my place, I hope I have contributed to those ends, and I firmly believe, that our laws will, as heretofores, be well executed, and our people happy in the administration of justice, honest, and contented, as long as they keep, and only as long as they keep, the independent and sound judiciary now established in the constitution; which, with all other blessings, I earnestly pray, may be perpetuated to the people of North Carolina.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your most obliged and ob't serv't,

THOMAS RUFFIN.

THE GRAND DIVISION

SONS OF TEMPERANCE.

RALEIGH:
SEATON GALES, PRINTER TO THE LEGISLATURE
1852
[Presented by Mr. Gilmer. Laid upon the table, and ordered to be printed.] MEMORIAL.

To the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina:

The Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance of the State of North Carolina, exercising the right accorded to every freeman and to every class of freemen, as a Body, speaking through our official channel, most respectfully ask to be heard by you upon the great truths for the vindication of which we have been organized, and in which the communities, in whose behalf you have come together, are most deeply interested.

We assume as a fact which every enlightened mind knows to be true, and which needs no attestation but that conscious sense which God has put in every man's bosom, that many great evils afflict your constituents, that flow, either directly or incidentally, from the use of ardent spirits.

We beg leave, in this connection, to remind you of the heavy sums paid in money by the orderly and discreet classes for the punishment of crimes and misdemeanors committed under the influence of spirituous liquor. We are persuaded that these amounts far exceed all the taxes paid by the people of our State for other purposes, and are far beyond the amount that was ever levied by any Government, free or despotic, in the way of taxes, for any purpose.

We also call your attention to the fact, that great numbers of able-bodied citizens are rendered lazy, idle, improvident, and incapable of labor, by the enervating effects of alcohol, while large numbers of others are hastened into premature graves; by which consequence, a large portion of the productive labor of the country is withdrawn or held back, and those who should render it are converted into unprofitable consumers; and thus increased exactions are made upon the hard earnings of the industrial classes.

We beg you also to consider in what a degree these examples tend to affect the morals, the intelligence and the physical energies of those that are to come after us, and who are to take our places when we have ceased to exist upon earth.

We conjure you also to reflect what amount of pain and sorrow is thus introduced into the domestic circles of those whom you represent, and especially how often the female portions of our population are, on this account, insulted and oppressed, and how often reduced to poverty and shame.

We submit to you, also, how much less secure the enjoyment of every species of property, even the houses above our heads, are rendered by the unbridled excesses of drunkenness.

How often peaceful assemblages of our citizens are disturbed by shocking imprecations and disgusting spectacles. How often the Sabbath day is contemned and profaned. How all religious and and moral sympathies, and all pure affection and all refined sentiments and tastes, are made to wither under the influence of strong drink.

How peace on earth and good will towards man have, from this cause, taken flight and forsaken many parts of our country.

This brief and imperfect recapitulation is deemed by us appropriate, because all the evils and grievances of which we have spoken are clearly within the range of your legislative functions, and within your power to alleviate, if not entirely to redress.

The legislation of North Carolina, upon the subject of the vending of spirituous liquor, which imposes a tax of Ten Dollars upon all such as are licensed to sell, and which makes it penal in all others to deal in it, in quantities less than a quart, is an acknowledgment, to some extent, of the force of the truths we have endeavored to bring to your consideration. But we humbly conceive that this legislation is based upon wrong principles. We regard Intemperance as a sin, and all the facilities and encouragements given to it as moral wrongs.

The vending of ardent spirits, by the permission of our law, we look upon as among the first and foremost of these facilities and encouragements. No provisions by which it is to be regulated can be right; as well might the Legislature, for a bonus paid into the Treasury, grant a license for the commission of adultery, or profanity, or sacrilege. We cannot contemplate this traffic as a legitimate source of revenue. Nor does the amount derived from this impure source bear any proportion to the evils, which, under this permission, are brought upon society. It is partial and temporizing, and only serves to film over the ulcerous place, and does not at all meet the exigency. The usual enquiry of the Courts on an application for a license, is whether there is a demand for another retail establishment, viz: whether the consumers of ardent spirits are put to any inconvenience in procuring their daily rations of pestilential liquid? We cannot find that the price is at all increased, or any other impediments to a free use of spirits at all produced by this enactment. On the other hand, it serves to establish places of rendezvous for inebriates, where the force of example and power of association are brought powerfully to co-operate with the continually increasing fury of their animal cravings. There is no provision in this law, that the purchasers of this fatal privilege are made in any way liable for the consequences, which naturally proceed from their business. The victim of these ministrations may fall into the gutter and be strangled, or against the curb-stone, and his brains may be spattered on the pavement, or he may fall into the fire and be burned; he may be robbed, or even murdered in the state of helplessness, to which the retailer has reduced him, and he that furnished the cause and took a profit for it is not held liable in this act, or by any other, civil or criminal. If such be the character of this law, will not your wisdom frame some more consistent end effective remedy for this evil?

We, therefore, as the friends of humanity and well-wishers to our race, respectfully approach your Honorable Body, and ask that you use the ample powers with which you are invested, to extinguish at once this most terrible evil. We are satisfied that there is but one way to do so, and that is to prohibit the traffic altogether. This has been tried in other States, and has worked a great good already, and promises much more. We, therefore, humbly ask you to prohibit entirely the vending of ardent spirits as a beverage, in any quantities, within the borders of North Carolina.

We are aware that this application is going forward a good ways in the work of reform, and may not be regarded by you with favor on that account. But we should be wanting in self respect, and deaf to the monitions of our own consciences, if we had asked for less.

Having discharged what we believe to be a high public duty, in making this Memorial, we rest the subject, with all its bearings and consequences, with your Honorable Body, in the reasonable hope and confidence that you will do in the premises whatever you may deem right and proper.

In testimony of our respect for your Honorable Body, and in token of the solemn nature of this application, we have ordered this Memorial to be signed by our Grand Worthy Patriarch and our Grand Scribe, and to be further attested by our Seal of Office, and a copy sent greeting to each of your Honorable Houses.

Done in the town of Salisbury, in open Session of the Grand Division of the State of North Carolina, the 28th day of October, A. D. 1852.

A number of stockholders, not less than ten, who, together, shall be owners of three hundred shares or upwards, shall have power at any time to call a general meeting of the stockholders for purposes relative to the institution, giving at least twenty days notice in a public newspaper, and specifying the object or objects of such meeting. The directors shall annually elect such officers as shall be deemed necessary to perform the business of the bank, and may remove them or either of them at pleasure. These officers shall be required to give bonds, with two or more securities, in sums not less than ten thousand dollars, with a condition for good behaviour and faithful performance of duty. They shall be allowed by the directors, such compensation for their services as shall be reasonable, but compensation to the President and directors shall be granted at the pleasure of the stockholders. The capitol stock of said corporation shall be assignable and transferable, according to the rules which shall be instituted in that behalf, by the laws and ordinances of the same.

VII. X. Be it further enacted, That no note shall be issued by said bank under the denomination of three dollars, and that, if any person or persons holding any note or notes of said bank shall present the same for payment, shall be refused, the said note or notes shall draw interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, from the time of said demand, and the said bank shall pay the same, any law to the contrary notwithstanding; and the holder of said note or notes of said bank, not paid on demand, may bring an action of assumpsit against one or all of the directors who may have consented to issue more than twice the capital stock paid in, in case the bank be unable to pay the amount:

Provided, always, That, if any note or notes of the said bank shall be presented for payment by or for any bank or branch, or agency of any bank, either directly or indirectly, it shall be lawful to pay the same or any part thereof, with the note or notes of the bank, by or for which the demand shall have been made, whether made at the instance of the principal bank, its branches, or agency, without regard to the place where the same may have been issued, or may be payable; or holders of notes of said bank for payment, shall, if required, state on oath before a justice of the peace, whether the demand was made for any bank, or branch, or agency, of any bank, either directly or indirectly, or in case of refusing, shall not be entitled to recover any interest whatever on any note of said bank, for which payment may be refused.

to be falsely altered, with intent to defraud said corpoation, or any other body politic, or person or persons, every such person shall be deemed guilty of felony, and,
being thereof convicted, by due course of law, shall be imprisoned not exceeding two years, and fined not exceeding five thousand dollars.

XV. Be it further enacted, That the president or cashier of the said bank shall annually pay into the treasury of the State twenty-five cents on each share of said capital stock, which may have been subscribed for and paid in;
and the first payment of said tax shall be made twelve months after said bank shall have commenced operations.

XVI. Be it further enacted, That, if any President,
Cashier, Clerk, or other officer of the aforesaid bank,
shall, knowingly, willingly, and with intent to deceive, make, or cause to be made, or connive at making, any false return, statement, or exhibit of the condition of

FROM THE COMMITTEE ON

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS.

The Committee on Internal Improvements, to whom was referred a “Bill to incorporate the Charleston, Blue Ridge and Chattanooga Railroad company, to construct a railroad from the Tennessee river, in the county of Macon, through the county of Cherokee, to the line of the State of Tennessee, in the direction of Chattanooga, have had the same under consideration, and have instructed the undersigned to report the bill back to the Senate, with an amendment thereto, marked A, as an additional section, which makes provision for the State to extend the “North Carolina Railroad,” to intersect the said Charleston, Blue Ridge and Chattanooga Railroad, at the Tennessee river, with the privilege of having a depot at that place, provided the State should, at a future period, desire to avail herself of the benefits resulting from such extension and connexion. The bill requires no appropriation on the part of the State; and as the project is calculated to benefit the extreme Western counties, and thereby develop their resources, without, in any manner, injuring any contemplated improvements of this State; and, if the North Carolina Railroad should be extended to that point, will, it is believed, be the means of furnishing a more direct route, by Railroad, from Memphis and Chattanooga, in the Valley of the Mississippi, to the ports of Wilmington, Beaufort and Norfolk, than any that can be established, the Committee respectfully recommend its passage.

W. M. H. THOMAS,
Chairman.

28 the transaction of business, except in case of ab-29sence, or sickness of the president, when he may, by 30 writing, nominate any other director to supply his place.
31 If a vacancy in the directory shall occur, by death, re-32signation or otherwise, the remaining directors shall fill 33 such vacancy, until the succeeding annual meeting of 34 the stockholders. A number of stockholders, not less 35 than ten, who, together, shall be owners of three hun-

38 purposes relative to the institution, giving at least twen-39ty days notice in a public gazette, specifying the object or objects of such meeting. The directors shall annually elect such officers as may be deemed necessary to perform the business of the bank, and may remove them, or either of them, at pleasure. They shall be allowed, by the directors, such compensation for their services as shall be reasonable; but compensation to the President and Directors shall be granted at the pleasure of the stockholders. The stock of said corporation shall be assignable and transferable according to the rules which shall be instituted, in that behalf, by laws and ordinances of the same.

VII. Be it further enacted, That the said corporation shall, neither directly nor indirectly, trade in anything except bills of exchange, promissory notes, and bonds expressing on the face of them, to be negotiable and payable at said bank; gold or silver bullion, or in the sale of goods, really and truly pledged for money lent, and not redeemed in due time, or in goods which shall be the produce of its lands, or in mint certificates, or in the public debts of the United States. Provided, the investment in such stock shall not exceed one-half of the capital stock of the bank. The said corporation shall purchase and hold, only such lands, tenements, rents and hereditaments, as shall be required for the convenient transaction of its business, or shall have been bona fide mortgaged to it by way of security, or conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts, previously contracted in the course of its dealings, or purchased at sale upon judgments which shall have been obtained for such debts.

VIII. Be it further enacted, That the said corporation shall not take more than six per cent. per annum, for or upon its loans and discounts, which interest may be received in advance at the time of discount, and the said bank shall, at no time, have in circulation, more than twice the amount of its capital actually paid in.

IX. Be it further enacted, That the bills obligatory, and of credit, under the seal of the said corporation, which shall be made to any person or persons, shall be assignable by endorsement thereon, under the hand or hands of such person or persons, and of his, her, or their assignee or assignees, and so as abso-

and every assignee or assignees successively, and to enable such assignee or assignees, to bring and main-names; and bills or notes, which may be issued by order of the said corporation, signed by the President, and countersigned by the cashier, promising the payment of money to any person or persons, his, her or their orders, or to bearer, though not under the seal of said corporation, shall be binding and obligatory on the same; in like manner, and with the like force and effect, as upon any private person or persons: that is to say,

those which shall be payable to any person or persons, his, her, or their order, shall be assignable by endor-ment, in like manner, and with like effect, as foreign bills of exchange now are; and those which are payaable to bearer, shall be negotiable and assignable by delivery only.

X. Be it further enacted, That if any person or persons, holding any note or notes of said bank, shall present

bank may declare semi-annual dividends of the profits thereof: Provided, That no dividend shall be declared until the whole amount of stock subscribed shall be paid, in gold and silver, or their equivalent; and if, at any time, more than the real profits are divided, the directors assenting thereto shall be responsible, in their pri-ivate capacities, to creditors who have claims against the said institution.

XII. Be it further enacted, That, in case of any insoluency of the bank hereby created, or ultimate inability to pay, the individual stockholders shall be liable to creditors, in sums double the amount of stock by them respectively held in said corporation.

XIII. Be it further enacted, That the officer at the head of the treasury department of the State shall be furnished once in six months with a statement of the amount of the capital stock of said corporation, and the debts due the same; of the moneys deposited therein; of the notes in circulation; and of the cash on hand; and shall have a right to inspect such general accounts in the books of the bank, as shall relate to said statement: Provided, That this shall not be construed to a right of inspecting the accounts of any private individual with the bank, except the directors; and shall also be furnished, once in twelve months, with the names of the stockholders: And it shall be the duty of the president of the bank, in the first week of Decem-

XIV. Be it further enacted, That, if any person shall falsely make, forge, or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be falsely made, forged or counterfeited, or willingly aid or assist in falsely making, forging, or counterfeiting, any bill or note in imitation of, or purporting to be a bill or note issued by order of the President and Directors of the People's Bank of Newbern, or any order or check on said bank or corporation, or the cashier thereof; or shall falsely alter, or cause or procure to be falsely altered, or willingly aid or assist in falsely altering any bill or note issued by the order of the said corporation, or any order or check on said bank, or the cashier thereof; or shall pass, or receive with intent to pass, utter or publish as true, any false, forged or counterfeited bill or note purporting to be a bill or note issued by order of said corporation; or any false, forged, or counterfeited check or order upon the said bank, or any cashier thereof, knowing the same to be falsely forged or counterfeited; or shall pass or receive with intent to pass or publish as true, any falsely altered check or order on said bank, or any cashier thereof; or any falsely altered bill or note issued by order of said bank, knowing the same to be falsely altered, with intent to defraud said corporation, or any other body politic, or person or persons, every such 26 person shall be deemed guilty of felony, and, being 27 thereof convicted, by due course of law, shall be im-

REPORT

DEAF, DUMB AND BLIND.

RALEIGH:
SEATON GALES, PRINTER TO THE LEGISLATURE.

1852.
The President and Directors of the North Carolina Institute for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb respectfully report:
In the Spring of 1851, the members of the board, then in office, resigned, and the present members of the board were appointed by his Excellency, the Governor, to fill the vacancies.

In entering upon their duties, the Board became satisfied that the prosperity of the institution, as well as a proper regard for the wishes of the Legislature, required that they should endeavor, as far as possible, to carry out the recommendations of the joint select committee appointed at the last session.

The first matter which engaged their attention, was the arrangement of work shops for carrying on the mechanical branches. The increasing number of pupils rendered it impossible to appropriate any more room in the main building than was already occupied for this purpose, and this was found to be very inconvenient and entirely insufficient for any practical benefit. It was determined, therefore, at once to erect a building for this department, which has been done. The building is of brick, plain and substantial, and it is believed, sufficiently large for the present purposes of the institution, at a cost of 1,300.

The Board also directed such repairs and alterations to be made as were found necessary to the preservation of the buildings, or the security and comfort of the pupils.

The attention of the Board was early called to the subject of a department for the instruction of the blind. As it was evidently the intention of the Legislature, that this important class of our fellow-citizens should share the bounty of the State, the Board determined to carry their intentions into effect, at the earliest possible period, and at the commencement of the seventh session, an arrangement was made with the Principal for opening this department, upon the terms proposed by him to the joint select committee of the last session, and before proposed to him by the Literary Board. An additional expense was rendered necessary for furnishing the department with the necessary books, maps, musical instruments, &c. As yet, the Board have found great difficulty in making up the number guarantied to the principal, of such as are of proper age and condition to receive the benefits of the institution.
There are numbers of blind children of the proper age in almost every section of the State, but so dependent are they, and so hopeless in their condition, considered by parents and friends, that it has been found, in many cases, impossible to prevail upon these parents and friends to permit these children to avail themselves of the benefit of the institution. We are confident, however, that the success of those who are already here, will soon dissipate their groundless apprehensions, and render many others eager to avail themselves of the bounty of the State. Three excellent and accomplished teachers are now employed by the Principal, and the Board are prepared to insure a good education in this department, to as many as may apply, or the State may make provision for.

During the past year, two of the pupils, in the deaf mute department, have died; but, while we regret this providence, we cannot but feel thankful, that since its foundation, the pupils and others connected with the institution, have enjoyed an unusual degree of health.

The increase of pupils in the deaf and dumb department, the institution of the blind department, the construction of the work shops and other extraordinary expenses, have exhausted the balance of the annual appropriations to the credit of the Board; and unless the Board are directed to limit the number, to be received hereafter, it will probably be necessary to make some addition to the annual appropriation.

The experience of the last session has also shown that very few if any more pupils can be accommodated, until the buildings are enlarged. At times during the last session, not a room in the house, or a bed, was unoccupied, and at the present time, the Principal and his wife, and six children, are limited to two small rooms. It is very inconvenient and objectionable for the blind to be placed in the same dormitories with the deaf mutes; and yet, it is impossible, at present, to make any other arrangement. The Board, therefore, earnestly recommend that an addition be made to the wings, to secure separate sitting rooms and dormitories for the deaf mutes and the blind, and that a separate building be erected near the main building, for the family of the Principal, teachers and visitors.

The Board also recommend to your honorable body, to amend the act passed in January, 1849, so as to extend the time for which the counties are to be responsible for $75 for each pupil, to seven years, the term of instruction at the institution, and, also, to include the Blind in this provision.

The Board are aware that some dissatisfaction exists, and attempts have been made to prejudice the institution, on account of the introduction of mechanical branches as a part of the system of education. After the action of the former Board of Directors, which received the pointed approbation of the Joint Select Committee, and the implied approval of the Legislature, this Board did not feel themselves at liberty to consider the continuance of these branches at the institution, as an open question, and they now feel it a duty to express their entire conviction, that in order to render the institution a blessing to the pupil and the State, it is of vital importance that every pupil should be afforded an opportunity of acquiring some useful trade, by which he may be enabled to support himself after leaving the institution.

We think the arrangement of the former Board, by which they were to furnish the machinery and tools, and the principal to find the material, employ workmen as instructors, and carry on the shops at his own risk of profit or loss, was the best possible one to secure to the pupil efficient practical benefit, and protect the State from a heavy expense. The attention of the Deaf Mute Pupils has been principally turned to printing, as being the pursuit best adapted to their habits and condition, and thus far, they have been rewarded by the most gratifying success. One of the pupils, who graduated at the close of the last session, is now employed as a journeyman in the office at the institution. No restrictions were placed upon the principal, as to the amount of work he should do, if the Public chose to employ him, but he has never been permitted, with the consent or approbation of the Board, to bid for public printing, solicit work from individuals, or in any way to interfere with the work of other presses in the State. It is true, a considerable amount of job work has been done at this office, but it is equally true, that by far the larger portion of it would have been done out of the State, but for the establishment of this office. The paper which is now published at this office, is published without any expense to the institution, or the use of any property belonging to the institution; the types, power press, and small steam engine used in printing it, are all the individual property of the principal.

The press and engine are used for the benefit of the institution without charge, and the engine is connected with the machinery for the manufacture of brooms by the blind, with a corn mill for grinding meal, and a circular saw for sawing wood.

If, however, the course of the Board in this respect does not meet with the approbation of the Legislature, they are ready to conform to the views of your honorable body, and will either abolish the instruction in mechanical branches at the institution, or have it carried on at the expense of the State, as you may be pleased to direct.

The statement herewith submitted, marked A, will show the total amount of receipts and disbursements on account of the Institution, from November 1st 1850, to the commencement of the present session.

During the last two years, the extraordinary scarcity of provisions, and the corresponding price has been such, that the Board felt it to be their duty to increase the compensation allowed the principal, for the board, tuition, &c., of the deaf mute pupils, to $175 each, and at the organization of the Blind Department, in consideration of the principal taking charge of the blind department, without any additional compensation as principal, the Board agreed to employ a speaking teacher to assist in the deaf mute department. The compensation for board, &c. for the deaf mutes, is fixed annually, and intended to protect the principal and the State from loss. The abundant crops of the present season give us reason to expect that we shall be able this year to reduce this allowance again largely. Statement B. contains a list of the pupils at the institution from the commencement to the present session.

In conclusion, the Board respectfully request that this report may be referred to a Committee of your honorable body, who may visit the institution, examine the books and vouchers of the Board, the condition, progress and wants of the institution, and report to your honorable body, and this Board will take pleasure in affording them every information and assistance in their power.

By order of the Board,
Respectfully submitted,
E. P. GUION,
President of Board.

REPORT

PRESENTED BY MR. BERRY.

The Committee to whom was referred the subject of arranging the Congressional Districts, have had the subject under consideration, and a portion of the same have directed the undersigned to

REPORT:

After repeated and protracted sessions, during which they have bestowed the attention and labor that the importance of the subject committed to their attention demanded, they regret that no system could be suggested, that received the sanction of a majority of the committee. They believe that the position is correct, that all representative, republican government is based upon the position that the people ought to govern; and when the people are divided in opinion, the voice of a majority, expressed forcibly, and in pursuance of the power of the Constitution, shall be obeyed, as the judgment of the whole.

In submitting the accompanying project, the first principle acted upon, was, to make each district have as near the ratio established by law, as practicable; and that the inhabitants of each district should have similar interests, and homogeneous in their productions, and that the territory of each district be convenient and compact.
The portion of the committee, whose opinions are represented by the undersigned, beg leave to present the following plan, believing that it will give a fair representation of the political opinions of the State, in the House of Representatives, in the Congress of the United States. They can say, with sincerity, that, in recommending the adoption of the plan, they are influenced by no unworthy design, to secure undue political preference to party, but by a conviction that the plan proposed is in accordance with the proverbial integrity, honesty and justice of the people of the old North State.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN BERRY.

(Introduced by Mr Bynum.—Passed first reading; referred to Select Committee, and ordered to be printed.)

A BILL

TO AUTHORISE THE BUSINESS OF

BANKING.

A BILL to authorise the business of Banking.

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the author-

Ity of the same, That the comptroller is hereby authorised and required to cause to be engraved and printed in the best manner, to guard against counterfeiting, such a quantity of circulating notes, in the similitude of bank notes, in blank, of different denominations, not less than three dollars, at the expense, to be paid in advance, of any person or association of persons applying for the same, as he may from time to time deem necessary, to carry into effect the provisions of this act. Such blank circulating notes shall be countersigned, numbered and registered in proper books, to be provided and kept for that purpose in his office, so that each denomination of such circulating notes shall bear the uniform signature of the comptroller or his deputy, and the plates, dies and materials to be procured by the comptroller, for the printing and making the circulating notes, provided for hereby, shall remain in his custody, or under his direction.

II. Whenever any person, or association of persons, formed for the purpose of banking, under the provisions of this act, shall duly assign, and transfer, in trust, to the treasurer of this State, any portion of the public stocks issued, or to be issued by the United States, or by the State of North Carolina, such person, or associations of persons, shall be entitled to receive from the comptroller an amount of such circulating notes of different denominations, registered and countersigned, equal to and not exceeding the amount of public stocks assigned and transferred as aforesaid; but such public stocks shall be or be made to be equal to a stock producing six per cent. per annum, and it shall not be lawful for the comptroller to take such stocks at a rate above its par value, nor above its current market value at the time of its deposit by such person or association of persons: Provided, That if in the opinion of the comptroller and treasurer, any stocks offered shall be deemed insecure, they shall not be received as such securities under the provisions of this act.

III. A description list of the circulating notes so registered, and countersigned by the comptroller or his deputy, as provided in section first of this bill, shall be delivered to the State treasurer, who shall copy the same in a book hereinafter required to be kept by him, for recording description lists of securities, deposited with him for safe keeping.

IV. Three descriptive lists of the stocks transferred to the State treasurer in trust as aforesaid, shall be made and signed by the comptroller and persons making the transfer; one in a well bound book to be kept by the comptroller for that purpose, one in a like book to be kept by the treasurer, and one in a book to be kept by the association; and said stocks shall then be delivered to the State treasurer for safe keeping, who shall receipt 9 to comptroller for the same, and who shall be responsi-10 ble for any loss or destruction thereof, growing out of 11 or resulting from negligence, or the want of reasonable 12 precaution or care. The whole, or any part of said 13 stocks, may be returned to the comptroller for the pur-14 pose of being sold under the provisions of this act, or 15 being used or disposed of under any order or decree of 16 court, or of being returned to the owner in conformity 17 with this act—the comptroller, in either case, giving a 18 receipt upon the book kept by the treasurer as aforesaid, 19 specifying therein the purpose for which re-delivery was 20 made, which receipt shall discharge the treasurer from 21 all further responsibility, for the stock to be re-delivered 22 to the comptroller.

V. The treasurer may give to any person or association 2 of persons, so transferring stocks in pursuance of the 3 provisions of this act, powers of attorney, to be counter-
4 signed by the comptroller and recorded by him in a book
5 to be procured and kept for that purpose, to receive interest
6 or dividends thereon, which such persons or associations
7 may receive and apply to their own use; but such power 8 may be revoked, upon such person or associations of per-9 sons failing to redeem the circulating notes so issued, or 10 when in the opinion of the comptroller and treasurer, 11 the principal of such stocks shall become insufficient 12 security; and the comptroller, upon the application of 13 the owners of such transferred stocks in trust, may, in 14 his discretion, with the approval of the treasurer in 15 writing, change or transfer the same for other stocks of 16 the kind before specified in this act, or may transfer 17 the said stocks or any part thereof, upon receiving and 18 cancelling an equal amount of such circulating notes, 19 delivered by him to such person or association of per-20 sons, in such manner, that the circulating notes shall 21 always be secured in full by public stocks, as in this act 22 provided.
VI. The bills or notes so to be countersigned and registered, and the payment of which shall be so secured by the transfer of public stocks, shall be stamped upon their face, "secured by the pledge of public stocks," and the amount of capital stock of the bank shall be stamped on all such bills or notes.

VII. Every bank and banking association, organised under the provisions of this act, shall pay to the State treasurer, an annual tax of every twenty-five cents for every one hundred dollars of capital stock, to be paid semi-annually, one-half on the first Monday of January, and one-half on the first Monday of July, in each and every year. If any bank or banking association as aforesaid, shall neglect or refuse to pay said tax, for ten days after it shall become due, notice of non-payment shall be sent to such delinquent by the State treasurer, and if the payment be not made within twenty days thereafter, such delinquent bank or banking association, shall, in addition to the tax aforesaid, forfeit and pay to the said treasurer, for the use of the State, one per centum on its capital stock. The above semi-annual tax and forfeiture shall always constitute a lien on the interest of the stocks deposited with the treasurer, as provided in section two, and in case of non-payment of such tax and forfeiture, or of either of them, the treasurer is authorised and required to revoke the power of attorney, granted such delinquent, as provided in section five, collect the interest of such stocks, and apply the same to the payment of said tax and forfeitures, or of either of them, and hold the balance, if any, subject to the order of such delinquent. If the interest of said stock shall be insufficient to pay said tax and forfeitures, the treasurer, after deducting the amount of said interest, may collect the balance, by action of debt, in any Court of competent jurisdiction, in the county where such delinquent is located, in the name and in the behalf of the State. Said capital stock shall be exempt from all other taxes, except on that portion of said capital stock which shall consist of and include the real property of said bank or banking association: and the real property of all banks and banking associations shall be assessed and taxed, in the city, town or county where the same is located, for all State, town, county, and corporation purposes, in the name of such bank or banking association: Provided, That the owner or holder of shares of stock in any bank or banking association shall not be taxed as an individual for such shares of stock.

VIII. Before any person or banking association, formed under this act, shall receive from the comptroller, any circulating notes, as provided in sections two and three of this act, the directors or stockholders shall give to the comptroller good and sufficient bonds, to be approved by him and the State treasurer, to the amount of one-fourth of the notes, that the said person or association shall propose to receive, as an additional security, to indemnify the bill holders against any loss that may be sustained, in case the stocks deposited with the comptroller shall be insufficient to redeem said bills; and such person, or association of persons, are hereby authorised, after having executed and signed such circulating notes, in the manner required by this act, to make them obligatory promissory notes, payable on demand at the place of business, of such association, within this State, to loan and circulate the same as money, according to the ordinary course of banking houses.

IX. Any number of persons may associate to establish offices of discount, deposits and circulation, and become incorporated upon the terms and conditions, and subject to the liabilities prescribed in this act; but the aggregate of the capital stock of any such association shall not be less than twenty-five thousand dollars, nor more than five hundred thousand dollars.
X. Such persons, under their hand and seal, shall make a certificate which shall specify, 1st. The name assumed, to distinguish such association, and to be used in all its dealings; which name shall not be that of any other bank or banking association in this State; 2d. The place where the business of discount and deposit of such association is carried on, designating the particular city, town or village; 3d. The amount of capital stock of such association, and the number of shares into which the same shall be divided; 4th. The names and places of residence of the shareholders, and the number of shares held by each of them respectively; 5th. The period at which such association shall commence and terminate, which certificate shall be acknowledged before the clerk of the county Court, and recorded in the office of the register of the county where such association shall be established, and a copy thereof filed in the offices of the State treasurer and comptroller; and upon the recording of which certificate, the person, or association of persons, aforesaid, shall become a body politic and corporate, by the name assumed, as aforesaid, for and during the time fixed in the certificate, and by such name, shall have power to contract and be contracted with, and shall have all other powers, privileges and immunities, and be subject to all the liabilities incident to corporations, as provided in chapter twenty-six of the first volume of the revised statutes, and chapter fifty of the acts of the General Assembly, passed at the session of 1850.

XI. A copy of the certificate required by the preceding section, duly certified by the register of the county or comptroller, may be used as evidence in all courts and places, for and against any such association, or any other person, for or against whom any such evidence may be necessary in any civil or criminal trial, where the original certificate would be competent.
XII. Such association shall have power to carry on the business of banking, by discounting bills, notes, and other evidences of debt, by receiving deposits, by buying and selling gold and silver bullion, foreign coin and foreign and inland bills of exchange, by loaning money on real or personal securities, and by exercising such incidental powers as may be necessary to carry on such business, may choose one of their number as president, and appoint a cashier and such other officers and agents as their business may require; but no association or banker shall commence the business of banking under this act, until such association or banker shall have deposited with the State treasurer the stocks required by this act, to the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars, exclusive of bonds of directors or stockholders.

XIII. The shares of such association shall be deemed personal property, and shall be transferable on the books of the association, in such manner as may be agreed on in the articles of association, and every person becoming a shareholder by such transfer, shall, in proportion to his shares, succeed to all the rights and be subject to all the liabilities of prior shareholders. No change shall be made in the articles of association, by which the rights, remedies or securities of its existing creditors shall be weakened or impaired. Such association shall not be dissolved by the death or insanity of any one of the shareholders therein.

XIV. In case the maker or makers of any circulating note or notes, countersigned and registered as aforesaid, shall, at any time hereafter, on lawful demand, during the usual hours of business, between the hours of ten and three o'clock, at the place where such note or notes is or are payable, fail or refuse to redeem such note or notes in the lawful money of the United States, the holder or holders of such note or notes, making such demand, may cause the same to be protested in one package for non-payment by a notary public, under his official seal, unless the president, cashier or teller, shall offer to waive demand, and notice of protest, and shall, in pursuance of such offer, make, sign, and deliver to the party making such demand an admission in writing, stating the time of the demand, the amount demanded, and the fact of the non-payment thereof; and the comptroller, on receiving and filing in his office such admission or protest, together with such note or notes, shall forthwith give notice in writing to the maker or makers of such note or notes, to pay the same, and if they shall omit to do so for five days after such notice, the comptroller shall immediately thereupon, (unless he shall be satisfied that there is a good and legal defense against the payment of such note or notes,) give notice that all the circulating notes issued by such person or association of persons will be redeemed out of the trust funds in his hands for that purpose; which notice shall be given by publishing the same, in some newspaper printed in the county where the business of such association is established, or in case there is no newspaper printed in such county, such notice shall be published in some newspaper printed in some neighboring county; and the comptroller shall be required to apply the said trust fund, belonging to the maker or makers of such protested note or notes, to the payment pro rata of all circulating notes, whether protested or not, put in circulation by the maker or makers of such protested note or notes, pursuant to the provisions of this act; and to adopt such measures for the payment of such notes, as will, in his opinion, most effectually prevent loss to the holders thereof.

XV. In case such person or association of persons shall fail or refuse to pay such bill, note or notes on demand, in the manner specified in the preceding section of this act, the comptroller, after the expiration of the five days mentioned in the preceding section, shall, after giving thirty days notice by publication in two newspapers, printed at the seat of government of this State, proceed to sell at the court house door in the city of Raleigh, the stocks so pledged as aforesaid, at public auction, and out of the proceeds of sale, shall pay and cancel all the bills or notes which have been issued or put in circulation by such person or association under the provisions of this act, to be applied pro rata to the payment of all such circulating notes; but nothing in this act contained shall be considered as implying any pledge on the part of the State, for the payment of said bills or notes, beyond the proper application of the securities, pledged to the treasurer for their redemption.

XVI. In case the current market value of any portion of the stocks transferred, by any banking association to the State treasurer, in trust as aforesaid in this act, shall, at any time, for the period of ninety days, be less than the value at which they were deposited, the comptroller shall notify such bank of the depreciation in value of such stocks, and such banks, within thirty days after receiving such notice, shall cause stocks of the kind before specified, or an equal amount of their circulating notes, to be transferred to the treasurer in trust, to an amount equal to the difference between the current market value at the time of notice, and the value at which the same were deposited; and if said banking association shall neglect or refuse to deposit public stocks or circulating notes to the amount of such differences, within thirty days after said notice, the said association shall be deemed to have forfeited their rights, powers, privileges and immunities as banking associations under the provisions of this act; and it shall be the duty of the comptroller, to make application to the Superior Court of the county in which such association may be located.
22 to have a receiver or receivers appointed, who shall 23 have the powers and perform the duties hereinafter pro-24 vided. But this section shall not be so construed, as to 25 require the surrender to such receiver of any stocks, de-26 posited with the treasurer or comptroller, pursuant to 27 this act; and the comptroller shall sell such stocks, for 28 the payment of the bills or notes issued by the bank, as 29 he is required to do in other cases.

XVII. It shall not be lawful for the comptroller or his 2 deputy, to countersign bills or notes for any association, 3 to an amount in the aggregate, exceeding the stocks at 4 their value, as before provided in this act, deposited with 5 the treasurer in trust by such association; and any 6 comptroller or deputy, who shall violate the provisions
7 of this section, shall, upon conviction, be deemed guilty
8 of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not 9 less than five thousand dollars, or be imprisoned not less 10 than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

XVIII. It shall be lawful for any association of persons
2 organized under the provisions of this act, by their arti-
3 cles of association, to provide for an increase of their 4 capital, and of the number of their association from 5 time to time, as they may think proper; the aggregate 6 capital not to exceed five hundred thousand dollars, as 7 before provided.

XIX. Contracts made by any such associations, and all 2 notes and bills by them issued and put in circulation as 3 money, shall be signed by the president and cashier 4 thereof.

XX. It shall be lawful for such associations, to purchase,
2 hold, and convey real estate for the following purposes:

XXX. All the circulating notes of banks and banking associations, returned to the comptroller, shall be destroyed by him after he shall have made a record of the same; which record shall specify the number of each bill, its date, and by whom it was countersigned, and shall be made in the books to be kept by him for registering circulating notes, as provided in the first section of this act; and said comptroller shall also furnish the State treasurer with a copy of the record required by this section, who shall record said copy in the book in which he is required to copy descriptive stocks, and circulating notes, by sections three and four of this act.

XXXI. If any portion of the original capital of any banking association shall be withdrawn, for any purpose whatever, whilst any debts of the association shall remain unsatisfied, no dividends or profits, in the shares of the capital stock of the association, shall thereafter be made, until the deficit of capital stock shall have been made good, either by subscription of the shareholders, or out of the subsequent accruing profits of the association; and, if it shall appear that any such dividends have been 10 made, it shall be the duty of the Superior Court of the 11 county in which said association may be located, on ap-

REPORT

SELECT COMMITTEE

ON FISHERIES.

The select committee, appointed under a resolution of the Senate, to enquire whether any thing can be done to promote the fishing interest in the eastern part of this State, and into the expediency of making the laws uniform in relation to the fisheries, have had the same under consideration, but, under the pressure of other public duties, have not had the time they desired to bestow upon the subject all the attention which the important interests involved so justly demand. Their investigations, however limited as they necessarily have been, enable the committee to state, that the laws governing the fisheries contain the most anomalous, discordant and contradictory provisions, operating partially and unjustly among a people equally entitled to participate, in a great bounty, sent by the goodness of Providence to bless mankind.
Some of the fisheries, and especially those of the most importance, are left perfectly free to operate at all times, according to the will and pleasure of the owners, while others, but a short distance removed from them, are hedged in by stringent prohibitions and restrictions. Take, by way of example, the fisheries on Albemarle Sound and Chowan river, where seins are used of more than a mile in length and thousands of drag and set nets dot over the waters in every direction. The law imposes no restraint upon them whatever, and they are worked at all times, both by day and night, without the slightest regard, except in a few very honorable and praiseworthy instances, even to the Sabbath day. On the contrary, the owners of seins and nets of all kinds, on Roanoke, Cashie, Perquimons, Alligator, Scupernong, North river, dividing Camden and Currituck, the Frying Pan and the Marshes dividing Pamlico and Croatan, are under various penal restrictions altogether partial and unequal. In some of the rivers just mentioned, fishing with seins and nets is prohibited by law from sun rise on Saturday, till sun rise on Monday ensuing; in others from sun-set on Saturday till Monday at sun-rise; and in others again from Saturday at sun-set until Sunday night at twelve o'clock. Furthermore, in some, fishing with seins is restricted to one-half of the width of the river or channel, whilst, in others, fishing is allowed to extend two-thirds and three-fourths across from side to side. And again, while in some of the rivers, fishing is permitted at the mouths thereof, in others, it is prohibited for the distance of from four hundred to seventeen hundred and sixty yards.

It is difficult to believe that these diversities and incongruities can have been founded on any fixed principles of just calculation; on the contrary, in all reasonable probability, they are the results of accident or inadvertence. That these inequalities, producing discontent, should not be permitted to exist any longer, the committee entertain no doubt, and they are persuaded that the penal restrictions on fishing should be entirely removed, or else that they should be modified and made to operate all alike.

The question then presents itself, which alternative is most likely to preserve the fisheries, and most widely to extend their benefits. This requires some consideration, and the committee have turned their attention to it, with the most anxious desire to arrive at the truth, and to come to the best conclusion.

The annual periodical supply of shad and herring in our waters, is generally regarded, by those within its reach, as one of the most highly prized benefactions bestowed by the Great Creator, on mankind.

It may, perhaps, valuable as it is, be overrated, but coming once the year, and lasting but for the short period of about two months, they indulge an habitual attachment to this kind of food, and would probably rather be subjected to almost any other privation than to be deprived of this highly prized enjoyment. The general feeling of the people having taken this direction, they look with anxiety and concern on the yearly diminishing quantities of fish coming up our rivers, and indeed into our sounds, from sea.

Such is the anxious desire of the people to secure a supply of fish in the spring of the year, a stranger to their habits would be astonished to see on the public roads the innumerable wagons and carts wending their toilsome way from one hundred to one hundred and fifty miles, to the fisheries, in quest of their accustomed supply. From Guilford, Rockingham, Caswell, Orange. Person, Granville, Franklin, Wake, Nash, Warren, Halifax, Edgecombe, Northampton and various other counties, the owner of the wagon, and the poor man with his horse and cart, constituting nearly the whole of his wealth, find their way to the fisheries, and with their hard earnings, purchase their loads of fish, and go their way rejoicing. It is true, they pay dearly for this indulgence, and it is difficult to understand how those who travel the greater distances can afford it, but they meet the disadvantages cheerfully, and come and go apparently joyous and happy.

But a few years ago, our rivers were overflowing with fish, the shad, the rock, the herring: none being superior, if equal, to them in this country. They were then more accessible, more conveniently distributed, and were obtained at about half the price at which they now sell. How changed the prospect! So far as our principal rivers are concerned, with the exception of the Chowan, the use of seins in the taking of fish is nearly abandoned, and where plenty abounded, there is now scarcity and disappointed hopes. At the period to which reference is had, the large fisheries had not been established on the sounds; nor indeed had nets been there employed to any considerable extent, if at all. Now it is asserted by men of accurate information, that seventy seins of the largest class, and thousands of nets are constantly worked in the sounds, and Chowan river. The constant working of seins and nets, both night and day, form an insuperable obstacle to the passage of fish in any considerable quantity, much beyond the sea coast. The committee regard as especially injurious to the prosperity of the fisheries, the fishing in and near the inlets from the ocean. These inlets, unlike the spacious bays and rivers to the north of us, are comparatively very contracted, varying from one or two hundred yards to one mile in width. The shad and herring being among the most defenceless of the finny tribe, are naturally and habitually timid. They are ever alive to danger and the appearance of danger. The fishing with seins and nets cannot be conducted in narrow passages, like the inlets, without occasioning alarm, and the shad and herring are thus easily driven back into the sea, where they are devoured in great numbers by the more powerful and voracious of their kind, or they are driven to seek refuge for their progeny, in more quiet and peaceful waters. It is urged, however, that the persons living about the inlets, are generally poor, that their chief means of support is derived from the employment of fishing, and that it would be a great hardship to deprive them of this source of living. It is proclaimed in Holy writ, that the poor we have always among us. They are not confined to the inlets or the neighborhood thereof. They are found on the shores of the sounds, the rivers, and every where else, in our State, and have equal claims to our benevolent and protecting care, without regard to locality. All that the poor of the inlets can rightfully claim, is that they should not be placed on a worse footing, in regard to fishing privileges, than the poor in other sections, vastly surpassing them in number, equally needy and equally entitled to the bounties of Providence. This is conceding much in their behalf. If any discrimination by law ought to be made, which is not proposed, it should be made against the poor of the inlets, and in favor of the poor elsewhere, for the reason that, their locality enables them to reap more abundantly of the coveted harvest, than those living remotely from the sea-shore; and because they can fish at all seasons of the year, while the other class can only supply themselves with a scanty allowance for about two months in the year. Our navigable waters belong to the sovereign authority of the State, except so far as jurisdiction has been granted by the constitution to the General Government, to regulate commerce with foreign nations, and between the several States. The fish found in our navigable waters, being the property of the State, should not be monopolized by the few, but should be as widely distributed, by equal and just laws, as practicable.

To this end, the committee propose that the prohibition and restrictions now imposed by law on the fishing with seins and nets, in Pamlico, Croatan, Roanoke and Albemarle Sounds, and the various rivers emptying into them, be repealed; and that a general bill, concerning the fisheries, be passed, prohibiting, under adequate penalties, the fishing with seins and nets, in the said waters, from sun-set on Saturday until twelve o'clock on Sunday night ensuing in each week, from the first day of February, to the first day of May in every year. The policy of this reform is recommended by its uniformity, equality and justice: by its affording, perhaps, the best means of protecting the fishing interest, and the more widely distributing the benefits, and it is recommended by the further high consideration, that it will secure from violation, the Sabbath day, at the fisheries, where, for many years, it has been most awfully contemned and disregarded. The committee is informed, and take great pleasure in stating the fact, that several of the owners of the most valuable fisheries in the State refuse to work their seins on the Sabbath day, and that there is a constantly increasing wholesome public sentiment, utterly opposed to such fishing. To carry into effect the views of the committee, as presented in this report, they offer the accompanying bill, and commend it to the favorable consideration of the Senate.

A. JOYNER, Chairman.

A BILL TO INCORPORATE THE FRENCH BROAD RAILROAD COMPANY.

RALEIGH: SEATON GALES, PRINTER TO THE LEGISLATURE.

[Introduced by Mr. Woodruff — Passed the first reading, and ordered to be printed.]
A BILL

To incorporate the French Broad Railroad Company.

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That, for the purpose of establishing a communication by Railroad from Spartanburg court house, or Greenville court house, in South Carolina, to some point on the Virginia and East Tennessee Railroad, in East Tennessee, across the Western portion of North Carolina, along the valley of the French Broad river, so as to effect a direct connection between one of said points in South Carolina and the said Virginia and East Tennessee Railroad, in East Tennessee, the formation of a Company, to be called the French Broad Railroad Company, is hereby authorised, which, when formed, shall have corporate existence in perpetuity, in each of the States aforesaid.

II. Be it further enacted, That the said company be, and the same is hereby, authorised to construct a railroad from Spartanburg court house, or Greenville court house, in South Carolina, as they may prefer, to such point on the Virginia and East Tennessee Railroad, in East Tennessee, as they may prefer, running across the western part of this State, along the valley of the French Broad river, or such other route as they may determine on after the organization of the company: and that said company, when formed in compliance with the conditions hereinafter prescribed, shall have a corporate existence as a body politic for the term of one hundred and ninety years.
III. Be it further enacted, That the capital stock of said company shall be two millions of dollars; and that, for the purpose of creating the said capital stock, the following persons be, and the same are hereby, appointed commissioners, namely: N. W. Woodfin, James W. Patton, Will. D. R. Rankin, James M. Alexander, and Montroville Patton, of Buncombe county, in this State; John E. Patton, A. E. Beard, and John A. Fagg, of Madison county, in this State; Daniel Blake and D. B. Miller, of Henderson county, in this State; Columbus Mills, of Rutherford county, in this State; Simpson Bobo and H. H. Thompson, of Spartanburg district, in the State of South Carolina; C. J. Ellford and Perry Dunkin, of Greenville district, in the State of South Carolina; and Lawson Franklin, of Cocke county, in the State of Tennessee.

That it shall be the duty of the said commissioners to direct the opening of books of subscription of stock at such times and places, and under the direction of such persons as they, or a majority of them, may deem proper; and the said commissioners shall have power to appoint a chairman of their body, treasurer, and all other officers, and to sue for and recover all sums of money that ought, under this act, to be received by them.

IV. Be it further enacted, That all persons who are, or may hereafter be authorized to open books for subscription of stock by the commissioners herein appointed for that purpose, shall open said books at any time after the ratification of this act, twenty days' previous notice being given in some one or more of the public newspapers in this State; and that the said books, when opened, shall be kept open for the space of thirty days at least, and as long thereafter as the commissioners first above named shall direct; and that all subscription of stock shall be in shares of one hundred dollars, the subscriber paying, at the time of making such subscription, the sum of one dollar on each share thus subscribed, to the person or persons authorized to receive such subscription; and, in case of failure to pay said sum, all such subscriptions shall be void, if the commissioners choose to declare it, or they may direct it to be recovered by suit or otherwise; and, upon closing the books, all such sums as shall have been thus received of subscribers, on the first cash installment, shall be paid over to the general commissioners hereinbefore named by the persons receiving them; and for failure thereof, such person or persons shall be personally liable to said general commissioners before the organization of said company, and to the company itself, after its organization, to be recovered in the Superior Court of law within this State, in the county where such delinquent resides, or, if he reside in any other State, then in any court in such State having competent jurisdiction. Then the said general commissioners shall have power to call on and require, all persons empowered to receive subscriptions of stock, at any time, and from time to time, as a majority of them may think proper, to make a return of the stock by them respectively received, and to make payments of all sums made by the subscribers; that all persons receiving subscriptions of stock shall pass a recipe to the subscriber or subscribers for the payment of the first installment, as heretofore required to be paid;
and, upon their settlement with said general commissioners as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the said general commissioners, in like manner, to pass their receipt for all sums thus received, to the person from whom received, and such receipts shall be taken and held to be 44 good and sufficient vouchers for the persons holding 45 the same.

V. Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of 2 said general commissioners to direct and authorise the 3 keeping open of books for the subscription of stock in 4 the manner above described, until the sum of one mill-
5 ion of dollars shall have been subscribed to the capital
6 stock of said company; and as soon as the sum of one 7 million of dollars shall have been subscribed, and the 8 first instalment of one dollar per share on said stock
9 shall have been received by the general commissioners, 10 said company shall be regarded as formed; and the 11 said commissioners, or a majority of them, shall sign and 12 seal a duplicate declaration to that effect, with the names
13 of the subscribers appended, and cause one of the said
14 duplicates to be deposited in the office of the Secretary 15 of State; and thenceforth, from the closing of the 16 books of subscription as aforesaid, the said subscribers 17 to the stock shall form one body politic and corporate, in 18 deed and in law, by the name and style of the French 19 Broad Railroad Company.

VI. Be it further enacted, That, whenever the sum of 2 one million of dollars shall be subscribed, in manner
3 aforesaid, the subscribers, their executors, administra-
4 tors and assigns, shall be, and they are hereby declared 5 to be, incorporated into a company by the name and 6 style of the French Broad Railroad Company, and by 7 that name shall be capable in law and equity, of purchas-8 ing, holding, leasing and conveying estates, real, per-9 sonal and mixed, and of acquiring the same by gift or 10 devise, so far as shall be necessary for the purposes em-11 braced within the scope, object and intent of this char-12 ter, and no further; and shall have perpetual success-13 ion; and by their corporate name may sue and be sued, plead and be imploled in any court of law and equity in the State of North Carolina; and may have and use a common seal, which they may alter and renew at pleasure; and may have and enjoy all other rights and immunities which other corporate bodies may and of right do exercise; and may make all such by laws, rules and regulations as are necessary for the government of the corporation, or effecting the object for which it is created, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the United States or of the State of North Carolina.

VII. Be it further enacted, That notice of process upon the principal agents of said company, or the president or directors, or any of them, shall be deemed and taken to be due and lawful notice of service of such process upon the company, so as to bring it before any Court within the State of North Carolina.

VIII. Be it further enacted, That, as soon as the sum of one million of dollars shall have been subscribed, in manner aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the general commissioners, appointed herein, to appoint a time and place for the stockholders to meet, which they shall cause to be previously published, for the space of thirty days, in one or more newspapers, as they may deem proper; at which time and place, the said stockholders, in person or proxy, shall proceed to elect twelve directors of the company, and to enact all such by-laws, rules and regulations, as may be necessary for the government and the transaction of its business. The persons elected directors at this meeting, shall serve such a period as the stockholders may direct; and at this meeting, the stockholders shall fix on the place or places, where the subsequent election of directors shall be held; and such elections shall thereafter be annually made; but, if the day of the annual election should pass without any election of directors, the corporation shall not thereby be dissolved, but it shall be lawful on any other day to hold and make such election in such manner as may be prescribed by the rules or by-laws of the corporation.
IX. Be it further enacted, That the affairs of the company shall be managed and directed by a general board, to consist of twelve directors, to be elected by the stockholders from among their number, at the first and subsequent general annual meetings, as prescribed in the eighth section of this act.

X. Be it further enacted, That the election of directors shall be by ballot, each stockholder having as many votes as he has shares in the stock of said company; and the person having a majority of all the votes polled, shall be considered as duly elected: Provided, That said company may fix any other scale of voting to govern all subsequent elections.

XI. Be it further enacted, That the president of the company shall be elected by the directors from among their own number, in such manner as the regulations of the company shall prescribe.

XII. XXI. Be it further enacted, That the debt of stockhol- 2 ders, due to the company for stock therein, either as made to appear, to the satisfaction of the court, that at least ten days' previous notice has been given by the application shall have been published at least one month next preceding, in some newspaper printed as near as may be to the court house of the county, and shall have been posted at the door of the court house, on the first day of the term of said court to which the applicaor a part of it lies, is hereby authorised to administer: Provided, further, That the right of condemnation hereby granted shall not authorise the said company to invade the dwelling house, yard, garden or burial ground of an individual without his consent.

XXVIII. Be it further enacted, That the right of said company to condemn in the manner described in the 27th section of this act, shall extend to the condem-in case of deep cuts and filling, when the said company shall have power to condemn as much in addition thereto as may be necessary for the purpose of constructing said road; and the company shall also have power to condemn any appropriate lands in like manner, for the constructing and building of depots, shops, warehouses, buildings for servants, agents and persons employed on the road, not exceeding two acres in any one lot or station.

XXIX. Be it further enacted, That, in the absence of any contract or contracts with said company, in relation to lands through which the said road or its branches
may pass, signed by the owner thereof, or by his agent
5 or any claimant or person in possession thereof, which Provided, that the land upon which the said road or any of its branches may be constructed, together with one hundred feet on each side of the centre of the said road, has been granted to the said company, by the owner or owners thereof; and the said company shall have good right and title thereto, and shall hold and enjoy the same as long as the same shall be used for the purposes of said road and no longer, unless the person or persons owning the said land at the time that part of the said road which may be on the said land, was finished; or those claiming under him, her or them, shall apply for an assessment of the value of said lands, as hereinbefore directed, within two years next after that part of the said road, which may be on the said land, was finished; and in case the said owner or owners, or those claiming under him, her or them, shall not apply within two years next after the said part was finished, he, she or they shall be forever barred from recovering said land, or having any assessment or compensation therefor:

Provided, That nothing herein contained shall affect the rights of femme coverts or infants, until two years after the removal of their respective disabilities.

XXX. Be it further enacted, That all lands not heretofore granted to any person, nor appropriated by law to the use of the State, within one hundred feet of the centre of the road, which may be constructed by the said company, shall vest in the company as soon as the line of the road is definitely laid out through it, and any grant of land thereafter shall be void.

XXXI. Be it further enacted, That if any person or persons shall intrude upon the said railroad by any manner of use thereof, of the rights and privileges connected therewith, without permission, or contrary to the will of the said company, he, she or they may be indicted for misdemeanor, and upon conviction may be fined and imprisoned by any Court of competent jurisdiction in this State.

person or persons to destroy, or in any manner to hurt, damage or destroy, or injure or obstruct the said railroad, or any bridge or vehicle used for or in transportation thereon, any water tank, warehouse, or any other property of said company, such person or persons so offending shall be liable to be indicted therefor, and on conviction, shall be imprisoned not more than six, nor less than one month, and pay a fine, not exceeding five hundred dollars, nor less than twenty dollars, at the discretion of the court before which such conviction shall take place; and shall be further liable to pay all expenses of repairing the same; and it shall not be competent for any person so offending against the provisions of this clause, to defend himself by pleading or giving in evidence, that he was the owner, agent or servant of the land where such destruction, hurt, damage, injury or obstruction was done, at the time the same was done, or caused to be done.

XXXIII. Be it further enacted, That every obstruction to the safe and free passage of vehicles on the said road or its branches, shall be deemed a public nuisance, and may be abated as such by any officer, agent or servant of said company; and the person causing such obstruction may be indicted and punished for erecting a public nuisance.

XXXIV. Be it further enacted, That the said company shall have the right to take at the storehouses erected by them on the said railroad, or connected therewith, or on its branches, goods, merchandise, and produce intended for transportation, prescribe the rules of priority and charge, and receive such just compensation for shall cause to be published) or as may be fixed by agreement with the owner, which may be distinct from the rates of transportation: Provided, That the said company shall not charge or receive storage on goods, transportation, and which the said company may have power to transport immediately.

XXXV. Be it further enacted, That the profits of the 2 company, or so much thereof as the general board may 3 deem advisable, shall when the affairs of the company 4 will permit, be semi-annually divided among the stock- 5 holders in proportion to the stock each may own.

A BILL

TO ENCOURAGE AGRICULTURE, DOMESTIC MANUFACTURES, AND THE MECHANIC ARTS;

TOGETHER WITH THE REPORT OF THE

COMMITTEE ON AGRICULTURE.

RALEIGH:
BEATON GALES, PRINTER TO THE LEGISLATURE.
1862.
[Introduced by Mr. Woodfin.—Referred to the Committee on Agriculture, and ordered to be printed.]
A BILL

To encourage Agriculture, Domestic Manufactures, and the Mechanic Arts.

1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That it shall be lawful for any number of persons, in any county in this State, to associate together and form a County Society to encourage and promote agriculture, domestic manufactures, and the mechanic arts therein; and any such society, when organised, according to the provisions of this act, shall have all the powers of a corporation or body politic, and may sue and be sued, implead and be impleaded, prosecute and defend to final judgment and execution, in any court of law and equity, or other tribunal having jurisdiction of the sum in dispute; and may purchase and hold all the real estate which shall be necessary to best promote the objects of said association, and which estate shall be exclusively devoted to such object.

II. Be it further enacted, That such society shall be formed by written articles of association, subscribed by the members thereof, specifying the objects of said society, and the conditions on which the subscribers shall become members thereof; and the first meeting shall be 6 notified and held in the manner prescribed in the arti-
7 cles of association. They may adopt a corporate name, 8 either in the original articles of association, or by vote 9 at the first meeting thereof in which such society shall 10 be organized, and may, at any meeting, adopt a corpo-11 rate seal, and alter the same at pleasure.

II. Be it further enacted, That such societies, not ex-
2 ceeding one in each county, shall be organised by ap-3 pointing a president, two vice presidents, secretary and 4 treasurer, and such other officers as they may deem pro-5 per, to be chosen annually, and to hold their places until 6 others are appointed.

IV. Be it further enacted, That, whenever such socie-
2 ties are organised, as aforesaid, they shall have power
3 to adopt all such by-laws, rules, and regulations as they 4 shall judge necessary and expedient to promote the ob-
5 jects thereof, not inconsistent with the laws of this State 6 or of the United States.

V. Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of 2 the secretary or clerk of such society to keep fair re-
3 cords of the proceedings of the same, in a book provid-4 ed for that purpose; and such books may be read in 5 evidence in any suit in which the said corporation is 6 concerned.

VI. Be it further enacted, That, when it shall be made 2 to appear to the satisfaction of the treasurer of this 3 State, that any such society is duly organized in any 4 county, according to the provisions of this act, it shall 5 be the duty of the treasurer aforesaid to pay annually, 6 to the treasurer of every such society so organised as 7 aforesaid, or to his order, on application made therefor,
8 the sum of fifty dollars: Provided, nevertheless, That 9 no such society shall draw out of the treasury of this 10 State as aforesaid, in any year, until it shall be made 11 further to appear to the satisfaction of the treasurer 12 thereof, that there shall have been subscribed and paid 13 into the treasury of such society, for the sole use and 14 benefit thereof, for the year in question, the like sum of 15 fifty dollars.

VIII. Be it further enacted, That all money so subscrib- ed, as well as that received from the State treasury, as 3 herein provided, shall, after paying the necessary inci- 4 dental expenses of such societies, respectively, be an- 5ually paid out for premiums, awarded by such socie- 6 ties, in such sums and in such way and manner as they, 7 severally, under their by-laws, rules and regulations 8 shall direct, on such live animals, articles of production, 9 and agricultural implements and tools, domestic manu- 10 factures, mechanical improvements, and productions, as 11 are of the growth and manufacture of the county; and 12 also on such experiments, discoveries or attainments in 13 scientific or practical agriculture as are made within the county where such societies are respectively or- 15 ganised.

VIII. Be it further enacted, That each agricultural so- 2 ciety entitled to receive money from the State treasury, 3 shall, through its treasurer, transmit to the treasurer of 4 the State, in the month of December, or before, a state- 5 ment of the money so received from the State, together 6 with the amount received from the members of the so- 7 ciety for the preceding year; a statement of the expen- 8 diture of all such sums, and the number of the members 9 of said society.

IX. Be it further enacted, That each agricultural society 2 receiving money from the State, as aforesaid, shall, in 3 each year, publish at their own expense a full statement 4 of their experiments, improvements and reports of their 5 committees, in at least one newspaper published in such 6 county; or, in case there be no newspaper published in 7 such county, then in the nearest newspaper thereto:
8 And evidence that the requirements of this act have 9 been complied with shall be furnished to the state trea-
10 surer, before he shall pay over to such society the said 11 sum of fifty dollars for the benefit of such society for the 12 next year.
REPORT

COMMITTEE ON AGRICULTURE.

The committee on Agriculture, to whom was referred, "a bill to encourage agriculture, domestic manufactures and the mechanic arts," have had the same under consideration, and beg leave to

REPORT:

That, although the Senatorial branch of the General Assembly was designed, in a great measure, to represent, protect and encourage the agricultural interests of the State, it has never, before the present session, as we believe, had a committee charged with this important subject. The cause of this neglect, we are unable to state; but are pleased that the acknowledged claims of the farming interest, upon the attention of Legislators, are at least recognised, in our existence as a committee.

The prosperity of the people of our State is mainly dependent upon the successful cultivation of the soil. If agriculture languishes, no pursuit followed by man can flourish. The productions of the earth, brought forth by skilful tillage, and increased by the application of science, both as regards the implements used in agricultural labor, and the fertilizer employed to enlarge the yield, constitute the foundation upon which rests our happiness as a people, and our healthy progress as a State. This being true, it is indeed strange that more has not been done by the representatives of the people, for its advancement. Almost every other branch of industry has had the encouragement of law; and yet this, the main calling and prop of our people, and which must ever continue to be so, has received no other aid than what was found in the general legislation of the State. It is no wonder, then, that the farming population have complained of our neglect. No wonder that many of our constituents have upbraided us, on our return among them, for remaining so long at their seat of government, and doing so little for the promotion of agricultural improvement.

Your committee flatter themselves, that a birth day is dawning upon us. They believe that, by the passage of the accompanying bill, a laudable emulation for agricultural and mechanical excellence will be incited, tending to show the capacity of a soil improved by intelligent culture, and to exhibit the skill of our artisans in useful inventions.

The sum proposed to be annually appropriated for the furtherance of the objects of the bill, is, considering its design, of too little consequence to cause any one to hesitate as to the course which he shall pursue. If the amount were ten times as great, it would be wisely used for the ends indicated, even though no immediate benefit should ensue. The results of such a system as that projected here, in operation in several of our sister States, clearly demonstrate the beneficial efforts of agricultural associations, in awakening the pride, stimulating the energies, and improving the condition of the people. In some, these societies receive the direct aid of the public treasury. In others, the funds raised are the voluntary contributions of patriotic and valuable citizens; but, from whatever source derived, the effort has invariably been of the most beneficial character.
Pride and ambition, as well as self-interest, are very necessary in making mankind excel in any thing. The societies proposed to be encouraged, will, it is expected and intended by the bill, excite both these powerful agents, by offering inducements to successful competitors, and thus produce honorable rivalry among the yeomanry of the land. Then the tilling of the soil will become a pleasant occupation, and skilful agriculture follow, bringing in its train rich harvests and happy homes.

Your committee repeat, that the sum proposed to be annually distributed among the several agricultural associations, which may be formed, is of little moment, compared with the immense benefit which it will be instrumental in producing. We cannot otherwise believe, than that the increased productions of the soil, consequent upon the outlay, together with the appreciation of landed and other property, which must inevitably follow, will more than compensate our people for the expenditure incurred. Still, we place the claims of this bill upon higher grounds. We claim its passage, as a right belonging to the cultivators of our soil, the granting of which is a duty imperatively enjoined upon their faithful and trustworthy representatives, and will be eagerly acknowledged and performed.

Your committee, therefore, have unanimously agreed to report the said bill back to the Senate, with the accompanying amendments, and recommend its passage.

RESOLUTION.

WHEREAS, At a session of the General Assembly, held in the year 1816, an act was passed, declaring valid the proceedings of the subscribers for improving the navigation of the River Roanoke and its tributaries, &c.:

AND WHEREAS, in the third section of the before recited act, it is further enacted, "That the articles following, shall be, and make part of the charter of the aforesaid company: "That if the said company shall not open and complete the navigation of the said river and the tributary streams thereof, for the safe passage of boats within twenty years from and after the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and eighteen, then all preference in favor of the said company, in the navigation of said river and streams respectively, so not improved, shall cease and be forfeited:
I. Be it therefore Resolved, That the Committee on Internal Improvement be instructed to inquire whether the Roanoke Navigation Company, in failing to improve that portion of Dan River, running through the county of Rockingham, as set forth in the above recited act, or from any other cause, have not forfeited their right and control over the same.
The committee on Internal Improvement have had referred to them, a resolution, instructing them to enquire "whether the Roanoke Navigation company, in failing to improve that portion of Dan river, running through the county of Rockingham, as set forth" in their charter, or from any other cause, have not forfeited their right and control over the same.

The committee, upon investigation, have ascertained, that, by the charter of said company, granted in the year eighteen hundred and sixteen, they had full power and authority to improve for the purpose of navigation, the Roanoke, Dan and Staunton rivers, and the tributary streams thereof; and to enjoy the sole and exclusive right so to improve the said rivers for the period of twenty years from the date of the charter: that in pursuance of the power and authority vested in the said company, they did within the prescribed time open and improve the navigation of Dan river, from its junction with Staunton river to some point in Rockingham county, not precisely known to the committee, but believed to have been at or near Hairston ferry, in said county; and that the said company for more than twenty years, have been in the constant receipt of tolls on the said river, so improved: that the said Roanoke Navigation company, either for the want of adequate means, or for the reason that the river above the said point was not considered susceptible of improvement, at a cost to justify the undertaking, have failed to extend their improvements beyond the place designated, and as the time within which the said company were authorized to extend the navigation above, has long since elapsed, the committee is of opinion that the said Roanoke Navigation company have forfeited their rights in this particular regard, and that the right to improve said river above the point before mentioned has reverted to the State.

The committee is not informed, nor do they suppose that the said company sets up any claim adverse to the views presented in this report.

A. JOYNER,
In behalf of the committee.

CONCERNING THE

"(MAINE LIQUOR LAW)"

IN NORTH CAROLINA.

RALEIGH:
SEATON GALES, PRINTER TO THE LEGISLATURE:

1852;
[Presented by Mr. Joyner.—Read first time, and laid on the table, and ordered to be printed.]
A MEMORIAL

To the Honorable the General Assembly
of the State of North Carolina:

Whereas, it is laid down as a fundamental principle in the Constitution of our most enlightened and free government, that all citizens thereof have an unalienable right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," and consequently the right to think for themselves, individually and collectively as a people, in temperance, or in regard to eating and drinking, and all else involving individual rights legitimate to private judgment: And, whereas, lately has met our observation a certain petition to your honorable body, involving the principles of the northern fanatically despotic Maine liquor law, or a law of paternal origin, whence the abolition fanatical laws, to rob the South of one species of property, as the Maine law of another: Or whereas, both these fanatical law concerns "higher" than our Constitution and Heaven, in the arrogantly fanatical self-conceit of certain despotic characters, but really lower than common infidel-like wickedness and anti-republican despotism; and as such, involving worse principles than taxing without consent, that gave rise to the revolutionary struggle for republican liberty; or the despotic denial of self-thought or private judgment in religion, that gave rise to the reformation that wrought out freedom from ecclesiastical tyranny. And, whereas, that we believe that anything equivalent to the Maine liquor law passed, or such as petitioned for in said memorial, would not only subserve the insidious sinister-minded purposes of these attacking vital State rights of the South, by certain hireling exotic lecturers to get up the Maine law excitement, and to put down all defensive opposition, by coarsely vulgar ridicule and insulting abuse of their betters, while shrinking from public free discussion under shameful Jesuit pretences; but, even if such despotic sumptuary, fanatical laws, as the Maine one or that petitioned for, passed by any means to virtually deprive the poorer classes of the people from their constitutional right, to enjoy certain blessings of Heaven, (and that these blessings are curses, and no property for, certain infidel and abusive hireling lecturers to recklessly assert,) and tempting to hypocrisy to obtain them; yet virtually, the Maine liquor one is no better law in the name of temperance, than those fanatical laws in the name of religion, that destroyed temporally thousands, aye, millions of the best men and Christians ever upon earth—and the fanatical law, by which were murdered innocent ladies called Salem Witches. Therefore, in view of the foregoing and vital republican principles, and their antagonistic liberty-destroying despotic laws, we the undersigned, humbly petition you, (not arrogantly instruct you) to let good enough alone; as to our own well regulated license law to wholesomely restrain, if well administered, (and no law works well without,) and not wholly destroy the traffic in the property blessing of alcoholic liquor; and much more we beseech you not to change the present liberally framed license law according to Maine law feature, into an odious monopoly of liquor sales, by a fanatical aristocratic clique concern, to tempt hypocrisy through selling for a medicine only, and in such quantities and under such restrictions, as to deprive the poorer classes of citizens to think, judge, and act for themselves in temperance. And, we say fearless of successful contradiction, that a large majority of the citizens of this county, if time and opportunity given, would sign this petition against Maine liquor law violence and tyranny. But we hope a few names will suffice. And, we also venture to give our opinion that, if the people of our State could have the question fairly brought before them, an overwhelming majority would petition as we, and say, “let good enough alone.” And the more confirmed are we in the opinion, in view of the fact, that a large and the most candid and respectable number of the order of the Sons of Temperance greatly deprecate that any of their body should pursue measures calculated either to ruin liberty or their society, or both, and believe that persuasive measures only legitimate to the principles of the order; and believe that Maine law force just as injurious to temperance, as the like in religion by church and State union and consequent horrid persecutions. But, as part of the unprincipled cunning of abolitionists North, is to try to hold the balance of power in party conflicts, so, doubtless will their counterpart fanatics, the Maine law despots in the South. We, therefore, as a part of the sovereign people of the State, take the liberty to suggest to you not to be induced by any appliances, to stand in awe of would-be despots over your consciences, to induce you to turn cold shoulders to fearless defenders of primary liberty against Maine law tyranny. You are the guardians of the people, as their law-makers; and especially ought to be the magnanimous fearless guardians of the masses of the people, peaceably attending to their respective avocations, without the task or inclination of watching despotic clique fanatics trying to deprive the many of temperately enjoying certain blessings, because a comparative few abuse them. We entreat you, therefore, to set your countenances as brass, and your brows as flint against all corrupt Danmarks, that would, by varied pretences, induce you to trample upon the primary liberties of our State. A State hitherto in great repute for sober-minded (not theoretical or fanatical) judgment and policy. And, we especially petition you to beware of even-suspected fanaticisms, or principles leading thereto from the Northern States; States now the theatre of diversified humbuggery, and where most deadly hostility to the South, because of her unyielding front to the dictates of a malign reigning fanaticism, or not complying with its arrogant demands to destroy a southern domestic institution, Heaven and law sanctioned, and involving the best interests of all concerned.
To all arrogant Northern fanatical dictation, and insidious attacks upon our peculiar State institutions, we ought to say in this emphatic quotation, "we seek no change, and much less such change as you can give us." And one of the worst liberty-destroying fanatical changes is now sought to be inflicted upon us through virtual traitors in our midst to Southern best interests. And let us not suffer our liberties to be poisoned at the fountain head, by the Syren cry of "Let alone, or let alone" this absurdly infidel fanaticism of abstinence the only temperance the only temperance, and advocacy of Maine law force and violence to back its humbuggery, or absurd position, that cannot bear the light of fair discussion, and it will soon die a natural death. So the cry as to abolitionism years since. But, if let alone, and no antidote to poisoning the public mind or masses of the people North, by the lecturers and pamphlets of abolitionism, and at length it had well nigh ruined our country, and now hangs as a dark threatening incubus over our land. Well, if fanatics had let alone their despotic intermeddling attacks. And we venture to say to you, that apart from this abolition let-alone affair, and we would not now be threatened with liberty-destroying Maine law despotism. And, that it is indeed a despotism, clearly evinced from the fact of most eminent jurists of our land, declaring it unconstitutional. Supreme judges have pronounced "Tekel," upon the Maine law, and therefore it is, in deed and in truth, a most rotten Denmark, or most pernicious liberty-destroying fanaticism, except in the deranged eye of the fanatics themselves. And that both fanaticisms of abolitionism, and ultra-teetotalism: with its Maine law despotism, are indeed, infidel or in direct hostility to the Bible, most eminent christians have decided. So both are against equitable and sound laws of earth and Heaven. And in the North, Maine law violence and all its incipient steps so far as tried proved bad; and, especially pernicious to true temperance. All sorts of hypocracies are resorted to in Maine to obtain liquor, the most striking effect of said law there. New York State tried to her repentance;
abrogating her license law, such as ours, one year only. And counter-petitioning saved her from Maine law despotism. And, in New Jersey, opinions entitled to the highest regard pronounced the Maine law to be "anti republican, tyrannical, and abrogating the trial by jury; introducing violations of private property, &c." But three States only have adopted it, and those among the most noted for abolitionism. Virginia rejected it, and no southern State is yet disgraced by its adoption, and we devoutly hope never will be. And we respectfully suggest that some, at least of the northern legislators, helping to pass the Maine law, were utterly destitute of the patriotic magnanimity of a good and great politician, declaring in a crisis involving the primary rights of the South: "Rather let me perish than my country." Or that such legislators were thus destitute, who knew the better, but pursued the worse as to the Maine law despotism, as well as abolitionism, for fear of fanatical obloquy, and political snuffing out thereby.

And we fearlessly predict, that the probable consequence, in Providence, of such political cowardice, will be, that, after the ultra teetotal and despotic Maine Law clouds blow over, the very political death, so dreaded by the aforesaid, as to drive them into crying tyrannical wrong against the primary rights of the sovereign people, (and especially of the lowliest, most needing law protection,) will be inflicted on such politicians. And if no earthly retribution overtake those who, lent themselves, as instruments of fanatical law tyranny awful, we believe, will be their reckoning in eternity for this sin, against right, knowledge and the people. But we trust, such reckoning, and all corruptions of primary liberty principles leading thereto, will not attach to any Southern State; and especially to the good "Old North." Or that our Legislature is sound in republicanism; though needing, perhaps, some of "that eternal vigilence, that is the price of liberty" to keep so, in time of temperance to swerve therefrom, by fanatical memorials and the like.
In fine, we entreat you to turn "cold shoulders" to all fanatical appliances, as to Maine law force, and to legislate only on things, legitimate to the object of your mission to Raleigh.

Apart from such appliances, and their malign influence, doubtless a primary liberty fact, that the people, and all the sovereign people, poor and rich, have just as good a right, to use as they please, all blessings of drink and diet, as others so choosing, to be abstinent as to any of them. License such as ours to restrain; but no abolition like laws to force; and likewise to impede or destroy temperance movements by societies or otherwise, is our motto. And we trust it will prove to be yours. We humbly pray, &c.

RESOLUTION IN RELATION
WHEELERS HISTORY OF NORTH CAROLINA.

The Joint Select Committee on the Library, at the last session of the General Assembly, reported to that body that they had examined, in manuscript, a work proposed to be published by Colonel John H. Wheeler, entitled "Historical Sketches of North Carolina, from 1584 to 1851, complete, from original records, official documents and traditional statements, with biographical sketches of her distinguished statesmen, jurists, lawyers, soldiers, divines," &c.; that they regarded the said work "as a praiseworthy and patriotic effort to rescue from oblivion important facts of our early history of our State," and "recommended the purchase of a number" of copies of the same for the use of the State. Under the report of the committee on the Library, of the last session, which was unanimously adopted, your present committee have had before them the said work, as recently published; and while your committee do not pretend to recommend the same as entirely faultless or complete, yet they are happy to state that its appearance has produced on the minds of others, fully competent to form an opinion on the subject, impressions quite as favorable as the anticipations of the committee on the Library of the last session. From among the large number of evidences of popular favor of said work, which have been laid before them, your committee have noticed and selected the following, namely:

"This work (says the Pennsylvanian) opens to our view a terra incognita—a land hitherto unknown. Modest and unobtrusive as the State of North Carolina has been, we are surprised and delighted at the richness of the jewels which her history presents. This work places North Carolina upon high grounds."

The President of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania says:

"This work is full of curious and interesting matter, and is a valuable addition to our literature."

The honorable George Bancroft, the author of a history of the United States, says:

"That he has received both pleasure and instruction from the work. There are many separate pieces of information and documents, which of themselves are worth more than the price of the work. It is full of interesting narration, important document, varied information, and true North Carolina feeling."

"The author of this work (says the National Intelligencer) appears to have examined, with much care, zeal and industry, every author and authority of her history from 1584 to 1851. The materials have been ample, and he has made good use of them."
The Standard, in speaking of this work, says:

"It contains a mass of facts which ought to be known by every son of the State. Every reading man will possess a copy and study it, and imbue the minds of his children with the knowledge it contains, and the patriotic spirit which pervades it.

The Spirit of the Age says:

"We have learned more of our native State, by reading this book, than we ever knew before, and we are prouder than ever of our beloved old mother."

"When we saw the plan of this work, (says the Salisbury Watchman,) we said it would prove one of the most valuable works, to the State, ever published; and the work itself verifies this pledge. The chapter on our own county (Rowan) is alone worth the price of the book.

The Rev. H. Onderdonk, jr., author of the history of Long Island, says:

"All lovers of history must feel grateful that the author of this work has lived to collate and arrange so vast a mass of material, and presented them to the world in so acceptable and finished a style. These sketches combine the charms of romance with the value of history; and in future, Roanoke, Alamance and Mecklenburg, will be as familiar as household words in our mouths, and be associated in the mind of every patriot with Plymouth, Bunker Hill and Saratoga."

Mr. Putnam, of Tennessee, author of the life of Sevier, says:

"This work removes doubts, settles interesting questions and places, as fixed facts, many important points, and nobly justifies the claim of North Carolina to the first honor in many respects."
Your Committee might present many others from the mass of testimonials from every section of the country, as to the character and value of this work; but they deem those already offered as amply sufficient to secure the kind attention of the General Assembly to the very laudable undertaking of Colonel Wheeler, to rescue from oblivion some of the most brilliant points in the history of North Carolina, and to elevate the character of his native State abroad. And, in accordance with the recommendation of the Joint Select Committee on the Library, of the last session, which was unanimously adopted by the Legislature, your present committee would most respectfully recommend the adoption of the following resolution, namely:

RESOLUTION.

Resolved, That his Excellency the Governor, be, and he is hereby, authorised and empowered, to purchase, from the Rev. Samuel Pearce, agent for the sale of "Wheeler's History of North Carolina," one hundred and fifty copies of said work, at the subscription price of the same, one copy of which shall be deposited in each of the executive offices at Raleigh; one copy sent with the acts of Assembly, to be deposited in the office of the Clerks of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions for the several counties in this State, and the remaining copies to be deposited in the State Library, and that he be allowed to draw on the treasurer of the State for such sum or sums of money as may be necessary for the purchase and transmission of the same.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W.M. H. WASHINGTON,
Chairman of the Committee.
REPORT

JOINT SELECT COMMITTEE

ON THE CONDITION

OF THE

INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF, DUMB AND BLIND.

RALEIGH:
SEATON GALES, PRINTER TO THE LEGISLATURE

[Reported by Mr. Washington.—Read first time and ordered to be printed.]
REPORT.

The Joint Select Committee, to whom was referred to investigate the condition of the Institution for the Deaf Dumb and Blind, report,

That they have visited the Institution, and examined its present condition. As the result of this examination, they have to state, that it continues to flourish in as great a degree as at any period in its history, under the general administration of the present Board of Directors, and the immediate superintendence of the Principal, who has presided over it from its foundation. The internal management of the establishment is conducted with neatness, order and regularity, and with evident regard to the health, comfort and improvement of the pupils. The Committee have seen nothing that they cannot cheerfully commend in its domestic arrangements, and are pleased to bear witness to the aspect of cheerfulness and happiness exhibited by both classes of those now enjoying the benefits of instruction within its walls.

The department for the Deaf and Dumb, with two deaf-mute and one speaking teachers, continues to prosper, and by its increasing usefulness acquires every day new claims upon the fostering favor of the State.

The department for the Blind, which has been introduced since the last meeting of the Legislature, is yet in its infancy, but has already succeeded beyond the most sanguine expectations, so as fully to prove the wisdom with which it was instituted. This school, like that for the Deaf and Dumb, is under the immediate superintendence and control of the Principal, and enjoys the constant instruction of one teacher in the intellectual department, and two in that of music. The number of pupils is small as yet, but their progress in the acquisition of useful information and accomplishments, has been eminently gratifying to every friend of the Institution who has witnessed their exercises,
The Committee also examined with some degree of minuteness into the organization and management of the mechanical department. In this department, instruction is given to the male deaf and dumb pupils in printing, shoe-making, carpenter’s work, and broom-making; the blind are also taught the last mentioned trade, as one of those best adapted to their capabilities. The art of printing is regarded by the Principal as best suited of all to the peculiar wants and powers of the deaf-mutes; and he has accordingly, with the sanction of the Board, provided the most ample means for its acquisition by them. The reasons assigned for this choice, appear to the Committee to be conclusive in its favor. It is suited to the tastes of this class of pupils in southern institutions much better than any other species of handicraft. It provides them with a certain resource for future support, and it furnishes them with constant practical illustrations of those nice distinctions of language, which are theoretically taught in the school room. The great object in the instruction of deaf mutes, is to render the language of their country intelligible to them, and it would be difficult to find a better place for this purpose than a good printing office. There is no other branch of industry accessible to them, which to such an extent could stimulate, enlighten, and refine the mind of the learner.

When the mechanical department was organized, it became a serious question with the Board how to carry it on successfully, and yet avoid those expenses to which this department subjects all similar institutions. Instead of being peculiarly profitable it has always proved the reverse, and the Board were unwilling, with their limited means, to incur an additional expense of an uncertain amount. The Principal was willing to undertake the new department, either at the cost of the institution, or at his own, with the privilege of so conducting it as to avoid all danger of detriment to his own interests; and the Board, we think, wisely adopted the latter alternative, with the understanding that the Principal was to be furnished with the necessary apparatus. It was also understood, that he might employ as many regular journeymen as might be needed. In no other way could pecuniary loss be avoided, since pupils learning the art are so many raw hands, who contribute nothing but the inconvenience of their presence to the office in which they labor. The shops have now been in operation some time, although the Principal has not availed himself of all its advantages. He has on the contrary, expended not less than two thousand dollars of his own funds in machinery and other necessary instruments for this department, for the use of which he has made no charge upon the Institution.

In view of these facts, and in consideration of the admirable style of work executed in the printing office especially, the committee are satisfied that the present arrangement is an economical, just and beneficial one for all parties concerned.

While on this subject, the committee would add that the female pupils of both classes are carefully instructed in various branches of industry suited to their sex, and that some of the work executed by the blind, would be creditable to any institution. There is also reason to believe that the effect of manual employment upon the moral and social condition of the institution is most beneficial. We are assured that almost constant harmony and good feeling prevails among the pupils, and that so numerous a school, constituted of such discordant elements, could hardly enjoy so much repose, under any other system.

An inspection of the buildings has satisfied us that they do not afford sufficient room for the increasing numbers that require accommodation. They are already so full, that proper regard for the health and comfort of the inmates imperiously demands that considerable additions should be made for anticipated accessions.

It is proposed for this purpose, and also with a view to a better administration of the domestic affairs of the institution, to erect, near the main building, a suitable dwelling house for the family of the Principal, and to extend the wings of the main building in such a manner as to afford ample accommodations for the future. The two classes of deaf, dumb and blind obviously require distinct and separate dormitories; and the peculiar manner in which the blind are instructed renders it necessary that recitation and music rooms should be amply provided.

The committee, therefore, recommend that these additions be made without delay, and a special appropriation of seven thousand five hundred dollars be made for that purpose.

Owing to the introduction of a department for the blind, and the expenses incident thereto, as well as to the increase of pupils in the institution, it is necessary that the annual appropriations should be enlarged. No application has been made since the foundation of the institution, for an increase of the annual appropriation, and unless this be done at the present session, it is evident, that the interests of the institution must seriously suffer, and its progress in usefulness be arrested. The committee therefore recommend that the annual appropriation be increased to eight thousand dollars.

At the session of the Legislature of '48-'9, an act was passed, requiring every county in the State to pay the sum of seventy-five dollars annually, for the term of four years, for each deaf mute, sent from said county. Four years having elapsed since the passage of this act, it is necessary that this act be so amended as to include the whole term of instruction, (seven years;) also to include the blind in the same provision.

A department for the blind having been established, it is proper that the corporate title of the institution be changed accordingly.

For the accomplishment of the above object, the committee respectfully submit the accompanying bill.

WM. H. WASHINGTON,
Chairman of the Committee.

PUBLIC LANDS.

[Read first time, laid on the table, and ordered to be printed.]

I. Whereas, the Public Domain of the United States is the common property of all the States, purchased and procured by the common efforts and common treasure of those States, and in which each and all are fairly entitled to participate; and any appropriation of the public lands to particular States, for special and particular purposes in those States, is creative of unequal, unjust and improper discrimination in the use of a common fund; and, whereas, the precedent has been set, and the practice attained in the Congress of the United States, of granting immense donations of the public lands, to particular States, for the purposes of internal improvement and education, etc.: and whereas, the State of North Carolina, in a spirit of generous patriotism and fraternal feeling, ceded to the General Government, a large and valuable portion of the public territory, and is, therefore, upon every principle of justice, equality and sound policy, fairly and legitimately entitled to her share of the public lands: Therefore,
11. Resolved, That our Senators and Representatives in Congress be requested to make application, by bill, or otherwise, to that body, for an appropriation to the State of North Carolina, of a fair and equitable portion of the public lands, which, when so appropriated, shall be applied to purposes of internal improvement, public education, and in relief of the Treasury and public burdens of the State.

[Read the first time, passed and ordered to be printed.]

A BILL

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the first section of the act of 1844-'5, chap. 36, be amended so as to read, that the nett income of the Literary Fund, (exclusive of moneys received from the sale of swamp lands,) shall annually be distributed among the several counties of this State, in the ratio of their white population, to be ascertained by the census next preceding such distribution.

II. Be it further enacted, That all laws and clauses of laws, coming within the meaning and purview of the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed; and this act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

A BILL

TO AMEND AN ACT INCORPORATING

RALEIGH AND GASTON RAIL ROAD

RALEIGH:
SEATON GALES, PRINTER TO THE LEGISLATURE.
1852
[Read the first time, and, on motion of Mr. R. M. Saunders, referred to the Committee on Internal Improvements, and ordered to be printed.]
A BILL

To amend an Act entitled "An Act to incorporate the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company."

Whereas, by an Act passed at the session of the General Assembly for the year 1850-'51, entitled "An Act to incorporate the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company," certain Commissioners were appointed to receive subscriptions of stock to the said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company, to the amount of five hundred thousand dollars, in shares of one hundred dollars each:

And whereas, the said Commissioners received such subscriptions and duly returned the same; whereupon such proceedings were had, pursuant to the provisions of said Act, as to form the said subscribers into a body politic and corporate, under the name and style of the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company: And whereas, there are in the said Act sundry omissions and imperfections:—For remedy thereof

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the original subscribers to the stock of the Corporation created by the said Act, their executors, administrators and assigns, are hereby declared to be a body politic and corporate, under the name and style of the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company, separate and distinct from, and wholly unconnected with, the Company formerly existing by the same name, and shall have, and are hereby declared to have, all the rights, privileges and authorities of a body politic, and corporate; and, by that name, shall be capable in law of purchasing, holding, selling and conveying estates, real, personal and mixed, so far as shall be necessary for the purposes hereinafter mentioned, and no further; and shall have perpetual succession, and, by said corporate name, may sue and be sued, may have and use a common seal, and may, from time to time, make all such bye-laws, rules and regulations as may be necessary for the well ordering and conducting of the affairs of the said Corporation, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of this State, nor with the following fundamental terms and conditions, namely:

II. The capital stock of said Company shall consist of eight hundred thousand dollars, (except as hereinafter provided,) to be held as follows, viz: one-half thereof, or four hundred thousand dollars, by the State of North Carolina, in consideration of the transfer and assignment, by the said State, as hereinafter provided, to the said Corporation, of that Railroad heretofore known as the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, and now the property of said State, together with all its machine shops, implements, warehouses, depots, water stations, engines and cars, and every other description of property, real, personal or mixed, appertaining to the same; and the other half of the said capital shall be held and owned in shares of one hundred dollars each, by those individuals who subscribed for the same, according to the returns of the said original Commissioners, their executors, administrators or assigns. And, whenever it shall appear, by the certificate of the President and Treasurer of the said corporation, that the said sum of four hundred thousand dollars hath been actually paid in by said subscribers, and expended by the said company in rebuilding the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad with an iron rail weighing not less than fifty pounds to the lineal yard, and in the purchase of the necessary cars, engines and other suitable materials for properly stocking and equipping the said road, so as to do the transportation thereon, then it shall be the duty of the Governor of the State for the time being, and he is hereby authorised and required, under the Great Seal of the State, to transfer and convey to the said corporation the said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, with all its fixtures and equipments hereinbefore mentioned.

III. Be it enacted, That the State of North Carolina shall be entitled to three Directors in the said Company, to be annually appointed by the Board of Internal Improvement; and, at the annual meetings of said Company, the said individual stockholders shall have power and authority to elect four Directors, who, with the Directors on the part of the State, shall have power to elect a President out of their own body, to manage all the affairs of the said Company; and said Directors shall continue in office until their successors shall have been elected. The President, with any three or more of the Directors, or, in the absence of the President, any four of the Directors, who shall appoint one of their own body President pro tem., shall constitute a Board for the transaction of business. In case of vacancy in the office of President or any Director, from death, resignation, or otherwise, such vacancy shall be supplied by appointment of the Board, until the next annual meeting.

IV. Be it further enacted, That an annual meeting of the subscribers to the stock of the said Company shall be held at such time and place in each year as the Stockholders, at their first general, or at any subsequent meeting, may appoint; to constitute which, or any general meeting called by the President and Directors according to the provisions of this Act, a number of persons owning a majority of the shares of stock held by individuals in said Corporation shall be present, either in person or by proxy; and if a sufficient number to constitute a meeting do not attend on the day appointed, those who do attend shall have power to adjourn from time to time until a meeting shall be formed.

V. Be it enacted, That, in all general meetings of the said Company, each stockholder shall be entitled to give one vote for each share not exceeding ten shares, and one vote for every three shares above ten shares; and it shall be lawful for the Board of Internal Improvements to appoint some suitable person to represent the interests of the State in all such meetings, who shall have a right to vote on all questions coming before them, except in the election of the Directors to be appointed by the individual stockholders.

VI. Be it enacted, That the said President and Directors shall have full power and authority to make contracts with any person or persons, on behalf of the said Company, for reconstructing said road, and performing all other works which, from time to time, may be necessary for the proper completion and repairs of the said road; to require from the individual stockholders, from time to time, such advances of money on their respective shares, as the wants of the Company may demand, until the whole of their subscription shall be advanced; to call, in any emergency, a general meeting of the stockholders, giving one month's previous notice thereof in one or more newspapers; to appoint a Treasurer, Clerk, and such other officers as they may require; and generally to transact all the necessary business of the Company, during the intervals between the general meetings of the stockholders: Provided, that no loan, which may be equivalent to an increase of the capital stock of said Company, and for which the assignable bonds, or other securities of the said Company are to be given, shall be made by the said President and Directors, unless such loan be first authorised at a general meeting of the stockholders; and, in the event of such loan being made, that no dividend shall be paid upon any stock held in said Company, until the interest upon such debts shall have been paid or reserved out of the profits, and a sinking fund, equivalent to at least six per centum per annum on such debt, shall have been likewise reserved, to be invested by the President and Directors in some good and valid security: Provided further, that all loans which may have been heretofore, or may be hereafter authorised by the said Stockholders in general meeting, shall be valid and obligatory upon the said Corporation.

VII. Be it further enacted, That, if any stockholder shall fail to pay the sum required of him by the President and Directors, within one month after the same shall have been advertised in one or more convenient newspapers, it shall and may be lawful for the said President and Directors to sell at public auction, and to convey to the purchaser, the share or shares of said stockholder so failing, giving one month's previous notice of the time and place of sale, in manner aforesaid; and, after retaining the sum due, and charges of sale, out of the proceeds thereof, to pay the surplus, if any, to the owner or his legal representative; and if the said sale shall not produce the sum required to be advanced, with the incidental charges attending the sale, then the said President and Directors may recover the balance from the original subscriber, or his assignee, or the executor or administrator of either of them, by suit in any Court of record having jurisdiction thereof, or by warrant before any Justice of the Peace of the county of which he is a resident; and any purchaser of the stock of the company, under such sale, shall be subject to the same rules and regulations as the original proprietor. It shall, nevertheless, be lawful for the said President and Directors, if they deem it expedient, instead of selling the stock of delinquent subscribers, as contemplated by this section, to recover such sums as may be due the said Company from delinquent subscribers by suit in any Court of record having jurisdiction thereof, or by warrant before any Justice of the Peace of the county in which such delinquent stockholder is a resident.

VIII. Be it further enacted, That the said Railroad, and all engines, cars, and machinery, and all the works of said Company, together with all profits which shall accrue from the same, and all the property thereof of every description, shall be vested in the said Company, one-half thereof to the use and benefit of the State, and the other half to the use and benefit of the individual stockholders; and the same shall be deemed and held to be personal estate, and shall be exempt from any public charge or tax whatsoever, for the term of fifteen years; and thereafter the Legislature may impose a tax not exceeding twenty-five cents per annum, on each share of the capital stock held by individuals, whenever the annual profits shall exceed eight per cent.

IX. Be it enacted, That in case of a domestic invasion, or insurrection, the said Company shall transport the troops and munitions of war of the State of North Carolina free of charge.

X. Be it enacted, That the said Company shall give no undue preference to the property of one person over that of another, but as far as practicable, shall transport each in the order of time in which it shall be delivered or offered for transportation, the tolls thereon being 6 first paid or tendered. And, it shall be lawful for them
7 to charge for the transportation of persons, goods, pro-
8 duce and merchandise, and for the mail, any sum not 9 exceeding the following rules: On persons, not exceed-10 ing six cents per mile for each person, unless the dis-11 tance which any person may be transported should be 12 less than ten miles, in which case, an extra charge of 13 fifty cents may be made for taking up and putting 14 down such persons. For the transportation of produce, 15 goods, wares, merchandise, and other articles, not exceed-16 ing an average of eight cents per ton per mile; and for 17 the transportation of the mail, such sum as may be 18 agreed upon between the Company and the Post Office 19 Department of the United States.

XI. Be it enacted, That the President and Directors
2 shall render distinct accounts of their proceedings and 3 disbursements of money to each annual meeting of the 4 stockholders.

XII. Be it enacted, That the President and Directors
2 shall cause to be printed certificates of the shares of the 3 stock in the said company, and whenever the terms
4 hereinbefore mentioned, shall have been complied with,
5 shall deliver one such certificate, signed by the President
6 and countersigned by the Treasurer, to each person, for 7 the number of shares subscribed by him, her, or them,
8 or to the assignee of such subscriber, which certificate 9 shall be transferable, either in person or by attorney, on 10 the books of the said company; and on each such 11 transfer, the assignee shall henceforth become a member 12 of the said company, and shall be entitled to all the 13 privileges, and subject to the rules and regulations of 14 the same.

XIII. Be it enacted, That, whenever the General Assem-
2 bly may be of opinion, that the charter hereby granted, 3 shall have been violated, it may be lawful, by joint 4 resolution of the two Houses, to direct the Attorney
5 General, with such assistant counsel as the Governor
6 or the Legislature may think proper to engage, to issue 7 a writ of seire facias, returnable before the Judges of the 8 Supreme Court, calling upon the said corporation to 9 show cause why their charter shall not be forfeited, 10 subject to the same proceedings as are now prescribed by 11 law, in case of other corporations. Their books shall 12 be at all times open to the inspection of a committee of 13 the General Assembly, appointed for that purpose, and 14 the President of said company shall biennially make a 15 report to the Legislature, on or before the third week of 16 their session, of their receipts and expenditures, and of 17 such other of their proceedings as he shall deem proper.

XIV. Be it enacted, That any railroad, which may 2 hereafter be constructed by the State, or by any com-
3 pany incorporated by the Legislature, shall be at liberty
4 to cross the road hereby allowed to be constructed, upon 5 a level or otherwise, as may be advantageous, provided 6 the free passage of the Raleigh and Gaston road be not 7 thereby obstructed.

XV. Be it further enacted, That whenever the said
2 road shall be so crossed or approached by any other
3 Railroad, incorporated by this State, the said Raleigh
4 and Gaston Railroad company may erect a depot at or 5 near the point of intersection, where they may receive 6 and deliver passengers and freight, and take therefor the 7 same rates of compensation, and be subject to the same 8 rules and regulations as at other depots; and should 9 they fail or refuse to erect such depots, the State or 10 company owning such intersecting road, may erect one, 11 and the company hereby incorporated shall receive and 12 deliver passengers and freights at such depots, under 13 the same regulations as aforesaid, unless the same shall 14 be rendered impracticable by the situation of the Rail-15 road at that place.

XVI. Be it further enacted, That the profits of the said
2 company shall be divided annually or semi-annually, at 3 the pleasure of said company, one half thereof to the 4 State of North Carolina, to be paid to the Public Treas-5urer of the State, and the other half among the indi-
6 vidual stockholders, according to their respective shares.

XVII. Be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for 2 the said President and Directors to sell the iron on the 3 Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, and apply the proceeds 4 thereof to the reconstruction of said road.

XVIII. And Whereas, by the 50th and 52d sections of 2 the act incorporating the North Carolina Railroad com-3 pany, power was expressly reserved to the General As-
4 sembly of the State, to establish, regulate and control
5 the intercourse between the North Carolina Railroad
6 and the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, so as best to secure
7 to the public an easy and convenient passage of persons 8 and property, and for that purpose to form an actual 9 connexion between the said roads: Therefore, Be it en-
10 acted, That the President and Directors of the said 11 Raleigh and Gaston Railroad company, be, and they are 12 hereby authorised and empowered, whenever they may 13 think proper, to effect a junction, and to form an actual 14 connexion by Railroad, with the said North Carolina
15 Railroad, at such point at or in the vicinity of Raleigh, 16 as they in their discretion may select; and upon making 17 such connexion, the said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad
18 shall be extended to such point, and said connexion
19 shall belong to the said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad 20 company, in the same manner as the present road; and 21 to enable the said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad com-22 pany to form such connexion, the President and Directors are hereby vested with full power and authority to make all necessary contracts for the construction of said road, and to resort to the same means for purchasing or condemning such lands as may be required therefor, as are provided in the act incorporating the said North Carolina Railroad company.

XIX. And Whereas, It is provided by the 49th section of the act, incorporating the North Carolina Railroad Company, "that, whenever the Roanoke Railroad Company, or the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad Company, with or without the aid of individuals, shall subscribe to the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company, one-half of the sum necessary to construct a Railroad from some convenient point on the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, near the Littleton Depot, or any point between that Depot and Roanoke River and the town of Weldon, or any point in the neighborhood thereof, so as to connect with the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad, and the Seaboard and Roanoke Rail Road, and shall expend the said sum in forming the said connection, then the said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad shall be extended to the said town of Weldon or neighborhood thereof; and the Public Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to subscribe for an equal sum, for, and in behalf of the State, and pay for such subscription out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated; and for the want of such money in the Treasury, the Public Treasurer is hereby authorised to borrow the sum, at a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent. per annum, and to issue bonds, payable at any time within ten years, for not less than five hundred dollars each:"

And Whereas, the said Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad Company, hath already subscribed to the said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company, the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars, for the purpose of constructing said Road, which subscription hath been accepted by the stockholders of said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company: And Whereas, the said road hath been already located and commenced, and a large portion of said subscription hath already been paid by the said Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad Company towards the construction of said Road; and Whereas, such connexion is deemed of great importance to the said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, and to the people of this State: Be it therefore enacted, That the said above recited section is hereby re-affirmed and re-enacted, and declared to be a part of the charter of the said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company, with the following provisions and amendments: "That for the purpose of rendering the same effectual, and of guarding the interests of the State, and of the said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company, William Collins, Francis Mallory, and Samuel J.
Royster, are hereby appointed Commissioners to superintend the construction of said connection, and the disbursement of the funds intended to be applied to the same, with power to employ a Treasurer for the safe keeping and disbursing the funds, and to require from said Treasurer, such bond as they may deem proper for the faithful discharge of his official duty.

XX. And be it further enacted, That said Commissioners shall have, and are hereby declared to have, all the powers and rights necessary to effect the construction of the said connection, and may, in their names, commence and prosecute to judgment, all such proceedings as may be requiseite and proper for the purpose of condemning any lands which may be required for the construction of said road, in the manner, and on the same process and conditions as are prescribed in the Act incorporating the North Carolina Railroad Company.

XXI. Be it further enacted, That, whenever the said road shall have been completed, it shall be the duty of the said commissioners to make out duplicate reports of their proceedings, stating the particulars of the cost of construction of said road, one of which shall be made to the Governor of the State, the other to the President of the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad company, and upon the same being accepted, the cost of said construction shall be added to and constitute a part of the capital stock of the said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad company, at the rate of one share for each hundred dollars of such cost, and shall vest one half in the stock of North Carolines, and one half in such corporations or individuals as may have subscribed to the said stock, according to the respective amounts of such subscription, their executors, administrators or assigns, and shall be for such amount an increase of the capital stock of said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad company, over and above the sum of eight hundred thousand dollars, hereinbefore declared to be the capital of the said company: and thereupon the said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad shall be extended to the said town of Weldon, or such point in the vicinity thereof, as such connexion may be formed, and all the lands purchased or condemned for the construction of said road, together with all materials used in the construction thereof, depots, warehouses and all other property pertaining to the same, and all privileges, rights and forms which may be necessary for doing the transportation of freight and passengers on said road, shall be, and the same are hereby declared to be, vested in the said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad company, in the same manner and to the same extent as if such con-exion had constituted a portion of the original Raleigh and Gaston Railroad.

XXII. Be it further enacted, That, in the event of vacancy in the said Board of Commissioners, by death, resignation or otherwise, such vacancy shall be supplied by the President and Directors of the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company.
XXIII. Be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the President and Directors of the said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company to contract with the President and Directors of the Roanoke Valley Railroad, or with the President and Directors or Managers of any other Railroad connecting with the said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, for doing the transportation of freight and passengers on such Road or Roads, upon such terms as may be agreed on between them.

XXIV. Be it further enacted, That that this Act shall take effect immediately from and after its acceptance by three-fourths of the stockholders of the said Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company, in general meeting assembled, such acceptance to be signified to the Governor of the State by the President of said Company under the great seal of the same, and shall continue in force for the term of ninety years from and after such acceptance.

II. And be it further enacted, That the 18th section of the "act of Assembly establishing and regulating Common Schools," printed and published under the direction of the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, in the year 1849, in compliance with the act of the General Assembly of 1848-'49, be so amended as to make it the duty of the Chairmen of the Boards of county Superintendents to make their reports on or before the 3rd Monday in November, and to send the same to the Superintendant of Common Schools for the State; and that the said Chairmen of county Superintendents shall, in addition to the matters already required by law

A MEMORIAL.

To the Honorable, the General Assembly
of North Carolina:

Your Memorialists respectfully shew, that on Monday, the 18th day of October, 1852, there was formed in the City of Raleigh, a State Agricultural Society, composed of Delegates representing County Associations, and of citizens from different parts of the State, all interested in the great cause of Agriculture, the leading interest of North Carolina: That the Society was duly organized on a permanent basis, officers elected, and a constitution and by-laws adopted; and that this Association, whose object is the advancement of the industrial interests of the Commonwealth, having made an auspicious beginning, it was deemed important to its continued existence and success, that it receive the countenance and support of the State: it was, therefore, resolved to memorialize your honorable body, on the justice and expediency of an appropriation from the State Treasury, to promote these objects; and the undersigned were appointed a Committee to draft said Memorial.

In obedience to said resolution, your Memorialists respectfully solicit the attention of your honorable body, to this interesting subject, and earnestly request your favorable consideration of the same.
They would respectfully represent, that the cause of Agriculture has, heretofore, been in a languishing condition in North Carolina—that it has been too much neglected by men of science, and that with a climate and soil unsurpassed, our beloved State has taken a humiliating position in the rear of her sisters, in Agricultural and Industrial improvement.

They would farther represent and allege, that one great cause of this is the neglect by the State, of her farming interests and the interests of her laboring classes, and that since her existence as a distinct sovereignty, North Carolina, absorbed in federal politics and seemingly unmindful of her true interests, has never encouraged by example, by bounties or by special legislation, competition and skill in the development of her great Agricultural resources.

And your Memorialists farther allege that, in modern countries, our career as a State is, in this respect, without an example or parallel; and that we have arrived at a period when a change is imperatively demanded by the honor and the welfare of the State, and by the increasing wants and necessities of the times.

And as a farther reason for a change in this respect, your Memorialists respectfully represent, that there are visible signs of an awakening among our people—that they are beginning to appreciate their natural advantages, to deplore their backwardness in industrial improvements, and to seek for means to retrieve the neglect of former years. At such a crisis, the example of the public authorities can be made very effective for good; and a State Agricultural Society, properly endowed, can give a powerful impetus to the forward movement, by begetting and fostering a general rivalry in the race of improvement, by diffusing valuable information, by enhancing the dignity of labor, and of science directed to the most important pursuits of man, by adding also more interest, excitement and pleasure to this calling in the eyes of those who follow it, by breaking down the barriers of sectional prejudices that divide our citizens, bringing them together, in pleasant association, from the east, the west, the north and the south, and thereby adding to their knowledge of the products and people of different sections of their own commonwealth, and by helping to create and stimulate to a healthful vigor, proper feelings of State pride, and interest in North Carolina as one, undivided State of various interests, and abounding resources, true to itself and devoted to the welfare of its inhabitants.

The farmers and mechanics compose the majority of the constituents of your honorable body—their prosperity is the prosperity of our common State, and now, amid the din of politics, they venture to appeal to your honorable body for a slight exertion of authority in their behalf.

A small appropriation will give enduring vitality to our Institution, giving great promise of usefulness to them and to us all; and such an appropriation will be returned with ten-fold interest, in the taxes collected from a prosperous community, with means and resources multiplied by your liberality. Without such an appropriation, the State Agricultural Society, so auspiciously organised, may come to a premature end, thus adding to the gloom that surrounds us, and giving new force to the sad vaticinations of those who assert that every enterprise must prove a failure in North Carolina. And your memorialists as in duty bound, &c., &c.

20 the land where such destruction, hurt, damage, injury, 21 or obstruction was done, at the time the same was done 22 or caused to be done.

XXXII. That every obstruction to the safe and free 2 passage of vehicles on the said road or its branches, 3 shall be deemed a public nuisance, and may be abated as 4 such by any officer, agent or servant of said company; 5 and the person causing such obstruction may be in- 6 dicted and punished for erecting a public nuisance.

XXXV. That, whenever it shall appear to the board of 2 internal improvements of this State, by a certificate un- 3 der the seal of said company, signed by their treasurer 4 and countersigned by their president, that one-third has 5 been subscribed for and taken, and that at least five 6 hundred thousand dollars of said stock has been actu-

the said board of internal improvements shall be, and they are hereby authorized and required to subscribe, on behalf of the State, for stock in said company to the amount of two millions of dollars to the capital stock of said company, and the subscription shall be paid in the following manner, namely: The one-fourth part as

XVI. Be it further enacted, That if any president,
cashier, clerk or other officer of the aforesaid bank,
shall knowingly, willingly, and with intent to deceive, make, or cause to be made or connive at making any 11 years.

XVIII. Be it further enacted, That whenever the Le-2 legislature may be of the opinion that the charter of the 4 corporation, hereby granted, shall have been violated, 5 it may be lawful, by joint resolution, to direct the At-6 torney General, with such assistant counsel, as the 7 Governor or if Legislature may think proper to engage,
8 to issue a writ of scire facias, returnable before the 9 Judges of the Supreme Court, calling upon said 10 corporation to show cause why the charter hereby 11 granted, shall not be forfeited, subject to the same pro-12 ceedings as are now prescribed by law in cases of other 13 corporations.

XIX. Be it further enacted, That the cashier shall keep 2 a book to contain the proceedings of the board of direc-
3 tors, the names of those present, the day and date of 4 each meeting, and shall record the yeas and nays on 5 any question, when asked for by any director. This 6 book shall be evidence in Courts of Justice, and on en-7 tering on the discharge of his duties, the cashier shall

2 Commissioners or a majority of them appointed under 3 the third Section of this act, as soon as the sum of three 4 hundred thousand dollars shall have been subscribed in 5 manner aforesaid, in shares of one hundred dollars each 6 to appoint a time for the stock holders to meet at Ash-7 ville in the County of Buncombe, after having given at 8 least thirty days notice; at which time and place a ma-9 jority of the Stockholders, being represented in person or 10 by proxy, shall proceed to elect nine Directors, out of 11 the number of Stockholders, each of whom shall possess
12 at least five shares of the stock, and the said Stockhol-
13 ders shall then proceed to elect a President and Treas-
14 urer, out of the number of Stockholders; and the said
15 directors shall have power to perform all other duties, 16 necessary for the government of the corporation and the 17 transaction of its business. The persons elected direc-
18 tors at the meeting aforesaid, shall serve such period, 19 not exceeding one year, as the Stockholders may direct, 20 and at that meeting the Stockholders shall fix on the 21 day and place or places where the subsequent election
22 of President, Treasurer and Directors, shall be held;
23 and such elections thenceforth shall be annually made, 24 but if the day of the annual election should under any 25 circumstances pass without the election of officers, the 26 corporation shall not thereby be dissolved, but the 27 officers elected shall continue in office until a new elec-28 tion takes place.

VI. Be it further enacted, That the election of Presi-
2 dent, Treasurer and Directors shall be by ballot; each 3 Stockholder having as many votes as he has shares in 4 the stock of the Company, and the persons having a 5 majority of the stock polled shall be considered duly 6 elected. And at all elections, and upon all votes taken 7 in any meeting of the Stockholders, upon any by-law,
8 or any of the affairs of the Company, each share of stock shall be entitled to one vote, to be represented either in person or by proxy, and proxies may be verified in such manner as the by-laws of the Company may prescribe.

VII. Be it further enacted, That the board of directors may fill all vacancies which may occur in it during the period for which they have been chartered, and in the absence of the president, may appoint a president pro tempore, to fill his place, from among their own number.

VIII. Be it further enacted, That the Board of Directors may call for the sums subscribed as stock in said company, in such instalments as the interest of said company may, in their opinion, require; the call for each payment shall be published in one or more newspapers for the space of one month before the day of payment; and on failure of any stockholder to pay each installment, as thus required, the directors may sell, at public auction, on a previous notice of ten days, for cash, all the stock subscribed for in said company, by such stockholder, and convey the same to the purchaser, at said sale; and if said sale of stock do not produce a sum sufficient to pay off the incidental expenses of the sale, and the entire amount owing by such stockholder to the company, for such subscription of stock, then and in that case the whole of such balance shall be held as due at once to the company, and may be recovered of such stockholder or his executors, administrator or assign, at the suit of said company, either by summary motion, in any Court of superior jurisdiction, in the county where the delinquent resides, on previous notice of ten days to said subscriber, or by the action of assumpsit, in any court of competent jurisdiction, or by warrant before any justice of the peace, where the sum does not exceed one hundred dollars, and in all cases of assessment of stock before the whole amount has been paid to the company, then for all such sums due on such stock, both the original subscribers, and the first and all subsequent assignees, shall be liable to the company, and the same may be recovered as above described.

IX. Be it further enacted, That the debt of the stockholders, due to the company, for stock therein, either as original proprietor, or as first or subsequent assignee, shall be considered as of equal dignity with judgments
in the distribution of assets of a deceased stockholder, by his legal representatives.

X. Be it further enacted, That the said company shall issue certificates of stock to its members; and said stock may be transferred in such manner and form as may be directed by the by-laws of the company.

XI. Be it further enacted, That said company may at any time increase its capital stock to a sum sufficient to complete said road, and not exceeding the additional sum of one million of dollars, making, in the whole, two millions of dollars, either by opening books for the subscription of new stock, or borrowing money on the credit of the company, and on the mortgage of its charter and works, and the manner in which the same shall be done in either case; shall be prescribed by the stock holders.

XII. Be it further enacted, That the company shall have power, and may proceed to construct, as speedily as possible, a railroad, with one or more tracks, from Spartanburg Court House, South Carolina, running thence through the county of Rutherford, near Rutherfordton, North Carolina, and by the most practical route, crossing the Blue Ridge in the Reedy Patch Gap, to the line of the State of Tennessee; said company, shall have the privilege of using any section of the said road constructed by them, before the whole of said road shall be completed.
XIII. Be it further enacted, That all contracts or agreements, authenticated by the president and secretary of the board, to be appointed by the directors, shall be binding on the company, with or without a sale; such a mode of authentication shall be used by the company, as the company by their by-laws may adopt.

XIV. Be it further enacted, That said company may purchase, have and hold in fee, or for a term of years, any lands, tenements or hereditaments, which may be necessary for the said road, or for the erection of depositories, store houses, or houses for the officers, servants or agents of the company, or for work shops or foundries, to be used by the company, or for procuring stone or other materials necessary to the construction of the road, or effecting transportation, and for no other purpose whatever.

XV. Be it further enacted, That the company shall have the right, when necessary, to construct the said road across any public road: Provided, That the said company shall not obstruct any public road, without first constructing one equally as good and as convenient.

XVI. Be it further enacted, That when any lands or rights of way be required by said company, for the purpose of constructing their road, and for want of agreement as to the value thereof, or for any other cause, the same cannot be purchased from the owner or owners, the same may be taken at valuation, to be appointed by any Court of Record, having a common law jurisdiction, in the county where some part of the land or right of way, is situated. In making said valuation, the said commissioners shall take into consideration the loss or damage which may accrue to the owner or owners, in consequence of the land or right of way being surrendered, and the benefit and advantage, he, she or they may receive from the erection o the said road, and shall state particularly the value and amount of each; and the excess of the loss and damage over and above the advantage and benefits shall form the measure of valuation of said land or right of way: Provided, nevertheless, That if any person or persons, over whose land the road may pass, or the company, should be dissatisfied with the valuation of the said commissioners, then, and in that case, either party may have an appeal to the Superior Court. The proceedings of said commissioners, accompanied with a full description of the said land, or right of way, shall be returned, under the hands and seals of a majority of the commissioners, to the Court from which the commission issued, there to remain a matter of record. And the lands, or right of way, so valued by the commissioners, shall vest in the said company so long as the same shall be used for the purposes of said railroad, so soon as the valuation may be paid, or when refused, may have been tendered: Provided, That on application for the appointment of commissioners under this section, it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the Court, that at least ten days previous notice has been given by the applicant to the owner or owners of land proposed to be condemned: Provided, further, That the right of condemnation shall not authorize the said company to invade the dwelling house, yard or garden of any individual, without his consent.

XVII. Be it further enacted, That the right of said company to condemn lands, in the manner described in the 16th section of this act, shall extend to the condemning only one hundred feet on each side of the main track of the road, measuring from the centre of the same, unless in case of deep cuts and fillings, when said company shall have power to condemn as much in addition thereto, as may be necessary for the purpose of constructing said road; and the company, in like manner, shall also have power to condemn any appropriate lands for 11 constructing and building of depots, shops, warehouses, 12 buildings for servants, agents, and persons employed on 13 the road, not exceeding two acres in one lot or station.

XVIII. Be it further enacted, That all lands on which 2 the road may be located, not heretofore granted by the 3 State, within one hundred feet of the centre of the road,
4 which may be constructed by said company, shall vest
5 in the company as soon as the line of the road is defi-6 nitely laid out through it, and any grant of said land
7 thereafter, shall be void.

XIX. Be it further enacted, That the said company shall 2 have the exclusive right of conveyance, or transporta-
3 tion of persons, goods, merchandize and produce, over 4 said road, at such charges as may be fixed on by a ma-5 jority of the directors.

XX. Be it further enacted, That said company shall 2 have the right, and it shall be their duty, to take, at the 3 store houses they may establish on, or annex to their 4 railroad or the branches thereof, all goods, wares, mer-
5 chandize and produce, intended for transportation, pre-6 scribe the rules of priority and charge, and receive such 7 just and reasonable compensation for storage, as they,
8 by rules, may establish, which they shall cause to be 9 published, or as may be fixed by agreement.

XXI. Be it further enacted, That if any person shall in-
2 trude on the said railroad, by any manner of use thereof,
3 or of the rights and privileges connected therewith, 4 without their permission, and contrary to the will of the 5 said company, he, she, or they, may be indicted for mis-
6 demeanor, and upon conviction, fined and imprisoned
7 by any court of competent jurisdiction.

XXII. Be it further enacted, That, if any person shall 2 wilfully and maliciously destroy, or in any manner dam-
3 age or obstruct, or shall wilfully or maliciously cause, 4 or aid or assist, or counsel and advise, any other person 5 or persons, to destroy, or in any manner injure or ob- 6 struct the said railroad, or any bridge or vehicle, used 7 for or in the transportation thereon, any water tank, 8 ware house, or any other property of said company, such 9 person or persons so offending shall be liable to be in- 10 dictated therefor, and, on conviction, shall be imprisoned 11 not more than six, nor less than one month, and pay a 12 fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, at the discretion 13 of the court, before which said conviction shall take 14 place, and shall be further liable to pay the expenses of 15 repairing the same.

XXIII. Be it further enacted, That the profits of the 2 company, or so much thereof, as the board of directors 3 may deem advisable, shall, when the affairs of the com- 4 pany will permit, be semi-annually divided among the 5 stockholders, in proportion to the stock each may own.

XXIV. Be it further enacted, That notice of process 2 upon the principal agent of said company, or the presi- 3 dent or any of the directors thereof, shall be deemed and 4 taken to be due and lawful notice of service of process 5 upon the company.

XXV. Be it further enacted, That said company shall 2 have power to construct branches to said road, or to con- 3 nect with any other railroad that may be constructed; 4 and any contract that may be entered into with any 5 other railroad company, by the president and directors 6 of said company, after the consent of a majority of the 7 stockholders having been first obtained, shall be binding 8 on said company.

XXVI. Be it further enacted, That, provided the State 2 of South Carolina shall grant a charter of like provisions with this act, then the said railroad company shall have corporate existence in this State, and in South Carolina, as one company, unless the stockholders in North Carolina shall prefer a separate existence, and so determine in their first meeting; and in that event, or if the State of South Carolina fails at the next term of her Legislature, to concur in this or a similar charter, then it shall be competent for the company hereby incorporated, to make their road to such point on the South Carolina line, as they shall determine.

XXVII. Be it further enacted, That all officers of the company, and servants and persons in the actual employment of the company, be, and they are hereby exempted from performing ordinary military duty, working on public roads, and serving as jurors.
REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTORS

OF THE

RALEIGH & GASTON R. R. COMPANY.

---

To the Honorable the General Assembly of the

State of North Carolina:

Pursuant to the provisions of the act of 1850-'51, incorporating the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad company, the president and directors of said company submit the following Report:

The sum of five hundred thousand dollars being the amount required by the said act, to be subscribed by individuals, having been subscribed, on the 15th day of September, 1851, the company was declared to be duly organized, and proceeded to the election of four directors, on the part of the individual stockholders, as provided by the act of incorporation, when Nathaniel T. Green, Thomas Miller, Henry D. Bird and George W. Mordecai were elected.

It is known to your body that four sections of the act of incorporation were by mistake omitted in enrolling the bill; these sections, among other things, provided for the appointment of three directors, on the part of the State, by the Board of Internal Improvements; and for the purpose of carrying out what they knew to be the intention of the Legislature, the stockholders adopted among their by-laws, the provisions of those omitted sections, by virtue of which the Board of Internal Improvement appointed John S. Eaton, William W. Vass and John G. King, directors on the part of the State.
Upon the meeting of the Board of Directors, they appointed George W. Mordecai, President, William W. Vass, Treasurer and Secretary, and Henry D. Bird, General Superintendent. Mr. Bird having resigned his office as director, Mr. Thomas White was appointed in his place; and Mr. Vass having subsequently resigned his office as director, Joseph B. G. Rouihac was appointed in his place: so that the Board at present consists of Geo. W. Mordecai, President, John S. Eaton, Thomas Miller, John G. King, Joseph B. G. Rouihac and Thomas White.

A contract was immediately made with Mr. James Dunlap, as agent of Messrs. Cresswell, Alley & Co., for the purchase of the iron for relaying the road, at the price of $41 30 per ton, the whole of which has been delivered and paid for, except a small sum. The iron selected was of the U or bridge pattern, weighing 51 lbs. to the lineal yard. The road has been relaid to within about twelve miles of Raleigh, and will, it is hoped, be entirely completed during the ensuing month.

Owing to the crippled condition of the road, at the time the present company took possession of it, the Board of Directors was compelled to purchase new locomotives, passenger and burthen cars, to enable them to carry on the ordinary operations of the road, the outlay for which has considerably increased their expenses. In addition to this, the bridges, which had been too long neglected, required a thorough repair, which they are now undergoing. Several of the culverts having been blown up by heavy freshets, they have for the present been repaired with wooden trestle work; but to make them permanent and secure, they will require to be rebuilt of solid masonry. When these repairs shall have been completed, and the necessary additions made to the workshops at Raleigh, the Railroad will be in complete order, and instead of being a laughing stock and reproach to the State, as it has heretofore been, will compare favorably with any road in the Union.

The necessary sum having been subscribed for the construction of the Weldon and Gaston connection, that work has been commenced, and is now being vigorously prosecuted. It is expected to be finished early in the Spring, and will form a valuable appendage to the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad.

A Railroad has likewise been commenced, leading from Clarksville to a point on the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad near Ridgway, which, when completed, will furnish another valuable feeder to this road. To make these connections complete, and add to the profits of the road, as well as to answer the wants of the community, it is very desirable that this road should be at once connected with the North Carolina Railroad, at or near Raleigh. By the provisions of the law, as it now stands, this connection cannot be formed until the superstructure of that road is laid down at Raleigh, but as it may be important to the interests of the State, that a portion of the iron for laying that road should be transported over the Raleigh and Gaston road, this consideration, independently of any other, would suggest to the Legislature the propriety and expediency of authorising that connection to be made forthwith. To effect this, as well as to supply the omissions before mentioned, a revised charter has been prepared, and submitted to your honorable body, which we earnestly hope may meet with your approbation.

Notwithstanding the many difficulties and disadvantages under which this road has labored, and the crippled condition of its motive power, and roadway, we are gratified to be able to say that the receipts on the road have steadily and largely increased, and we have no doubt, when completed, the road will, after paying all necessary expenses, yield a handsome revenue to the State, as well as to those patriotic individuals who have engaged in the enterprize.

A detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures for last fiscal year, ending the 1st October last, is herewith submitted.

By order of the Board of Directors.

'SUPERIOR AND COUNTY COURTS.

RALEIGH:
SEATON GALES, PRINTER TO THE LEGISLATURE.
1852
The Committee on the Judiciary, to whom was referred a Bill abolishing Trial by Jury in the County Courts, and for the more speedy and certain administration of justice, REPORT:

That they have attentively considered the provisions of the bill referred to them, and recommend several amendments to the same; and herewith report a bill, in which they ask the concurrence of the House.
[Report made by Mr. R. M. Saunders. Ordered that the bill and proposed amendments be printed, and made the special order of the day for Tuesday, the 9th instant, at 12 o'clock.]

A BILL

CONCERNING THE SUPERIOR AND COUNTY COURTS.

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the State shall be divided into Nine Judicial Circuits, and into three Judicial Districts. The first, second and third Circuits, as they may be hereafter established, shall form the first district: the fourth, fifth and sixth Circuits shall form the second District: the seventh, eighth and ninth Circuits shall form the third District: and the present Judges of the Superior Courts of Law and Equity, with two others to be elected by the present General Assembly, and their successors, shall be attached to the several Districts, as may be provided by a supplemental act, so as to assign three of said Judges to each District. And the Judges so attached to the three several Districts shall ride the Circuits composing the same, and hold the Courts therein, as they may arrange among themselves, so that no Judge shall ride and hold the Courts in the same Circuit twice in succession: Provided, That the said Judges may interchange their ridings from one District to another as they may agree on.
II. Be it further enacted, That there shall be three terms of the Superior Courts in each year, to be designated as the Spring, Summer and Fall Terms, as may be hereafter provided by a supplemental act; and the Judges of the Superior Courts of Law and Equity shall receive each an annual salary of two thousand dollars, to be paid quarterly, and in the manner now provided by law.

IV. Be it further enacted, That hereafter, no suit, civil or criminal, requiring the intervention of a jury, shall originate in any of the Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions of this State, nor shall any juries be summoned to attend any of said Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions.

V. Be it further enacted, That all appeals from judgments rendered by Justices of the Peace in civil or criminal cases, and all recognizances taken by Justices of the Peace, in criminal proceedings, shall be returned to the next ensuing Superior Court of Law for the county in which they are taken, under the same rules and regulations now required by law.
VI. Be it further enacted, That the Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, for the several counties in this State, are hereby required, at their terms next after this act goes into operation, to take up their respective State dockets, and in regular order, bind over the parties therein, together with the witnesses, to the next ensuing Superior Court of Law, for each county respectively.

VII. Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the clerks of the several Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions in this State, within twenty days immediately after the terms of their respective Courts held next after this act goes into effect, to make out a transcript of all suits, whether civil or criminal, then pending in their respective Courts, and deliver the same, together with all papers relating thereto, to the clerks of the Superior Courts of their respective counties.

VIII. Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the clerks of the several Superior Courts to receive such transcripts and original papers, and immediately enter them on their respective dockets, in regular succession, observing the order of precedence of such suit as indicated by its number, and in such order said suits shall stand for trial.

11 county in which the same may be pending, and the 12 clerk of the Superior Court shall receive and enter the 13 same on his docket, and the several Superior Courts

19 ter Sessions of the county from which the same may 20 have originated, with the original will or paper, which 21 shall be recorded by said Court of Pleas and Quarter
22 Sessions, as evidence of the probate or rejection of said 23 will or paper.

7 up under the insolvent debtors' law, and in all other
8 cases whatsoever, where the Courts of Pleas and Quarter
9 Sessions properly have jurisdiction of the subject mat-
10 ter, but on issue being joined, the intervention of a jury
11 may be necessary to try the same; and where the said 12 courts have heretofore had the right to make up such 13 issue and try the same, it shall be the duty of the clerks 14 of said courts, to make out a transcript of the record 15 of any such case within ten days after the rise of the 16 court at which such issue may have been joined, and 17 deliver it, with all papers relating thereto, to the clerk 18 of the Superior Court of that county; and it shall be 19 the duty of said Superior Court clerk, to receive, and 20 enter the same on his docket, and the said Superior 21 Courts are hereby authorised to take such proceeding
22 therein, as required by law.
XI. Be it further enacted, That, on any cause or issue being removed into any of said Superior Courts, from any Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, or other inferior tribunal, under the provisions of this act, it shall be the duty of the several clerks of said courts, on the application of either plaintiff or defendant, to issue sub- poenas and other process, as now required by law.

XII. Be it further enacted, That, hereafter, the clerks of the several Superior Courts of Law in this State, by themselves, or their deputy, shall be required to attend in their respective offices, for the transaction of business, each and every day in the year, between the hours of nine and twelve o'clock in the morning, and two and five o'clock in the evening, except on Sundays and the Fourth of July; and, that if any clerk of the several Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, or of the several Superior Courts, shall either fail, or neglect to perform the duties required of him by the several provisions of this act, such clerk shall forfeit and pay the sum of one hundred dollars for each and every case of failure or neglect, to be recovered by an action of debt, in a Court of Record, in the name of any person suing for the same, and be further liable to an action on the case, for damages to the person injured by such failure or neglect.

XIII. Be it further enacted, That there shall be two Solicitors of the Superior Courts for each Circuit, with the Attorney General, to be so arranged as to give to each one half of the Courts in each Circuit, as near as may be, and when such division cannot be made, it shall be the duty of the Judge who shall first ride the Circuit, after this Act shall take effect, to assign to the Attorney General and Solicitors the Courts in his Circuit which they are to attend, should they be unable to make such an arrangement among themselves; provided

REPORT.

The Committee on Constitutional Reform, to whom was referred a Bill to amend the Constitution of North Carolina, have had the same under consideration, and ask leave to report the bill back to the House, with the recommendation that it do not pass.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM S. HARRIS, Chairman.
A BILL

To amend the Constitution of North Carolina.

Whereas, at the last Session of the General Assembly, 2 A. D., 1850-'51, a Preamble and Bill, proposing to amend the Constitution of North Carolina, was read three times in each House, and agreed to by three-fifths of the whole number of members of each House respectively, and has been duly published for six months previous to the election of the members to the present General Assembly: And, Whereas, it is the purpose of this Bill, to re-enact and agree to the alteration proposed in and by the Preamble, and the first section of the Bill aforesaid, in the precise words and figures thereof, by the concurring votes of two-thirds of the whole representation in each House of this General Assembly, after the same shall have been read three times, or three several days in each House.
Now, "Whereas the freehold qualification, now required for electors for members of the Senate, conflicts with the fundamental principles of liberty, Therefore,

II. Be it further enacted, That the foregoing amendment to the Constitution of this State, as embodied in the preceding section, be submitted by the Governor to the people, on the first of August, A. D., 1853, thirty days notice having been given, and that the polls be opened by the respective sheriffs, and kept open for one day, from the hour of ten o'clock in the morning, to the hour of 6 o'clock in the afternoon, at the several election precincts in each and every county in the State, under the same rules and regulations as now exist, for the election of members to the General Assembly: That the said sheriffs be required to compare and certify the results of the elections, on or before the Saturday following, and transmit the same in twenty five days thereafter to the Governor of the State: That 16 all persons qualified to vote for members of the House
17 of Commons, shall vote for or against a ratification of 18 said amendment: Those who wish a ratification of 19 said amendment, voting with a printed or written ticket 20 "approved;" those of a contrary opinion, "not approv-
21 ed. Further, That it shall be the duty of the sheriffs 22 to make duplicate statements of the polls in their res-23 pective counties, sworn to before the Clerk of the 24 County Court; one copy of which shall be deposited in 25 said clerk's office, and the other copy transmitted to 26 the Governor of the State, at Raleigh.

III. Be it further enacted, That when the returns
2 aforesaid shall have been received, the same shall be
3 opened by the Governor, in the presence of the Secre-4 tary of State and Treasurer; and in case a majority of 5 the votes polled shall be in favor of a ratification of 6 said amendment, the same shall be forthwith made 7 known by a proclamation of the Governor to the peo-8 ple of the State. And thereupon, the Governor shall 9 cause to be endorsed on the said amendment, as en-10 rolled by the two Houses of this General Assembly, or 11 shall annex thereunto a certificate under his signature, 12 declaring that said amendment has been ratified by the 13 people of North Carolina; and the Secretary of State
14 shall countersign the said certificate, and annex thereto
15 the great seal of the State: And the said amendment, 16 so enrolled, with the certificate aforesaid, shall be for-17 ever kept among the archives of the State, in the office 18 of the secretary aforesaid.
The undersigned, members of the Select Committee on Constitutional Reform, to whom was referred the bill to amend the Constitution of North Carolina, do not concur in the report submitted by a majority of that committee; and beg leave to enter their unqualified dissent thereto, and to express their most hearty approval of the amendment proposed by the bill, and of the mode therein adopted for effecting it.

The right of an elector, when once qualified to vote for candidates for all elective officers, lies at the very foundation of American ideas of liberty and equality, and no one can oppose it, who believes in the capacity of man for self-government.

The statement of the proposition amounts in itself to a demonstration, because equality at the ballot box must be an axiom in the political faith of every genuine advocate and supporter of republican principles.

An elaborate argument, therefore, to support the principle of equal suffrage, as involved in the bill, is unnecessary, and would be an act of supererogation at this time. The patriotic and intelligent voters of North Carolina have demanded a change in our fundamental law, so as to incorporate therein, this principle of equality, with a unanimity unparalled, and in a voice which cannot be disregarded. The people have not only settled the question as regards the bill, now under consideration, by an emphatic approval of the principle it involves, but they have approved, in terms alike decisive, the mode therein adopted, of amending their constitution, at least so far as regards the amendment embodied in the bill.

The only enquiry, therefore, which should have engaged the attention of the committee, was, whether the requirements of the Constitution, in relation to amendments thereto by the Legislature, had been strictly complied with. Upon this latter point, there was no difference of opinion among the members of the committee. At the last session of the General Assembly, the present bill passed both Houses, by the majority prescribed by the Constitution, and all the solemnities required in its enactment were duly observed at that session. The committee likewise concurred in opinion, that this bill, so agreed to, at the last session, had been duly published six months previous to the election of the members of this General Assembly. It is much to be regretted that differences of opinion among the members of the committee, either as to the principle involved in the amendment itself, or, as to the mode of effecting it, should have resulted in a report adverse to a bill which meets the approval of nine-tenths of the people of the State, and indignant would have been the popular response from all sections, if the report of a majority of the committee determined the question; but fortunately, it still remains for this Legislature to decide whether they will, by a two-third vote, effectuate the object so wisely begun at the last session, by re-enacting this bill, and submit the great and important question it involves, to the people for their ratification, or whether objections, merely formal, shall forestall the wishes of the people, and debar them the enjoyment of essential political privileges. Hoping that all the members of the House may ultimately agree to unite with the undersigned in responding to the demands of the people in relation to equal suffrage, they earnestly recommend the passage of the present bill, as the most effectual and speedy mode of consummating the wishes of the people on that subject.

Respectfully submitted,

SAMUEL A. WILLIAMS,
JO. DOBSON,
C. M. STILES.
REPORT

COMMITTEE

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

RALEIGH:
SEATON GALES, PRINTER TO THE LEGISLATURE.

1852
The Committee on so much of the Governor's Message, as relates to Free Suffrage, and other amendments to the Constitution, have had the same under consideration, and ask leave to make their report.
REPORT.

Your Committee are of opinion that a frequent recurrence to fundamental principles is essentially necessary; and that the Constitution should not be changed for light and transient causes. It is conceded that every alteration or modification of the organic law, involves, to some extent, the rights of the private citizen, and the principles of the public liberty.

"All political power is vested in and derived from the people only," is a cardinal maxim of regulated freedom: embodied in the Bill of Rights: settled by the lessons of experience: sustained throughout the lapse of time, and amid every change of circumstances, by the jealous patriotism of the people. The first Constitution was framed in 1776, and adopted as the supreme law of a free people, notwithstanding the menaces of overwhelming power, and the frowns of an offended king.

The wisdom of sages, and the conservatism of enlightened statesmen, are enstamped upon every line of that sacred instrument, although North Carolina was just then emerging from a state of colonial dependence.

This Constitution remained in full force until the augmentation of population in the West produced inequality of representation, which induced the people to demand and obtain the Convention of 1835. The Convention thus called, amended the constitution; removed all the grievances then complained of; adjusted amicably the basis of representation; and granted all the privileges which the progress of the age demanded.
Thus your Committee find that, in a space of time covering 78 years, there have been no radical changes, except those made by the Convention of 1835, in obedience to the expressed voice of the people, and ratified by them according to the ancient republican usage.

Under the Constitution of 1776, and the amended Constitution of 1835, the State of North Carolina has pursued the even tenor of her way—illustrating the integrity and conservatism of her organic law, by protecting the rights of every citizen, and securing to her just rule, a loyal submission.

Your Committee are of opinion, that when amendments to the organic law are suggested by time and experience, and clearly demanded by the popular voice, that a convention, fresh from the people, is not only the safer, wiser mode, but most strictly in accordance with the ancient republican landmarks.

It may be said that amendment of the Constitution, by legislative enactment, is in exact conformity to a provision of the Constitution itself, and cannot be at war with the fundamental maxim, that "all political power is vested in and derived from the people only. But your committee conceive that there is a great and material difference between the simple right or power of accepting or rejecting, and that full and complete power of the people, to begin conduct and complete, additions or alterations in their organic law. In the present and prospective condition of things, it is not likely that the election of members to the Assembly, at the general election, will, in half the instances, turn purely on issues growing out of amendments to the Constitution. Party spirit, and many other exciting issues of Federal and State policy, that are usually mixed up in the biennial elections, will ever prevent such a result. When the people yield to the General Assembly, this legislative power over their fundamental law, they have, by precedent, vested it with additional power, and blended in the same body, the law-making and the constitution-making power. An important object of the Constitution is, to limit the power of legislators, and other persons whom the people intrust with power. Let it be once established, that the people, on their own motion, can have no other privilege or safeguard, by constitutional provision, than such as those whom they first place in power, may propose to them, it is apprehended they have taken one step to the prejudice of popular rights and well-regulated freedom.

It is true, that in the matter of amending the Constitution of the United States, Congress has the power of proposing amendments to the States, but your Committee are at a loss to see what instruction this gives as to the safer mode of amending the Constitution of North Carolina. The Constitution of the United States forms a government of limited powers, for certain purposes, uniting the people of the States, and for its authority rests on the adoption of the people in their respective States—each State, irrespective of the number of its inhabitants, having the same voice. Saving the power that North Carolina has, for the general good, surrendered to the General Government, she is a sovereign State—a government of the people. It is to be feared, that if the legislative mode of amending the Constitution, becomes, by precedent, fixed on the people, in making the important alteration now contemplated, we shall, for years to come, have the attention of the Assembly occupied with constitutional amendments, and that members of this Legislature will live to see the day, when some Governor of the State, in his biennial message, will suggest the propriety of appointing commissioners to revise and define the Constitution itself.

Other amendments—the election of judges and justices of the peace by the people—are recommended by the Executive. Others, in which the public mind take a deep interest, are urged, and as soon as the period arrives, for connecting them in the party politics of the day, will possibly, one after another, be brought to the attention of the Assembly: such as the election of a Lieutenant Governor, Secretary, Treasurer, Comptroller, the proper qualifications of Governor, Members of Assembly, Jurors, &c.

Besides these, are the more exciting questions of the basis of representation. These questions, as to the basis of representation, have as yet been merely sectional, but to show that they are of a character, for other reasons, to become exciting elements with other questions in our popular elections, two tables are hereto annexed. These tables, prepared in haste, and hereto attached, marked No. 1 and 2, may not in all things be correct. They are, however, sufficiently accurate to present many considerations against having the settlement of all these constitutional questions kept before the public mind a sufficient length of time, for the Legislature, by any thing it can do, to give quiet and final settlement to them all. However little inclined the popular mind may be now, to many of the modifications alluded to, we should profit by observation and the experience of the past. We hope to be charged with no unreasonable reflections, when we say, that in future political contests, parties, desirous of success, may not hesitate to favor the views of the friends of any of the alterations mentioned, thereby indicating more concern for the success and triumph of party, than the stability and permanence of the Constitution, and thereby giving the triumph of party, by such means secured, the appearance of a popular decision on a question of reform, which was only an element in the strife of sufficient influence to turn the scales.

Impressed with these views, your Committe entertain the settled conviction that, if the General Assembly travel out of the true and legitimate path of legislation, to tinker with the Constitution, that it will be establishing a dangerous precedent, and committing the people to a mode of amendment, which the history of the two last legislatures demonstrates to be both expensive and precarious.
In the event this system of constitutional reform be continued, it is not improbable that the organic law may become shreds and patches, and the original Constitution, with many of the principles of conservative liberty which it embodies, be lost amid the rubbish of legislative enactments.

Your Committee believe that all these grave questions ought to be definitely settled at the earliest period, and thus obviate the fruitless discussion and bad temper, which must necessarily result from their inseparable connection, under existing circumstances, with the ordinary legislation of the country, and exciting issues, growing out of the politics of the day.

Owing to extraneous influences already indicated, the spirit of innovation may be at work in every legislature, and thus render the Constitution unstable as water. It is desirable therefore, in every view of the matter, that all these vexed questions of constitutional reform should be thrust out from the arena of politics, and committed where they rightly belong—to the calm, dispassionate, and enlightened judgment of a free people. Confiding in the wisdom of the General Assembly, to devise some more speedy and satisfactory plan, by which the people may pass upon, and settle finally for themselves, all these deeply interesting questions, your committee respectfully disagree to the recommendations of the Governor, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Respectfully submitted,

W. S. HARRIS, Chm'n.
W. H. TRIPP,
WILLIE PERRY,
C. M. STILES.

[Ordered that the Bill and Amendments proposed be laid, on the table and printed.]
A BILL

To Incorporate the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad Company.

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That for the purpose of effecting a railroad communication between the North Carolina railroad, at or near the town of Goldsboro', and Beaufort harbor, by the way of Kinston, Trenton and Newbern, the formation of a corporate company, with the capital stock of nine hundred thousand dollars, is hereby authorized, to be called the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad Company, and when formed, in compliance with the conditions hereinafter prescribed, to have a corporate existence as a body politic, for ninety-nine years.

II. That the said company be, and the same is hereby authorized, to construct a railroad commencing at a point at or near the town of Beaufort, in Carteret county, thence by the most practicable route to the town of Newbern, and thence the most practicable route by Trenton and Kinston, to the terminus of the North Carolina Railroad, at or near the town of Goldsboro', in the county of Wayne.

III. That for the purpose of forming said capital stock of said company, the following persons be, and the same are hereby appointed commissioners: Isaac Ramsey, of Carteret county; Alonzo T. Jerkins, of Newbern; Lucien J. Becton, of Jones; William C. Loften, of Lenoir;

IV. That all who may hereafter be authorized to open books for subscription of stock, by the commissioners herein appointed for that purpose, shall open said books at any time after the ratification of this act, twenty days previous notice being given in some one or more of the public newspapers in this State; and, that the said books when opened, shall be kept open for the space of thirty days at least, and as long thereafter as the commissioners first above named shall direct; and, that all subscription of stock shall be in shares of one hundred dollars, 11 the subscriber paying at the time of making such subscription, five dollars on each share thus subscribed, to 13 the person authorized to receive such subscription; and,
14 in case of failure to pay said sum, all such subscription 15 shall be void and of no effect; and, upon closing the 16 books, all such sums as shall have been thus received 17 of subscribers, on the first cash instalment, shall be paid 18 over to the general commissioners named in the third 19 section of this act, by the persons receiving them; and 20 for failure thereof, such person or persons shall be liable 21 to said general commissioners before the organization of 22 said company, and to the company itself after its organ-23 ization, to be recovered in the Superior Court of law in 24 the county where such delinquent resides, or if he reside 25 out of the State, then in any court of such State having 26 competent jurisdiction. The said general commissioners 27 shall have power to call on and require all persons em-28 powered to receive subscription, at any time, and from 29 time to time, as a majority of them may think proper, to 30 make return of the stock by them respectively received, 31 and to make payments of all sums made by the subscri-32 bers; that all persons receiving subscriptions of stock 33 shall pass a receipt to the subscriber, for the payment of 34 the first instalment, as heretofore required to be paid;
35 and, upon their settlement with the general commis-
36 sioners, as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of said general 37 commissioners, in like manner, to pass their receipt for 38 all sums of money thus received, to the person from 39 whom received, and such receipts shall be taken and held 40 to be good and sufficient vouchers to the persons holding 41 them.

V. It shall be the duty of said general commissioners to direct and authorize the keeping open of books, for the subscription of stock in the manner above described, until the sum of three hundred thousand dollars shall 5 have been subscribed to the capital stock of said com-
6 pany; and, that as soon as the sum of three hundred 7 thousand dollars shall have been subscribed, and the 8 first instalment of five dollars per share on said sum
9 shall have been received by the general commissioners,
10 said company shall be regarded as formed; and the said
11 commissioners or a majority of them shall sign and seal 12 a duplicate declaration to that effect, with the names of 13 the subscribers appended, and cause one of the said

16 for subscription as aforesaid, the said subscribers to the 17 stock shall form a body politic and corporate, in deed 18 and in law, for the purposes aforesaid, by the name and 19 style of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad Com-

10 gift or devise, so far as shall be necessary for the purposes 11 embraced within the scope, object and intent of this 12 charter, and no farther; and shall have perpetual suc-

IX. That the affairs of the company shall be managed and directed by a general board, to consist of eight di-

XI. That the president of the company shall be elected by the directors, from among their own number, in such manner as the regulations of the company shall prescribe.

XII. That at the first general meeting of the stockholders, to be called under section eight of this act, a majority of all the shares subscribed shall be represented before proceeding to business; and if a sufficient number do not appear on the day appointed, those who do attend shall have the power to adjourn from time to time, until a regular meeting shall be thus formed; and at such meeting, the stockholders may provide, by a by-law, as to the number of stockholders and the amount of stock to be held by them, which shall constitute a quorum for transacting business at all subsequent regular or called meetings of stockholders and directors.

XIII. That in all elections, and upon all votes taken in any general meeting of the stockholders, upon any by-law or any of the affairs of the company, each share of stock shall be entitled to one vote, and that any stockholder in said company may vote by proxy; and proxies may be verified in such manner as the stockholders by by-11 quents' executors or administrators, in case of his or their 12 death.

XV. That the board of directors may fill all vacancies
2 which may occur in their body during the period for 3 which they have been elected, and in the absence of the 4 president, may fill his place by electing a president pro
5 tem. from among their number.

XVI. That all contracts or agreements, authenticated by 2 the president and secretary of the board of directors, shall 3 be binding on the company without a seal, or such a 4 mode of authentication may be used as the company,
5 by their by-laws may adopt.

XVII. That the company shall have power and may 2 proceed to construct, as speedily as possible, a railroad,
3 with one or more tracts, of the same width of the North 4 Carolina railroad, to be used with steam power, which 5 shall extend from the most practicable point at or near 6 the town of Beaufort, in Carteret county, in the manner
7 prescribed in the second section of this act, to the termi-
8 nus of the North Carolina railroad, at or near the town
9 of Goldsboro'; in the county of Wayne, and said company may use any section of the railroad constructed by them, before the whole of said road shall be completed.

XVIII. That the said company shall have the exclusive right of conveyance or transportation of persons, goods, merchandise and produce over the said railroad, to be by them constructed, at such charges as may be fixed on by a majority of the directors.

XIX. That the said company may, when they see pro-er, farm out their right of transportation over said railroad, subject to the rules above mentioned; and the said company, and every person who may have received from them the right of transportation of goods, wares and produce, on said railroad, shall be deemed and taken a common carrier, as respects all goods, wares, produce and merchandise entrusted to them for transportation.

XX. That the board of directors may call for the payment of the sums subscribed as stock in said company, in such instalments as the interest of said company, may, in their opinion, require: the call for each payment shall be published in one or more newspapers in this State, for the space of one month before the day of payment, and on failure of any stockholder to pay each instalment, as thus required, the directors may sell at public auction, on a previous notice of ten days, for cash, all the stock subscribed for in said company by such stockholder, and convey the same to the purchaser at said sale; and if said sale of stock do not produce a sum sufficient to pay off the incidental expenses of the sale, and the entire amount owing by such stockholder to the company, for such subscription of stock, then and in that case the whole of such balance shall be held and taken as due at once to the company, and may be recovered of such stockholder or 19 his executors, administrators or assigns, at the suit of 20 said company, either by summary motion in the Court
21 of superior jurisdiction in the county where the delin-
22 quent resides, on a previous notice of ten days to said 23 subscriber, or by action of assumpsit, in any Court of 24 competent jurisdiction, or by a warrant before a justice 25 of the peace, when the sum does not exceed one hun-26 dred dollars; and in all cases of assignment of stock, 27 before the whole amount has been paid to the com-28 pany, then for all sums due on such stock, both the 29 original subscribers and the first and all subsequent 30 assignees shall be liable to the company, and the same 31 be recovered as above described.

XXI. That the debt of stockholders, due the company
2 for stock therein, either as original proprietor or as 3 first or subsequent assignee, shall be considered as of 4 equal dignity with judgments in the distribution of as-5 sets of a deceased stockholder, by his legal representa-6 tive.

XXII. That said company shall issue certificates of 2 stock to its members; and said stock may be trans-3 ferred in such manner and form as may be directed by 4 the by-laws of the company.

XXIII. That the Board of Directors shall once in every 2 year make a full report on the state of the company
3 and its affairs, to a general meeting of the stockholders,
4 and oftener, if required; and shall have power to call a 5 general meeting of the stockholders, when the board
6 may deem it expedient; and the company may pro-7 vide in their by-laws, for occasional meetings being 8 called, and prescribe the mode thereof.

XXIV. That the said company may purchase, have and 2 hold in fee, for a term of years, any lands, tenements or hereditaments which may be necessary for said road, or the appurtenances thereof, or for the erection of depositories, storehouses, houses for the officers, servants or agents for the company, or for workshops or foundries, to be used for the said company, or for procuring stone or other materials necessary to the construction of the road, or for effecting transportation thereon, and for no other purposes whatever.

XXV. That the company shall have the right, when necessary, to conduct the said road across or along any public road or watercourse: Provided, That the said company shall not obstruct any public road, without constructing another equally as good and as convenient, nor without making a draw in any bridge of said road, which may cross a navigable stream, sufficient for the passage of vessels navigating such stream.

XXVI. That when any lands or right of way may be required by said company, for the purpose of constructing their road, and for the want of agreement as to the value thereof, or from any other cause, the same cannot be purchased from the owner or owners, the same may be taken at a valuation, to be made by five commissioners, or a majority of them, to be appointed by any Court of Record having common law jurisdiction in the county where some part of the land or right of way is situated. In making the said valuation, the said commissioners shall take into consideration the loss or damage which may accrue to the owner or owners, in consequence of the land or right of way being surrendered, and the benefit and advantage, he, she or they may receive from the erection or establishment of the railroad or work, and shall state particularly the value and amount of each; and the excess of loss and damage, over and above the advantage and benefit, shall form the measure of valuation of the said land or right

20 of way: Provided, nevertheless, That if any person or 21 persons, over whose land the road may pass, shall be 22 dissatisfied with the valuation of said commissioners, 23 then and in that case the person or persons so dissatis- 24 fied, or the President and Directors of the road, may 25 have an appeal to the Superior Court, in the county 26 where the said valuation has been made, or in either in 27 which the land lies, when it may lie in more than one 28 county, under the same rules, regulations and restric- 29 tions, as in appeals from judgments of justices of the 30 peace. The proceeding of the said commissioners, ac- 31 companied with a full description of said land or right 32 of way, shall be returned, under the hands and seals of 33 a majority of the commissioners, to the Court from 34 which the commission issued, there to remain a matter 35 of record. And the lands or right of way, so valued 36 by the said commissioners, shall vest in said company, 37 so long as the same shall be used for the purposes of 38 said railroad, so soon as the valuation may be paid, 39 or when refused, may have been tendered: Provided, 40 That on application for the appointment of commis- 41 sioners under this section, it shall be made to appear to 42 the satisfaction of the Court, that at least ten days pre- 43 vious notice has been given by the applicant to the 44 owner or owners of land so proposed to be condem- 45 ed, or if the owner or owners be infants, or non com- 46 pos mentis, then to the guardian of such owner or ow- 47 ners, if such guardian can be found within the county; 48 or if he cannot be found, then such appointment shall 49 not be made, unless notice of the application shall have 50 been published at least one month next preceding, in 51 some newspaper printed as convenient as may be to 52 the Court House of the county, and shall have been 53 posted at the door of the Court House, on the first day 54 at least of the term of said court, to which the appli- 55 cation is made: Provided further, That the valuation 56 provided for in this section shall be made on oath by the commissioners aforesaid, which oath any justice of the peace or clerk of the Court of the county in which the land or a part of it lies, is hereby authorised to administer: Provided, further, That the right of condemnation herein granted, shall not authorise the said company to invade the dwelling house, yard or burial ground of an individual, without his consent.

XXVII. That the right of said company to condemn lands, in the manner described in the twenty-sixth section of this act, shall extend to the condemning one hundred feet on each side of the main track of the road, measuring from the centre of the same, unless in case of deep cuts and filling, when the said company shall have power to condemn as much in addition thereto as may be necessary for the purpose of constructing said road; and the company shall also have power to condemn and appropriate lands in like manner, for the constructing and building depots, shops, warehouses, buildings for servants, agents and persons employed on the road, not exceeding two acres in any one lot or station.

XXVIII. That, in the absence of any contract or con-	racts with said company, in relation to lands through which said road or its branches may pass, signed by the owner thereof or by his agent, or any claimant or person in possession thereof, which may be confirmed by the owner thereof, it shall be presumed that the land upon which the said road or any of its branches may be constructed, together with a space of one hundred feet on each side of the centre of said road, has been granted to the said company, by the owners thereof; and the said company shall have good right and title thereto, and shall hold and enjoy the same as long as the same shall be used for the purposes of said road, and no longer, unless the person or persons owning the said land, at the time that part of the said road which may be on the said land was finished, or those claiming under him, her or them, shall apply for an assessment of the value of said land, as herein before directed, within two years next after that part of the said was finished; and in case the said owner or owners, or those claiming under him, her or them, shall not apply within two years next after said part was finished, he, she, or they, shall be forever barred from recovering said lands or having any assessment or compensation therefore: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall affect the rights of feme coverts or infants, until two years after the removal of their respective disabilities.

XXIX. That all lands not heretofore granted to any person, nor appropriated by law to the use of the State, within one hundred feet of the centre of said road, which may be constructed by the said company, shall vest in the company as soon as the line of the road is definitely laid out through it, and any grant of land thereafter shall be void.

XXX. That, if any person shall intrude upon the said road, by any manner of use thereof, or of the rights and privileges connected therewith, without permission or contrary to the will of said company, he, she, or they may be indicted for a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, fined and imprisoned by any court of competent jurisdiction in this State.

XXXI. That every obstruction to the safe and free passage of vehicles on the said road or its branches, shall be deemed a public nuisance, and may be abated as such by any officer, agent or servant, of said company; and the person causing such obstructions may be indicted, and punished for erecting a public nuisance.
XXXII. That the said company shall have the right to take at the storehouses they may establish, or annex to their railroad or the branches thereof, all goods, wares, merchandise and produce, intended for transportation, prescribe the rules of priority and charges, and receive such just and reasonable compensation for storage, as they by rules may establish, (which they shall cause to be published,) or as may be fixed by agreement with the owner, which may be distinct from the rules of transportation: Provided, That the said company shall not charge or receive storage on goods, wares, merchandise or produce, which may be delivered to them at their regular depositories for immediate transportation, and which the company may have power to transport immediately.

XXXIII. That the profits of the company, or so much thereof, as the general board may deem advisable, shall, when the affairs of the company will permit, be semi-annually divided among the stockholders in proportion to the stock they may own.

XXXIV. [That, whenever it shall appear to the Board of Internal Improvements, by the certificate of the treasurer of the said company, and countersigned by their president, that three hundred thousand dollars has been subscribed for and taken, and that five hundred dollars has been paid on the stock, to the treasurer of the said company, in cash or in labor performed on said road, and accepted by said company, the board of internal improvements are hereby authorized and required to subscribe on behalf of the State, for stock in said company, to the amount of five hundred thousand dollars, to the capital stock of the said company, which subscription in behalf of the State shall be paid for as follows, to-wit: four hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars in the stock of the Raleigh and Gaston Rail...
Company—the transfer and assignment of the said stock to be made by the Governor under the seal of the State, to the president and directors of the said Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad Company, and their assignees:

Provided, That the State shall not be held responsible for any discount which may arise from the sale of said stock, but the same shall be taken at par value in payment of the State's subscription; and the further sum of twenty-five thousand dollars of the capital stock of the Fayetteville and Western Plank Road Company, the transfer and assignment of which said stock to be made by the Treasurer of the State to the president and directors of the said Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad Company, and their assignees.

XXXV. That, in order to raise the sum of three hundred thousand dollars, as herein authorized to be subscribed by individuals, it shall also be lawful for any corporation or county within this State to subscribe for stock in said company: Provided, The said corporation or county be authorized to subscribe in manner as hereinafter directed and provided.

XXXVI. That, in order to enable the corporate authorities of any town to subscribe for stock in said company, it shall be the duty of said corporate authorities of such town to make an order stating the sum proposed to be subscribed, and then to submit the question of subscription or no subscription to the qualified voters in said town, on such terms and in such form as the authorities may prescribe, and if a majority of the inhabitants of said town, qualified to vote for town officers, shall vote in favor of such subscription, then the corporate authorities shall appoint a suitable agent to make the same, and to represent said corporation in all such meetings as may be held of the stockholders of the said railroad company.
XXXVII. That, in order to enable said corporate authorities to raise the funds necessary to pay their subscription, it shall be lawful for said authorities, by their duly appointed officer, to cause their bonds to be issued, payable to the president of said company, on a credit of not exceeding twenty years, with interest payable semi-annually, at the rate of six per centum; which bonds shall be endorsed by the Treasurer of the State, upon the express condition that the authorities of such town or corporation shall annually levy and collect such an amount of taxes as may be sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds, and gradually to pay off and discharge the principal; and on their failure so to provide, it shall be lawful for the General Assembly to levy and collect such amount of taxes on the property and persons of such inhabitants, in said town or corporation, as shall be sufficient to pay off both principal and interest on such bonds.

XXXVIII. That it shall be lawful for the Justices of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, at the first court which they may hold, after the first day of next for the counties of Carteret, Craven, Jones, Lenoir, Wayne, Greene, or any contiguous county to said railroad, a majority of the Justices being on the bench, to decide on the amount to be subscribed to said railroad company, in behalf of their county, and to make the necessary orders for submitting the question of subscription or no subscription to the voters of their respective counties, who may be entitled to vote for members of the House of Commons for the General Assembly, and if a majority shall decide in favor of subscription, it shall be the duty of the sheriff, under whose authority the polls are to be held, to make return thereof within five days after any such vote, under the same penalties as are now prescribed by law in regard to members of the General Assembly, to the chairman of their County Courts, whose duty it shall be to call to gether the Justices of the Peace of said county, a majority of whom shall be authorized and required to appoint an agent to subscribe for the number of shares in the stock of said company, which he shall be authorized to do by the order of said court, and thereafter to represent the stock of such county in all general meetings of the stockholders; which agent it shall be competent for the Justices to change, as to them shall seem proper.

XXXIX. That, to enable the Justices of the said County Courts to raise the sum necessary to pay said subscription, it shall be lawful for said Justices to pass the necessary order, which shall be placed on record, for issuing bonds for the amount subscribed, on a credit of not exceeding twenty years, bearing interest at six per cent.
payable semi-annually, to the president of said railroad company, which bonds the Treasurer of the State is hereby directed to endorse, pledging the State to their payment, upon the express condition, that the Justices of said county shall annually levy and collect a tax on the property and persons of the inhabitants of said county sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds, as well as whatever sum shall be deemed necessary for the gradual payment of the principal; and on their failure so to provide, it shall be lawful for the General Assembly to levy and collect such an amount of taxes on the persons and property of the inhabitants of such county as shall be sufficient to pay off both principal and interest on such bonds.

XL. That the president and directors of the Neuse River Navigation company, be, and they are hereby authorised, by and with the consent of a majority of the stockholders of said company, in general meeting assembled, to subscribe, in the name and on behalf of said company, for such an amount of the capital stock
7 of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad company, 8 as they may think proper, to be paid for in the stock of 9 said Neuse River Navigation company, the transfer 10 and assessment of said stock to be made by the presi- 11 dent and directors of the said Neuse River Navigation 12 company, under the corporate seal of said company.

XLI. That the president and directors of the several 2 banks of this State, by and with the consent of a ma- 3 jority of the stockholders thereof, respectively, shall 4 have power and authority to subscribe, in the name and 5 on behalf of their corporation, respectively, for such an 6 amount of the capital stock of the Atlantic and North 7 Carolina Railroad company, as they may think proper.

XLII. That whenever the said company shall have 2 expended the sum hereinbefore authorised, in the con- 3 struction of said railroad, and the said sum should 4 prove insufficient to complete the same, and to furnish 5 the necessary cars, engines and station houses, it shall 6 be the duty of the General Assembly, at its next bien- 7 nial session, to authorise and direct a further subscrip- 8 tion to the stock of said company, of one hundred thou- 9 sand dollars, to be paid for in such State stock as the 10 General Assembly shall then order and direct, which 11 shall form the capital stock of said company. And if 12 that sum shall prove insufficient to complete and stock 13 the said road, the company may at any time increase 14 its capital to a sum sufficient to complete said road, 15 not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars, so as to 16 make the total capital one million of dollars, either 17 by opening books for new stock, or by borrowing mo- 18 ney on the credit of the company, and on the mortgage 19 of its charter and works, as the stockholders, in general 20 meeting, shall direct.

XLIII. That the board of internal improvements may 2 appoint some suitable person to represent the interest 3 of the State, in all general meetings of the stockholders, who shall have the right to vote on all questions, and to enquire into the condition of the company, except in the election of the directors to be appointed by the individual stockholders.

XLIV. That in case of domestic invasion or insurrection, the company shall transport the troops and munitions of war of the State, free of charge.

XLVI. That all the works hereby required of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad Company shall be executed with due diligence, and if the said road be not completed within six years after the ratification of this act, this charter shall be forfeited.

OF COMMISSIONERS TO REVISE

AND DIGEST THE PUBLIC STATUTES.

To the Honorable the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina.

The undersigned, two of the commissioners, appointed by the Governor, to revise and digest the laws, in pursuance of the Act of the last session of the General Assembly, entitled "an Act for revising and digesting the public Statute Laws of the State," beg leave to report:

In conjunction with R. M. Saunders, Esq., they received their appointment in June 1851, and immediately apportioned among themselves the entire body of the chapters of "the Revised Statutes."

The first step was the preparation of tables or indexes, by which the statutes, passed since 1836, might be digested under their appropriate chapters. As many of these statutes embraced subjects, properly distributable among different chapters of the Revised Statutes, it became necessary, not only carefully to dissect their several parts, but to select the most fitting place for their consolidation with the chapters of the Revised Statutes.
This was a work of considerable labor, and obviously indispensable, both for proper arrangement and to prevent omission of any part of the law.

This preparation having been made, they set about revising and digesting the Statutes. In the prosecution of this part of the work, they regarded it as their duty, not only to consolidate the acts passed since 1836, with those then revised, but, also, to revise the language of all the statutes, and expunge much unnecessary verbiage which often clogs the expression, and not unfrequently obscures the meaning of our laws.

They did not deem that their work would be acceptable, by simply collecting and reducing into one chapter, the statutes passed at different times upon the same subject matter, after the manner of a condensed compilation; but they thought it best, and expected, too, of them, that they should consolidate them so as to give to them the character of the unity of one enactment, thereby much abbreviating the law and effecting, if possible, the directions of the Legislature, to compress the whole into one volume.

This work of collation, consolidation and condensation, they believed they could best perform, each one by himself; and they prosecuted it in this manner till June last, when, having nearly completed, each one, his several task, they met in this city to submit the whole to a joint revision.

This part of the work required the united presence and action of all the commissioners. After this should have been completed, next was to follow the reference to the statutes revised, and to the decisions of the Supreme Court on the statutes. Then was to be prepared the index, a work requiring both time and care: and then each chapter, as revised, was to be printed for the examination and action of the Legislature. There was no provision for this important part of the work; but the commissioners had determined to procure it, if this had been the only obstacle to the completion of their labors,—leaving the compensation entirely to the Legislature. In July last, while engaged in heir labors, they were assured by one of the commissioners, who had participated in the revival of 1836, that the printing and revision of the proof would require about three months. Having no reason, on reflection, to doubt the act, they were made sensible at once, of the impracticability of attempting to present the work at this session of the Legislature; and R. M. Saunders, Esq., having resigned his place in the board, no further progress has been made in the joint revision since the idea of completing the work was abandoned.

The plan with which the revision had been commenced and was to be prosecuted, required time for its accomplishment; and that time was not to be had, unless all the commissioners had convened together and devoted themselves, without intermission, to the work. They did not suppose that it was expected of them, that they should abandon their profession altogether—a course which had been highly unjust to their numerous clients, and attended with great individual sacrifice to themselves.

In truth, however, the undersigned did believe, when they accepted the commission, that they could perform the work in time for the present session of the General Assembly, and were not convinced to the contrary till they convened during the past summer.

They deeply regret the delay and the public disappointment, but they are assured that a due regard to the public interest fully justifies that delay. They could not have been persuaded to offer to the Legislature a work with which they would have been so little satisfied themselves, as that which could have been prepared by them, (even if they had the power to have prosecuted it in the absence of a third commissioner,) after the information given to them of the length of time necessary for the printing.

In conclusion, they suggest, that if the Legislature shall deem it advisable to authorize a continuance of the commission, some provision be made for printing the statutes, as revised, before presenting them for legislative action.
Although not, perhaps, strictly a part of their duty, they endeavored to get the materials for ascertaining the boundaries of the several counties of the State; and for this purpose, they addressed a letter to the chairman of the County Court, the county solicitor, and clerk of the county court of every county in the State.

A copy of the letter is herewith reported.

It is exceedingly desirable that the boundaries of our counties should be accurately ascertained. The reasons are so obvious, that they need not be mentioned here.

They intended, if they had been successful, to have laid the information before the Legislature; but as yet, they have received replies from only three or four counties, and they have no reason to expect further information. In doing this, they have incurred a small printing and postage bill, which will be presented during the session for payment, if it may please the Legislature to allow it.

Respectfully submitted.

ASA BIGGS, B. F. MOORE, Commissioners.

November 10, 1852.
Raleigh, December 12, 1851.

To the Chairman of the County Court, County Solicitor, and Clerk of the County Court of County:

We find it impracticable, from the materials accessible to us, to ascertain the boundaries of the counties. We desire to attain as much accuracy as possible, and now address you, with the hope that you will give us all the aid you can as to the boundary of your county; and, if necessary, that you will submit the matter to your Court. If the boundary is well ascertained, please inform us what part of it, and how ascertained? If any portion is not yet ascertained with accuracy, state the same particularly. We desire you to furnish us the boundary of your county from the best information in your power, as early as practicable, and at farthest during the next Summer, with any suggestions you may think proper to make, preparatory to the Report we expect to make to the next General Assembly. As it is important, for many reasons, that the boundary of your county should be settled and known, if not already done, we suggest the propriety of having the same ascertained under the direction of the Court.

Your particular attention is requested, and will much oblige,

Your obedient servants,

CAPE FEAR AND DEEP RIVER

NAVIGATION COMPANY.
To the Honorable the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina:

I herewith transmit the Report of the President and Directors of the Deep River Navigation company, to which I invite the favorable consideration of the General Assembly.

DAVID S. REID.

Executive Department, }
Raleigh, Nov. 13, 1852.
To the General Assembly of North Carolina:

The undersigned memorialists would respectfully represent, that at a meeting of the stockholders of the Cape Fear and Deep River Navigation Company, held in July last, they were appointed a committee on behalf of the stockholders, to memorialize your honorable body, in regard to an increase of the capital stock, and a further subscription on the part of the State to said company, and for a modification of the charter for these and other purposes.

They respectfully represent that the Cape Fear and Deep River Navigation Company was chartered in 1848—49, with a capital of $200,000, of which sum the State became a subscriber to the amount of two-fifths, or $80,000, and the remaining three-fifths were taken by private stockholders, amounting to $120,000; that under the charter, the company went to work and entered into contracts for its completion, by the 1st of January, 1852; that the contractors for the principal portion of the work, failing to comply with the terms of their contract, as to the time specified, and for other reasons, their contract was declared abandoned, since which period the work has been progressing on account of the company, under the immediate supervision of its officers; and they further respectfully represent, that the chief engineer's report shows the work to be in a favorable state throughout its length; that so far as completed it fulfils all the conditions claimed for it, and also that in the course of its construction, for reasons set forth in that report, (here-with annexed,) in order to insure a certain and reliable navigation at all seasons of the lowest summer water, it has been found necessary to construct an additional number of locks and dams; that all the lock chambers have been lengthened, and the lower ones widened out, and an amount of additional work executed, beyond what was originally contemplated, to enlarge its usefulness, which necessarily increases the amount originally contemplated in the capital stock.

Your memorialists, therefore, humbly pray that the capital stock may be increased to $350,000; that influenced by the patriotism which prompted a subscription of two-thirds to the other State works, chartered at the same time with this, which seemed but a two-fifths subscription on the part of the State, you will extend your favor to this so far as to increase the State's subscription $130,000, which will make the State's interest in the stock of the company three-fifths, or $180,000, and that of individuals two-fifths, or $120,000, with the privilege of issuing bonds based upon the work for any contingency that may arise hereafter.

Your memorialists respectfully represent, that the history of the public works of this country, and so far as they are informed, that of all other countries, shows that no where has an improvement been constructed of a similar character to this, affording for 100 miles a reliable navigation at all seasons for steamboats of 130 tons, which has not cost many times the capital required for the completion of this; a railroad for the same extent could not be put in operation, rolling stock included, for a less sum than $1,500,000, nor has there been a railroad, canal or river improvement of the same extent, which has not required an amount over and above what was first thought necessary for their completion, much greater than the additional amount required in this case. Considering, then, the comparatively small amount required for the construction of a work, destined to confer such great blessings as this assuredly will, upon so large a portion of the territory of the State, in the extreme agricultural region to be benefitted by it, in the vast country it will open for making naval stores, timber and lumber, and also the fact of its penetrating the great coal region of the State, the daily increasing demands for which mineral are so far outstripping the supply, that this interest alone would have warranted the expenditure of the capital stock. From these various considerations, your memorialists are constrained to the belief, that this must prove a paying stock, and in corroboration of this opinion, and that your honorable body may more clearly appreciate the vast resources of the region drained by this improvement, they submit for your consideration, the following statistics, showing the probable amount of tolls that would be collected from the work when completed, as compared with the probable yearly expenses.

In this statement, the census tables of 1840 have been used for the grains, in surplus, over home consumption, for the counties bordering upon the improvement; and for naval stores, timber and lumber, information has been obtained, in part, from a table prepared by the present timber and lumber makers, and such additions made for the additional country opened for the production of those articles, as is believed to be entirely within the amount, when truly ascertained.

Probable yearly expenses, including the pay of lock keepers, say $10,000

Wheat, 153,000 bush'ls, equal to 3,825 tons.
Oats, 57,000 do do 814 do
Corn, 207,000 do do 4,600 do

Total of tons, 9,239

Supposing this to pay a toll of 1 per cent. per ton, per mile, it would yield, for fifty miles, (the distance being 100 miles,) 4,619 50
Rosin and raw materials, say 250,000 bush. at 6 cents, 15,000
Spirits, say 50,000 at 10 cents, 5,000
Timber, (which is now 19,160,000 feet,) we will say, 30,000,000 feet, at a toll of 10,000
Lumber, (which is now, 7,560,000,) we will say 15,000,000, 5,000

$39,619 50

To which must be added, the probable amount of up freight, 1-10th, 3,971

$43,580 50

Which will make the receipts, after deducting expenses, $33,580, a fraction over 11 percent upon a capital of $300,-000. But in this estimate, it should be remarked that many articles have not been enumerated, upon which toll would be collected, nor has any allowance been made for the increased production in the quantity of grain, growing out of good markets and quick returns, nor have we considered the receipts from tolls on account of coal, which will pay more to the work than all of the other products together. We are informed that one mine, properly worked, at a fair yield, would produce 100,000 tons per annum. Say that there were three such, yielding 300,000 tons per annum. (there would probably be several more.) The toll upon this amount, at twenty cents per ton, would be $60,-000, and that this may not be considered an extravagant estimate, your honorable body need only turn to a Pennsylvania paper, to ascertain the fact, that upon two improvements, the Schuylkill Navigation and the Reading Railroad, together, the delivery of coal, monthly, is much greater than is assumed for the business of one year upon the Cape Fear and Deep River improvement.

Your memorialists would further respectfully represent, that while the granting of this prayer would insure the completion of this great State work, in which the State is equally interested with the other stockholders, and infuse vigor into the cause of internal improvements throughout its length and breadth, by which alone her great internal resources can be developed,—a rejection of it would be fatal to the Cape Fear and Deep River Navigation Company, and necessarily force a sale of the work.

Influenced by the above considerations, as well as by that State pride which they believe to pervade the breast of every true North Carolinian, your memorialists respectfully and cheerfully submit their prayer to the enlightened wisdom and intelligence of your honorable body, with the full conviction that, in its consideration, patriotism and the true interests of the State will alone predominate.

Respectfully submitted, by

Your obedient servants,

Committee.
Of the President and Directors of the Cape Fear and Deep River Navigation Company, to the Governor.

SIR:—The President and Directors of the Cape Fear and Deep River Navigation Company beg leave to submit the following Report touching the affairs of the Company.

Immediately after its organization, the Board advertised for proposals for constructing the work which resulted in the contract being taken upon the Cape Fear, and in part at Pullin's Falls on Deep River, by Messrs. Solo. McCullough and T. Hunter, who accordingly entered into bond, with approved securities, as prescribed by the charter, for the faithful execution of the work; and also entered into written contracts, specifying the manner in which the work should be executed; and, among other things, it was stipulated, that the work undertaken by them should be completed by the first day of January last. This contract and bond were executed in November, 1849: and, in the month of December, 1850, both the contractors left the work and returned home, where they have remained.

When the contractors abandoned the work, they left it in the hands of other persons, to whom, in express violation of their contract, they sub-let it. Some short time after their departure, they were urged, through the Chief Engineer by our instructions, to return to the work, and were told, again and again, that it must be prosecuted with more energy; and, in the spring of 1851, they were distinctly informed, that, unless they immediately returned and prosecuted the work, according to the spirit of their contract, they would be discharged.

These appeals, made from a desire to protect the interests of the Company, and at the same time to avoid a rupture with the contractors, had no effect whatever; and thus it became incumbent on the Board to put an end to the contract, as necessary for a more speedy execution of the work. Accordingly, on the first of January last, they were discharged. As soon as this was done, the contractors applied to be restored, or to be allowed the 20 per cent. which had been reserved according to their contract as a guaranty in addition to their bond, for the faithful execution of the work. The Board felt bound to decline both propositions, not only for the reasons before assigned, but because they believed, by their delay, loss of timber, and other mismanagement of the contractors, the Company had sustained a loss exceeding the sum total of the 20 per cent. This refusal on our part, to accede to what we considered an unjust demand, was likely to result in protracted and vexatious litigation on both sides; and it was therefore proposed to the contractors to refer the matters in difference to arbitration; which was accordingly done: and, after a laborious investigation, the arbitrators, to wit, Messrs. Norwood, Gilmer and Ashe, three gentlemen of the bar of high distinction, rendered an award of $17,929 83 in favor of the contractors, and the sum of $11,429 83 in favor of the Company, for damage sustained by them; thus leaving a balance due the contractors of $6,500; of which sum $2,500 has been paid in stock, and $4,000 in cash, and a release of all claims against the Company executed by them. Thus it appears that, had we acceded to their demand of the 20 per cent., independent of any claim upon them on our part, it would have been a gratuitous surrender of $11,429 83 of the Company's money.

It was also declared by the arbitrators, that the Company had performed their part of the contract, and the contractors had not. It is due to truth to say that the Board used every exertion to aid the contractors in their operations. They received their monthly pay regularly, and very often at great hazard on the part of the President and Directors, who, from time to time, borrowed, upon their own individual responsibility, large sums. It has sometime since been apparent, that the present capital stock of the Company was not sufficient to complete this great work, for reasons set forth by the Engineer in his Report herewith submitted. It becomes our duty most respectfully to suggest an increase in the capital stock to $350,000; and to appeal to the liberality and patriotism of the Legislature for such relief as their wisdom may suggest.

We are aware that disappointment has been felt and expressed at the progress of the work. It is due to ourselves to say, that, but for us, infinitely less would have been done; for, upon our credit has the work been mainly sustained for some time past, which has involved us in heavy liabilities in conjunction with the Company, either as endorsers or lenders, the amount of which is $70,000; a detailed statement of which you will learn from the proper department.

These liabilities were incurred principally by the Directors, and in part by the Stockholders, individually, because it was indispensable, not only to the safety, but, in many cases, to the very existence of the work. It must be borne in mind that a work of this character cannot be suspended at pleasure; but that, whenever a lock or dam is begun, it must be completed; otherwise, it is liable to be swept away, and the materials lost to the company. We, therefore, had no alternative left to us but to go forward with this improvement, in order to save what had been begun, and also to avail ourselves of the low state of the water. Believing, therefore, that the best interests of the Company required us to pursue this course, we determined to adopt it, relying upon the liberality of the Legislature to extend to us, and the work, such relief as the justice of the case might call for, and as had been extended to other works projected at the same session.

In order that the true state of our work may be seen, as well that which is completed as that which is to be done, we herewith submit a detailed statement marked C., by which it will appear that a very large proportion of the improvement is now completed, and that yet to be done will probably cost $80,000; which, added to the actual cost of the work, beyond the capital stock, (to wit, $70,000,) will amount to $150,000; and thus is rendered apparent the necessity of increasing the capital stock that amount.

That the work is entirely practicable, does not admit of a doubt; for, wherever the locks and dams have been completed, even during the unprecedented drought of '51, there has been an abundant supply of water in the pools, with a full flow from one extremity of the dam to the other. And that the works can resist the heaviest freshets, has been fully tested. Nor do we entertain a doubt that the stock will be among the most productive in the country: to prove which, we beg leave to refer to a table of statistics embraced in the preceding memorial.

In conclusion, we beg leave, most respectfully, but earnestly, to suggest, that, unless relief shall be afforded by the Legislature, this great enterprise, upon which the hopes of so many good citizens have been placed, must be abandoned; and thus will be lost to the State, and the individual stockholders, the whole amount of the money thus invested, with no benefit whatever. From such a dire calamity, from such a painful termination of our bright anticipations for the future, we sincerely hope to be delivered.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

ISAAC CLEGG, President.

To His Excell'y, Gov. Reid.
Statement of the condition of the work in the Cape Fear and Deep Rivers, up to the 10th December, 1852.

JONES' FALLS.

The dam is raised to its full height, and finished with the exception of gravelling. It backs the water now on the mitre sill, at silver run, to the depth of 4 1-4 feet. Allowing for the settling of the dam, and the decrease of water in summer, there will be at the lowest stage of the river, 3 1-2 feet on the mitre sill. The dam backs the water nearly 10 miles.

The lock is finished. There are some defects in the work in consequence of the neglect of the contractors, which are now being remedied. It will be ready for the passage of boats in a few days. The next work in succession is the

SILVER RUN LOCK AND DAM.

This work is finished, and backs the water to the

RED ROCK DAM AND LOCK.

The lock and dam are finished. Some additions are being made to the dam, which, however, will not interfere with the passage of the boats, &c., when the water shall have attained its usual winter height, by which they will be enabled to reach the Jones' Fall Dam from Fayetteville. The water on the mitre sill here is nearly 4 feet in depth. This work backs the water to the

HAW RIDGE DAM AND LOCK.

This work is finished. The water here is about 3 1-4 feet on the mitre sill. This work backs the water to the GREEN ROCK DAM AND LOCK.

This work is finished, and backs the water to the

NARROW GAP DAM AND LOCK.

This work is finished, with the exception of a very small amount of sheeting and gravelling. It however backs the water to the

SHARPFIELD DAM.

This work is nearly finished. The lock gates are now hung and rafts pass through. The dam will be finished by the 20th or 25th of this month. It is now at its full height, and is being spiked.

The next work is the

McALLASTER LOCK AND DAM.

The lock is nearly finished. The gates are being hung, and the lock will be ready for the passage of rafts and boats on the 20th of this month. The dam is at its full height, and is finished with the exception of the purloins, sheeting and gravelling.

The next work is the

FOX'S ISLAND LOCK AND DAM.

The dam is up to its full height, and is ready for the sheeting and gravelling. The lock is within three feet of its full height. The present force, 17 men, will finish the lock for the passage of boats by the first of January.

The next work is the

NORRINGTON LOCK AND DAM.

The dam is within 2 or 3 feet of its height. The lock is at its full height, and is ready for the gates and hollow quoins. It will be ready for the passage of boats by the first of January.

The next work is the
BATTLE'S FALLS LOCK AND DAM.

The dam is within 1 range of its full height, or 1 1-2 feet. One of the lock walls is at its full height, and the other is within 3 ranges, or 4 1-2 feet of its full height. With 30 hands this work can be finished in six weeks.

The next work is the

BUCKHORN CANAL, &c.

This work consists of 3 locks, 4 sloo dams, and a dam over the main river; also, a canal and embankment on the islands. Two of the locks are up to their full height. One of them is finished, with the exception of hanging the gates; the other is up to its full height, and requires some sheeting and packing. The foundation for the third lock is nearly ready. The gates are all ready to be hung.

The main sloo dam is up to its full height, and is ready for the purloins and sheeting. The 2d sloo dam is up to its full height, and ready for the sheeting and purloins. The 3d sloo dam foundation is in. The 4th (about 50 feet in length,) is not yet commenced.

The dam in the main river is not yet commenced.

The canal is finished, and the embankments are made.

The next work is the

PULLEN'S FALLS WORK.

And consists of 5 locks, 3 dams, and a canal half a mile in length.

The outlet lock is about half finished.

The 2d lock is at its full height, and requires only the sheeting and the gate.

The 3d lock not commenced. It is, however, a very low lock, and can soon be finished.

The 4th lock is finished, and ready for the reception of the hollow quoins and gates.

The fifth lock coffer dam built, but the lock not commenced.
The canal about half finished.
The first dam not commenced.
The second dam about one-third finished.
The next work is that at CLEGG'S MILLS.

This work consists of two locks and one dam. One lock is finished, the other is 3-4 done. The dam is ready for the sheeting. The succeeding work

CLEGG'S AND EVANS' LOCK AND DAM.

The lock is at its full height, and nearly finished; the dam at its full height, and ready for the sheeting.

THE GULF LOCK AND DAM.

The lock is up to its full height and ready for the Gates. The dam about half done.

EVANS' MILLS.

This work consists of only one Lock which is at its height, and ready finished.
could be brought to adopt such an organization, as in my opinion was necessary to complete their contract in any reasonable time.

Your honorable body, seeing no prospect of any amendment in the above particulars, on the part of the contractors, very properly allowed the contract to expire by its own limitation on the 1st January, 1852.

This course was rendered necessary and important, as showing that the board were determined no longer to be trammeled in their efforts to hasten forward the work, but by taking it in their own hands, to hasten it on to completion, by all the means at their command.

It affords me great satisfaction to be able to state, that since the execution of the work has been assumed by the company, it has progressed much more satisfactorily, not only as to the amount executed, as compared with an equal period previous to the abandonment, but also in the quality and execution of every part of the work.

Considerable expenditures have been incurred by the company, in consequence of defective work executed under the contract.

A thorough examination into all parts of the work has brought to light the defective parts, and such precautionary structures have been raised, and are in course of erection, as will, in my opinion, insure the entire safety of the different works upon the line.

Under the present organization, with the aid of my energetic Principal Assistant, Clement Smith, Esq., and where the different foremen are directly responsible to the company for their work, \textit{with no intermediate interest to serve}, I feel entire confidence in the thorough execution of the work in all its details; and although disappointments have occurred as to the time of its completion, the satisfactory reflection presents itself, that, when done, the work will possess a more permanent and durable character.

In this connection, it is my deliberate opinion, founded upon the experience of the past, that, in the execution of a work of this character, where so much depends upon entire fidelity of execution, that it is greatly to the interests of the company to execute the work on its own account through proper foremen. For, when a work is contracted out, the contractor looks to his foreman to make him a large monthly estimate: if he fails to do this, the contractor complains, and to avoid those complaints, the foremen often hurry over their work, neglecting material parts upon which its security depends.

It is therefore apparent that when a work is contracted out, a larger corps of engineers and agents are necessary for the protection of the company's interest, than would be required, if built on company account. With slave labor, under the present organization, I am satisfied that the work can be executed more faithfully and at less cost.

The capital stock of the company, as is known, is $200,000. Upon the original plan of the work, this sum would have been ample, it is believed, for its completion.

That plan is set forth in the original report to the commissioners, and called for lock chambers, 100 feet long, by 18 feet wide. The report also called for 21 locks, including 3 guard locks and 15 dams. Under the plan upon which the work has been constructed, the lock chambers are 118 feet long, by 18 feet wide, and the three lower locks are widened out to 24 feet, to accommodate the lower Little River lumber interest. The number of locks have been increased to 25, including 3 guard locks, and the number of dams to 19.

The reasons for a change in the lock chambers were set forth in former reports, as also the fact that aprons to the three lower dams would be required for their security.

The additional number of locks and dams were found to be necessary, in consequence of the river not being at its low summer stage, when I made the original survey: although it was represented to me by the residents upon the river that it was so. I had no other means of determining this fact, as the time allowed me for the survey and estimate was limited, and the time close at hand when the Legislature was to assemble, and when the report and estimate was to be handed in. At that time, in the then stage of the water, there were long stretches of the river, some of them eight and ten miles in length, requiring nothing more to be done to afford a navigable depth of three feet of water, than the cost of removing a few rocks from the channel. Since the work has been in course of construction, a lower stage of water has been found to prevail in summer, and consequently these long stretches of the river above alluded to could not be used, and hence additional dams and locks became necessary to afford the requisite depth and insure a reliable navigation at all times.

I stated in a former report the sum which would be required for the lengthening and widening of the locks, coupled with the proviso, that no unforeseen difficulties should be met with in the lock foundations. Difficulties have been met with in this respect; the amount of additional blasting in lengthening and widening the locks was found to be more than was anticipated, and the necessary increased length of the copper dams, requiring a greater extent of water, light dam, also added to the difficulties and to the cost. Upon the whole, the aggregate amount of extra work upon the line, including the Yadkin survey, and other charges, added to the original estimate, will cause the sum to be expended, to amount to $300,000. (See appendix B)

The amount expended upon the work up to this date, (September 30, 1852,) arranged under appropriate heads in the Treasurer's Report, will be found to be $232,960 64; which includes the construction account, timber, lumber, and also interest, and several other items extraneous of construction, amounting to $13,863 61; which leaves the sum paid out on account of construction proper, $219,096 43.

I was called upon in January last, by the Board, to state what would be the probable amount required to complete the work; and I stated that it would require $93,000; and, with good management under the present organization, this sum is believed to be ample.
In order that the above expenditures may be appreciated and understood, and to give a clear idea of the present condition of the works, I will describe each one separately, beginning at the lowest point, which, together with the note (B.) in the Appendix, will furnish all necessary information.

CROSS CREEK LOCK AND DAM.

These works were not contemplated nor estimated for in the original Report. Anticipating an arrangement with the old Cape Fear Navigation Company, by which it was proposed to erect a dam and lock at Spring Hill, about three miles below Fayetteville, which would have flowed the water back to the Jones Falls lock, and thereby rendered unnecessary the works at Cross Creek, as well as the wing dams originally contemplated, the Board did not direct the commencement of this work until after the failure to negotiate with the old Cape Fear Company in the summer of 1851. Arrangements were then immediately made for the prosecution of the work, and such progress would have been made in the work as to have rendered its completion certain in the fall of 1852. But, upon the positive assurances of a gentleman, (a director at that time,) that, when a boat could get up to Fayetteville, it could pass on to the Jones Falls lock, you sent an express directing me to suspend the work for that season. Those assurances had no foundation in fact, and only operated to delay a work absolutely essential to the navigation of the lower part of the river.

This being the lowest lock on your improvement, and there being no dam below to back the water upon the mitre sill, it was necessary, in fixing upon its location, not only to obtain a rock foundation, but to select a point where the natural depth of the water was sufficient to enable us to establish the foundation, and consequently the mitre sill, sufficiently low to insure a depth of water at all seasons, of three feet upon it, in order that boats and flats, of all kinds, might float over it in going into and out of the lock. Accordingly, a point was selected one third of a mile above Cross Creek, uniting these conditions.

From this lock down to the mouth of the creek, which is the lower limit of the franchise of the company, the water varies in depth from two to three feet in low summer water. To make it certain, however, that all boats coming to Fayetteville can get up this lock, flood gates will be provided in the dam, as well as the erection of three short wing dams, to confine the water to low water channel. (See Appendix, Note N.)

The coffer dam has been built for this lock: the excavation for the foundation is about half done, and the foundation timber of the lock laid and floored over above the lower mitre sill. The mitre sills are framed, and nearly the whole of the timber and lumber has been provided for this work, and a considerable portion paid for. One of the shanties has been so constructed as to answer for the lock keeper's dwelling.

This lock is 24 feet wide in the chamber. It is proposed to build the lock and dam of the height and character of construction adapted to the lower Cape Fear. The dam will have a considerable down stream slope, and will be raised to such a height as to allow all boats and flats, in winter and spring water, to pass over it. The lock, therefore, would only be used when the water became so low as not to allow of the passage over the dam.

JONES' FALLS LOCK AND DAM.

This lock was so far finished last fall as to allow of its being used. The dam, however, was not raised to its full height, and consequently did not back the water upon the mitre sill of the Silver Run lock. This operated materially against the lumber and timber makers, and gave them grounds of complaint. There was no remedy for it, however, and when the facts were laid before them, at a meeting called to consider their grievances, with a magnanimity worthy of all praise, they waived the subject, and submitted to the inconvenience in their desire to promote the interest of the whole Cape Fear.

The dam was raised to its full height, but not sheeted over nor fully packed, on the 7th of July past.—When the hands quit work on the evening of that day, all was safe; and the sheeting of the dam would have been commenced on the next day, which would have made the work secure. There was no indication of a rise in the river, as there had been no rain there. On the morning of the 8th, when the hands went to work, they found that the river had risen considerably, and was still rising rapidly. The long period of dry weather previously had so thoroughly dried and lightened the logs, trees and trash, which would not otherwise have floated to the extent they did, that the amount of drift was unusually great. The purloins are those timbers running longitudinally with the dam on its upper slope, and to which the planking of the dam is spiked. The packing was not up to these timbers by about three feet, except for a short distance on the abutment side. The logs and trees, in floating down, would be arrested by these timbers, and sink under them, while their upper ends would float on the surface of the water above, and catch all the drift and trash floating down. In this way a raft accumulated across the river from the lock to the opposite abutment about six feet high, in which were several large trees with their limbs and roots attached. This raft backed the water entirely over the pier head cribs, although the lock gates had been fastened open for some days previous, in order to draw off the water of the pond.

The pressure finally augmented to such an extent, which was still further increased by the leverage of the drift, that the five top courses finally gave way, and floated off with the drift upon it, in one solid mass. The lower portion of the dam, averaging about eight feet in height, was not injured by the severe strain upon it, nor the apron, excepting some of the sheeting, which was raised up at its lower end. I beg leave to refer to Mr. J. Newton Clegg's letter to me, of July 17, which is confirmatory of my own statement.— (See Appendix C.)

Although this accident, in a pecuniary point of view, is not a serious affair, as the loss, all told, will not exceed $800, yet at this time it is a very great misfortune; for, had it not have occurred, the dam would have been finished in two weeks time, which would have insured the passage of Steamboats to the head of Smiley's Falls, and infused more vigor into the operations of the Company.

The sole cause of the disaster was the unfinished condition of the dam. No work of this character can be considered safe until it is finished, as the history of any other similar work in this country sufficiently shows; and from which it will be farther seen that this work has been remarkably exempt from serious casualties. In December, 1850, the Judith dam, on the James River, in Virginia, built of solid stone masonry, when nearly at its full height, and the coping partly on, was caught by a sudden rise, and breached to such an extent that it took some $30,000 to rebuild it. That accident was alone ascribed to the unfinished state of the dam; and I might cite other instances upon similar works where accidents have taken place from the same cause.

Upon the Cape Fear, we have no immunity from similar casualties; we must take our chances with other works, and, by using all the means and force at the command of the Company, guard against them as far as possible. Three weeks previous to this accident, the force employed upon the dam was 35 hands; it fell off directly after to 17 hands. Could the original force have been retained, the work would have been finished in ten days before the rise. The efforts of Mr. Newton Clegg, 12 days previous, could not increase the force a single man. I must again repeat that, without a sufficient force, no work of this character can be carried on securely. Unfortunately, the many reports industriously circulated by the agents of the late contractors, of the insolvency of the Company, has operated to prevent hands from coming on the work; and the necessary postponement for a few days of the regular pay day, in consequence of the arbitration, has had a tendency to impair confidence.

In this connection I must here remark, that without a sufficient force, the engineer is powerless to carry on the work securely and rapidly, and what makes it more onerous upon him is, that very few make any allowance for this, and attribute to him the delay of the work, when the true cause is the want of the requisite force. Unless this is obtained for the whole time, the true policy is to concentrate the present force below, and finish up the several works regularly; this would bring into use a considerable portion of the river, necessarily place the company upon high ground, and enable them to push on with vigor, the balance of the work. (See Appendix note D.) The foreman at Buckhorn, Mr Badders, has been directed to take the greater part of his force to Jones' Falls, with the exception of a quarry gang, to finish up that work as speedily as possible. He will have altogether a force of 50 hands, and, weather permitting, ought to finish the work in two weeks.

The lock walls at this point are 24 feet above the foundation plank. The dam is 15 feet high, and provided with an apron to receive the water flowing over it. In consequence of the defective manner in which a portion of the lock foundation was put in, I have been compelled to erect a buttress along the outer wall, and three straining beams, with thin corresponding upright timbers clamping the lock at the lower recess, which insures the safety of the work. A well built lock house has been erected upon land purchased for that purpose.

This work was finished last fall. The dam is 11 1-2 feet high, and the lock walls 19 feet 7 1-2 inches above the foundation plank. Precautionary structures became necessary here, similar to those at Jones' Falls, and for the same reason. Both this work and the Jones' Falls lock and dam are massive and imposing structures, calculated to resist any flood, when entirely finished. A well built lock house is also provided at this point.

RED ROCK LOCK AND DAM.

This work was so far completed last fall, that the lock could be used. The dam was not sheeted over nor sheet-piled, nor was the packing fully up or the gravelling finished. The dam is 11 1-4 feet high, and the lock walls 19 feet 7 1-2 inches. This work is now in course of completion, with a force of 10 hands. The lock house is in part finished at this point.

HAW RIDGE LOCK AND DAM.

This dam is 11 1-4 feet high, and the lock walls 19 feet 7 1-2 inches, all finished.

GREEN ROCK LOCK AND DAM.

This dam is 9 feet high, and the lock walls 19 feet, all finished.

BIG ISLAND LOCK AND DAM.

In the location of this dam, the natural ledge of rock making across the river was taken advantage of. A portion of the dam is convex to the stream, and presents the appearance of great strength—the entire work here in connection with the rugged scenery presents an imposing appearance. The dam varies from 4 to 11 feet in height, depending upon the height of the ledge upon which it rests. The lock walls 17 1-2 feet high. The dam was not quite finished last fall. It is now in course of completion.
SHARPFIELD LOCK AND DAM.

The lock is nearly finished. It yet requires some sheeting, and about 4 feet of packing in one wall. The gates are framed, and the hollow quoins and pintals set. The dam is 4 ranges high, and the abutment 8 ranges. The packing is not entirely up with the framing. I directed the framing to be suspended until the work was fully packed.

MCAUGLISTER LOCK AND DAM.

The lock walls are eighteen feet high, and nearly finished. The gates are framed, and the hollow quoins and pintals set. The pier head cribs are nearly finished. The dam is 5 ranges high, and the abutment nearly to its full height, and all fully packed.

FOX'S ISLAND LOCK AND DAM.

The lock walls have been raised 6 feet high; the second flooring is down, and the side sheeting of the chamber 4 ft. high. The gates are framed, and a large amount of material prepared. There has nothing been done to the dam but the excavation for the abutment.

NORRINGTON'S LOCK AND DAM.

The lock is nearly finished; it yet requires a small amount of sheeting. The gates are framed, and the dam is raised up 8 1-2 feet and packed.

BATTLE'S FALLS LOCK AND DAM.

The lock walls are raised up 6 feet and packed. The abutment of the dam is nearly to its full height, sheeted and packed. The foundation of the dam is laid for nearly the whole distance, and a part of it raised three courses.

BUCKHORN WORK

Consists of 1 guard lock and 2 left locks, a canal half a mile long, 4 sloo dams, connecting together a chain of islands, forming an inner navigation, including the canal of about 1 1-2 miles, and a dam over the main river at the head of the Falls. The canal is finished with the exception of dressing up. The guard lock and one of the left locks are nearly finished. The foundation for the outlet left lock is nearly all excavated, and the copper dam at the lower end raised. The sloo dams are nearly all finished, and the embankments upon the islands, with their puddle ditches, are under considerable progress. The lock gates are formed for the three locks, and nearly all of the material is prepared and in course of delivery. This work is in a forward state, and is so arranged that all of the natural features of the locality are taken advantage of, to reduce the cost; when completed, this work will flow the water past Haywood, up to Pullens' Falls.

Consists of two lift locks, from the river into the canal; a canal about half a mile long; one guard lock, where the canal leaves the river; a dam across the river at that point; two other dams across the river above, with a lift lock in each. The outlet lock-pit has been excavated; a considerable portion of this is in solid rock; but as the packing would have to be hauled a considerable distance, it will not add materially to the cost. The frame work upon the lock walls is about half done and packed. A portion of the Basin has been excavated. The lock next above the outlet lock is raised up to the full height and packed. The gates are framed for these two locks. The Canal is in part excavated. The material is nearly all prepared for the Grand Lock, and the Dam. The gates are framed. The next lock and Dam above are finished, with the execution of the Hollow Quoins and Pintals, and the gates are framed. The next lock and Dam still above were begun last fall. The Dam is 2 courses high and the abutment nearly to its full height and packed. The Copper Dam was put in for the lock. The scenery through the rugged gorge of Pullen's Falls is of a varied and picturesque character, and when the Steamers are floating upon its still pools, the views can scarcely be surpassed, if equaled.

THE WORKS AT N. CLEGGS MILL

Consist of one Guard Lock and one Lift Lock, also, a Dam over the main River, and a small amount of embankment upon the Island. The Guard Lock is nearly completed, as well as the Dam over the River. The Lift Lock is considerably advanced towards completion, and the Puddle Ditch for the embankment cut.

FARISH'S FISH TRAP LOCK AND DAM.

This Lock is raised to its full height and nearly finished; considerable progress has been made with the Dam; it has yet to be raised from 2 to 3 courses.

LOCK AND DAM AT THE GULF.

The Lock is raised to the full height and nearly finished; considerable progress has been made with the Dam.

LOCK AND DAM AT P. G. EVANS' MILL.

The Lock is raised to its full height and packed; it is nearly finished. The present Dam being generally in good condition, it will be raised upon until 2 feet additional height is obtained, which will flow the water back to Hancock's Mill, about 11 miles.

With this statement of the condition of the several works, it will not be difficult to form a tolerably correct opinion of the progress that has been made. The Map prepared under my direction shows the locality of the several works in red ink—and can be seen at the office.

You were informed in the last annual report, that it would require 150 hands to finish the work from Jones Falls to Big Island, both inclusive, in the Fall of 1851—as this force was not obtained, the works were not finished and another season of low water had to be waited for.

When called upon by the Board at their meeting about the 1st of June 1852, to state what force would be required to finish the work by the first of January 1853, I stated that for the first three months it would be necessary to push the work, and that 500 hands would be required for that period to take advantage of low water, but that for the remaining portion of the time 300 hands would be sufficient; since that period, we have at no time had upon the work exceeding 286 hands; we have now but 234.

It will be seen therefore, that it will be absolutely necessary—if it is expected to finish the work by the first of January 1853, to increase the force materially, and I would respectfully call the attention of the Board to this important fact. It is one of the deepest interest to the Stockholders—to the Board, and I may add to the Engineer, who, independent of his interest as a Stockholder, has his professional reputation concerned in the speedy completion of the work. For there are those who visit upon him all the causes of delay, and although he has frequently stated that a sufficient force is absolutely necessary to take advantage of seasons of low water, yet this is never considered by those who complain.

Your honorable body, in your desire to facilitate the works upon the lower part of the River, so soon as you ascertained, that those subscribers upon Deep River had approximated in the quantity of their work, to the amount of their subscriptions, very properly suspended the work at every point, as soon as it could be done, without certain loss to the Company, in order that all the means at your command might be devoted to the carrying forward of the lower part of the work.

The work, so far as completed, fulfils entirely all the conditions claimed for it. The dams flow the water back into the chambers of the locks next above them, in all cases, creating lengthy and spacious pools of slack water for boats and floats of all kinds. Indeed, I assert it, without the fear of contradiction, that upon no river in this country, nor, so far as I am informed, in any other, is there an artificial navigation that will compete with this, when finished; and I can safely assert further, that there are several other works in this country, the aggregate cost of which has exceeded the cost of this several hundred per cent., which will not compare with it in point of efficiency and economy of transportation.

Of its ability to transport, at a very low charge of toll and freight, there can be no question. Those charges are always regulated by the capital expended in the execution of the work; by the tonnage of the boats navigating it; by the motive power used in propelling them; and the amount of trade offering. Your improvement combines, in a remarkable degree, all of these essential elements.

The capital which will have been expended to complete the 100 miles, say $300,000, at the average cost per mile of the principal canals in the United States, ($23,207) would only have built from 12 to 13 miles of them. The tonnage of your boats will be 130 tons, with the present depth upon the mitre sills, which can be increased at any future time, when the trade accumulates sufficiently to warrant it, to one foot more for 200 ton boats, at little cost, by simply bolting on to the courses of the dams a 12 inch timber. The motive power will be steam, and of the amount of trade, no one can entertain a doubt who is at all familiar with the resources of the vast region drained by the Cape Fear and its tributaries. The coal region, alone, will afford a vast trade; all of which will, by the strongest of all incentives, cheapness of transportation, be drawn to your improvement as an outlet to market.

That your improvement has already begun to exert a beneficial influence upon the various interests of the country, is evidenced by the fact, that, since its commencement, 11 turpentine distilleries have gone up on the Cape Fear and within reach of it, beginning 8 miles above Fayetteville, and extending to Summerville, some 40 miles above.
The turpentine trees are boxed as high up as Purifoy's Ferry, and this operation will undoubtedly be extended throughout the extent of your improvement. The amount of naval stores which will be furnished by this vast region it would be difficult to estimate; real estate has already advanced considerably on Deep River, in consequence of the immense mineral deposits, several hundred per cent.

It surely cannot be otherwise than gratifying to the friends of the work, and especially to those who have labored so arduously, and incurred such heavy responsibilities for its advancement, to know that, before a single boat has passed through the line, the intelligence and practical hard sense of the people has endorsed their scheme so emphatically as to leave no doubt as to what its effect must be upon the multiplied interests of the vast country drained by it.

It requires no prophetic vision to penetrate the vista now opening to the view of all. For the time is coming when your work will be taxed to its utmost ability to accommodate the trade which will be borne upon it. Every day it is gaining friends, and among them those who have heretofore kept aloof, not believing in its practicability, from the mere fact of their not understanding its operation.

In fact, you have had a large amount of prejudice to contend with, since the commencement of the work. But it must not be supposed that it is peculiar to your work. It has been felt to a great extent upon many others. Unfortunately, the force employed on the line has not been sufficient since the commencement. The Central Railroad and the several Plank Roads which have been in course of construction, during this period, have diverted hands enough to have insured the completion of your work before this. Yet, by unremitting efforts and unabating zeal, you have urged your work so far forward that you are on the eve of the consummation of all your toils.

From what has already been said, in this Report, of the condition of your work, the conviction must force itself upon all, that, in the course of a few months, with favorable weather, and the necessary material aid, your improvement could be opened for use throughout its length, affording, during the lowest summer water, a reliable navigation for boats of 130 tons. That this fact may be brought quickly to the minds of all, it is only necessary for me to state, that, during the lowest water of this summer, which is believed to have been as low as has ever been known—when Mr. Lutterloh's steamboat, drawing only 13 1-2 inches water, could not move from the Fayetteville wharfs, the water was flowing, with a full sheet from one end to the other, over all your dams above Fayetteville which had been finished: affording no less than 3 feet water upon the mitre sills of the locks, and in the ponds, of course, a much greater depth: proving, clearly and satisfactorily, that, at all seasons, the boating water upon the upper Cape Fear will be ample for the accommodation of a vast trade.

Upon the completion of the Jones' Falls dam, you will be authorised, under the 26th section of your charter, to collect tolls upon that portion of your work which may be in readiness, which will embrace that portion of the river extending to the head of Smiley's Falls, and shortly after other portions will be added to this. Upon that portion of the river below Jones' Falls, over which your franchise extends, it is presumed no tolls will be charged until the completion of the cross creek lock and dam. It becomes necessary then that a toll sheet sheet should be fixed upon.

At a former meeting of the board, a committee was appointed, consisting of Thos. Hill, P. G. Evans, J. Clegg and W. B. Thompson, to take into consideration and report upon the subject of Tolls; and as it is one of the most important and difficult subjects connected with the management of all improvements, and deeply interesting to all concerned in this, it is thought appropriate to introduce the conclusions to which the committee have arrived, in this report. After examining the rate charged upon the various improvements in the country, of a similar character, your committee have concluded to recommend the rate of toll upon all articles (for the present) as marked upon the toll sheet, to be found in the appendix marked F; and they also recommend the adoption of the by-laws, rules and regulations, to be found there also.

This system of by-laws and regulations, they found necessary to adopt, in order to secure upon the line of your work, order and regularity, not only on the part of the officers of the Company, but on the part of those engaged in navigating the river. This section is substantially the same as that in use on the Chesapeake and Ohio canal of Maryland, and has been perfected by years of experience on that canal, and each section added as experience dictated the necessity for it.

In conclusion, I desire to express my unaltered convictions, sustained by the facts which have been gradually developing since the commencement of your work, that it will prove to be eminently successful, and that the tolls will yield a fair interest upon the capital invested.

The importance of its speedy completion must be so apparent to all, that I trust your honorable body will find ready and hearty co-operations generally among the stockholders, who will aid in placing you in condition to secure the necessary force to finish up the work in the shortest possible time.

All of which is respectfully submitted, by

Your obedient servant,

W. BEVERHOUT THOMPSON,

Chief Engineer.
APPENDIX.

NOTE (A.)

Communication to the Board, April 1st 1851.
To the President and Directors of the Cape Fear and Deep River Navigation Company.

Gentlemen: In view of advancing the work under McCullough & Co's. contract during the coming working season—and to ensure, if possible, its completion in the time required by their Bonds, it will be necessary for them to employ and work a force of 500 hands, with the requisite number of Boats, Tools and Wheelbarrows, requiring provision to be made for paying monthly estimates of from $12,000 to $15,000.

Without this force the work cannot be accomplished until the Summer or Fall of 1852. I would therefore respectfully urge, that this force be insisted upon, and that the necessary steps be taken to provide the ways and means.

Respectfully, your obt. Servt.

W. BEVERHOUT THOMPSON,
Chief Engineer.

Letter to Solomon McCullough, (Contractor.)

Pleasant Plains, April 15th, 1851.

Solomon McCullough, Esq.; Dear Sir: Some two months since you wrote me that you should leave for North Carolina on the 14th of February—the 15th of April has arrived, and I am not informed of your being any nearer this State than when you wrote You have been absent from your contract nearly four months, when it was supposed that as many weeks would be the limit of your stay. Your Son Thomas has been absent from the work two weeks—and I am informed that McElrath leaves in a day or two, to be absent until September.

By the direction of the Board, I made a requisition upon you one month since, for 200 hands, to be placed upon the line by this day, and requiring that two Flats should be prepared for each Dam and Lock—together with the requisite number of Wheelbarrows and Tools of all kinds. This requisition has not been complied with, as you have only 40 hands, 4 Flats and are altogether deficient in Wheelbarrows and Tools. At a meeting of the Stockholders held on the 4th of April, arrangements were made to secure 500 hands on your contract. I therefore write this to apprise you that unless, some energetic steps are taken by the meeting of the Board on the 1st Tuesday in May next, there will undoubtedly be other arrangements made for the completion of your contract in the time required in your Bond. In fact I would impress upon you the importance of appearing in person at Pittsboro' on the day of the meeting alluded to—as each Lock and Dam upon your contract must be started with a sufficient force, early in May. This will be insisted upon. There have been no Shanties prepared at any of the works above Smiley's Falls.

Your obt. Servt.

W. BEVERHOUT THOMPSON,
Chief Engineer.

To the same, May 14th, 1851.

Solomon McCullough, Esq.; Dear Sir: Your favour of the 8th post marked the 10th of May, I have this moment received, in which you say that you have been on to New York to send forward hands, but do not say whether you have succeeded in doing so.

There are but 60 hands upon your contract; the working season has arrived, and I fear will be lost, before the requisite number of hands are obtained.

The idea of finishing this contract under the present management is a perfect farce. There should be at this time at least 500 hands, labourers and mechanics, upon the line. McElrath has left, and you have neither managers nor foremen for the work. There are but four of the latter, such as they are, and a total deficiency of carpenters. Unless six more foremen, with the necessary carpenters and labourers are speedily obtained, I am instructed by the do to take steps to procure them, and push forward the work. I trust, that should you be detained any longer by interests irrespective of this work, that you will at least forward the foremen, labourers and tools, that the work may go on.

Your obedient servant,

W. BEVERHOUT THOMPSON,
Chief Engineer.

NOTE C.

Letter from Newton Clegg, Agent of the company:

Jones' Falls, July 14th, 1852.

Col. Thompson:

Dear Sir—At your request, I will state to you, as near as I can, the condition of the work at this place, when the late rise came, which proved so disastrous to the dam.

The dam was raised to its full height; the ties were all on. The purloins, which were only three feet apart, let into and extending across the ties and trunailed securely to them, from the lock to the abutment. The toe pieces were secured to each other, not only by trunails, but also with iron bolts, ragged at the point, forty inches long, driven through them. The timbering was all complete, and ready for the planking, but the packing was not up; it wanted some three feet on the heel of the dam, all across the river from the lock to the abutment, except a small portion on the opposite side from the lock, which was filled, in order to commence sheeting as soon as possible. The water came down very rapidly, and with it an abundance of timber, trees, logs and trash of all kinds. The ends of the logs would strike on the dam, and fall under the purloins and hang. The other ends of these would extend above the water, and catch everything that came along: in this way the raft continued to accumulate on and above the dam, until it extended from the lock entirely across the river to the abutment. Finally, five courses on the top of the dam gave way and went off in a solid body, breaking some of the large timbers short off, and tearing off the dovetails at the end of the ties.
The accumulation of this drift was no doubt the cause of the injury to the dam, which could not have happened to the extent it did, if the packing had been completed. But it is next to impossible to get hands to work at this point; they come and commence work, but quit and leave in a few days, which keeps the work back. I have done all that I could to get hands from the neighborhood, but have failed thns far.

There is a sufficient amount of timber for the immediate repair of the dam, which could be done in three weeks with a sufficient force.

Your obd't servant,

J. NEWTON CLEGG,
Agent of the Company.

NOTE N.

It is hoped and believed that the time is not remote when the old Navigation Company will put in a lock and dam at Spring Hill, which will necessarily flow the water back to the Cross Creek lock.

In regard to the delay in the execution of the lower works and the causes which have operated to advance the works upon the upper part of the river beyond these:—the reasons are briefly as follows: The largest individual subscriptions to the work were made by gentlemen residing upon Deep River, who subscribed with the understanding that they were to be allowed to work out their stock. Their contracts advanced rapidly, not only because there was the ability to do so, but because it was necessary they should, in order to enable the company to draw the State subscription, which could only be had as the subscriptions were paid in by the private stockholders. Hands could not be procured to work upon the lower works, on account of its alleged unhealthiness. Laborers would come in from the upper counties, and absolutely refuse to work below Smiley's Fall, and hundreds have returned home sooner than work there, although the wages were $1 per day, and only 80 cents upon the upper work.

TO INCORPORATE A BANK

IN THE TOWN OF PLYMOUTH,

TO BE CALLED

THE BANK OF ROANOKE.

RALEIGH:
SEATON GALES, PRINTER TO THE LEGISLATURE
1852 [Introduced by Mr. Phelps.—Passed its first reading, and referred to the Committee on Corporations, and ordered to be printed.]
A BILL

To incorporate a Bank in the Town of Plymouth, in the County of Washington.

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, That a Bank shall be established in the Town of Plymouth, the capital stock of which shall not exceed four hundred thousand dollars, divided into shares of one hundred dollars each; and, for the purpose of receiving subscriptions for said stock, books shall be opened, on or before the 1st day of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty three, and remain open for the space of sixty days, at Plymouth, under the superintendence of Joseph C. Norcom, Henry B. Short, Hezekiah G. Spruill, Charles Latham, Jehu Nicholls, and Thomas E. Pender, or a majority of them; and at the same time, and at such other places, and under the superintendence of such other persons, as may be designated by the commissioners appointed to receive subscriptions at Plymouth.

II. Be it further enacted, That one-fifth of said shares shall be paid in gold or silver, or their equivalent, to the commissioners above named, or those appointed by them, at the time of subscribing; that another fifth shall be paid within sixty days thereafter; that another fifth shall be paid within one hundred and twenty days thereafter; that another fifth shall be paid within three months after the time appointed for paying the third installment; and the remaining fifth shall be paid within three months after the time of paying the fourth installment; and if any subscriber shall fail to pay any instalment, at the time stipulated, he shall pay interest thereon at the rate of six per cent. per annum, and his stock shall be forfeited, and may be sold by the Bank, and the proceeds applied to the payment of the aforesaid deficient instalment, and he shall be held responsible for the same at the option of the Bank; and the remainder, if any, of such sale, to be paid over to the subscriber: Provided, That, after the Bank shall have been organized, as hereinafter provided, the remaining unpaid instalments shall be paid to the directors or their agents; and it shall be lawful for any subscriber to pay the whole of his subscription, or any greater part than is hereby required, before the time limited for the same; and every subscriber so paying in advance shall have a discount, at the rate of six per cent. per annum on such advance, computing the same from the time when payment is made, to the time when payment is required to be made.

III. Be it further enacted, That when five hundred shares are subscribed, and the sum of twenty five thousand dollars is actually paid to the commissioners aforessaid, the subscribers to the said Bank, their successors and assignees, shall be and they are hereby created a body politic, in law and in fact, by the name and style of the Bank of Roanoke, and shall so continue until the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine; and by the name and style aforesaid they shall be, and they are hereby, made able and capable in law to have, purchase, receive, possess, enjoy and retain, to themselves and successors, lands tenements, rents, hereditaments, goods, chattels, and effects, and the same to grant, demise, alien and dispose of; to sue and be sued, implead and be impleaded, answer and be answered, defend and be defended, in courts of record, or in any place whatsoever: and also to make, have and use a common seal, and the same to break, alter or renew at their pleasure; and also to ordain, es-20 tablish, and put into execution, such by-laws, ordinan-21 ces, and regulations as shall seem necessary and con-22 venient for government of said corporation; and for the 23 making whereof general meetings of the stockholders
24 may be called, in manner hereinafter specified; and gen-
25 erally to do and execute all acts, matters and things 26 which a corporation and body politic in law may or can,
27 lawfully execute, and be subject to the rules, regulations

5 shall be lawful for the commissionens to reduce such sub-

7 for that purpose, to the aforesaid amount of four hun-
8 dred thousand dollars: Provided, That no subscription
9 of two shares or under shall be scaled, until all larger 10 subscriptions shall be first reduced to an equality with 11 them; and, if five hundred shares shall not be subscrib-

13 may keep the books of subscription open twelve months 14 longer, unless the same be sooner subscribed; and the 15 directors, elected as hereinafter prescribed, shall be al-

23 vided, That the commissioners herein appointed shall 24 have power, if they deem it proper, not to demand any 25 portion of the stock subscriptions till the said sum of fifty 26 thousand dollars be subscribed, and that they may then

V. Be it further enacted, That as soon as five hundred twenty shares shall be taken in the stock of said Bank and twenty-five thousand dollars paid to the commissioners, who keep the books, notice shall be given in the Gazette published in Plymouth, (or in some other public manner,) and a meeting of the subscribers, to be held twenty days at least after the date of the notice, shall be called. If, at this meeting, those or their agents who have a majority of votes, according to the rates hereinafter described, be present, (if not, another meeting shall be called,) they shall proceed to the election of seven directors, who shall take charge of the money and books, in the hands of the commissioners, and immediately pursue the usual means, to put the bank in operation. The said directors shall remain in office, until the time which shall be prescribed in the by-laws, of the said corporation, for the annual meeting of the stockholders, or until their successors shall be appointed; and at the time which shall be prescribed, as aforesaid in each year, or at any time thereafter, meetings of the stockholders shall be held in the Town of Plymouth, for the purpose of electing directors, inquiring into the affairs of the institution, and making such regulations, as may be deemed fit and necessary.

VI. Be it further enacted, That the following rules, regulations and provisions, shall form and be the fundamental articles of the constitution of the corporation. A meeting of the stockholders cannot be held unless those who have a majority of the whole number of votes be present; and every act shall require the sanction of a majority of the votes which may be present; every stockholder holding one share and not more than two,

If a vacancy in the directory shall occur, by death, resignation or otherwise, the remaining directors shall fill such vacancy until the succeeding annual meeting of the stockholders. A number of stockholders, not less than ten, who together shall be owners of three hundred shares or upwards, shall have power at any time to call a general meeting of the stockholders, for purposes relative to the institution, giving at least twenty days notice in a public gazette, and specifying the object or objects of such meeting. The directors shall annually elect such officers, as may be deemed necessary to perform the business of the Bank, and may remove them or either of them at pleasure. These officers shall be required to give Bonds, with two or more

3 shall be made to any person or persons, shall be assigna-

5 such person or persons, and of his, her or their assignee
6 or assignees, and so as absolutely to transfer and vest 7 the property therein, in each and every assignee or as-

20 be assignable by endorsement, in like manner, and with 21 like effect, as foreign bills of exchange now are, and 22 those which are payable to bearer, shall be negotiable 23 and assignable, by delivery only.

X. Be it further enacted, That, if any person or persons,
2 holding any note or notes of said bank, shall present
3 the same for payment, and payment shall be refused,

2 bank may declare, semi-annually, dividends of the profits thereof: Provided, That no dividend shall be declared until the whole amount of stock subscribed shall be paid, in gold or silver or their equivalent; and, if at any time, more than the real profits are divided, the directors assenting thereto shall be responsible, in their private capacities, to creditors, who have claims against said institution.

XII. Be it further enacted, That, in case of any insolvency of the Bank hereby created, or ultimate inability on the part of this corporation to pay, the individual stockholders shall be liable to the creditors in sums equal to the amount of stock by them respectively held in said corporation.

And it shall be the duty of the president of the Bank, in the first week in December, in each and every year, to transmit to the General Assembly a full statement of the condition of the Bank, exhibiting the amount of capital; notes in circulation; debts due to other banks, and to what banks; deposits; and all other particulars necessary to explain the debit side of the account; also the specie on hand; notes of other banks, and what banks; bills of exchange; debts, or bonds and notes discounted; specifying, in one item, the amount due 22 from stockholders, and in another the amount due by

2 falsely make, forge or counterfeit, or cause or procure
3 to be falsely made, forged or counterfeited, or willingly 4 aid or assist, in falsely making, forging, or counterfeiti-5 ng any bill or note, in imitation of, or purporting to be

11 purporting to be a bill or note issued by order of said
12 corporation; or any false or forged or counterfeited
13 check or order upon the said Bank, or any cashier
14 thereof, knowing the same to be falsely forged or coun-15 terfeited; or shall pass, or receive with intent to pass, 16 any falsely altered check, bill or note, issued by order
17 of said Bank, knowing the same to be falsely altered, 18 with intent to defraud said corporation, or any other 19 body politic, or person or persons, every such person
20 shall be deemed guilty of felony, and being thereof con-

XV. Be it further enacted, That the president or cashier
2 of said Bank shall annually pay into the Treasury of 3 the State twenty-five cents on each share of said
4 capital stock which may have been subscribed for and 5 paid in; and the first payment of said tax shall be made

To prevent the Fraudulent Conveyance of Property, and for other purposes.

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That, hereafter, when any debtor is arrested under a ca sa., and shall enter into bond for his appearance at the succeeding court, as now provided by law, and shall make his appearance in open court for the purpose of taking the oath for the benefit of insolvent debtors, such oath and schedule of property, to be rendered as now provided by law, shall have reference to the time of the service of such ca sa., and not to the time of taking the oath, and the oath to be taken shall be so administered by the clerk.

II. Be it further enacted, That all property or effects, which any person arrested under a ca sa. may own at the time of the service of said writ, (except that which is now exempted by law from execution,) shall be held and deemed as bound under the same, for the benefit of the creditors, at whose instance the ca sa. may be sued out, and any property transferred or money paid out in discharge of any debt contracted before the service on said ca sa., to a third person, between the time of the 10 services of such writ, and the time of appearing in court 11 to take the oath as aforesaid, shall be held and deemed 12 as fraudulent, and may be given in evidence in trying 13 any issue of fraud, to be submitted to the jury; and on 14 such property, money or effects, being returned by the 15 defendant in his schedule, and assigned for the benefit 16 of creditors, in pursuance of the existing statutes in such 17 cases made and provided, the same shall vest in the 18 sheriff of the county, who shall have the same power

20 the same, as is conferred in like cases by the fourteenth 21 section of the fifty-eighth chapter of the revised statutes; 22 and the money realized therefrom, after satisfying the 23 cost, shall be applied first to the satisfaction of the judg-24 ment or judgments on which the ca sa. or ca sas.
25 issued in the order, in which such ca sas. are served,
26 and the balance, if any, to the other creditors, pro rata, 27 as now required by law: Provided, That nothing in 28 this act shall interfere with the lien of any fieri facias,

30 the time of the service of the ca sa.

III. Be it further enacted, That the finding of the jury
2 that said debtor has paid out to a third person, any 3 money, between the service of the ca sa. and the time
4 of appearing to take the oath in discharge of any debt
5 contracted before the service of said writ, shall be held 6 and deemed by the court sufficient grounds for refusing 7 to allow said debtor to take the oath as aforesaid: Pro-8 vided, That no part of this act shall be so construed as 9 to deprive any person arrested under a ca sa. from hon-10 estly and bona fide expending what is necessary for the 11 support of himself or family, during the time the said 12 ca sa. or ca sas. are pending.

9 any lessor of the plaintiff, or tenant of premises sought
10 to be recovered in ejectment; or the landlord or other 11 person in whose right any defendant in replevin may

RESOLUTIONS

RESPECTING

[Introduced by the Hon. R. M. Saunders.—Ordered to lie on the table, and be printed.]

Whereas, The Democratic Convention at Baltimore Resolved, "That the Constitution does not confer upon the General Government the power to commence and carry on a general system of Internal Improvements," and "That the proceeds of the Public Lands ought to be sacredly applied to the national objects specified in the Constitution:" And Whereas, The Whig Convention Resolved, "That, the Constitution vests in Congress the power to open and repair harbors, and remove obstructions from navigable rivers; and it is expedient that Congress shall exercise that power—whenever such improvements are necessary for the common defence, or for the protection and facility of commerce with foreign Nations, or among the States; such improvements being, in every instance, national and general in their character:" And Whereas, the opening of an Inlet at Nag's Head, in the language of President Jackson's Maysville Veto Message, "being of a general, not local, National, not State character":—

Be it, therefore, Resolved, That our Senators and Representatives in Congress ought,—in the opinion of this General Assembly,—to apply and vote for an appropriation of five hundred thousand acres of the public lands, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to open said Inlet, at or near Nag's Head, in this State.

Resolved, further, That the policy of granting the public lands to actual settlers, and of making large appropriations of the same to works of Internal Improvements, within particular States, is unjust, unequal, and impolitic, and, if pursued in by Congress, renders it the duty of the Representatives of the other States to claim an equal distribution of the Public Domain, by the adoption of such a system as shall do equal justice to all: either by a distribution of the lands, or by a deposite with the States of their proceeds; to be invested by the Legislatures in such stocks as they may direct, and to be returned, whenever called for, in such stocks as may have been selected.
A BILL

To protect the good citizens of this State against a great Nuisance.

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That it shall not be lawful for any person to sell or retail any spirituous liquors, or wine, of a less quantity than five gallons, within one mile of the dwelling house of any person, without the consent, first had, in writing, of the owner of the land whereon it is proposed to sell or retail such liquors or wine; or of the owner of the lands contiguous to that part of the public road where it is proposed to sell or retail such spirituous liquors or wine; and if any person shall violate the provisions of this Act, he shall be liable to be indicted, and, on conviction, be fined, or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court.
A BILL

To compensate the owners of slaves who may be executed.

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, Whenever, on the trial of any slave for a capital offence, the jury return a verdict of guilty, the presiding Judge shall cause the same, or another jury, to be empannelled, and sworn to assess the value of such slave, which assessment, with the verdict, shall be entered on the minutes of the Court; and the owner of such slave, or his personal representative, on producing to the Comptroller a transcript from the records of the Court duly certified by the Clerk and the certificate of the Sheriff, that such slave has been executed, according to his sentence, shall be entitled to receive a warrant on the State Treasurer for two-thirds of the amount assessed by the jury.

II. And be it further enacted, That, whenever the proscuting officer has good cause to believe that the owner is to blame for the offence committed by the slave, it shall be his duty to introduce evidence to establish the fact; and if the jury so find, the master shall receive no compensation.

III. And, when a slave is executed on a charge of insurrection or rebellion, the owner shall not be entitled to receive any compensation from the State.

The Committee on Internal Improvements to whom was referred the Bill to amend an Act (and the supplement thereto,) entitled "an Act to improve Cape Fear and Deep Rivers above Fayetteville," have had the same under consideration, and have instructed me to report the Bill herewith appended, marked "A," as substitute for the original bill, and to recommend its passage.

W. W. Avery, Chairman.
A BILL

To amend An Act (and the supplement thereto,) entitled "An Act to improve Cape Fear and Deep Rivers above Fayetteville."

Whereas, the capital stock of the company, authorized by said act, has been found insufficient to complete the improvements contemplated: And Whereas, it is of vital importance to the State, as well as to individual stockholders, that said work should be carried on to its final completion, as well to save the stock already subscribed, as to promote the interests of a large number of the citizens of the State: Therefore,

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, That the capital stock of the Cape Fear and Deep River Navigation company, may be increased to three hundred thousand dollars.

II. Be it further enacted. That the sum of eighty thousand dollars shall, and may be subscribed by the Governor of the State, on behalf of the State; and the sum of forty thousand dollars shall, and may be subscribed in the first instance by individuals, in shares of one hundred dollars each.

III. Be it further enacted, That whenever it shall be certified by the President of said company, under the corporate seal of the same, and countersigned by the treasurer thereof, that the sum of twenty thousand dollars has been subscribed by individuals, and paid into the treasury of said company, as part of the additional stock subscribed under this act, the treasurer of the State is hereby authorised and required to pay to the treasurer of said company, the sum of forty thousand dollars, as an instalment on the stock subscribed on behalf of the State, as hereinbefore directed; and whenever it shall be certified, in like manner, that the further sum of ten thousand dollars has been subscribed and paid in, as aforesaid, on behalf of individuals, the treasurer of the State is hereby authorised and required to pay, as aforesaid, the further sum of twenty thousand dollars; and that, when it shall be certified, in like manner, that an additional sum of ten thousand dollars has been subscribed and paid in, as aforesaid, by individuals, the treasurer of the State is hereby authorised and required to pay, as aforesaid, the remaining sum of twenty thousand dollars.

IV. Be it further enacted, That, inasmuch as individuals have heretofore advanced money for the Company, for the prosecution of said improvement, such persons, by releasing said Company from the same, shall, and may be allowed to subscribe the amount of their respective claims as aforesaid, as stock in said company; and, for the purpose of ascertaining the amount advanced as aforesaid, a Board shall be constituted, to be composed of two Commissioners—one appointed by the Governor of the State, and the other chosen by the individual stockholders of said company—whose duty it shall be, to examine and pass upon the validity of the claims, preferred on account of monies advanced to said company; and said Board shall furnish each claimant with a certificate under their hands, setting forth the amount due him or her from said company, and upon the execution and delivery to the Treasurer of said company of the releases hereinbefore directed, such releases, when approved by the President and Attorney of said company, shall be taken and received on payment of stock, to the amount of the certificates furnished by said Board.
V. Be it further enacted, That, if the sum of one hundred and twenty thousand dollars should be found insufficient to complete said improvement, an additional sum of thirty thousand dollars may be raised by said company, either by procuring subscriptions of stock on the part of individuals, so as to increase the capital stock to three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, as by this Act authorised, or to issue bonds in the name and behalf of the company, signed by the president, with the corporate seal of the company, and countersigned by its treasurer, in such sums, not exceeding in the aggregate thirty thousand dollars, and upon such terms as the president and directors shall and may prescribe: and the president and directors are hereby authorised to pledge the nett proceeds arising from tolls, or the property of the company, for the redemption of said bonds.

VI. Be it further enacted, That, whenever the sum of eighty thousand dollars shall have been subscribed, and paid in, on behalf of the State, as herein prescribed, the Governor shall be authorised to appoint three Directors on the part of the State: and the individual stockholders shall and may appoint three directors on their part.

VII. Be it further enacted, That this Act shall take effect from and after its ratification.
(Read first time and passed; referred to the committee on Education, and ordered to be printed.)

I. the Directors of the Literary Fund are hereby directed to pay to the trustees of each of said colleges, the sums to which their respective tuition would amount at their ordinary rates.

II. REPORT

OF THE

INSANE.

RALEIGH:
SEATON GALES, PRINTER TO THE LEGISLATURE
1852 [Transmitted to the Senate, with a proposition to print. Ordered to be printed]
REPORT

To the Honorable the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina:

Since the last session of your honorable body, the construction of the building intended for the Hospital has progressed with as much rapidity as the means placed under the control of the commissioners, and a due regard to the permanence of the structure, justified. The central building is now nearly covered in; the northern wing is in a state of considerable forwardness; and the foundation of the southern wing is completed. The work, so far, is well done, and of durable materials, and the plan, though it may not be perfect, is, upon the whole, liable to as few objections, and is believed to combine as many advantages as most other buildings of the kind in the United States.

There has been expended, on account of the hospital, in the purchase of land, workmanship and materials, up to the present time, the sum of $49,167.27; and, as it appears from the report of the Public Treasurer, the whole amount of tax levied for this purpose, is $80,752.26, there remains in the treasury an unexpended balance of $31,584.99, applicable to this building.

It will be seen, on reference to the statement of Mr. J. W. Conrad, the master builder, that the estimated cost of the building is, in round numbers, $140,000. So that, after appropriating the whole amount of the tax levied for this purpose, there will be required, the additional sum of $60,000, to complete it.

As the act, for raising the funds for this purpose, expires, by its own limitation, during the present year, it is absolutely necessary that some provision should be made during the present session, to supply this deficiency.

The commissioners have endeavored to exercise the strictest economy in the execution of the work, and have devoted to it as much of their personal attention, as their engagements would permit; but they have no doubt, if the recommendation contained in their report to the last Legislature had been adopted, to authorise the employment of a competent superintendent, with a sufficient salary, many errors might have been avoided, and money might have been saved.

It will be seen, on reference to that report, that the commissioners distinctly apprised the Legislature that such a building as that contemplated by the act, could not be constructed for the sum proposed: for they say in that report: "From the best information, they have been enabled to acquire, the commissioners are satisfied, that a building, calculated to accommodate the number of patients required by the act establishing the hospital, cannot be constructed and furnished for the sum which is understood to have been contemplated by the Legislature," and "with the view of curtailing the size of the building, if it should be thought advisable to do so, the commissioners have, as yet, confined their operations to the central building, and a portion of each wing, which they believe can be constructed within the sum provided, and which will be calculated to accommodate one hundred and twenty patients. Whether it is advisable to construct, at first, a building of this size, to be added to as occasion may require, or whether it is best to carry out the original design, is a matter submitted to your consideration."

They further stated in that report, that "the importance of this undertaking, and the slight experience they have thus far had in its prosecution, have satisfied the commissioners that it is impossible to have the work faithfully and properly executed without the aid of a competent and skilful superintendent, who should be acquainted with the details of works of this kind, and should devote his whole time and attention to it; and they would respectfully recommend, in making such appointment, that a physician of skill and reputation should be selected, who should be competent to take charge of the Institution when completed; and the commissioners avail themselves of this occasion to say, that without such superintendent, it is impossible for them to carry on the work, as they have neither the time nor experience required to do so.

The Legislature did not think proper to give any instructions upon these subjects to the commissioners, nor did they authorise the appointment of a superintendent, so that they were compelled as well as they could to carry out the provisions of the act; and they respectfully suggest, that if any errors have occurred, the fault should not be attributed to them. They now again urge upon your honorable body, the adoption of the suggestions then made, not as a matter of expediency, but of absolute necessity, as it is impossible for them or any other set of commissioners to carry on the work, without such an officer. They would however suggest, whether it would not be as well for the Legislature to appoint the Board of Trustees contemplated by the act, and confer upon them the power and authority of appointing one or more superintendents, with competent salaries, to carry on the work, as they believe that both economy and a proper regard to the comfort and accommodation of this unfortunate class of persons will be consulted by adopting such a course.

Since the last session, two of the commissioners, Dr. Thomas N. Cameron of Fayetteville, and Dr. Josiah Watson of Raleigh have died, and as there was no power given to any one to supply vacancies, their places have not been filled.

Some objections, it is understood, have been made to the magnitude of the building; but on reference to the plans, it will be seen that it is not too large to accommodate the number of patients required.

All of which is most respectfully submitted,

JOHN M. MOREHEAD,
G. W. MORDECAI,
C. L. HINTON,
Commissioners.

REPORT
PRESIDENT AND DIRECTORS
OF THE
RAILROAD COMPANY, TO THE LEGISLATURE.

RALEIGH:
SEATON GALES, PRINTER TO THE LEGISLATURE.

1852.
[Transmitted to the Senate with a proposition to print.]

Ordered to be printed.]
REPORT

To the Honorable the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina:

Although, by the terms of their charter, the North Carolina Railroad company are not required to report to your honorable body the progress of their work; yet, the President and Directors deem it due to you, the legislative body of the State, as well as the representatives of the people, who have so generally manifested a deep and abiding interest in this great work, to lay before you a report of the proceedings of the stockholders, and of the progress, present condition, and future prospects of the work, to its final completion.

Upon the organization of the company, at Salisbury, in July 1850, according to the provisions of the charter, and the election of the directors, they proceeded forthwith to the election of one of their body to the Presidency, and to the appointment of a chief engineer, Major Walter Gwynn, with instructions to him, to organise such engineering corps as would speedily determine the best route for the road, having due regard to the points designated in the charter.

The chief engineer, having satisfied himself that the most direct route between Raleigh and Salisbury, two points designated in the charter, was impracticable; at least so, so far as the means of this company were concerned; ordered a thorough reconnoissance of the country, to the North of the direct line, and to the end that it might be thorough, the route was divided into four divisions of about fifty-six miles each; the divisions extending—
1st. From the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad, to six miles West of Raleigh;
2d. From that point to the Guilford line;
3d. From this point to Lexington;
4th. From Lexington to Charlotte; in all a distance of two hundred and twenty-three miles, and by the 18th of September of that year, four corps of engineers were in the field, one on each division, who brought their labors sufficiently to a close, by the 12th of May, 1851, as to enable the chief engineer to make his report to the Board of Directors, by the 16th of that month, which report was approved by them, and a copy of which,
in pamphlet form, accompanies this report, and to which they refer, and make a part of the same.
The promptness and energy displayed in the organization of these corps, and the bringing them so quickly into the field, satisfied the directors with the choice they had made of a chief engineer, and the fidelity, ability and unsurpassed industry with which these corps discharged the duties assigned them, evinced the sound judgment manifested in their selection and organization.
In July of that year, the grading, masonry, &c., of the greater part of the road, was put under contract after due advertisement.
As our citizens along the whole line of the road had taken a deep interest in the success of the work, manifested, not by the mere expressions of good wishes for its success, but by large and liberal subscriptions to its stock, thus seconding the generous munificence and patriotic views of the State, with their own sound judgment, and purses, the directors thought it due to them, individually, as well as to the interest of the commonwealth, to so arrange the contracts for the construction of the road, that our own citizens might execute the work with the labor of the country.
Accordingly, each division was sub-divided into sections of small distances, and estimates made of the probable amount of work on each section, and thus, were these sections let out to contractors along the whole line of the road.

The directors are fully confirmed in the correctness of their course, by its success, as will fully appear from a subsequent part of this report, shewing the amount of work done on the several divisions, and the time within which it was done.

As the contracts could not be let out earlier than July of last year, when the labor of the country was mostly engaged for the year in other pursuits, contractors, generally, were required to commence work in January last, and to complete their contracts by January 1854.

But, as it was exceedingly desirable to have the two extremes of the road completed at as early a day as practicable, so that the iron for this road might be brought by other railways, from the ports of Wilmington and Charleston, to the two ends of this road, and thus enable the Board to commence laying down the rails at both ends at the same time, and expedite the progress of the work, to effect that object, the Board of Directors entered into a contract with Messrs. John C. McRae & Co., to construct the entire road on the first division, with a T rail, of sixty pounds per linear yard, with depots, water stations, &c., complete, at the estimate of the engineer, and the contract is to be executed by the first of January, 1854.

These gentlemen entered upon their contract in January last, and from their progress, it is confidently believed they will fulfil their engagements, whereby the road may be put into full operation from Goldsboro' to a point six miles west of Raleigh, by or before the first of January, 1854.

The iron for this part of the road was fortunately engaged by these contractors before the late extraordinary rise in the prices of rails, at forty dollars and a half per ton, and the delivery of the rails was to commence during the latter part of the present year.
The contractors, at and near Charlotte, are required to complete their grading by the first of next January, and although some of the contractors between Charlotte and Salisbury have until January 1854 to complete their contract—yet, such has been their zeal in the work, that no part of the line is in as much forwardness, as a part of that division. No doubt is entertained that the grading will be ready for the superstructure on the whole line of the fourth division, at as early a day as it will be practicable for the Board to lay down the rails.

A purchase of four thousand tons of similar rails has lately been made, to be delivered in March, April and May next, in the city of Charleston, at forty-four dollars and seventy-five cents per ton, exclusive of duty. It is to be regretted, that the company were not in funds during the last Spring, when rails could have been purchased at thirty nine dollars per ton, delivered free of all charges.

The Board expects to be ready to commence laying the rails at Charlotte, as soon as they arrive there, and to complete the road to Salisbury during the next year; and the grading of the balance of the line will be ready for the superstructure before it will be required, as the rails cannot be delivered along the line farther than the superstructure progresses.

The bi-monthly estimates of work done upon the road up to the first of November inst., as reported to the Board by the Engineers resident along the line and in charge of the work, are as follows:

Total amount of estimates, $493,726 12

of which have been applied to the payment of stock 320,442 00

Leaving unapplied and unpaid, $173,284 21
Thirty-five per cent. on the stock subscribed, have been required during the present year prior to Nov. inst., which, if punctually paid, with the five per cent. paid at the time of subscription, would have raised the $500,000 required to be paid by the stockholders, before the State subscribed to the stock of the road, but the Board regretted to find at their meeting, held in this city on the 18th inst., that only $452,000 have been paid.

They therefore, passed the necessary orders to enforce the immediate collection of deferred payments, and made another requisition of ten per cent., payable on or before the 20th Dec. next, and adjourned to meet in this city on the 8th proximo; by which time, no doubt is entertained, that more than $500,000 of the stock subscribed by individuals will have been paid into the treasury.

As most of the contractors were stockholders, and intended to work out their stock, it was evident not much money would be paid into the treasury applicable to the payment for work, until the State should subscribe and pay in her stock; contracts were therefore made accordingly, that no money was to be paid to contractors for their work, until after the payment of the first half million of dollars into the treasury of the company by the State; consequently no contractor has yet received from the company the first dollar towards the work done; and yet, two-thirds, if not three-fourths of the grading will be done during the present year: certainly an anomaly in Railroad building—do the work first and raise the means to do it with afterwards.

And here, the Board would most respectfully call the attention of your honorable body to a few reflections, suggested by the foregoing statement of facts.

For months after the passage of the act chartering the North Carolina Railroad Company, it was looked upon as a dead letter upon your statute book. The terms imposed upon stockholders were deemed rigid in the extreme; the State refused to become a partner in the concern, until individuals should raise one million by subscription, pay half that sum, and actually commence the work. Capitalists, with a few noble exceptions, looked with indifference upon the scheme, and the charter would have been now a dead letter, but for the exertions of a number of patriotic citizens of the State.

The attention of the public was finally directed and enlisted in this great work, by dint of public addresses and Railroad conventions, whereby the stock was secured some eighteen months after the passage of the act of incorporation, by the subscriptions of upwards of eleven hundred of our fellow-citizens. From that moment, their zeal in the cause became enlisted, and you have a history of the progress of the work in the facts already stated—a history worthy of the philosophic consideration of the Patriot and Statesman.

This great work, which in most States, without aid from the general government, would have been deemed a gigantic undertaking, has been commenced, not by the mass of the people of the whole State, nor even of the counties through which the road passes, but by an exceedingly small portion of our people; and what do we behold? A call upon the stockholders for fifty-five per cent. of this subscription in less than one year, and that call met by unparalleled promptitude! A gigantic work, two-thirds or three-fourths executed, in less than one short year, without the introduction of any foreign labor whatever, except masons, and that too a year of oppressive scarcity, and consequent prices, where food for the laborer has been difficult to obtain, and when the contractor, unable to procure the grain, has been compelled to unbarrel his superfine flour to sustain his exhausted teams; unaided from any quarter, with limited means, and straitened credit, the contractor has found it to him a year of deep gloom, but not of despondency; his indomitable spirit has been equal to the occasion, and has triumphed over every difficulty! Not only has the work been done, but more acres have been planted, they have been better cultivated, and thanks to a kind Providence for the blessings showered upon us, they have been more productive than in any former year.

How has this mighty result been effected? By awakening the slumbering energies of the people, and bringing into active exertion the surplus labor of the country.

The people are ready, everywhere ready, to second the projects your judgement may approve and your actions may sanction. Many are like the church-going sinner, "who went to scoff and remained to pray."

North Carolina is rich in moral and intellectual wealth, in the fertility of her soil, and the varied productions of her climate, in her quarries of granite, marble, limestone, and beds of marl, in her exhaustless coal fields and mountains of iron, in her unnumbered veins of the precious, as well as of the baser metals; in her cascades and waterfalls, in her navigable sounds, bays and rivers; and in the possession of a port not surpassed by any on the Atlantic coast, for facilities to commerce. But North Carolina is not rich in hoarded surplus capital; the peculiar position of her territory, and the manner in which her noble rivers traverse that territory, have hitherto, to a great extent, rendered most of them useless, and prevented her from the development of her vast resources, whereby her wealth could accumulate.

The application of steam to transportation on railways, is to her, the question of all questions, the desideratum of all desiderata, the link by which the blue mountain of the West, shall unite with the blue wave of the East; and whatever plan or scheme will tend to aid and encourage the construction of these great highways—all in all, to North Carolina—deserves the most profound attention and philosophic consideration.

The Board cannot but hope, that the success which has attended their mode of letting contracts will stimulate and encourage similar enterprises. Whilst they have been enabled to have their work done, upon terms which will compare favorably with similar works of the country, they have found the citizens ready, aye, anxious, to engage in the contracts—often a dozen bidders for the same section. Our people have the spirit to undertake and the nerve to execute, any work your judgements may approve. They are ready to drive through the mountains, to level the hills, to fill up the valleys, to make the rough places smooth, if you will but compel the laggard wealth of the State to aid them in the superstructure.

Let our people, our whole people, be aroused to the importance of any work, and it will be done, regardless of its magnitude.

Then, ere long, it is to be hoped, that great lines of railways will reach from one extremity of our State to the other; their eastern termini resting in our ports, their western passing the mountains, and resting—resting on—resting nowhere; but uniting with other improvements, will still stretch westward as boundless as the continent they occupy. Then North Carolina will be North Carolina indeed!

The Directors cannot close this communication to your honorable body, without availing themselves of the opportunity to express their high admiration of the enduring zeal and indomitable spirit with which the contractors have seconded their efforts, to bring this work to a speedy and successful termination; and to recommend to your favorable consideration, the timely adoption of a measure of minor importance to the State, but of vital importance to the contractors.

At Christmas, or on New Year's day, most of the hire for the present year falls due, and on those days the hiring of hands for the next year likewise takes place. It is important to the success of our work, that contractors should have every facility to get hands. Nothing will aid them more to procure them, than the prompt payment of the hire due for the present year. This aid can come from you, and from you alone. Your treasurer will not be able by the times above specified, to pay into the treasury any portion of the State's subscription, arising from the sale of the State's bonds, as prescribed by the charter, without a sacrifice of the bonds by advertising them too short a time for sale. The payment into the treasury, a few weeks after the new year, will not meet the exigency of the occasion. The man who hired his hands for the present year, and receives not the hire when due, will hesitate to hire them again to the same contractors.

Many contractors have exhausted their means, and straitened their credit; they have done the work, the money is due them, to be paid so soon as the State's subscription reaches the treasury.

A resolution of your honorable body, directing the public treasurer to pay to the treasurer of this company, forthwith, one hundred thousand dollars, in advance of a much larger payment to be made a few weeks hence, upon the sale of the State's bonds, will render the aid so much desired and needed. You have the funds now lying idle in the public treasury, which may be replaced by the first sales of bonds.

Exhibit A shows the various items upon which the chief engineer predicated his estimates for the entire cost of the road.

Exhibit B shows the amount of force employed upon the work on the first instant.

All of which is most respectfully submitted.

President of the N. C. Railroad.

REPORT

CHIEF ENGINEER

ON THE SURVEY OF

THE N. C. RAILROAD,

MAY, 1851.

RALEIGH:
SEATON GALES, PRINTER TO THE LEGISLATURE
1852.
At a meeting of the Directors of the North Carolina Railroad Company, at Raleigh, had on the 12th and continued to the 16th of May, the Report of the Chief Engineer, of the Survey and Location of the said Road, was made to the Board and adopted, and ordered that three thousand copies of said Report be printed for distribution.

The line of the Road, as recommended by the Chief Engineer, commences at the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad, passes by Waynesboro', crossing the Neuse about four miles above Smithfield, by Raleigh, Crabtree Bridge, Hillsborough, Graham, Greensborough, Lexington, Salisbury, Concord, to Charlotte—223 miles in length.

It was further ordered, that the President and Chief Engineer let the contracts for all the grading, masonry, bridging, and timber for superstructure, to be completed by the 1st of January, 1854, unless longer time be given by the Board.
REPORT

CHIEF ENGINEER.

Raleigh, May 5th, 1851.

To the President and Directors of the North Carolina Railroad Company.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to submit the following report of the progress and results of the surveys for the North Carolina Railroad.

Acting under your instructions to me of July 13th, I proceeded to organize four parties of Engineers. To give efficiency to these parties, devolve due responsibility, and incite a laudable emulation, I gave to each party acting under my instructions a separate and independent charge, and to this end the line was divided into four divisions.

The First Division commences at the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad and terminates six and a half miles west of Raleigh. The Second Division commencing at the last named point, extends to the Guilford county line. The Third Division thence to Lexington, and the Fourth Division from Lexington to Charlotte. The duty of surveying and locating these divisions, was assigned respectively to Mr. Lewis M. Prevost, Jr., Mr. John C. McRae, Mr. J. L. Gregg, and Mr. John McRae, with the rank of Principal Assistants. Each party was furnished with the necessary Assistants, Draftsmen, Rodmen, Chainmen, and Axemen.
Mr. Prevost was sent to the field on the 21st of August, Mr. John C. McRae on the 26th of the same month, Mr. Gregg on the 18th of September, and Mr. John McRae on the 27th of August.

The aggregate number of miles run by these parties, including the experimental surveys, the approximate and final location, amounts to 1494 miles. When it is remembered that the period of their employment embraced the inclement season of the late fall months, and the winter and early spring months, the amount of labor they have performed cannot but prove satisfactory, and it fully attests the energy, industry, and fidelity on the part of the heads of the respective parties.

The conditions imposed by the Charter, make Raleigh and Salisbury intermediate points in the line of the road. By a resolution of the stockholders at their meeting held in Salisbury on the 12th of July, instructions were given to ascertain by actual survey whether a route passing near the towns of Hillsboro', Graham, Greensboro', Lexington and Concord, all things considered, would not be the most practicable. Keeping these instructions before me, regarding them however as imperative only so far as respects the requirements of the Charter, to construct a Railroad from the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad via Raleigh and Salisbury to Charlotte, and only as absolute under the directions of the stockholders, to ascertain the practicability in comparison with other routes, of a location through the towns of Hillsboro', Graham, Greensboro', Lexington and Concord, and not by any means as restricting the location to those towns. The line would occupy precisely the ground which it does had no allusion to those towns been made in the proceedings of the stockholders. I explored or caused to be examined every route between the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad, and Charlotte, via Raleigh and Salisbury, which I thought at all feasible, and surveyed every line that in my judgment was deemed necessary to the attainment of the most practicable route, and the results of those examinations it is now my purpose as briefly as may be to lay before you. But it may be pertinent before entering upon a description of the lines which were surveyed, to submit a few remarks upon the general features of the intermediate country between Raleigh and Salisbury, and their influence upon the location. An inspection of the map of the State will shew that a straight line between Raleigh and Salisbury is crossed by the waters of the Haw and Yadkin rivers, and by their almost innumerable tributaries, embracing among the most conspicuous, with their branches, New Hope, Rocky Deep and Uharie rivers. Any one who has travelled the direct road from Raleigh to Salisbury, by Pittsboro' and Ashboro', must have indelibly impressed on his mind the many "ups and downs" which he encounters, and it must have occurred to him when slowly climbing up the hills which ever and anon rise before him, how much the road might be improved by winding around them through some of the numerous ravines which constantly present themselves on the one hand or the other. These hills which so much obstruct the common road, and the graduation of which to easy grades, would render it so serpentine and devious, and carry it so much out of the direct course, would affect in a much greater degree the route of a railroad; no line of any extent either level or of a given inclination to the horizon could be maintained, without resorting to a continued succession of heavy cuttings and fillings, and an infinite series of abrupt curves. In many places the ridges and hills that would be crossed are composed of gravel intermixed with stones and not unfrequently they are formed entirely of rock, which would and greatly to the expense of graduation.

The extent of these difficulties may be regarded as unlimited on the South towards which the water courses that are crossed flow; in search of a route, on the North, there is no medium short of the sources or nearly so of the principal tributaries above mentioned of the Haw and the Yadkin. Being satisfied, therefore, that no line could be obtained on the direct route, without such frequent deflections as would make it quite as long, that it would be more costly and objectionable both in grades and curvature, than the route around the heads of the water courses before mentioned, that no intermediate route could be found, and that a survey of the direct route would be attended with no better results than loss of time and unnecessary expenditure, I determined to abandon it at once, and make the detour of the ridge, so plainly indicated by the topography of the country as the route for the railroad, which I shall now proceed to describe under four separate heads, corresponding to the four divisions of the line heretofore defined.

FIRST DIVISION.

This Division unites the North Carolina Railroad with the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad, thus forming a continuous line from the Seaboard, through the heart of the State, and reducing to realization the long deferred hopes of the advocates of a Central Railroad.

The charter requires that the Railroad shall connect with the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad, where the same passes over the Neuse. The bridge of the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad, over the Neuse, is united to the main land on each side by trestle work across extensive low grounds, subject to frequent inundations, which affords no secure site for a landing or suitable place for building. As this provision of the charter was evidently intended to unite the Railroad with Steamboat Navigation on the Neuse, and thus extend its benefits, and a participation of its advantages to the lower Neuse, I have, on account of the objections above assigned to a strict compliance with the letter of the charter, directed the approach to the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad, by the way of Waynesboro', which affords the nearest eligible site to the point where the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad passes the Neuse, for a landing. Here the channel washes the base of a high bank, which is rarely if ever overflowed, affording every necessary facility for transhipment. Making Waynesboro' therefore, a point in the location, three lines were run from station 228, four and a half miles West of Goldsboro', to the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad, one by the way of Goldsborough, and thence to Waynesboro', making Waynesboro' the terminus of the road. One by Waynesborough, to Goldsboro' direct, and one by Waynesboro', intersecting the Raleigh Railroad 108 miles South of Goldsborough.

There lines are all laid down on the accompanying map, in the order here referred to, lettered A, B and C, and a comparison of their cost, length and grades will be found on a sheet hereto annexed, upon an examination of which it will be found, that the line passing through Waynesboro', and intersecting the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad, 108 miles south of Goldsboro', designated as C, on the map, is 3,887 feet shorter, and will cost $10,277 less than line A, which stands next in the comparison. Commencing at station 228, the point of divergence of the routes above described, two lines were run to Mount Auburn, ten miles East of Raleigh, one crossing the Neuse river at Smithfield, the other crossing on the lands of Mr. Vinsons, four miles above Smithfield. The result shows 1 mile, 1720 feet in distance, and $11,000 in cost, in favor of the line by Vinsons'. The rate of grade, and length of straight line, is also in favor of this route. It was therefore selected as the basis of the estimate, and is designated on the map, by the red line.

From Mount Auburn, after a most thorough examination and survey of the country, with a view of obtaining the best route through the city of Raleigh, three lines were selected for comparison, which will be designated as the south, middle, and north lines. The south line runs down Wild Cat Creek, crosses Walnut creek near Holleman's bridge, and runs up Rocky branch to its head, passing in the rear of the Governor's and Judge Cameron's residences, and thence in the vicinity of the Hillsboro' road, to the end of this division, six and a half miles West of Raleigh.

The middle line descends Poole's branch, to its junction with Walnut creek, and after crossing Walnut creek near Mr. Hutchins', it ascends along the slope of the ridge between Walnut and Crabtree, to its summit, in the race-field; thence it follows nearly the course of the ridge, passes south of Mr. Atkinson's, and through Raleigh, by Hargett street, to its re-union with the South line at Judge Cameron's.

The north line is identical with the middle line, until it reaches a point between the race-field and Mr. Atkinson's, it then runs a little south of Mr. Atkinson's, and through Lane street, by the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Depot, back of the Female Seminary, and connects with the middle and southern lines, near the Haywood road, on the lands of Dr. Cook.

It appears from a comparison of these lines, as exhibited in the accompanying table, that the South line is 1875 feet shorter, and that the cost of graduation and construction, is $6788 less than the middle line, and that, in comparison with the northern line, the length is 2175 feet, and the cost is $45,029 in its favor. The maximum grade is the same on all these lines, the grade being rather in favor of the middle route, ascending westward, and about the same in both directions as the Northern line. The curvature is also in favor of the south line, as compared with both of the other lines.

A line was also run uniting the South and North line through Harrington street, which increased the distance over the South line 2750 feet and the cost $25,511.

The cost, distance and degree of curvature being all in favor of the South line, I am compelled in a professional point of view to give it my preference. There are other considerations however which may properly influence the Board, such as the propriety, probably the necessity and obligation of the Company, to put a depot within the corporate limits of Raleigh, which would be attended with no serious objections so far as the grades of the road are concerned on the Middle line; while on the South line the road ascends with a uniform grade of $47\frac{1}{2}$ feet per mile past Raleigh, upon which the establishment of a depot would be very objectionable, on account of the difficulty in stopping the descending and starting the ascending trains; and this objection can only be removed by introducing a light grade which can in no other way be effected than by increasing the rate of ascent from Walnut Creek, which would operate against this line; but as the grade would be in favor of the heavy tonnage, it would still maintain its superiority over the middle line.

Recurring again to the commencement of the line at the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad, I would recommend the establishment of the depot at Goldsboro', instead of at the point of connection of the roads—for the reasons that the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad Company, having warehouses already erected at Goldsboro', could without additional expense to them give accommodations that would be a saving to the company.

SECOND DIVISION.

After several trial lines across Crabtree creek which is encountered six miles from the commencement of this division, a line was selected crossing at Jere Morris', thence it ascends along the sloping ground drained into Crabtree to Mr. Robert Witherspoon's on the ridge dividing the waters of New Hope and Neuse rivers, thence the line pursues this ridge, departing from it only at one place to maintain the general direction and at the same time avoid the Brasfield hills which are passed, leaving them a half a mile on the North, at a trifling expense encountered in embanking across two small branches of New Hope. At Desarne's, ten miles east of Hillsboro', two routes present themselves, one pursuing the ridge dividing the waters of the Eno and New Hope rivers, forming an independent line crossing Haw river at Gilbreath's Ford, and thence to Providence meeting house, designated on the map as the Chapel Hill ridge line. The other passes by Hillsboro', and crossing Haw river at Trollinger's bridge re-unites with the other at Providence meeting house. The routes may be united by a cross line on the ridge dividing the waters of the Eno and Haw rivers by a deflection from the first line at Gravelly Hill, and thus the various routes crossing Haw river, which will hereafter be described, may be made a part of either line and a comparison between the two be made; adopting either of the crossings of the river. Suffice it to say, however, that the result by any combination that could be made would be in favor of the route by Hillsboro', in all the essentials of grades, cost, curvature and distance. I shall therefore dismiss the Chapel Hill route, as it is designated on the map, and confine my observations to the Hillsboro' route, which after it became evident that it would be the preferred route, was subjected to the most elaborate explorations and surveys. The first important enquiry was the pass of the Valley of the Eno, the result of which was the establishment of a crossing at the upper end of the town of Hillsboro', and again just below the bridge near Brown's Mill; thence the line ascends along the side hills of Seven Mile Creek to the ridge dividing the waters of the Eno from those of Back Creek, a branch of Haw river, and along this ridge it is traced to the vicinity of the Orange and Alamance county line. From this point to the Haw river a thorough reconnoissance of the country was made and river examined from the Shallow Ford to Ruffin's Mills. The result of this reconnoissance was the selection of four lines crossing Haw river respectively at Gillbreath's Ford, at the mouth of Freeland's Creek, Conrad Long's and near Trollinger's bridge, all uniting at Providence Meeting House. The first line was abandoned on account of its increased length and cost, and the second for the same reasons, and in addition thereto, in consequence of its objectionable curves and the heavy rock excavations between Back Creek and Haw river. This narrowed down the choice between the two routes crossing at Long's and at Trollinger's bridge, noted on the map as the upper and the lower lines. A comparison of these lines gives the following results, viz: The upper line costs less by $5,000 and the length is one mile less than the lower line. The lower line has less curvature of the minimum radius and the length of the maximum grades is less, but these favorable features not being sufficient to counterbalance its increased length and cost, I give the upper line the preference and recommend its adoption. From Providence Meeting House, the line of this division is traced over very favorable ground along the ridge dividing the waters of Haw and Alamance rivers, to its termination on the dividing line between Alamance and Guilford counties.

With the view of cutting off the detour, on the route by Hillsboro', around the head of New Hope, a line was reconnoitred diverging at Parris Yates on this division, one and a half miles from its commencement, passing around Crabtree and by Mr. Bartley Sears', eight miles from Yates', thence along a ridge dividing the waters of North East, New Hope and White Oak Swamp to Mr. Marmaduke Williams', where it crosses New Hope, thence on a ridge between Morgan's and Bolling's creeks, to a point about two miles from Chapel Hill, where the ridge upon which the College is situated rises very abruptly; to ascend to the summit of this ridge either Morgan's or Bolling's are available; having attained the summit, at Mr. Arch. Andrew's, owing to the necessity of exceeding our maximum grades in the passage of Cain and Haw creeks, the line would be compelled to follow the ridge heading these creeks, until it intersects the line heretofore described as the Chapel Hill ridge line, near Mr. Fred. William's, and thence with that line as run. Owing to these frequent deflections this route, although the direct route, would be about two miles longer than the line by Hillsboro', and a comparison of the grades, curvatures and cost would also be against it. This being the result of the reconnoissance, it was not thought advisable to incur the expense of a survey.

THIRD DIVISION.

This division begins on the Alamance and Guilford lines, about one and a half miles north of the stage road on the ridge dividing the waters of Traverse creek from those of Alamance, and continues on this ridge about two miles, thence it descends the Valley of Rock creek which it crosses at its junction with Cedar prong, thence upon the south slope of Cedar prong valley to the summit of the ridge, dividing its waters from Birch creek, thence along the South slope of the ridge, dividing Alamance and South Buffaloe creeks, crossing it at the intersection of the Shallowford and Fayetteville roads. The line then descends to south Buffaloe creek, crossing it about one thousand feet below the stage road bridge, thence it ascends to the ridge between North and South Buffaloe creeks on which it continues to Greensboro, crossing South street three hundred feet north of the Caldwell Institute, thence on the ridge to station 92S near Mr. Nathan Hiatt's. From this point to Lexington, three lines present themselves for comparison—which we will designate the Fair Grove, middle and Northern lines.

The Fair Grove and middle lines are common to Prospect meeting house; before reaching this point the line crosses South Buffaloe near Mr. A. Wilson's, Bull Run a little below the stage road ford, and Deep river 1200 feet below the stage road bridge; thence the line passes a little to the South of Jamestown up the South prong of Big branch to station 1839, a quarter of a mile west of Prospect meeting house on the summit of the ridge between Deep river and the Yadkin. From station 1839 it continues heading nearly the waters of Hunt's Fork, thence it descends along the South slope of the valley of Hambies' creek, crossing the Raleigh road near Fair Grove meeting house and continuing upon the north side of the road to a point near the house of Mr. Smith Curry, thence keeps near the Raleigh road and passes about 300 feet to the left of the Poor House, thence it descends to Abbott's creek, crossing it about three fourths of a mile below Randolph bridge; thence it passes up the south slope of the valley of Grimes' branch to the summit of the ridge between Abbott's and Swearing creeks near Parks', at the crossing of the stage road about 4,500 feet west of the Court House, where it joins the 4th division.

The middle line diverges from the Fair Grove line at station 1839, crosses the head waters of Hunt's Fork to the ridge between Rich Fork and Hambie's creek, which it follows three miles; thence it descends into the valley of Jimmie's creek to Conrad's old mill; here the line crosses the creek and again makes two crossings at the bend opposite Mrs. Lopp's and passes over the point of ridge between Jimmie's creek and Rich Fork, crossing the latter near its junction with Hambie's creek, thence it crosses Abbott's creek about half a mile above the junction of Rich Fork, thence it passes down the valley of Abbott's creek, crosses Leonard creek near its mouth and thence along the sloping ground of Leonard's creek to Parks', passing Lexington 1200 feet south of the court house. This line may be straightened, by a route leaving the line, which is common to it, and the Fair Grove line, at station 1641, passing three-fourths of a mile north of Prospect meeting house, and coming into the middle line again, about 5 miles 1744 feet from the point of starting.

Northern line. This line deflects from the Fair Grove and middle lines, at station 928, at Hiatt's; thence it crosses South Buffalo creek, a little below the Salem road, it then ascends to the summit of the ridge between Haw and Deep rivers; thence it descends Piney branch to its mouth, where it crosses the north prong of Deep river, thence passing over the ridge, between the north and south prong, it crosses the south prong just below Chipman’s mill; thence it follows up Tan Yard branch to its head, thence crosses Rich Fork near its source, and immediately ascends to the ridge between Abbott’s creek and Rich Fork, along which it runs to Mr. Andrew Sink’s, on the stage road, where it commences descending, and crosses Abbott’s creek about half a mile below the stage road bridge, and thence along the grounds of Abbott’s creek, to its re-union with the middle line, at station 2381. The length, curvature, grades, cost of construction and maintenance being in favor of the middle line, I give it preference, and recommend its adoption.

FOURTH DIVISION.

The location of this division commences at the termination of the third Division above described.

The line passes through the far-famed fertile lands of the Jersey settlement. Swearing creek and North Potts creek, which water these lands, are crossed, the first at Yarbrough’s old mill, and the second about a mile below Dr. Holt’s mill, on the lands of Dr. Holt, which furnish the best evidence on the line, of the beneficial effects of a judicious combination of science and practical experience in farming. The second branch of Potts’ creek is crossed at the Trading Ford road, and by a cut across this road, the line enters the Valley of the Yadkin, which it pursues to station 2720, on the land of T. McDonald. From this point, two lines were located across the Yadkin. The upper line crosses the river a little below Lock’s bridge, on a bridge 600 feet long, 46 feet above low water, and 30 feet above high water. The lower line crosses the river near the lower end of Cowan’s Island, by a bridge 1000 feet long, 8 feet above high water, and 24 feet above low water. I am not prepared to give an opinion as to the comparative advantages of these two lines, and express my preference until a farther examination. These two lines re-unite at station 2517, on the ridge near the heads of small branches of the Yadkin, and thence for a distance of 22½ miles, follows the ridge, keeping within the vicinity of the stage road, and passing at station 2315, the town of Salisbury. From station 1328, the line descends to the valley of Irish Buffalo, and crosses the creek near the old mill dam, a quarter of a mile below the public road, and about a mile from the village of Concord. Thence crossing Candle creek and Rocky river, 4.63 and 5.78 miles respectively, from Irish Buffalo, the line passes over into the valley of Back creek, and ascending the ridge between Back and Mallard creeks, the summit of which is gained near Col. Cochran's, it then follows the crest of the ridge from which it descends, crossing some of the head waters of the tributaries of Sugar creek, into the valley of one of the main branches of that creek, along which it is traced to a favorable point for crossing at station 132, thence to Charlotte, passing on the southeastern side of the town, to station 1049, the end of the Charlotte Railroad.

The line above described, is the result of a full reconnaissance of the country, and a comparison of the cost, grades and length, with a trial line between Lexington and the Yadkin, and it was also tested by the merits of a line from the vicinity of Concord to Charlotte, crossing Irish Buffalo at Coleman's quarter, and passing to the West of Back creek, by different crossings of the intermediate streams. The line by Mount Mournie was also compared with it, and was found, from its greater length, to be objectionable.

In the above description of the several divisions, I have omitted numerous lines that were surveyed and examined which will be found in the memoirs of the principal assistants, herewith laid before you, and to which I beg leave to refer.

I have confined myself to those lines, in whose comparison I supposed the stockholders might feel an interest.

The surveys have been made throughout in reference solely to the interests of the company. It has been your pleasure to leave me free and untrammeled, with no other declaration of opinion on your part, than an expression of your solicitude for the selection of the best and most practicable route, and it has been my most earnest desire to conform to your wishes; no pains have been spared on my part, and no labor has been wanting on the part of those entrusted with the duty of carrying into effect my instructions. The country has been thoroughly explored; whenever any doubts existed, they have been solved by instrumental surveys, and the competing lines tested and compared by well known and acknowledged principles, verified by experience; nothing has been left to speculation; theory reduced to practice is the formula by which I have been governed in my efforts, in the language of the charter, to obtain the most practicable route for a railroad from the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad, via Raleigh and Salisbury, to the town of Charlotte.

I believe such a route is now presented to you, and that there is not a Railroad in the country, of the same length, which possesses equal facilities for the economical application of locomotive power. The grades no where exceed fifty feet per mile, and curves of five degrees deflection adopted as the minimum, occur in but few instances. The length of the road is 223 miles.

I have estimated for a single track, with the condition of the waste earth being disposed, and the borrowed earth taken, by widening the cuts, with a view to a double track, the road bed to be formed of gravel or other suitable material to the depth of a foot, and for a superstructure with a rail of sixty pounds to the yard. The drains and culverts are all to be built of stone or brick, and the wooden bridges to be on the most substantial plan of arch bracing, resting on stone abutments, and every description of work, to be as permanent and durable as any of a similar kind in the country. The warehouses will be of wood.

The whole cost of the road on this plan, including engineering expenses, superstructure and damages and every thing appertaining to the road way, will be $3,165,332.

In this estimate I have endeavored to provide for every possible contingency that may arise; such as increase of labor and provisions, unforeseen difficulties in sinking foundations, and although the amount of rock excavation has been ascertained by repeated borings on nearly the whole line, lest it might have been missed in our examination, I have made a liberal allowance for the contingency, also, so that I feel every confidence in stating the above sum as full and sufficient to cover all expenditures for the items therein embraced; and, everything is included except the locomotives, cars and coaches, and the shops for renewal and repairs.
The cost of the shop and fixtures may be put down at $100,000 though this whole of the expenditure will not be necessary before the completion of the road: it may be spread over two or three years after the road goes into operation.

The number of Locomotives and their trains depend of course entirely on the amount of business, and may be increased as the wants of the company require. It is not usual to embrace in the original estimates and charge to capital more than barely sufficient to put the road into operation, and with inconsiderable additions, carry it through and enable it to do the business of the first year. With this restriction I submit the following estimate, viz:

For 10 Locomotives at $7,500 $75,000
6 Passenger cars, 2,000 12,000
4 Baggage and mail cars, 1,800 4,200
80 Burthen cars, 600 48,000
$139,800

Which, added to the two preceding sums, gives $3,405,132, for the road-way, equipment and workshops.

No difficulty or extraordinary expenditures will be encountered to any portion of the line in procuring substantial foundations for the works of art. The soil on every portion is peculiarly adapted to the formation of a dry and firm road bed; timber for sills are found everywhere convenient to the line; for several of the bridges, it will have to be transported a considerable distance; with this exception and the scarcity of good building rock at some points, suitable materials of every kind are found everywhere convenient to the line.

In relation to the income of the road, I have no data, if it were my province to do so, upon which I would be willing to venture even a conjecture of the specific amount. But, upon a subject of so much importance to the stockholders it may be expected that I should say something, at least in relation to the prospects and just expectations that may be entertained by those who have embarked in it.

This railroad passes through the almost entire length of the State, it embraces in its route a variety of soil and productions not to be found on any railroad in the country. It commences in the rice fields on the Cape Fear and termi-rates in the cotton fields of the ancient and honored county of Mecklenburg, traversing on its way a highly productive Grain, Tobacco and Cotton growing country. What is deficient on one part of the line to supply the wants of a man is found on another, the raw material on one point will supply the manufacturers at another, who in turn will send out the wrought fabrics to the producer. The wheat and flour of the West will be exchanged for the products of the coast, and thus a reciprocal growing and constantly increasing way trade will spring up, which the history of railroads shew, is the most profitable business; indeed, that it is the only business that pays. Then there is the enterprising and flourishing town of Wilmington, which may be regarded as the eastern terminus of the road, with her large West Indian trade and varied commerce, giving her the ability to supply the wants of the producers, and creating a constant demand for the productions; and the markets of Virginia thrown open by their Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, with their demands and means of supply, all uniting to stimulate industry and production and thus add such an amount of tonnage and business to the road as to render it almost unnecessary to look beyond its limits for the sources of its productiveness. But, if we were permitted to look abroad, we could with as much plausibility of argument as we see urged every day, in connection with other schemes, place this one also in communication with Memphis, which seems to be regarded by many as a point on the great highway to the Pacific, and we could then without any very great stretch of the imagination, extend this road to Beaufort, and fancy her safe and secure harbor crowded with shipping from all parts of the world. Such speculations would probably not be considered rational, though far within the bounds of the visions, which fill the mind of the projectors of Railroads possessing nothing like the probabili-ties of accomplishment, as would seem to attend the very reasonable project of extending the North Carolina Road into Tennessee and down to Beaufort.

And why should not North Carolina accomplish this enterprise? I believe she will; she has already authorised surveys to ascertain the the cost of extending the road over the mountains and granted a charter for a Railroad to New-bern; both schemes are entirely feasible and practicable, and will at no distant day, I have no doubt, be accomplished.
They are probable in theory, and what is probable in theory has in practice always proved true. But these schemes are in the future, although, in my opinion in the certain future. I prefer reasoning from the past and grasping what is before me. Looking, then, as I have said, to the wide spread demand and to the ability and capacity of the country on the immediate borders of the road to supply that demand, I have no fears of the result and feel in no need of traveling beyond the borders of the State in search of trade and travel to demonstrate the productiveness of the stock of the North Carolina Railroad. I am, however, not indifferent to the income arising from the through business; it is one of the certainties of the present which I count largely upon from our connection with the Charlotte and South Carolina Railroad. Having, however, in the outset confined myself to the limits of the road, and to a simple statement of its influences in promoting home industry, and thereby adding to the wealth of the State, and creating business for itself—I have, although entertaining just expectations, not felt myself at liberty to draw heavily from other sources—I prefer leaving that branch of the estimate to others quite as competent to the computation as myself, to make such additions as may suit their views.

The effect of railroads everywhere, is to increase the value of lands. The ratio of increase is dependent upon the fertility of the soil, and the remoteness of the lands from market, and the amount of increase is exactly the capitalized sum which the saving in the transportation upon the annual produce of an acre would give. For instance, if the annual saving in the transportation of the produce of an acre of land is one dollar, the value of the land will be increased $16.2-3, the capital, which, at 6 per cent., would yield a dollar. My own impression is, that the lands on the line of the North Carolina Railroad will be increased in a greater ratio than this, now universally acknowledged principle of computation would give, for the reason that they are from some cause greatly underrated, especially from Lexington to Charlotte; the lands on this portion of the road, which grow cotton as well as grain, compared with lands in Virginia, similarly situated, in reference to markets, and which grow only grain and grass, are valued at very little more than half the price the lands in Virginia. The effect of the Railroad will be to raise these lands to their proper standard of value, and add also thereto the enhanced value arising from the diminution in the cost of transportation.
The manufacturing establishments on the line of the work, which are now in a comparatively feeble and declining condition, will receive an impulse that will reward their enterprising proprietors, and revive the drooping hopes of the advocates of home industry. For it must be obvious to every one how much they are affected by the cost of transportation.

The expense of transporting the raw material, and manufactured goods, constitutes an element in the cost of those goods in market. The means of transportation are in fact but a part of the machinery in the manufacture of goods for market, and the same principle applies, as well in the improvement of the one as in the other. The man with good machinery can manufacture profitably, and sell at a price at which the one with poor machinery would be ruined. If, then, we apply this principle to the transportation of the raw material, breadstuffs and other articles of consumption, in manufacturing establishments, it needs no argument or calculation to show that he who can make use of a railroad for this purpose, can always undersell those who are without the accommodation. This is the true secret of the success of the Northern manufactories; the liberal system of internal improvement at the North, has cheapened the transportation of their supplies. I doubt not, it would prove, upon investigation, that the transportation of a bag of cotton, from the interior of Georgia, in the vicinity of her railroad, to Lowell, costs less than the transportation to many of the manufactories in North Carolina, within a hundred miles of the cotton fields.

The reduction in the price of transportation must be attended at least with the working of the existing establishments up to their full capacity, and with their success, the erection of others will follow, until in course of time the State will become a manufacturing, and by consequence a consuming as well as producing State.

The home market, built up by the Manufacturing establishments, will stimulate, encourage and foster the agricultural interest which is the great interest of the State; and thus the great ends of government will be accomplished by the silent workings of the system of internal improvements without doing violence to the theories or prejudices of any one. The greatest benefit will be conferred on the greatest number. In fact all will be benefitted. For the North Carolina Rail Road is not a mere line of Railroad accommodating a single line of travel and operating on a narrow section of the State; there is scarcely any portion or any interest in the State that is not benefitted by this work. It traverses nearly the whole length of the State, it is the Central Rail Road projected by the old and ardent friends of internal improvement, crossing the channels of some of the principal water courses, bringing their water falls and Manu factories into the actual vicinity of the Seaboard. It would be difficult to plan a work so properly, so obviously, and so essentially a State work. The people themselves have made it so by their wide spread and unprecedented individual subscription of a million of dollars, and by their endorsement of the copartnership of the State from one end of it to the other, in her subscription of two millions more. That they will not be disappointed in their expectations, I am quite sure, unless it should turn out, and there is no reason why it should be so, that the same cause in North Carolina will not produce the same effects as in other States, North, South, East and West. In those States it is found that railroads relieve the burden of taxation. First, by the difference in the cost of transportation by common roads and by railroads, which may be stated at about two to one. Secondly, by increasing the taxable property on the line of the road, a general reduction of taxes is made, thus lessening the taxes on lands more remote, gives them an additional value, and thus the benefits of the road are extended far and wide; and are felt by the whole agricultural community. And furthermore, the general benefits which result to trade and commerce from railroads in other States extend to every portion of their territory; every branch of industry is affected by the trade and commerce opened by these channels of communication. No one can doubt that the same results will be experienced in North Carolina. In short, the effect of a judicious system of internal improvement is to unite a State as it were in one great community with all their wants, demands and supplies brought to view, stimulating enterprize and industry in all the arts and various pursuits of man.

And last, though not on this account the least, of the important benefits of the North Carolina Railroad, is the effect it will have to withdraw the inducement to emigration which every year deprives the State of a portion of her most vigorous, enterprising and intelligent population.

I am, gentlemen,

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

WALTER GWYNN,

Civil Engineer.

A BILL

For better securing creditors against loss.

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That, if any person be indebted to any citizen of this State, and before the day when the collection of the debt can be enforced, the debtor is about to remove his person and property beyond the jurisdiction of our courts, then it shall be lawful for the creditor to appear before any Justice of the Peace, for any county in which property belonging to the debtor may be found, and make affidavit in writing, stating the amount of the debt, how it is due, and when the credit expires; and further, that he verily believes the debtor is about to remove his person and property beyond the jurisdiction of the courts of this State; then the creditor may tender to such justice a bond in double the amount of the debt, payable to the debtor with sufficient security, conditioned to be void if the creditor prosecutes his suit with effect, then about to be instituted; and it shall be the duty of said justice to accept said bond and hold the same for the use of the debtor, and immediately to issue his warrant directed to the sheriff or any lawful officer of his county, in favor of the creditor and against the debtor for the amount of the debt, and therein command the officer to notify the debtor of the existence of such precept, and seize and take into his possession and custody, so much of his property as will satisfy the debt and cost of suit.

II. Be it further enacted, That the defendant in such case may regain the possession of the property taken by the officer as aforesaid, by entering into bond and security in double the amount of the debt, payable to the sheriff or constable, to the use of the plaintiff, conditioned to be void if he will produce such property at such time and place as may be agreed upon by the parties, and deliver the same to the officer, to be subject to such judgment and execution as may be entered in the case in favor of the plaintiff.

III. Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the officer to notify the defendant, if to be found, to appear before any Justice of the Peace of his county, on a day after the plaintiff's debt falls due, at which time and place a trial shall be had upon the merits of the case, in any case coming within the jurisdiction of a single justice, and a judgment entered accordingly, and if the defendant fails to appear and answer, judgment by default shall be entered against him, and the property seized in such case shall be subject to the satisfaction of such debt from the time of such seizure.
IV. Be it further enacted, That when the debt, for which a warrant has been issued as aforesaid, exceeds the amount over which a single justice of the peace has present jurisdiction, it shall be the duty of the officer after notifying the defendant, if to be found, and seizing his property as aforesaid, to return the warrant and other papers in the cause to any court of record having jurisdiction of jury causes, and the clerk of the court shall receive the same and enter the cause on his docket, which warrant shall be the original process in the case, and after the debt falls due it shall stand for trial, subject to the same rules as other causes, and on failure of the defendant to appear and plead, judgment by default may be entered.

V. Be it further enacted, That, if a cause be pending in any of the Courts of this State, undetermined, and the plaintiff therein shall go before the clerk of the Court, and make affidavit, as prescribed in the first section of this act, it shall be the duty of the clerk to issue a precept directed to the sheriff, returnable to the next term of the Court, commanding him to seize and take into his possession, so much of the defendant’s property as will satisfy the debt described in the affidavit and writ, with cost of suit, and hold the same, subject to the satisfaction of such judgment as may be obtained in favor of the plaintiff: Provided, nevertheless, That the defendant may at any time regain the possession of the property seized, as aforesaid, by entering into bond, as prescribed in the first section, conditioned to be void, if the property seized shall be delivered at the termination of suit, or the judgment obtained be otherwise satisfied.

VI. Be it further enacted, That either of the parties to any cause tried by a single justice, may appeal from 4 terms as the justices of the counties so uniting may agree; and for the purpose of making such contract, 5 the justices are authorised to appoint commissioners 6 (not exceeding five in number,) to represent the county 7 in making the contract, and the agreement so made, 8 shall be valid and binding on the counties so contract- 9 ing.

III. Be it further enacted, That the justices of the peace 2 for the several counties, a majority being present in 3 court, shall prescribe and establish rules and regulations 4 for the government and management of their respec- 5 tive county jails and houses of correction, and shall ap- 6 point inspectors or visitors, not to exceed five in num- 7 ber, and assign them their powers and duties, in visiting, 8 overlooking and directing the execution of the rules, 9 established for the management of said jails and houses 10 of correction, and the prisoners.

IV. Be it further enacted, That the County Courts of 2 the several counties in this State, at their first courts 3 that shall happen, after the ratification of this bill, and 4 annually thereafter, may appoint a keeper of the jails 5 and houses of correction, who shall take an oath of 6 officer and give bond, payable to the State of North 7 Carolina, in the sum of four thousand dollars, with am- 8 ple sureties, conditioned for the faithful and diligent 9 discharge of his several duties required by law, or by 10 the order of said court, or the inspectors or visitors of 11 said prison, and the court shall, from time to time, have 12 power to fix the fees and compensation of the jailer or 13 keeper of the prison and workhouse, and prescribe his 14 duties, and appoint or allow him to appoint the neces- 15 sary assistants.

V. Be it further enacted, That, if for any cause the 2 County Court of any county shall fail to perform the duties enjoined in the fourth section of this bill, they may do it at a subsequent term.

VI. Be it further enacted, That the said courts may procure, or direct the jailor or inspector to procure, such tools as may be found necessary for the labor of the prisoners; and the court may direct what labor each prisoner shall perform, or may leave that to the keeper or to the inspectors, as to the court shall seem proper.

VII. Be it further enacted, That the sheriffs of the several counties adopting this system, shall not be responsible for the prisoners or have any control over them, except by order of the court after their commitment: Provided, that this exemption shall not operate in any county until the jailor shall be appointed by virtue of this bill.

VIII. Be it further enacted, That it shall not be lawful for any Judge of the Superior Court, or the justices of any County Court, to order the inflicting of any whipping, branding, impillory or other corporeal punishment, for any crime hereafter committed, but, on conviction of any offence now requiring such corporeal punishment, the Court may order and adjudge that the person or person or persons so convicted shall be imprisoned to hard labor for a term not exceeding five years. And on the certificate of the clerk of such court, accompanying the record of such conviction and sentence, it shall be the duty of the jailor and keeper of the house of correction, to receive and confine the prisoner or prisoners, and require of him or them to perform the labor according to the judgment of the Court.

IX. Be it further enacted, That on conviction of an assault with intent to murder, on conviction of maiming...
3 or malicious stabbing, the defendant shall be sentenced 4 to imprisonment at hard labor, not exceeding three 5 years; and every person convicted of trading with 6 slaves, shall be sentenced to be imprisoned to labor not 7 longer than one year.

X. Be it further enacted, That all vagrants convicted 2 under the existing laws may be committed to the house 3 of correction for a term not exceeding three months.

XI. Be it further enacted, That the jailor or keeper 2 shall (if he find it safe to do so) allow any prisoner, 3 before conviction, to labor at any suitable and appro- 4 priate work that may be on hand; and if such prisoner 5 shall not be convicted, then any net profit on his labor, 6 after paying for his lodging and boarding (if any,) shall 7 be paid to said prisoner on his release from prison.

XII. Be it further enacted, That all slaves and free ne- 2 groes lodged in such jails shall be required to labor un- 3 der the direction of the keeper of the prison and work- 4 house, so long as they continue in prison.

XIII. XIV. Be it further enacted, That all prisoners shall be 2 treated with humanity, and furnished with wholesome
3 food. But, if any prisoner bound to do any work, shall 4 refuse to do the same, and obey the lawful orders of the 5 keeper, or become refractory, the keeper, with the ap- 6 probation of a majority of the inspectors, may put such 7 prisoner in close and solitary confinement, and feed 8 him with bread and water only, until he yield and agree 9 to perform his duty as required.

XV. Be it further enacted, That if any prisoner shall 2 break or escape from prison, he shall be liable to indict- 3 ment therefor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be liable 4 to farther imprisonment, at the discretion of the court, 5 not exceeding the original term for which he was first 6 sentenced.

XVI. Be it further enacted, That if any prisoner shall 2 commit any violence on the keeper or his assistant, it 3 shall be competent for a majority of the inspectors of 4 such prison to direct his confinement and treatment by 5 way of restricting his food to bread and water, until he 6 is subdued; and such offender shall be further subject 7 to indictment in the Superior Court of Law for the 8 county in which the offence is committed, and, on con- 9 viction, shall be imprisoned to hard labor, for a term to 10 be adjudged of by the Court, not exceeding twice the 11 term of his first imprisonment.

XVII. Be it further enacted, That it shall be competent 2 for the keeper of the prison or the inspectors, to con- 3 tract for any materials to be worked up, and to take in 4 and perform any work for any person or corporation, as 5 the County Court of his county shall and may direct, 6 to pay the expenses, collect and receive all moneys aris- 7 sing from the labor of the prisoners, and from the sales 8 of the manufactured articles; and shall keep a full and 9 correct account of all the transactions on account of 10 said prisoner, and keep a book, showing faithfully all receipts and disbursements on account of such person, and such books shall be always open to the inspection of the inspectors, and to the County Court or any committee that the court may appoint; and said jailor shall make a report to each term of said court, of the management of the prison, and make settlement of his accounts as often as the court shall require it, not oftener than once in three months.

XVIII. Be it further enacted, That if any jailor or his assistant, or any officer appointed to any duty by the County Court of any county, by virtue of this bill, shall be guilty of neglect or abuse of his or their duty, he or they shall be subject to indictment, and, on conviction, shall be fined or imprisoned at the discretion of the court.

XIX. Be it further enacted, That it shall be competent for the County Court of each county, (a majority of the justices being present) to remove any jailor or keeper of the prison on ten days notice given him in writing; which notice may be given by any citizen of the county.

XX. Be it further enacted, That in the recess of the court, if it shall be represented to the inspectors of any prison, that the jailor is guilty of cruel treatment of the prisoners, or other abuse of power or neglect of duty, it shall be competent for such inspectors to examine into the cause of complaint, and if they deem it well founded, they may call such jailor before three justices of the peace for the county, at the office of the County Court, and if a majority of such justices, and a majority of the whole number of inspectors, shall concur, it shall be competent for them to suspend such keeper, and appoint some suitable person to act in his stead until the next term of the court, taking bond and security of such 14 appointee as required of jailors in this bill, and the 15 clerk of the County Court shall record the same. And 16 the County Court at its next term, shall make a final 17 decision on the case, either confirming the order of remo-18 val or reversing it, and reinstating such jailor.

XXI. Be it further enacted, That when any prisoner
2 convicted in any county in which there is no sufficient 3 workhouse, shall be sentenced to imprisonment in any 4 other county, the same shall be at the expense of the 5 county in which the offence was committed. But in 6 all such cases, a credit shall be allowed for the reasonable 7 value of all the labor performed by such prisoner, and 8 for the purpose of ascertaining whether there be any 9 balance against such prisoner, an account shall be 10 opened with him, charging him only the same rate al-11 lowed for feeding other prisoners, and allowing him a 12 reasonable value for the labor performed by him, and if 13 there be a balance against such prisoner, it shall be paid 14 by the county in which the indictment originated.

XXII. Be it further enacted, That in cases of indict-2 ment against free negroes, in which the courts have the 3 power of ordering them to be hired out, it shall be com-
4 petent for the court to order such free negro to be im-5 prisoned in the house of correction at hard labor, for 6 such term as the court shall adjudge; but in no case
7 shall they be kept in the same apartment with white 8 prisoners.

XXIII. Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty
2 of the grand jury, at each term of the County and 3 Superior Court, to visit and examine carefully into the 4 state of the prison and the treatment of the prison-
5 ers, and report the same to the court, and if it appear 6 from such presentment or otherwise, that the pri-
7 son is not kept cleanly and well supplied with whole-
342

8 some food, and supplied with blankets sufficient to keep 9 the prisoners comfortable, it shall be the duty of the 10 solicitor to prosecute the jailor therefor; and, on con- 11 viction, he shall be fined or imprisoned at the discre- 12 tion of the court.

XXIV. Be it further enacted, That if any Minister of 2 the Gospel offers to preach to the prisoners on the Sab- 3 bath, it shall be the duty of the jailors to allow the 4 same; and at all times to furnish each apartment with a 5 copy of the Bible.

XXV. Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty 2 of the County Courts, at least once in every year, to 3 make a full settlement with the jailor, and, at the next 4 session of the General Assembly, to lay before the Leg- 5 islature a full and fair statement of the operation of the 6 law; showing the number of prisoners that have been 7 in prison under this bill, the term of service, the busi- 8 ness pursued, the expense and the profit arising there- 9 from.

XXVI. Be it further enacted, That it shall not be law 2 ful for any keeper of the jail or workhouse, to suffer 3 or permit the prisoners to remain idle in the yard and con- 4 verse together, but shall only permit them in the yard or 5 shop while closely engaged at labor, and only in the 6 daytime; and in all cases, when the prisoner is sentenced 7 for one year or more, shall keep him secured by a chain 8 while out of the jail, and shall not allow any persons 9 unconnected with the management of the prison to visit 10 the shops or yard without a written permission from a 11 majority of the inspectors: Provided, that Ministers of 12 the Gospel shall, at all times, be permitted to visit the 13 prisons and talk with them, except in work hours.

A JUDICIOUS SYSTEM

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS.

RALEIGH:
SEATON GALES, PRINTER TO THE LEGISLATURE
1852
(Introduced by Mr. D. F. Caldwell.—Passed first reading; referred to committee on Internal Improvements, and ordered to be printed.)
A BILL

For the vigorous prosecution of a judicious system of Internal Improvements in North Carolina.

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That, hereafter, all profits, incomes, dividends and proceeds arising from any stock or stocks now held and owned, or that may be hereafter owned by the State, shall be paid directly into the treasury of the State, and at the end of each and every fiscal year, it shall be the duty of the treasurer, so soon as he ascertains the amount received from such sources, to inform the president of the board of internal improvement; and after such notice has been given by the treasurer, to the president of said board, it shall be the duty of said president to receive from the treasurer the money deposited in the treasury, arising from works of internal improvement, and deposit the same in such sound and solvent bank or companies as will allow him most for the use or hire of the same for the term of one year and no longer.

II. Be it further enacted, That, whenever the president of the board of internal improvements has deposited the money, as above required, and procured a certificate to that effect, it shall become the duty of said board to have one or more plates engraved in good style, of such denominations as they may deem necessary and 7 proper, and notes or bills printed thereon, on the best of 8 paper manufactured for such purposes, with not less 9 than three margins or coupons on each end of every 10 bill or note printed by them, which bills or notes shall 11 be made payable in the stock owned by the State, in 12 works of internal improvements, bearing interest at a 13 rate not exceeding five per cent. per annum, to be paid 14 by the treasurer of the board, at his office in Raleigh, 15 when presented in sums of one hundred dollars or 16 more.

III. Be it further enacted, That the notes or bills here-2 by authorised shall be signed by the president of the 3 board of internal improvement, and countersigned 4 by the treasurer of said board, and the amount and 5 number of the notes or bills thus prepared and signed,
6 shall be duly registered in a book kept by the comp-
7 troller of State for this purpose, which book, together
8 with the plates, notes, bills and certificates not signed 9 shall remain in his office for the inspection of all 10 persons who may feel interested in the transactions
11 of said board; and when the bills, notes or certificates 12 have been signed and countersigned, as above re-13 quired, they shall be paid into the treasury of the 14 State, and shall be paid by the treasurer as a sub-15 scription on the part of the State, to such works of in-16 ternal improvement as the Legislature of the State 17 may hereafter direct.

IV. Be it further enacted, That it shall be a misdemea-2 nor, and punishable as such, for the comptroller, the 3 board of internal improvement, or any member of the 4 same, to sign, issue or pay out, or cause to be paid out, 5 to any person or persons, a larger amount of bills or 6 notes than the money they have on deposite will pay 7 the interest upon, for the term of one year; but it shall 8 be lawful for said board of internal improvement, and 9 the comptroller of the State, to prepare, and sign, and 10 pay to the treasurer of the State, as large an amount of 11 bills or notes as the deposits at their command will en-12 able them to pay the annual interest upon.

V. Be it further enacted, That, when the aforesaid
2 bills or notes have been presented to the board of in-3 ternal improvement, in sums of one hundred dollars, or 4 the rise, for the payment of the annual interest due on 5 the same, and the same shall have been paid on any 6 one or more notes or bills, it shall be the duty of said
7 board of internal improvement to see that one of the 8 margins or coupons of all such notes or bills has been 9 clipped and removed from the same, before they are 10 returned to the owners thereof; and it shall be the fur-11 ther duty of said board to continue annually to clip and 12 remove from all bills or notes upon which the interest 13 has been paid, one of the margins or coupons, from the 14 end of all such bills or notes until they have all been 15 removed; and it shall be the duty of the board to re-16 deem and cancel all notes, or bills thus clipped, by issu-17 ing to the holders thereof new notes or bills from the 18 same plates, upon the same terms and conditions, so of-19 ten as it may be deemed necessary and proper.

VI. Be it further enacted, That when said bills or notes
2 are presented for the payment of interest, it shall be the 3 duty of the president of the board of internal improve-4 ment, should the holders of the bills or notes desire it to 5 be done, to issue for every hundred dollars thus presen-6 ted, certificates of stocks to the holders thereof, in some 7 work of internal improvement, in which the State is a 8 stockholder at the time of issuing said certificate.

VII. Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty
2 of the treasurer of the State, to countersign the certificate granted by the president of the board of internal improvement as aforesaid, when he shall have destroyed the bills or notes for which said certificate was granted; and when the certificate thus procured shall be presented to the president and directors of the company upon which it was drawn, and the name of the holder thereof shall have been enrolled on their books as the name of one of their stockholders, such enrollment shall operate as a surrender and transfer of so much of the State's stock in said company to the holder of said certificate.
351

VIII. Be it further enacted, That if any person or persons shall falsely make, forge or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be falsely made, forged or counterfeited, or willing aid or assist in falsely making, forging, or counterfeiting bills, notes or certificates of stock, in imitation of, or purporting to be a bill, note or certificate, is-ued by order of the board of internal improvement, or shall at any time pass, or receive with intent to pass-utter or publish as true, any false, forged or counterfeit, not, bill or certificate, purporting to be a bill, note or certificate, issued by order of said board or any of its members, knowing the same to be falsely altered with intent to defraud said board or any other body politic; any such person or persons shall be deemed guilty of felony, and being thereof convicted by due course of law, shall be imprisoned not exceeding ten years, and fined not exceeding five thousand dollars.

IX. Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the Board to keep separate and distinct and apart from the money deposited in the banks or companies with which they may deposite the annual profits of works of Internal Improvement, the sum or sums received from the same, as a bonus for the hire or use of the deposits, made with them by said board of internal improvement;
and the board of internal improvement are hereby au-

Be it further enacted, That the board of internal improvement be, and they are hereby authorised to draw upon the treasurer of the State, for such sum as may be necessary to carry into effect the requirements of this act.

Be it further enacted, That all laws and clauses of laws, coming in conflict with the provisions of this act, be, and are hereby repealed, and that this act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

REPORT

UPON THE

CATAWBA RIVER.

RALEIGH:

BEATON GALES, PRINTER TO THE LEGISLATURE

[Report made by Mr. Wheeler.—Bill read the second time and ordered to be printed, and made the Special Order for Monday next ]
The Joint Select Committee, to whom was referred a resolution from the House of Commons instructing the Committee to examine the act of 1848-'9, chapter 195, entitled "An act to improve the navigation of the Catawba River," &c. have had the same under consideration, and

REPORT:

That the act alluded to was defective, inasmuch as it requires the books to be opened on the first of March following the enactment, by the persons named as commissioners; when the fact was, that the act did not reach the commissioners until long after the period had elapsed when the books should have been opened. This is remedied by the bill herewith submitted.

The act alluded to, in the eighth section, "requires the company to complete the navigation of the river, so as to admit the safe passage of Boats drawing 18 inches of water through the Pleasant Gardens, within seven years from the passage of said act." This has also been remedied by the bill herewith submitted.

Your Committee are deeply impressed with the value of this important work. This broad and beautiful stream, having its head waters in McDowell county, courses down through Burke, Caldwell, Catawba, Alexander, Iredell, Lincoln, Gaston, and Mecklenburg Counties; embracing a region of our State unparalleled for the beauty of its scenery, the healthfulness of its climate, and unsurpassed by the fertility of its soil.
It embraces the rich Valley of the Catawba, and contains, in the counties above named, a federal population of 70,671 inhabitants.

Its annual products, according to the census of 1840, are 2,218,387 lbs. cotton; 2,685,149 bushels of corn; 359,676 bushels of wheat; 75,000 lbs. wool; 50,000 bushels of potatoes; 1000 tons of iron; and $75,000 worth of gold.

These bounties of generous nature, and the result of patient industry, are rendered much less valuable by the insulated position of the country. The trade now is carried on by means of wagons; by reason of the weight of many articles produced, the expense of transportation so exceeds the profits, that they, in a manner, are of no avail. But open this channel, pointed out by the hand of nature, and a new system is introduced. All those profuse productions will find their way to market, and many that are now useless will be a source of revenue to the farmer.

And again: All the necessaries of life are enhanced in price by this heavy and expensive transportation, and is paid as directly by the consumer, as if he paid it in shape of taxes to the Sheriff.

In a Memorial to the General Assembly, in 1830, it was stated, that Iredell county, alone, paid an annual tax of $5,000 on the article of salt. Sugar, coffee, molasses, and other articles, come within this category. Elaborate statements are not necessary to prove the heavy tax that this community labors under, for want of this improvement. The facts are so evident and stubborn, as to be apparent to the most unobservant mind. Your Committee has too much respect for the intelligence of the General Assembly to urge the advantages of this great work.

That it is practicable, your Committee have no doubt. They have the honor herewith to submit a Report of a Survey of this river, made in 1820, by the State Engineer. But the Railroad from Columbia to Charlotte has lessened much of the obstructions to the navigation, the principal of which lie below the point where the railroad crosses the river.
By the advantages and improvements of science, steamboats can now be construed capable of transporting heavy freight, which only draw from 12 to 18 inches water.

In the opinion of your Committee, this depth of water can be produced with but small expense compared to the advantages secured by this improvement.

Had this great natural outlet for produce, traversing as it does luxuriant and fertile territory, been in any other State in our confederacy, it is believed by your committee that it would have been navigable long ago;—while here its situation is as unimproved as when its waters were only crossed by the bark canoe of the wandering Indian.

There is no portion of the State that has contributed more freely of blood and treasure to maintain the character and honor of the State. It was proved in "times that tried men's souls" on King's Mountain, and at Ramson's Mill; and, since, by ready and constant contributions, which have swelled our State coffers. It is a recorded fact, that this vast region of country has rarely or never been the recipient of the many improvements now so bountifully extended by the State to every other section. It is but just and equitable that the favor and improvements of the State should be as the genial dews of Heaven, dispersed to all alike, and equal.

With these views, your Committee submit the bill, accompanied with the Report of the Engineer, and recommend the passage of the bill into a law.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. WHEELER,
Chairman.

To amend An Act passed 1818-'9, chapter 195, entitled "An Act to improve the navigation of the Catawba river, from the point where the Railroad from Columbia to Charlotte crosses said river, up to Rocky Ford, near Morganton."

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That so much of said act, sec. 1, as requires the books to be opened on the 1st day of March, 1849, and so much of the 8th section as requires the company to complete the navigation of the said river, so as to admit the safe passage of boats drawing eight-een inches of water through the Pleasant Gardens, within seven years from the passage of said act of 1848-9, be and the same are hereby repealed.

II. Be it further enacted, That all the corporate rights conferred by said charter, be and the same are hereby renewed; and the commissioners therein named shall and may proceed to open books of subscription at such times and places as they may deem proper; and continue to receive subscriptions to the amount of the capital stock named in said charter, to wit, oe hundred thou-sand dollars.

III. And be it further enacted, That, when two thirds of said stock is subscribed by individuals, and this fact is certified by the treasurer of said company to the treasur-er of the State, the said treasurer of the State is here-by directed to subscribe the remaining one-third of said stock; which stock shall be paid in on the same terms that the individual stock shall or may be, by the rules and regulations of the directors.
IV. And be it further enacted, That the State shall be represented in proportion to its stock, at all the general meetings of the stockholders, by such person or persons as the Governor shall appoint.

V. Be it further enacted, That the Governor be hereby directed to employ some suitable engineer to examine this river, and report forthwith the feasibility and advantages of this improvement; and that he be authorised to draw upon the public treasury for an amount sufficient to defray the expenses of the same.

VI. Be it further enacted, That this act shall take effect from and after its ratification.
REPORT

On the Catawba River, to the President and Directors of the Board of Internal Improvements of the State of North Carolina, by HAMILTON FULTON.

Raleigh, Nov. 17, 1820.

Gentlemen:—Some work has been done on various parts of this river from Pleasant Gardens to near the South Carolina line. The Directors have, however, very wisely suspended their operations for the last year until an Examination and Report could be obtained. The President of the Company did not think it necessary to call my attention to any part of the river higher than Muddy Creek, at which place the remarks in the subjoined Report commence.

It is not my intention to point out what ought to have been done; but what ought now to be done, to render this river as perfectly navigable as the limited state of the Company's funds will allow.

The obstructions in so extensive a river as the Catawba are too numerous to be clearly described in a general Report. I shall, therefore, give them in detail as they occur, from the head of the navigation to the South Carolina line, pointing out at each place what appears to me the best mode of improvement.

The first obstruction is about two hundred yards below the mouth of Muddy Creek. An imperfect attempt has been made to improve this shoal. It will be better to take the materials composing the left wing of the fish-trap, and extend that of the right, making the channel by the left bank. There is a heap of stones collected near the lower end of the present channel. These must be removed, and used in the wing and side dams. The fall at this place is one foot.

The shoal at Greenlee's Island has had some stones cleared out, which have been placed in the best channel. These must be removed, and laid parallel to the left bank, where the navigation channel ought to be. At the lower end of Greenlee's Island there is another fall, where the dams have been made obliquely, from both sides, with a narrow channel in the middle. This dam should be extended diagonally from the right towards the left bank, which is the best channel. The fall at these two places is two feet, and the distance from Muddy Creek is three quarters of a mile. One and a quarter miles below Greenlee's Island there is a small fall of six inches; and one hundred yards lower another of six inches. The channel for these falls must likewise be taken by the left bank.

Two and a quarter miles below Muddy Creek, and opposite Linville Creek, there is a cluster of Islands. At this place something has been done to improve the main channel; but this must be abandoned, and the navigation taken down the left side of the Island. This channel being considerably longer, the fall is gradual, and nowhere so rapid as to prevent its being navigated. The only work required, is the removal of two large stones or pieces of solid rock, near the lower end. The fall at these islands is four feet, and the distance by the left channel half a mile.

Half a mile below the above are two other islands. A channel has been made at the angle of a fish trap. The left wing of the fish-trap should be removed, and the right wing extended, taking the navigation by the left bank of the channel. Near the lower end there are two places where some rock-cutting will be necessary. The fall at these islands is three feet. Three quarters of a mile below the last two islands is O'Neill's fish-trap, which requires nothing else being done than making the channel wider at the left bank. This fall is six inches. Half a mile lower is Corpenny's Ford, which is navigable at either the right or the left side of a large rock. At the end of the next quarter of a mile is Brandon's Bottom Ford, where there is one foot six inches fall. The fish-trap dam must be removed near the right bank, and some rock blasted from a ledge a short distance from the right bank. Half a mile further is May's fish-trap, at which there is a fall of one foot. All that is wanted here is to remove the fish-trap dam wide enough to afford a sufficient channel. In another half mile there are two fish-traps, (London's and Daniel's:) the first has a fall of one foot: the second of one foot three inches. The fish-traps must be taken away and a channel made where they stand.

At the top of Sherrill's Island is a fall of one foot; at the middle another of one foot; and at the lower end a third of one foot. The length from Daniel's fish-trap is a quarter of a mile. The channel to improve these falls should be kept by the right bank. Some rock cutting will be necessary at the upper fall. Half a mile further is John Winter's Island, which has a fall of one foot. The small channel on the left has been partially cleared of trees; some, however, still remain, which must be removed.

One mile below Winter's Island is Ballew's fish-trap, with a fall of one foot six inches. The best situation for a navigation channel will be between the fish-trap and the right bank. Half a mile farther is the Long Shoal, in which there is a fall of three feet in three hundred yards of length. A channel has been cleared of the loose stones; but, in order to avoid rock-cutting, it has been made in a zig-zag direction. As this mode of improvement makes a difficult navigation, either in ascending or descending, it should never be adopted. A good navigable channel may be made by a wing and side dam along the left bank.

Half a mile lower than this long shoal is Avery's Island fish-trap shoals. The best navigation will be by the small channel on the right side of the island, and close by the right bank. The fall here is one foot six inches. A quarter of a mile below Avery’s Island are the Rock Shoals, of one foot six inches fall. Although there is a sufficiency of water in the present channel, yet the navigation will be much improved by carrying it to the left bank; the fall will be more gradual and more easy of ascent. A quarter of a mile farther is the Swan-pond shoal, where a channel has been made by wing and side-dams in the middle of the river. At the upper end of this channel there is a heap of stones which must be taken away. The lower end of the channel must be widened by removing a part of the wing dam on the left. The stones taken from the heap and the wing dam should be used in the extension of the side-dams.

Three-quarters of a mile below the Swan-pond is Avery’s lower Island. The channel on the right side of the Island is the smallest, but the most preferable, it being navigable at present; the fall is one foot six inches. In another three-quarters of a mile is Johnston’s fish-trap; the fall here is also one foot six inches. The fish-dams have been used for the navigation, but it will be better to remove the dam on the left, and with the materials extend the dam from the right to near the left bank. Half a mile lower is a small fall of six inches, but there is a sufficiency of water for navigation. A quarter of a mile farther is Tate’s fish-trap.

The dam on the right should be removed, and that on the left extended so as to make the channel on the right bank. The fall at Tate’s fish-trap is one foot six inches.

Half a mile below the above fish-traps are the Buffaloe shoals. A part of the wing-dam must be removed from the left and applied to the right as a side dam. The fall at these shoals is one foot six inches. A quarter of a mile lower is Greenlee’s ford with a fall of two feet. Some dams have been made to have the navigation channel in the middle of the river. It will be preferable to have it near the left bank. This will be effected by removing the wing dam on the left, and extending that on the right. The materials of the lower wing dam on the left may be converted into side dams. A quarter of a mile farther is McDowel's island at the mouth of Silver creek. The channel by the right side of the island is navigable at present, and requires nothing to be done. There is a fish-dam which should be removed from the Island at the lower end to the middle of the channel. Two hundred yards from the island there is a small fall of six inches which is navigable. A quarter of a mile below McDowel's island is McDowel's ford, with a fall of one foot. Wing dams have been made from both sides; the one on the right side is shortest, which it will be better to remove, and extend that on the left so as to bring the navigation nearer the right bank. A quarter of a mile lower is the Big shoal, with a fall of two feet. The obstruction here is solid rock, which will require some blasting to afford a sufficient depth of water. Some loose stones have been laid on the left side of the present channel, which must be removed in order to widen it.

One and a quarter miles below the Big Shoal is Fleming's Ford where there are several islands both above and below it. The improvements were made on the right side of the first island, where there is a fall of one foot. One quarter of a mile lower is Fleming's Shoal with a fall of two feet. Here the current is so strong and the channel so winding, that I was induced to examine minutely the channel on the left side of Fleming's Island, which I found to be much the best way of avoiding the two last mentioned falls. This channel will require no other improvements than blasting a small piece of rock, deepening a small gravel shoal at the upper end and removing some logs. From the top of this channel to the lower end the distance is three quarters of a mile, and the fall three feet. Three quarters of a mile below Fleming's Island there is a small fall of six inches. This fall is caused by several pieces of solid rock. There are, however, various channels fit for navigation. Half a mile further is Rocky Ford, with a fall of four feet.
in a quarter of a mile. Near the upper end of the shoal there is an old fish-trap dam, through which two channels have been opened. Neither of these are wide enough. The one nearest the middle must be widened, and some rock blasted to afford a straighter course throughout the remainder. In the next quarter of a mile there are two falls of one foot each. In these a few stones must be removed. A quarter of a mile lower at a small island opposite Deal's plantation, there is a fall of two feet through which a channel has been made, but it is too narrow. In the next three quarters of a mile there are four falls of six inches each. These are all navigable at present. The last is at Hennis's, where the channel must go to the left bank. In this channel there are two fallen trees and an overhanging willow which must be cleared away.

One mile further is the mouth of Lower Creek; a quarter of a mile below is a small fall of six inches. There is a channel by the right bank. In another quarter of a mile are Johnston's Shoals, which extend for half a mile, with a fall of five feet. From the top of these shoals the channel must be conducted by the right bank for three hundred yards; from thence some rocks must be blasted to make a safe channel. At an old fish-trap a channel has been opened where the trap stood, but it is too narrow. Half a mile lower is Hawshaw's Fall, where there is a small island; by the left of this island the best channel will be obtained. A few rocks will require to be blasted near the mouth. At this place there is one foot six inches fall. For one mile there is smooth water to Bratcher's Falls, where there is a navigation channel in the middle with a fall of nine inches. Half a mile lower is an island, above Lovelady Ford, at which there is a fall of one foot. Below the ford there is another island; the left channels at both these islands are the best. For a quarter of a mile below the last there is a cluster of islands with three feet fall. There is no serious interruption at this place. At the lower end there is an old fish-dam at which the channel must be widened. A quarter of a mile below these islands is McCall's fish-trap, where there is one foot six inches fall. About one-third of the river from the right bank is the best place for a navigation channel. For two and a half miles there is an uninterrupted navigation to Ballew's Shoals where the fall is one foot. At this shoal there is always plenty of water for navigation. Half a mile farther is Ballew's Lower Shoal. The fall is one foot six inches. This shoal afford also a sufficiency of water.

Three-quarters of a mile below Ballew's Lower Shoal is Spencer's Shoal with one foot fall. A fish-trap stood here which has been removed and a channel made in its place. The channel must be widened and some rock which stands above the channel must be blasted. In the next quarter of a mile are several small falls—in all one foot. These are without any impediment to the navigation. Half a mile lower are Bowman's islands. The channel on the right is navigable at present. Near the lower end of these islands a channel has been made through an old fish-trap, which is too narrow. The fall at this place is three feet in three furlong's in length. Two miles below Bowman's Island commence

THE DEVIL'S SHOALS.

The highest of these shoals must be improved by a wing-dam extending from the left bank towards the right, as immediately below it there is a good channel on that side. This fall is two feet six inches. Three furlongs from the top there is a fall of six inches. In this fall there are several channels requiring no improvement. In the smooth water below the last fall there are a few stones or rocks which ought to be removed. The remainder of the shoals to the first lock-pond have a fall of four feet. The best way to improve this fall will be to clear a channel about one-third of the width of the river from the left bank, with wing-dams built at the upper end, and side-dams along to the bottom of the falls. A quarter of a mile below the first lock another has been partly built. From the tail of this lock it is intended the navigation should pass through a narrow channel between two islands. This channel is not more than one hundred yards below the lock, and leaves the river at a right angle; which circumstance makes it awkward to navigate when there is any flood in the river. From this tranverse channel the navigation goes down the right side of the island; from the top of which to Settlemire's Landing the distance is a quarter of a mile, and the fall three feet.

These locks are probably the rudest imitation which have ever been attempted; but, as considerable expense has been incurred in their erection, it will be well to let them remain as long as the materials will last. They ought, however, to be raised at least one foot higher each. Paddles must likewise be fixed on the gates. There is no way at present of opening them but by main strength, which must in a short time tear the gates to pieces. There is, perhaps, no engine connected with the inward navigation, which requires so much pains to be bestowed upon it as in building a lock. As soon as time will permit, I intend drawing the plan of a timber lock for the future guidance of this Company.

From Settlemire's Landing to the top of the Horse Ford Shoals the distance is five miles. In the first half mile the fall is four feet, and the remainder may be estimated at two feet per mile. In this distance there is no interruption to the navigation worthy of notice.

HORSE FORD SHOALS.

At the top of these shoals there are two islands: one on the right, and the other on the left side of the main channel. There is a ledge of rock which extends quite across the main channel from the lower end of the one island to the lower end of the other. This ledge of rock continues through the side channel by the right bank. After examining the several channels, I found the one by the left bank the preferable. At the upper end of this channel there is a gravel shoal, and a little lower a ledge of rock. In both these obstructions a navigable channel must be made. About two-thirds of the way down there is another gravel shoal and some loose rock. These must also be removed. The best situation for the channel will be about one-third of the width from the left bank. The stones removed at this place must be converted into a wing-dam from the island towards the navigation channel. About one hundred yards from the lower end of the island there are some large solid rocks in the middle of the channel; but, between them and the left bank, a navigation channel may be easily made by removing some loose stones. There is at the the top of the above island, a very favorable situation for a wing-dam, which should be extended into the main channel for fifty yards in length. This will induce plenty of water to pass down for the purposes of navigation and keeping the gravel shoals clear. The length of this channel is a quarter of a mile, and the fall two feet six inches. A quarter of a mile below the above is Bunt's Island, near the head of which there is a ledge of rock across. A channel can be cut through this rock without much difficulty near the left bank. Towards the lower end of Bunt's Island there is another ledge, with a gravel shoal. About mid channel will be best for a passage. From the ledge of a rock a side-dam must be built parallel to the left bank, to retain a sufficiency of water for navigation. From the upper end of the channel to the termination of the side-dam, the fall is four feet six inches. A wing-dam must be built at the upper end of Bunt's Island.

At the top of a little island above the Horse Ford Island, a wing dam must be built, and a side-dam put in between the two islands. Immediately below the ford there is a shoal, apparently rock and gravel, through which a channel must be cleared and wing-dams built from each side. Two hundred yards below the ford there are several shoals, partly gravel and partly rock. On the upper ledge of rock a wing-must be built on the left bank, making the the navigation channel on the right bank. At the lowest ledge the channel must be by the end of a large rock situated about one-third across the channel from the right bank. About two-thirds down the island there is another ledge of rock, which may be avoided by taking the right side of a very small island which is at present stopped up by sand and logs. A small addition should be made to the height of this ledge by building a wing dam on part of it. From the upper to the lower end of these shoals the distance is half a mile and the fall four feet. One hundred and fifty yards below the Horse Ford Island is Stoner’s Island. The small channel by the left wing of this island is so much obstructed by solid rock that it will be better to clear a channel from the lower end of the Horse Ford Island, along the left bank of the main channel, to the bottom of Stoner’s Island.

Opposite to Horse Ford Creek there is another island.
The smallest or left channel is the best. A wing-dam must be extended to some distance from the upper end of the island. One hundred and fifty yards below this island a wing-dam must be made from the ledge of rocks towards the left bank, which will wash away the gravel and afford a sufficiency of water.

About half way between the last mentioned island and the lowest there is a ledge of rocks with two fish-traps upon it. The best channel will be where the left fish-trap stands. At the top of the left channel of the lowest island there is a ledge of rock, and at the lower end a gravel shoal with a very rapid current. There is also, a ledge of rock running nearly across the main channel; but it will be the preferable for navigation, by constructing a wing-dam and clearing a channel near the left bank. The fall at this place is four feet. From thence the channel will be by the left bank to Sherrill’s Landing. The whole length of the Horse Ford Shoals is estimated at two miles and a half.
There is a small shoal below Sherril's Landing, in which a channel may be made either by the left bank or in the middle of the channel. The Gunpowder Shoals present no obstacle of any consequence. There is a small shoal at the mouth of Upper Little River. The left side of a small island is the best channel. The fall at Sherril’s Landing, Gunpowder, and Little River, is three feet. At Stevenson’s Shoal there is a fall of one foot, but no obstruction. The deepest water is by the right bank.

At Keller’s Shoal the navigation must be taken by the left and a channel made where the fish-trap now stands. At the lower end of this shoal there is a small island. The main or left channel is the best. These shoals extend for half a mile, with a fall of four feet. A quarter of a mile below the island there is another shoal of one foot fall. The middle of the river is the best channel. For a mile below the above shoal the river has a very rapid current, but there is no obstruction of a serious nature. The fall on this mile is three feet.

From the lower end of the Horse Ford Shoals to the upper end of the Oxford Shoals, the distance may be estimated at nine miles.

OXFORD SHOALS.

These shoals commence opposite to the mouth of Snow Creek. The upper part of this shoal must be improved by a wing-dam from the middle of the river towards the right bank. There is a ledge of rock very favorable for this purpose. As the right bank is more free from impediments than any other part of the river, it will be best to keep the navigation channel along it the whole way, confining the water with side-dams, and throwing in a sufficiency by wing-dams built at the most favorable situations.
There is no part of this shoal which has any considerable fall. The whole consists of a succession of small falls, which, owing to the great width of the river, has the water but thinly spread over them. The length of these shoals is three quarters of a mile, and the fall nine feet.

Four furlongs below the Oxford Shoals is a small shoal, Harman's Landing, with a fall of six inches. Two hundred yards lower there is another of six inches. For half a mile there is a continuation of small falls: in all one foot. These falls will be easily improved by making channels with small wing-dams. For nearly a mile the river is smooth, and deep enough with the exception of two small falls of six inches each. The best channel in these is the middle of the river. A quarter of a mile lower there is a succession of small shoals, with a fall of two feet. The right bank is the best channel for improvement.

For one mile the water is without any perceptible motion. Thereafter, for half a mile, there is a very gentle current without any obstacle. The fall in this distance does not exceed one foot.

Above the mouth of Lower Little River there is a fall of one foot, which is caused by a fish trap, through which a channel may be made anywhere. Three furlongs lower is Three-Cornered Island. At the upper end of this island a wing-dam must be made to extend from the point of the island towards the left bank. The fall at this place is one foot six inches. At the lower end of the island there is a very small island, to which a ledge of rock extends from the left bank. Upon this ledge a wing-dam must be built, to induce the water to pass by the right side of the small island in which there is a gravelly shoal. If this shoal is deepened, the additional quantity of water afforded by the wing-dam will keep it open. The fall of this shoal is one foot six inches. Immediately below the Three-Cornered Island there are a great number of rocks above water. The most proper mode of improving this part of the river will be to extend a wing-dam from the middle fish-trap-dam to wards the right bank, which is clear of rocks of any consequence. At the lowest ledge of rocks a wing-dam must be built to divert the water to the right bank, along which the navigation must pass to the bottom of the shoal. The length of the channel by the left of the Three-Cornered Island is three furlongs. From thence to the lower end of the shoal is six furlongs, with a fall of four feet. From the lower end of the above shoals to the upper end of the Look-out Shoals the distance is two miles, with a fall of two feet. There is no obstruction whatever in this distance.

LOOK OUT SHOALS.

These shoals appear to me the most formidable obstruction in that portion of the Catawba river which is within the limits of this State. They are, for a distance of three miles, one continued succession of small falls, with the exception of a fall of four feet, nearly opposite to Sherrill's mill. The channel of the river is very wide, which allows the water to diffuse itself so thinly over the whole, that it will become an expensive operation to collect a sufficiency of water for a navigation.

There is no doubt in my mind, but the best manner of improving this part of the river would be by erecting dams across the river, with locks on one side; but on account of the width of the channel, I am afraid the expense will be more than the company's funds can afford. Under these circumstances, it will be advisable to adopt a more cheap, although less efficient mode, by making a wing dam across the channel of the river at the lower end of an island, where the falls commence. This wing-dam must be so constructed as to throw the greatest quantity of water towards the right bank, along which it must be confined by a side dam until it reaches the smooth water penned back by a dam, which will be unavoidable at the great fall before mentioned, at Sherrill's mill. On the top of this fall, a dam must be built across the river, of sufficient height for a lock of eight feet lift; being built close to the bank at a precipitous projecting rocky hill, this dam and lock will flood Sherrill's mill, which must either be moved, or a greater expense and some risk incurred, by building a wing dam from the mill to the proposed site of the lock, and allowing a space between the lock and the bank of the river, for the tail water of the mill to pass. From the lower end of the lock, the navigation channel must be taken along the right bank the whole of the way. This side of the river is pretty free from obstruction, except at one place opposite the upper end of an island, where some rock must be excavated.

From the top of these falls to near Houston's Ferry, where they end, the whole distance is estimated at three miles, and the fall twenty-four feet.

From Houston's Ferry to the Island Ford, the distance is half a mile, with a fall of two feet six inches. The principal part of this fall is at a ledge of rock, three hundred yards above the islands. The best place for a channel will be near the right bank. Opposite the upper end of these islands there is a fish-trap fall, with some other small falls: in all, three feet in a quarter of a mile. The left bank will afford the best navigation channel. A quarter of a mile lower is the bottom of the islands; at which there is a fish-trap fall of two feet. One furlong below the islands is another fish-trap fall of one foot six inches. A quarter of a mile further is Abraham Shook's fish-trap, with a fall of one foot six inches. One mile and a half, to Ephraim Perkins's fish-trap, there are several small falls, making, in the whole, one foot. In these falls there is no difficulty of navigation. The left bank is the preferable channel.

For two miles below Ephraim Perkins's fish-trap, there is no obstruction of any consequence, with the water nearly still. At the end of this distance, there is a small fall of three inches. The left side is the deepest water.
furlongs lower are Lewis’ fish-traps, with a fall of one foot six inches. The fish-traps must be removed, and a wing-dam made of the materials near the left bank. For a mile farther the water is smooth. At the end of this distance there is a shoal, which extends for one furlong, with a fall of only six inches. Towards the left bank is the deepest water.

The river is without any perceptible fall, for three miles and a half, to the

BUFFALO SHOALS.

These shoals begin at the upper end of Houston’s island. My first impression was, that the left channel would be the best for navigation; but after more minutely examining both, I abandoned that idea. It appears to me, the best mode of improving the upper part of these falls will be to follow the right bank of the main or right channel, and build a wing-dam from the lower end of Houston’s Island, to the upper end of Stevenson’s Island; and from thence proceed by the channel to the right of Stevenson’s island. Although a sufficiency of water will be obtained by this means for navigation, yet the current will be so rapid, that it will be advisable to build a dam from the lower end of Stevenson’s island to about one hundred yards below the mouth of the channel, and there construct a lock close on the right bank. The present fall is estimated at six feet; but, in order to pen water upon the upper ledge of rock, one foot more may be given to the lock. Should it be found, after the construction of these works, that too much water goes down by the left of Houston’s island, a wing dam can be built, at a trifling expense, upon a small fall at the head of that channel. The distance from Stevenson’s landing, to the proposed site of the lock, is half a mile. From the tail of the lock, for a quarter of a mile, the navigation channel must follow the right bank. In this distance there is a ledge of rock, with a fall of two feet, which will require some blasting.
For a mile there is good navigable water, without any obstacle. One furlong, to the upper end of Crawford's island, there is a current but no obstruction. In the channel by the left of this island, there is a ledge of rock; and in the channel by the right, a gravel shoal. A very small expense will induce the whole of the water in the river to pass by the right side of the island, by building a wing dam on the ledge of rocks above mentioned. The fall at the upper end of the island is nine inches. A quarter of a mile from the top of this island there is a ledge of rock with a fall of three feet six inches. Opposite the fall there are two small islands; a wing-dam must be built at the top of the first island, and a dam put in between the lower end of the upper and the upper end of the lower island. By these means the small channel will make a good navigation, with the exception of a small ledge of rocks towards the lower end. This must be excavated. Immediately after the junction of this channel with the main river, there is a fall of one foot six inches. The left bank will be easiest improved.

The channel on the left of Crawford's Island was not explored, but the greatest part of it could be seen from the two extremities, which seemed to be generally smooth water; at the lower end, however, the obstructions are greater in the left than the right channel. For three furlongs below these falls, there is deep smooth water. At the first small island below this distance, the navigation must be taken by the left bank of the left channel, crossing from thence to the right at the upper end of another small island near the right bank, the fall at the lower end of which is two feet; the navigation channel along Litten's island, must be taken by the left bank of the main river. At the lower end of this island there is a gravel shoal with a fall of of two feet: this must be cleared out and a wing dam made.

From the lower end of Litten's island, for three-quarters of a mile, there is a fall of five feet: little expense will be required to make a channel along the right bank of the right channel. For a quarter of a mile the water is deep and smooth. At the end of this distance, there is a shoal one hundred and fifty yards in length, with a fall of two feet. By the left bank is the best channel. A wing dam will be required to throw the water in that direction. For three-quarters of a mile the water is smooth and navigable. Between the Flat island and Neill's island, immediately above the lower end of Mountain island, there is a shoal, with a fall of one foot six inches. The best way to improve this shoal, will be to extend a wing dam from the main river, parallel to the lower end of the first island, from thence towards the right bank of the channel on the right of Neill's island, keeping this bauk to the lower end of the island. Along the course of this island, there are three rocky shoals, which will require some blasting. The fall from the top to the bottom is three feet in the distance of half a mile. By taking the navigation in the above direction, the shoal at the junction of the two main channels at the lower end of Mountain island will be avoided.

From Neill's island to Buzzard's island, at Sherill's Ford, there is good navigable water for three furlongs.

SHERRILL'S FORD SHOALS.

From the upper to the lower end of the islands at Sherrill's Ford, the channel by the right bank only was explored. As there is no impediment of serious moment in this channel, I did not conceive it necessary to spend time in examining the other.

A wing-dam will be required at the head of Buzzard's Island, and a side dam between it and Long Island. The length from two extremities of these islands is one mile, with a fall of four feet. In this distance nothing is required but the removal of a few sand shoals and logs. One furlong lower there is a shoal with a fall of one foot. There is plenty of water at this shoal in the middle of the channel. Half a mile farther there is a shoal of one hundred yards in length, with a fall of one foot. A few rocks must be removed out of the middle of the channel. Three furlongs below the above, there is a small fall of six inches. If a rock or two is removed a good channel may be made anywhere. A quarter of a mile lower there is a rocky shoal with a fall of one foot six inches. The best channel will be by the left bank. One furlong farther is Byer's fish-trap with a fall of one foot. About one-third of the river from the left bank is the most proper situation for a channel. In the next mile there are a few ripples not worth notice, as there are good channels in them all. The fall of this mile is two feet.

Three quarters of a mile lower is Connor's Island. At the head of the island there is a rocky shoal with a fall of one foot. The navigation must be taken near the right bank of the left channel. About the middle of the island there is another rocky shoal, but a good channel will be found by the left bank. This island is half a mile in length. Five furlongs below Conner's Island is Mayhew's fish-trap, with a fall of one foot. Nothing is required but to remove the trap and part of the dam to obtain a good channel on the right. One mile and one furlong lower is Jackson's fish-trap, with a fall of two feet. The best channel will be found by the left bank. This shoal continues for one furlong. Should there be a scarcity of water in dry seasons abundance can be got by constructing a wing-dam or two.

For two miles and a quarter the water is deep and without any perceptible current. At the end of this distance is Mountain Creek Shoal, with a fall of nine inches. There is no obstacle at this shoal. Three-quarters of a mile lower there is a small island (Poctan's.) The small or right channel is without obstruction. Should the supply of water be found at any time insufficient a wing-dam may extend into the main channel. The fall at this place is nine inches. Five furlongs below this island is Black's fish-trap, with a fall of one foot six inches. A channel must be cleared out by the right bank. For one and three quarters from Black's fish-trap the water is deep and smooth. From thence begins, BEATTIE'S FORD SHOAL.

From the top of the falls to the upper end of the island, the distance is a quarter of a mile and the fall one foot six inches. These falls must be improved by a wing-dam from the river towards the right bank. Immediately at the ford there is a gravel shoal, which must be improved by excavation and wing-dams. One hundred yards below the above shoal there is a rocky shoal. From thence, towards the lower end of the islands, there is a succession of sand shoals terminating with another rocky ledge. The whole of these must be improved by contracting the water to the right bank. The aggregate of the fall is six feet, and the distance one mile. In the lowest fall there are two feet of the above mentioned six feet. In the channel by the left side of the islands, there is a mill built with a dam across the channel. For this reason I did not explore that part of the river. Mills and navigation should never come in contact where it can possibly be avoided. The clashing interests of their owners are a continual source of litigation, unless the miller is entirely under the control of the Navigation Company with respect to the supply of water for the mill.

From the lower end of Beattie's Island to the upper end of Cathey's Island, the distance is three furlongs of good navigable water. At the top of Cathey's Island is a small fall of nine inches. There is, however, a good channel in the middle. This island is three quarters of a mile in length, without any other obstruction than the one above noticed. It was the channel by the left of the island which was examined. From Cathey's Island to John Hagner's fish-trap, there is one and a half miles of river perfectly smooth and deep. At this fish-trap there is a fall of one foot. The left bank is the best for improvement. For one mile farther the river affords good navigable water to

From the top of these shoals to Burton's mill-dam, the distance is three-quarters of a mile, with a fall of five feet.
The right bank is the most favorable for improvement. There will be several wing and side dams and some rock blasting required in this distance. From the top of Burton's mill-dam the navigation channel must diverge from the right bank towards the middle of the river, passing where the first fish-trap is situated. From thence a channel must be cleared, and side-dams built, returning again to the right bank, about one hundred yards below the small island at Burton's Mill near the ford. The fall from the top of the dam to the ford is four feet, and the distance a quarter of a mile. This fall is not sufficiently great to induce me to recommend the erection of a lock at the mill. From Cowan's Ford to the lower end of Henry Connor's Island, the fall is three feet and the distance a quarter of a mile. The navigation at this bank must be taken by the right bank of the left channel. A wing-dam must be built towards the lower end of the island, and from thence to the right bank of the main channel. At the lower end of the island a gravel shoal is formed which must be removed. The additional quantity of water sent by the wing-dam will clear it in future. From Connor's Island, one furlong to Nants' three islands, the water is navigable. The navigation at these islands must be taken by the left bank of the left channel. The fall in three furlongs is two feet six inches. One furlong lower there is a small shoal with a fall of nine inches. The left bank must be kept here also. Half a mile farther is Beall's fish-trap with a fall of one foot six inches. The right bank is the best for navigation.

One mile below Beall's fish-trap is a small gravel shoal. There is abundance of water on the right bank. One mile lower is Toole's Ford with a fall of one foot. The right bank is the best channel. One furlong farther there is a sand shoal and fish-trap with a fall of one foot. The right bank is the best channel here also. For three miles and a quarter to Abernathy's Island, the river affords good navigable water. At this island there is a fall of one foot. By the left bank of the left channel is the best for improvement.
Half a mile below Abernathy’s Island there is a rocky shoal with a fall of one foot. The middle of the river is the best channel. One mile and a furlong farther is a rocky shoal above Hislop’s ford, with a fall of one foot. The middle of the river is the best channel here also. At Hislop’s ford one hundred yards lower, there is a shoal with a fall of one foot. The navigation channel must be taken by the right bank. One mile farther is Henderson’s fish-trap with a fall of one foot six inches. The left bank is the best situation for a channel. At the end of the next quarter of a mile there is a rocky shoal, and a small island below Davidson’s Mill Creek. This shoal continues nearly a furlong; but it affords plenty of water in the mid channel of the main river. For two miles and a quarter there is fine navigable water, without any obstacle to

The first of these falls is two feet six inches. At this place the course of the river is interrupted by a projected ledge of rock from the left bank, and immediately below, another from the right bank. The navigation channel must be cleared out of the natural course of the river. Some rock blasting and the removing of loose stones will be required here. Immediately below the first fall there is a deep pool of still water. The second fall is two feet six inches. The most proper situation for improvement is about a quarter of the width of the river from the right bank, where there must likewise be some rock blasting. From thence, along the right bank, is the best channel. The length of this fall is one furlong.

One mile lower is Rozzle’s fish-trap. The fall is three feet, and length one furlong. The right bank is the fittest for a channel. There must be a wing-dam at the top, and side-dams for the remainder. Some small pieces of rock cutting will also be necessary. A quarter of a mile lower is Rozzel’s Ferry. Immediately below which commences the
The first of these falls is over a ledge of rocks, of one foot six inches. The improvement must take place by the right bank, and continue thereby to the head of the first island. The navigation must then be taken by the right or smallest channel of the two first islands, to the entrance of Hendrick's mill-race. Wing dams will be required at the upper end of each of these islands, and a side dam from the top of the falls to the top of the first island. From the beginning of these shoals to the mill-race, the distance is one mile, and the fall five feet. The navigation is then to pass along the mill stream to Hendrick's mill, in which some obstructions of loose and solid rock must be removed. The mill dam is in such a miserable state, that it will be necessary to rebuild it entirely. It ought to be raised sufficiently high to pen the water back to the mouth of the mill-race. At the sawmill a short canal must be cut, and a lock of eight feet lift set in a little below the flourmill, on the right side of the stream, to lock into the tail-race, which it follows for a quarter of a mile. At the end of this distance, a dam has been built across to pen the water back to the mill. From this dam a canal has been partially cut. Some of it has been carried through deep cutting, without any slope to the banks. The effects of this mode of canal cutting are too glaring to require any comment. After passing through the deep cutting, the canal is made in level cutting for a short distance, and then drops down about four feet. The levels at this place have not been accurately taken; but I suppose the fall, from the top of the new dam to the surface of the water in the river, will be fourteen or fifteen feet. The best mode of finishing this canal will be, to build a lock of eight feet lift, immediately in the bank of the river; and from thence dig the canal on that level to the place where it was intended to fix the lock of four feet lift, and there put in a lock for the remainder of the rise, whatever it happens to be. This canal was intended to be fourteen feet at the bottom, sixteen feet at surface water, and two feet deep. Instead of these dimensions, I would recommend it to be twelve feet at the bottom, twenty-one feet at surface water, and three feet deep, with a slope in the deep cutting under the surface water of one and a half to one; and for the bank above water, a slope of one to one. The distance from the top of the shoals to the lower end of the canal is estimated at three miles, and the canal twenty-eight feet.

About one hundred yards below the lower end of the canal, there is a small gravel shoal, with a fall of six inches. A wing dam must be built to divert the water towards the right bank. A quarter of a mile below, there is another small shoal, with a fall of nine inches. This must be improved in a similar manner to the last. For four miles, to the mouth of Long creek, the water is deep and smooth, without any obstruction. At this place commence

From the mouth of Long creek to the top of the islands the fall is three feet, and the distance one furlong. A channel must be cleared out, about twenty or thirty yards from the left bank. The left channel of the islands is the best. Wing dams must be made at the top of the islands, and a channel cleared out near the right bank. The fall in three furlongs, is five feet. For another three furlongs, to the bottom of the island, the water is deep and smooth. One mile lower is Hardgoe's fish-trap, with a fall of nine inches. The right bank is the best for improvement. A quarter of a mile farther is Cunningham's fish-trap with a fall of one foot six inches. From Hardgoe's, the river must be crossed from the right to the left bank, which is the best to avoid Cunningham's fall. One furlong below the fish-trap is Cunningham's island. The small channel by the right bank is the best for navigation. The fall at this place, is nine inches, and the distance one furlong. For one mile and a furlong there is good deep water: at the end of which there is a small fall of six inches. A few stones must be removed to make a clear channel. From this shoal for one and a half miles, there is no interruption; at the end of this distance, there is a fall of two feet in one furlong. Near the right bank is the best for improvement. Three-quarters of a mile lower there is a small fall of nine inches, but no obstructions.

For three miles the water is smooth and deep to Ross's island. On the left side of this island there is a mill dam, and on the right a rocky shoal, with a fall of five feet. This part of the river may be improved either by a lock at the mill, or by making a channel through the rocky shoal on the right side of the island. The fall of five feet on this side of the river is divided into two falls. The first fall must be cleared out where the greatest body of water runs, near the island. The second fall may be avoided by taking the channel between a very small island and the principal one. This channel must be cleared of stones, and a wing dam built. A quarter of a mile lower there is a small fall of six inches. The left side of the channel is the best. One furlong, to the lower end of the island, the water is smooth and deep. A quarter of a mile below the island, are Neill's fish-trap falls, of one foot six inches. Along the right bank there is a sand shoal. If a channel is cut through this shoal, and a wing dam built, it will make the best navigation. A side-dam must be made parallel to the bank, from Neill's fish-trap to the mouth of the south fork, the boundary line of the State. The distance is one mile and a half, and the fall six feet. There is no particular obstruction in this part of the river. By the right bank is generally the best water. Along the bank are some overbanking trees which must be cleared away.

The whole of the above levels and distances were taken by the eye; it is not therefore pretended that they are perfectly accurate. I, however, deem them sufficiently so for every purpose where canalling or lockage is not proposed. At those situations, the levels must be carefully taken with an instrument.

Where the channels for the navigation are cut out of the solid rock they must be made fifteen feet wide; and deep enough to afford two feet water at all seasons of the year. Where the channels are to be confined to the bank by side dams, the width must not be less than twenty-five feet. These channels must be made as nearly straight as the nature of the circumstances will admit. Where they cannot be made exactly straight, the curvature must be very easy, always avoiding angles and quick bendings. The wing and side-dams to be built of stone and timber. Single rows of logs must be laid in the intended direction of the dams, and to be well supported on each side, and covered over with the largest stones which can be procured, and the interstices pinned or filled with small ones. In most cases there will be no necessity for these dams exceeding two feet six inches in height.

BILL

Calling a Convention to amend the Constitution of North Carolina.

I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions of each and every county in this State, at the first term that shall be held after the first day of March, (A. D.) 1853, shall appoint two inspectors to superintend the polls, to be opened at each and every election precinct in said counties, for ascertaining by ballot, the will of the freemen of North Carolina relative to the meeting of a Convention, to amend and alter the Constitution of this State, the delegates to which to be elected on the same basis on which the Members to the House of Commons are now elected. And if any court or courts shall fail to make such appointments, or if any inspectors so appointed shall fail to act, it shall be the duty of the Sheriff or the person acting as his deputy on such occasion, some Justice of the Peace or freeholder present, to appoint an inspector or inspectors in the place of him or them who fail to act, which inspectors, when duly sworn by some Justice of the Peace or freeholder, to perform the duties of the place with fidelity, shall have the same authority as if appointed by the Court.

II. Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the sheriffs of the respective counties in this State, to open the polls at the several election precincts in said counties, on the first Thursday in August, 1853, when and where all persons qualified to vote for Members of the House of Commons may vote for or against State Convention, those who wish a Convention voting with a written or printed ticket, "Convention," and those who do not want a Convention, voting in the same way, "No Convention," or "Against Convention."

III. Be it further enacted, That the judges of the several election precincts shall return to the Clerk of their respective counties under seal, a full and entire statement of the number of votes cast, with the names of the persons voting, carefully distinguishing the number voting Convention, from those voting no Convention, and under the same restrictions as they are now required by law to return the vote for governor; said returns to be opened and compared at the respective court houses in each county, on the day after said election, between the hours of ten and four o'clock, by the Clerk, in presence of the Sheriff, and a full statement thereof delivered to the Sheriff by said Clerk under seal of office.
IV. Be it further enacted, That within ten days from the day of said election, it shall be the duty of the sheriff or coroner, as the case may be, to whom such certificate has been issued by the clerk, to make returns thereof to the Secretary of State, under the same rules and regulations that they are now required by law to make returns in the governor's election.

V. Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the Secretary of State, in the presence of the Governor, on or before the first day of September next, to open and compare all such returns, and deliver to the Governor, under seal of the State, a certificate of the entire result of said vote; and if it shall be made appear from such certificate that a majority of the whole number of votes cast shall be in favor of Convention, then, and in that case, it shall be the duty of the Governor to issue his Proclamation to the several sheriffs or coroners throughout the State, to cause elections to be held in their respective counties for delegates to said Convention, said election to be held at such time in the month of November next as His Excellency may designate.

VI. Be it further enacted, That said Convention, thus constituted, shall convene in the City of Raleigh, on the second Monday in January 1854, and have full power and authority to organize their own body, set upon their own adjournments, and make such reforms as they in their wisdom may deem expedient to promote the interest of North Carolina.
